JERSEY GUARD TO STAY HOME

No Military at Inauguration Unless Board Backs Down.

LEGISLATURE IS FIRM

Sends Amended Bill to Governor Who Refuses to Sign It —Military Board's Protest.

The State Senate yesterday amended the inaugural appropriation bill so as to provide for sending a provisional regiment to Washington on March 4, instead of the First Regiment of Newark, which had been selected.

The House concurred in the resolution and it was immediately transmitted to Governor Stokes. Following it came a remonstrance from the Military Board and the Governor declares, it is said, that he will not sign the Legislature's amendment. Unless the Military Board backs down, New Jersey will have no military representation at Washington. If the Board surrenders, Co. K, of this city, will have the privilege of marching in the inauguration parade.

A combination of South Jersey interests overcame the strenuous efforts of Senator J. H. Bacheller, of Essex, on behalf of the Newark regiment.

Under suspension of rules, the amendment having been adopted, the bill was passed on third reading, all the Senators except Mr. Bacheller voting in the affirmative—16 to 1.

A motion by Assemblyman Duffield in the House, requesting a conference with the Senate on the bill, was lost—15 to 25. A motion to reconsider was voted down by a vive voce vote. Mr. Miller moved to reconsider the vote, whereby the motion to concur in the Senate amendments was lost. This was agreed to and the motion to concur in the amendments was adopted—32 to 8.

In the lower branch of the Legislature a bitter fight was made over the passage of the bill.

The State Military Board held a meeting at Trenton last night and adopted resolutions to the effect that the movement for a provisional regiment at this late day would result in the failure and that the board did not feel justified in assuming the responsibility for the same. The reason given by the board is the lack of time for the proper preliminary arrangements for the movement of the provisional regiment. The resolutions last night were forwarded to Governor Stokes.

WEDDING OF DR. CRANE.

Former Plainfielder Was Married to Popular Girl Last Night.

Dr. Arthur Barton Crane, of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. U. B. Crane, of East Second street, was married last night to Miss Mary Wallace Pollard, at the bride's home in Alexandria, Va. The wedding was largely attended by the friends and relatives of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Crane and family, of this city, being among the guests. They went South on Monday, and will remain for the rest of the week.

Arthur Crane was for many years a resident of this city, where he has many friends. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and is an instructor in Georgetown University.

Injured by a Fall.

Chauncey F. Stout, advertising manager of The Elizabeth Times, who lives in Madison avenue, severely sprained his left arm and cut his hand in a fall he had while on his way to the North Avenue station, yesterday. He stumbled over a board at Madison avenue and Sixth street, which had been placed there to make walking more passable. Mr. Stout was obliged to have the injured arm placed in splints.

In Daughter-in-Law's Honor.

Mrs. Williams, of West End avenue, entertained a number of friends at progressive games last night in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Williams, of Hartford, Conn. Prizes were won by Miss May Carr, of Newark; Miss Abbie VanCleef, A. D. Edgar, of this city, and Henry Hessel, of Brooklyn.

FOURTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GOLDEN EAGLES

FREEDOM CASTLE MARKS EVENT WITH AN ENTERTAINMENT.

Celebrating its fourth anniversary, Freedom Castle, No. 42, Knights of the Golden Eagle, provided an excellent programme comprising music and humor last night, for a large number of its friends. Odd Fellow hall in the Babcock building was crowded to the doors when the orchestra, under the direction of Kenneth Schupp, began the entertainment with a series of popular selections.

A soprano solo by Miss Florence Bennett followed and was encored. Miss Bennett responded in her usual pleasing manner. A trombone solo by Kenneth Schupp was the next number on the programme and proved a feature. In a series of impersonations, Harry C. White, an expert monologist, gave a sketch called "A Country School Entertainment," introducing that address of welcome, recitations, songs and compositions by the pupils. He displayed a remarkable talent in making up and in rapid character changes.

The second part of the programme opened with an overture by the orchestra, followed by a selection by a male quartette composed of E. D. Young, B. Hall, H. J. Martin and P. Parsons. They were well received. Harry C. White appeared again after this number. A bass solo by B. F. Tallamy and a duet by Miss Bennett and Mr. Young followed, both of which were well rendered.

At the conclusion of the duet, P. S. C. Huff, of Manasquan, was introduced as the speaker of the evening, and in a few well chosen remarks extended his congratulations to the lodge members, both for the fact that they had reached their fourth anniversary under such promising auspices and upon the excellent entertainment which they provided in honor of the occasion. He spoke at some length of the value of lodge membership and of the social advantages which it affords.

At the conclusion of the entertainment a collation was held at the banquet rooms. The committee in charge of the affair was Horace Martin, chairman; R. T. Kenney, Wilbur Randolph, E. D. Young and W. C. Day.

NOT TO FORCE ADOPTION OF SALOON RESTRICTION

COUNCILMAN TYLER PREFERS TO HAVE QUESTION FULLY DISCUSSED.

As indicated by Councilman W. S. Tyler's remarks regarding his amendment to the liquor license ordinance restricting the saloon district, it is not likely that he will be in too great a hurry to seek its final adoption. He wants the matter to be freely and fully discussed so that every interested person will thoroughly understand its provisions. Mr. Tyler believes that if such a district is established it will grow in popular favor among all classes who will not make any effort to repeal it should the opportunity be offered.

Mr. Tyler says that this movement is not for a day or a year, but means the ultimate solution of a very perplexing problem that has to be solved each year by the Common Council. There is now no apparent opposition to the present number of saloons licensed, but as shown by the remonstrances presented at the Common Council meeting Monday night, there is a strong feeling against increasing the number. Twenty years ago there were thirteen licensed places in the city and the same number now exists, showing that the tendency has been to keep it there.

Y. M. C. A. Orchestra Makes Hit.

The Y. M. C. A. orchestra made another hit Monday night on the occasion of its seventeenth concert. The hall was well filled, and the programme was a pleasing one. The baritone soloist, Roland Randolph was well received as were also Whitney France, Kenneth Stuart and M. A. Korff, in instrumental solos. A violin duet by Messrs. Malin and Spier was also a feature. Five of the numbers on the programme were new selections introduced in this city for the first time.

PLAINFIELDER A SUICIDE

Henry Greenfield Shoots Himself in a Newark Hotel.

CAUSE, DESPONDENCY

Formerly a Partner in a Local Dyeing Establisnment—Once Employed at Weinberger's.

Henry Greenfield, thirty-seven years old, at one time a partner in the Plainfield Dyeing and Cleaning Company, with place of business on Somerset street, committed suicide in a room at the Coleman House, Newark, yesterday morning, by shooting himself in the head and left breast. The sound of the shots alarmed other guests and Greenfield was found stretched lifeless across the bed, with a revolver lying on his chest.

The man sent one bullet into his right temple first, according to the theory of County Physician McKenzie, and, finding that he had failed of his purpose, fired the second shot directly beneath his heart. The first missile passed entirely through the man's head, emerging at the left temple and imbedding itself in the wall near the side of the bed.

Less than two hours before the deed was committed Greenfield was aroused by the night clerk, according to instructions which he had given. Greenfield being late to breakfast, the clerk started for his room and just before he reached there the shots were heard. The motive for the man's act is undetermined, although it is suggested by those who knew him that continued worry for a period of several months may have unsettled his reason. He was a member of the firm of Jacob Weinberger & Co., retail grocers and butchers, of Montclair.

His relatives and business associates declare that his accounts are all right and that his home life was pleasant. Monday morning he was busy about the Montclair market and later started for New York to make purchases at the markets there. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon a telephone message was received at the store from him asking that some one be sent to his home to tell his wife to meet him in New York. Mrs. Greenfield did as requested, but failed to see her husband.

It was afterward learned that he went to the Coleman House about 10 o'clock Monday night, and before retiring left word with the clerk to call him at a certain hour.

About two years ago Mr. Greenfield came to this city and opened a dyeing and cleaning establishment on Somerset street. He remained there for some time with much success. At one time he was also employed at the clothing store of M. Weinberger, of West Front street. While here he made many friends by his genial manner. Little had been heard of him since he left Plainfield.

RUSSELL ELY BURKE WEDDED IN CHICAGO

HIS BRIDE IS MISS MARY LOUISE BLAIR, OF THE WESTERN CITY.

Russell Ely Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Burke, of Netherwood, and Miss Mary Louise Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney O. Blair, of Chicago, were married last night at the residence of the bride's parents, 4319 Drexel Boulevard, Chicago. Miss Blair was attended by Mrs. Harry F. Good, of Chicago, as matron of honor, and Miss Elsie Burke, sister of the groom, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Grace Burke, another sister of the groom, and Miss Josephine Drake, of East Orange.

Charles Clinton Burke, Jr., brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Charles Clinton Hutchinson and Otto T. Hess, of New York. Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple departed on an extended trip.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Burke, Sr., of Netherwood, and several well-known society people from New York. The couple will live in New York upon their return.

Miss Mary O. White to Speak.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed church, Miss Mary Odgen White will speak in the interest of "The Women's National Sabbath Alliance," on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the lecture room of the church and all interested in the subject will be cordially welcome.

GOODWIN LOSES AGAIN

Supreme Court Affirms Decision of Recorder Doud.

AN APPEAL LIKELY

John Goodwin Found Guilty of Violating North Plainfield Ordinance Still Contests Decision.

The Supreme Court has just affirmed the decision of Recorder Doud, in the case of the Borough of North Plainfield against John Goodwin, in which he adjudged the defendant guilty of violating the borough ordinances in interfering with the marshals in the performance of their duty when they were trying to remove certain obstructions from Grove street at the time Charles P. Sebring was moving his house from Front street through Grove street.

It will be remembered that Mr. Goodwin, as a trustee of the Christian church, was at the scene of the trouble. When the marshals made use of the church property in removing obstructions from he street Mr. Goodwin interferred and his arrest followed. He appealed from the decision of Recorder Doud and the case was taken to the Supreme Court.

It is now likely that Mr. Goodwin will go to the Court of Errors and Appeal. Reed & Coddington represent the borough, and S. S. Swackhamer, of the firm of Codington & Swackhamer, the defendant.

EAGLES CELEBRATE IN THEIR NEW AERIE

HANDSOME FURNITURE NOW ADORNS THE MEETING PLACE.

Jubilant over the arrival of one of the finest sets of lodge furniture in the State, Plainfield aerie, No. 866, Fraternal Order of Eagles, made merry with a social and entertainment, last night. The organization's rooms in the Washington Hall building are now second to none of the kind in New Jersey and the members had cause for their enthusiasm since the complete furnishings were installed only yesterday.

The programme rendered comprised vocal selections by William Kregar, William Sparks, Erwin Y. Neighbor, James Kermode, Thomas Fay and William Egan; piano solos by Marcus Hoyt and William Sparks; violin solos by M. Meeker, and a four-round bout between Harry Dilts and William Egan. In conclusion supper was served by Restraurateur Thomas Timbo. During its progress, numerous informal addresses were made by members and sociability reigned for an hour or more.

The committee which had the affair in charge consisted of Edward C. Bearing, chairman; Michael Higgins, Rudolph Kampf, Patrick Guinee, Daniel Mack, Ulysses G. Force, John Dunn, Charles Strausenback, Samuel Terry, Frank McCabe and John V. Beekman.

COL. TYLER TALKS TO HIS OLD COMRADES

WINFIELD SCOTT POST MEM HEAR OF OLDEN DAYS.

Under the direction of Commander I. L. McVey, the members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 78, G. A. R., are showing unusual interest in the regular meetings and an attractive programme is being prepared. Last night the members were favored in having Col. Mason W. Tyler present to give an informal talk of a historical nature. He reviewed some interesting facts concerning his boyhood days and during the Civil War. He also related incidents relative to the founding of some of the leading colleges in this country in which he is especially interested, and of the great good accomplished by them.

Other members of the Post told of their boyhoods careers and then the veterans enjoyed an oyster supper prepared by members of the Women's Relief Corps.

—Every woman has a secret yearning to be "a little extravagant" in some particular thing at some particular time; and she can afford to be if she reads the ads. carefully in planning her regular expenditures.

CONTRACTOR CONVICTED

Thomas Wearren is Found Guilty of False Pretence.

GAME HE WORKED

Obtained Building Materials from Boice, Runyon & Co., Who Started the Prosecution.

Thomas Wearren, a local contractor, was convicted yesterday in the Supreme Court at Elizabeth, of obtaining goods from Boice, Runyon & Co., of this city, under false pretences. The case occupied nearly the whole day and the jury was out about an hour and a half when it returned a verdict of conviction. Prosecutor English, represented the State and William Newcorn, Esq., the defendant.

This case is considered of peculiar interest to merchants and business people in general, for it is believed to be the only one in recent years where a conviction was secured on this charge. When Mr. Wearren obtained goods from Boice, Runyon & Co., including builders' materials to the amount of several hundred dollars, he stated, it is alleged, that he had $20,000 worth of property, his equity being $12,000, leaving a mortgage of $8,000. It was on this statement that he secured the goods in question which were used in various buildings in this city, including the Jewish Synagogue.

Afterward Mr. Wearren went into voluntary bankruptcy and at that time declared, so it is said, that he was not worth one dollar. It was this action that led Boice, Runyon & Co. to institute legal proceedings. The case was tried in Justice Moffett's court and Mr. Wearren was held for the Grand Jury. This body found an indictment which resulted in the trial of yesterday and the conviction of the defendant.

Heretofore the courts have been unwilling to find a conviction in similar cases on the ground that they were not in any sense a collection agency, but the presentation of facts in this case was so strong that there was no other alternative.

Sentence was deferred.

BOARD OF HEALTH IS AFTER EXPECTORATORS

PROPOSES TO DEAL DRASTICALLY WITH OFFENDERS.

Following the action taken in other cities the Board of Health is making an effort to lessen and eventually stop the filthy habit some people have of spitting upon the sidewalks of the public streets and upon the floors of public buildings and railway cars. This practice has long since been declared a dangerous one from a health standpoint, and in New York a very heavy fine is imposed upon offenders of the law.

It is now proposed to do all that is possible to stop the practice here. The Board of Health has caused to have posted in all public places and on trolley cars, a small yellow card of warning informing persons that offenders are liable to arrest and a fine of not less than $2 nor more than $100 under section 1, article 10 of the Sanitary Code. Policemen are expected to assist in the enforcement of this law.

Concert at the Park Club.

A mid-winter concert will be given at the Park Club tomorrow night by J. Edmund Skiff, tenor, assisted by his pupils, Miss Bertha van N. Willis, Mrs. Stephen Tugwell, Miss Laura Gesswein, Carlos C. Gallup and a chorus composed of his pupils. Paulding DeNike, the Brooklyn 'cellist, who is so well and favorably known here, will be the instrumental soloist.

Wanted a Resting Place.

Martin McDermott, seventy years old and crippled by a badly burned hand caused by lime, applied at police headquarters yesterday morning for a place where he "might rest up." Chief Kiely placed him in the care of Overseer Ayers while steps are being taken to have him admitted to the Industrial Home.

Game Fowls Came Long Way.

Frank Hedden is the possessor of a trio of fowls which came to him yesterday, all the way from Paw Paw, Mich. They were sent him as a gift by E. H. Macay, a former Plainfielder, who recently located in the west.

SCHANZ IN PREDICAMENT

Councilman Tyler's Resolution Can't be Carried Out.

SALOON DILEMMA

Common Council Make Provision for Driveway to be Closed—Interested Parties Object.

The legal status of the action of the Common Council in granting a liquor license to Charles Schanz to conduct a saloon at 136 Park avenue, is being questioned owing to the conditions imposed in the resolution drawn by Councilman Tyler, offered by Councilman Gleak and adopted.

The resolution provided that an iron gate with a lock and key be placed at the entrance of the driveway between the building occupied by Marcus Silbert and rented to Mr. Schanz and the one owned by W. L. Hetfield.

Among those who have use to the driveway are W. L. Hetfield, Sr., S. H. Schleit, I. H. Boehm, the W. H. Brower estate, W. R. Coddington, and tenants of his building, Gus. Martin, T. A. Kurzhals, and if any one of these should protest against the closing of the driveway, the Common Council would not have the right to take this action. The idea in compelling the owner of the property to be occupied by Mr. Schanz to place a gate at the entrance to the driveway was to prevent general loafing and disorderly conduct. The license was granted after the adoption of Mr. Gleak's resolution and is a part of the agreement between the city and Charles Schanz.

PREPARING PLANS FOR TWO EXTRA SEWAGE BEDS

PRESENT NUMBER NOW HEAVILY TAXED BY INCREASED FLOW.

In accordance with a recent action of the Common Council, Street Commissioner Gavett is busily engaged in preparing plans for the enlargement of the sewage farm, the present flow being sufficiently heavy to tax the beds almost to the limit. While the plans are as yet incomplete, one thing is certain that two additional beds will be added to those now in use. These, it is believed, will take care of the increased flow for some time to come.

One thing in favor of the improvement is that the city has plenty of land which can be used for extra beds when they are needed. The system appears to be giving entire satisfaction in taking care of the sewage and the only thing required is additional beds. Mr. Gavett is being assisted in his work by Joseph O. Osgood, as consulting engineer, and it is expected that the plans will be completed in time to commence the work of improvement this year.

There is no opposition to it and it is likely to be passed in the upper chamber before adjournment and will be immediately sent to Governor Stokes.

FAVOR LIMITED FRANCHISE

Plainfielders Join Others in Urging Passage of Bill.

HEARING AT TRENTON

James E. Martine and F. E. Kinsman Among Those Who Advocated Twenty-Five Years Franchise.

James E. Martine and F. E. Kinsman were the only Plainfielders who attended the hearing at Trenton yesterday on the bill to limit the terms of franchise to twenty-five years, and they both spoke earnestly in its favor, although they professed to be representing only themselves. There was a large delegation from other parts of the State, including Elizabeth, Newark, the Oranges, as well as South Jersey.

While the weight of opinion was all in favor of the measure, there seemed to be a feeling that the corporate interests would accomplish its defeat.

Assemblyman Colby, the father of the bill, introduced George L. Record as the first speaker before the House Committee on Municipal Corporations. In the judgment of Mr. Record the bill under consideration was the promise of a new era in the granting of franchises in the State of New Jersey. The principal and primary evil of the present method of granting franchises was the possibility of gigantic corruption. The opponents of the bill declared that it was dangerous to the principle of home rule, and that it said, in a word, that the local public servants were not to be trusted to deal with franchise question. Probably few if any of the members of the committee realized the immense value of the franchises which had been granted in perpetuity. Extensive research by the New England Society showed what had been learned by other States and what had been done there for the protection of franchises for the benefit of the people.

Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City, said that the provisions of the bill contained the principle that his city was fighting for and would continue to fight for until the prevention of granting perpetual franchises was an accomplished fact.

Parry Walton, of West Orange, said that a citizen of his part of the State had recently declared that the Colby Franchise bill was a blow at home rule. This was untrue, because we were supposed to transfer our privileges to our children, which could not be done if the continuation of perpetual franchises was followed out to the end.

Mr. Colby said that the quotation of figures showed an appalling situation. These quotations, in fact, had raised some question as to their accuracy. With the view of confirming the accuracy of these statements and figures, he then introduced Milo R. Malsbie, of New York city. Joseph A. Conwell, the Mayor of Vineland, in an aggressive speech indorsed the bill, and he was heartily in favor of helping to start the new era which, it had been predicted, was "coming our way."

James E. Martine, of this city, said that the Colby bill was a step in the right direction, and he earnestly urged that it was the imperative duty, as it was the great privilege, and should be so regarded, of the Legislature to pass it. Frederick W. Kelsey, of Orange, for the New England Society, was the last speaker.

Mrs. Rogers' Father Dead.

Charles Worthington Ross, Sr., a retired capitalist and father of Mrs. George Rust Rogers, of Washington Park, is dead at his home in Frederick, Md. He was sixty-nine years of age and was a graduate of Princeton. After being admitted to the bar he rose to a position of distinction in Maryland and later became president of the Central National Bank and other big institutions in Frederick. He was treasurer of the Maryland Home for the Blind but never held political office, even having refused the Democratic nomination for governor in 1885. Mr. Ross was a prominent Mason. His wife and five children survive him.

Entertained Whist Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Apgar, of 136 East Fourth street, entertained the Watchung Whist Club at their home last night. The first and second prizes for the women were won by Mrs. U. G. Pierson and Mrs. W. H. Lewis and those for the men by Walter Apgar and Adam Seals. In addition there was a guests' table, the prizes being won by Mrs. Dunster, of Westfield, and W. M. Pierson. Following the play, supper was served and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

Gus Heidorn Was a Surprise.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 1.—Gus Heidorn, again overlooked in the betting and quoted at 5 to 1, added the Reservation handicap to two other creditable victories. The Oaklawn track was in good shape, but the books quit winner on the day's racing, two favorites and one second choice winning out of seven events. The hardest blow given the form players occurred in the fifth race, when Ina Gray, at 50 to 1, came home in front.

Fast Time at City Park Track.

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—At the New Orleans Jockey club's City Park track the struggle between Telescope and Astarita in the fourth race was a brilliant one, and the time, 1:00 1-5, was fast for five furlongs. Jockey D. Austin, who rode Reliance in the last race of the day, was set down for one week for trying to put Romanelli, who rode Mizzenmast, the winner, over the inside rail.

Columbia Defeated Yale.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 1.—The Columbia basket ball team defeated Yale last night 24 to 21, thereby securing a tight hold on the intercollegiate championship. The game was fast and exciting, the lead being held first by Yale and then by Columbia. By remarkably fast work in the last five minutes of play Columbia threw two goals, winning the game.

Skeletons of Soldiers Unearthed.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 1.—In removing a hill in the eastern part of the city to supply earth for the approaches of a viaduct workmen during the past two days have unearthed twenty skeletons, supposed to be the remains of Federal soldiers. Brass buttons bearing the insignia of the Union forces were found near the skeletons. It is the general opinion that the remains are those of soldiers killed in the desperate assaults on Missionary ridge and who were hastily buried in trenches and forgotten.

Dr. Harper Attending to Business.

CHICAGO, March 1.—President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago, although it is less than a week since the operation was performed upon him that revealed cancer of the colon, was during the day sitting up in his bed at the Presbyterian hospital attending to his duties as head of the university. Dr. Harper dictated many letters and disposed of considerable business. He said he was feeling exceedingly well.

Innholders' Bill Defeated.

BOSTON, March 1.—A plan to extend the time of selling liquor by licensed innholders throughout the state was defeated in the Massachusetts house by a vote of 83 to 126. The committee on liquor laws had reported unfavorably on the bill, the chief result of the passage of which would have been the legalizing of liquor selling at Boston hotels up to midnight instead of 11 o'clock, as at present.

Morgan and Clark Sail For Europe.

NEW YORK, March 1.—J. Pierpont Morgan sailed for Europe today on the Baltic. Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, the newly installed director of the Metropolitan Art museum, sailed with Mr. Morgan. Sir Caspar is director of the South Kensington museum, London, and is taking the trip to resign this position.

AFTER FORTY YEARS

"Buffalo Bill" Divorce Case at North Platte.

"DID NOT ATTEMPT TO POISON HIM"

Wife of Former Indian Fighter and Scout Gives History of Long Married Life—Claims She Did Her Duty and Loves Him Still.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., March 1.—In the Cody divorce case here Mrs. Louise Cody took the witness stand in defense of her character and good name, which had been assailed by her husband, W. F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill"), in his petition for divorce. Mrs. Cody emphatically denied that she had ever attempted to poison her husband or that she administered "dragon's blood" or any other poison for the purpose of getting control over him.

The hearing was held behind closed doors.

Mrs. Cody testified that she was married to Colonel Cody at St. Louis forty years ago, when she was twenty-two years of age.

"At the time we were married," she said, "Colonel Cody was employed on the plains of Kansas as a teamster and shortly after became engaged as a buffalo hunter for the railroad contractors on the Kansas division of the Union Pacific. He killed thousands of these animals, which were used by the graders for meat.

"In 1868 we moved to what was then Fort McPherson, Neb., where Colonel Cody became a scout for the government. We lived at Fort McPherson for several years. We were poor in those days and I did what I could to assist in supporting the family by taking in sewing. Colonel Cody and I did not have serious trouble during our residence at Fort McPherson. The colonel went on the stage in 1874 and shortly after this he took us to Rochester, N. Y., where we lived for four years.

"At the expiration of this time we came back to Nebraska and located here at North Platte. In 1893 we purchased our residence here in town. This was fixed up in good style and I prepared to welcome my husband home from England, where he had been touring with his show."

"Was this home coming the occasion of the big banquet tendered by the citizens of North Platte to the colonel?" asked Mr. Halligan.

"Yes, sir."

"Mrs. Cody, did you ever administer a drug to Colonel Cody or any liquid that would injure him?"

"No, sir. I never did."

"You doctored the colonel when he suffered with minor ailments, did you not?"

"Yes, sir; I doctored him and gave him different kinds of medicine for his troubles when he drank."

"Did you ever administer 'dragon's blood' for the purpose of making the colonel love you more and other women less?"

"No, sir, and I don't know what 'dragon's blood' is. I never saw and never heard of such a thing."

"Did you ever give the colonel anything to make him sick?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever poison him?"

"No, sir."

Mrs. Cody declared she had never told Mrs. Boyer, a witness for the plaintiff, or any person that she had ever drugged her husband to make him love her or gain control over him so that he would sign certain papers for her. She also denied that she had ever poisoned any of the colonel's dogs intentionally.

"I told the men at the ranch," she explained, "to put out strychnine or other poison for the rats, which were getting bothersome, and accidentally the colonel's dogs got some of this poison. One of the dogs in particular of which the colonel was very fond, and who I liked myself for that reason, was killed, and I felt very bad over it."

Mrs. Cody acknowledged that she had punished her children "whenever they needed it" and had occasionally castigated them with a small riding whip.

Mrs. Cody denied that she was ever intoxicated, as had been testified by witnesses for the plaintiff. She never drank liquor except for medicinal purposes, she said, and never used profane or obscene language.

"Do you still love Colonel Cody?" asked the attorney.

"Yes; he is the father of my children, and I love him still."

"Do you desire a reconciliation at this time?"

"Yes, I do, but I think that the colonel ought to retract the poisoning accusation."

"Would you be glad to see him now?"

"Yes, I would gladly welcome him home."

"Did you ever complain to Mrs. Boyer about the conduct of Colonel Cody?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever tell her the names of any women with whom you thought the colonel was intimate?"

"No, sir."

Mrs. Cody recited the incidents of the funeral trip from Spokane to Rochester, N. Y., when they buried their daughter Arta.

"Did you at that time or at any time threaten to denounce Colonel Cody at the grave of your daughter as his being her murderer?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever send him a threatening telegram in connection with the matter?"

"I wired him that I thought he had been the cause of breaking Arta's heart."

A pathetic scene occurred here when Attorney Wilcox introduced a letter and asked Mrs. Cody to identify it. Tears streamed down her cheeks and between her broken sobs she said it was a letter from her daughter Arta three days before she died.

Among other things written by Mrs. Thorpe (Arta) was the statement that the bringing of the suit for the divorce by her father had broken her heart.

NELSON-CORBETT FIGHT.

Second Meeting For Featherweight Championship at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Battling Nelson of Chicago and Young Corbett, ex-champion featherweight of the world, met for the second time at Woodward's pavilion last night in a contest to determine which of the two shall meet Champion Britt in a return match in the near future. Between 4,000 and 5,000 people witnessed the spectacle, and it is estimated the receipts will approximate $15,000.

For the first time in his fistic career Nelson entered the ring a favorite in the betting, the result apparently of his previous victory over the ex-featherweight champion. That Corbett, however, has not suffered in popularity was attested by the great ovation accorded him when he appeared at Harry Corbett's resort preparatory to weighing in, which demonstration was more than duplicated when the Denverite skipped the arena ropes ready for action.

Corbett, who has time and again claimed lack of condition as the cause of his recent defeat at the hands of Nelson and realizing that defeat might send him into pugilistic obscurity, has trained faithfully and unremittingly for the past two months, and he himself last night announced that he was in perfect shape. His statement was easily corroborated as he stripped for action, as it was palpable that the man who twice lowered the colors of McGovern was fit to fight the battle of his life. He looked fresh, strong and confident and prior to the battle expressed himself as hopeful of an early and easy victory.

Nelson likewise has devoted himself to a drastic course in training, but, unlike Corbett, has experienced much difficulty in making the specified weight. He was compelled to continue his conditioning process until the day of the fight.

Sculptor Swallowed His Teeth.

CINCINNATI, March 1.—Charles H. Niehaus, a well known sculptor of New York city, swallowed two false teeth while enjoying a hearty laugh at the home of his brother in this city, whom he is visiting. An X ray examination failed to reveal the teeth, but the physicians say he is in no danger and that no operation will be necessary. He was taken to a private hospital last night and is resting comfortably. He has achieved fame as a designer and sculptor, the Garfield statue in this city being one of his best known works.

Hunting Montclair Murderer.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 1.—The two New Jersey officers who came here in an attempt to locate the coachman who is wanted by the New Jersey authorities in connection with the murder of Mrs. Hannah Ross at Montclair were unsuccessful in their quest. Harris, the coachman, is said to have spent Saturday and Sunday at North Attleboro, where he was known under the name of Pettis. It is alleged that when the description of Harris was shown to Pettis on Sunday he suddenly disappeared.

Change of Venue In Chadwick Case.

CLEVELAND, O., March 1.—Mrs. Chadwick in an interview here declared that her attorneys would apply for a change of venue in connection with her trial in the United States district court. She said the action would be taken on the ground that District Attorney Sullivan, who will prosecute her case if tried here, is related to Judge Tayler and that owing to the strong public feeling existing against her in this city a fair and unprejudiced trial could not be secured.

Race Track Gambling Prohibited.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 1.—The house by a vote of 116 to 9 passed the bill prohibiting bookmaking and poolselling at race tracks or elsewhere in the state. This measure was introduced in lieu of the Godfrey amendment, the original of which was stolen from the records of the holder, rendering the action of that body in passing an antigambling bill void.

Veteran War Surgeon Dead.

CINCINNATI, March 1.—Dr. Adolph Ziperlin, an honorary member of the faculty of the University of Tuevingen, Germany, from which university he was graduated more than fifty years ago, is dead at his home here, aged nearly ninety years. He was a surgeon in the Union army during the civil war.

Ice Played Havoc at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, March 1.—With the breaking of the ice gorge in the Mississippi river and the passing of the last of the big floes from the harbor it was discovered that the new government dike, 900 feet long, had been completely demolished. The cost of the work was $200,000.

Two Miners Killed.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 1.—While a miner was attempting to loosen coal in a breast at Richards' colliery a huge fall occurred, killing Anthony Welcome and Joseph Antunsky. A number of other workmen had narrow escapes.

Rev. Joseph A. Lauer Dead.

SARATOGA, N. Y., March 1.—Rev. Joseph A. Lauer of Baltimore, Md., a Redemptorist priest, is dead at St. Clement's college here, aged thirty-six years. He was the son of Alexander Lauer of Baltimore.

BATTLE ON SHAKHE

Russians, Under Heavy Artillery Fire, Seize Bridge.

MAY HAVE TO RETREAT FROM MUKDEN

Kuroki's Late Advance May Compel Kuropatkin to Withdraw His Army to the Mountain Position at Tie Pass.

LONDON, March 1.—Special advices from St. Petersburg say that fighting on a large scale is in progress between the Russian and Japanese armies in Manchuria. General Kuropatkin, after meeting the initative of the Japanese in the eastern part of the Shakhe valley, has assumed the aggressive in the western portion under cover of a heavy artillery fire from Putiloff hill and Novgorod hill and succeeded in driving the Japanese from a position in the outskirts of Sandiapu. Simultaneously the Russians attacked and captured a railroad bridge on the Japanese centre.

Much more serious is the Japanese operations against the Russian left wing, which threatens unless quickly checked to oblige General Kuropatkin to abandon the positions on the Hun river which he has occupied and fortified during the winter. There is no confirmation of the report that the Russian commander in chief has notified the emperor that retreat northward has been imperative.

Mukden reports say that fighting is in progress along the line, the Japanese attacking the enemy everywhere. All attacks have been beaten back, the Russians making counter attacks at many places. On the right flank the Russians occupied the village of Baotatzsi, which is close to Sandiapu, and from that position hurled hand grenades across the intervening ravine into the Japanese trenches in Sandiapu, causing heavy loss and great disorder.

The Russians have seized the head of the bridge across the Shakhe river in the centre of the Japanese lines, assisted by artillery firing of particular energy from Putiloff hill and Novgorod hill.

Ten determined attacks opposite Yansintung and west of Vanupudzi were all repulsed with heavy loss.

As the Japanese are pressing the whole Russian line such an operation must almost inevitably end in a disaster of the first magnitude.

Huan mountain (Manchuria) dispatches say that the Japanese attack was renewed at dawn along the whole eastern front, and Da pass was taken after fighting of the most stubborn character. An engagement simultaneously was in progress on the front, almost twenty miles from the extreme left, eastward of Kandolesan, where the Japanese opened a heavy artillery fire, to the district of Laolinzan, where the Japanese advanced in great force, meeting with stubborn resistance.

The capture of Da pass opens the road to Fuchau, east of Mukden, and Tie pass, but the Russians are gathering a strong force to meet the threatened attack on their line of communications. The Japanese attack was supported by a strong park of artillery, a reserve of seven batteries being discovered east of Kandolesan, which is yet silent.

The Japanese army now holds a line from Syaboehe, opposite Dzhantan, through Shahopao along the Shakhe river to Vanupudzi, and thence to Da pass and Toumadzi southeastward.

The Japanese effected a crossing of the Shakhe river at Vanupudzi and attacked the Russian centre under cover the darkness, driving back the Russian advance posts and capturing the position.

Mukden dispatches say that the seizure of the railroad bridge across the Shakhe river was the occasion of a sharp combat. The Russians succeeded in surprising the Japanese bridge guards and, re-enforced, beat off all attempts of the Japanese to regain possession of it.

The Japanese are using heavy siege artillery in the bombardment of Putiloff hill and Novgorod hill, and this is believed to be preliminary to an attempt to storm them. The loss to the defending force is insignificant. The roar of artillery firing is echoing unceasingly from the mountains to the eastward to the low flats of the Hun river valley, the scene of General Gripenberg's repulse.

The fight appears to be developing in intensity along the whole line.

Plainfield, N. J., March 1, 1905.

There's another storm brewing in North Plainfield, but excitement is commonplace in that community.

Nothing can be lost by a thorough consideration of the saloon district measure which is in the Common Council. Councilman Tyler's remarks at the session Monday night shed some light on the scheme and its workings particularly as tried in Minneapolis and Atlanta. Let us have a free and full discussion of the subject. The Daily Press will welcome comunications on the matter.

Where was the Common Council and where was the Board of Trade of this city when the mayors, other municipal officials and public spirited citizens of New Jersey gathered at Trenton yesterday to urge the passage of the Colby limited franchise bill? This measure would redound to the benefit of Plainfield quite as much as it would to other sections of the State, but there were only two men here who showed enough interest to attend the public hearing, and they represented neither the Common Council nor the Board of Trade.

Two hundred ministers, representing all denominations, gathered at Holy Trinity church, Philadelphia, yesterday and prayed for the Mayor. As there appears to be little hope for the political redemption of Weaver, the influence of the 200 preachers among the members of their congregations might be directed in organizing an army of voters to battle for the purification of politics, but the trouble in the Quaker City is that there has been altogether too much politics in reform movements. An unselfish, united and unrelentless battle against corruption is what is needed.

BOYS' DEPARTMENTS TO COMPETE IN ATHLETICS

PASSAIC, NEW BRUNSWICK AND RAHWAY TO MEET LOCAL TEAM.

The boys' department of four associations in the State will be entertained at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday, and will compete in an indoor athletic meet. Those to be represented are Passaic, New Brunswick, Rahway, and the local association. The athletic meet, which will include the usual events, will take place at the gymnasium in the morning, after which a dinner will be served to the boys by members of the Women's Auxiliary.

The rules governing the league will be the customary athletic regulations, two entries from each association being admitted into each event. Prizes in the shape of ribbons will be awarded for first, second and third place, and a banner will be given to the winning association. The points will be on the scale of five, three and one.

Among those who will support Plainfield in the four-cornered meet will be Woodhull, Caldwell, Steiner, Alpaugh, Loughlin, Stern, Briggs and Fountain. The officials will be the physical directors of the respective associations, who will accompany the teams.

INCREASE MEMBERSHIP.

Over One Hundred Men at Work at Y. M. C. A. to Raise Enrollment for 1905.

The first steps under the new plan for increasing the membership at the Y. M. C. A. were taken last night, when the membership committee met with the sub-committees and made arrangements for bringing new men into the association. The newly appointed committee is one of the best in the association, and is competent of active work. These are the members of the committee: S. H. Tugwell, A. L. Spicer, Albert Scomp, Robert W. Davis, E. F. Feickert, F. T. Dickerson, F. R. Stevens, H. W. Marshall, A. D. Atwood, J. A. Powlison and George V. W. Moy.

Messrs. Spicer, Scomp, Davis, Feickert, Atwood and Powlison met their sub-committees last night, each man having selected ten assistants. The meeting was in charge of President J. W. Gavett, and every person in the room pledged themselves to bring in, if possible, four new members. With the work divided among such a large field, the increase in membership for 1905 should more than make up for the decrease of 1904.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Further baseball talk in the borough shows that in all probability the team for 1905 will not only be as good as the one last year, but will be equal to the aggregation of several years ago, which was one of the best in the vicinity. In addition to a number of last year's players, several of the old stand-bys, who were on the diamond a few years ago, will be among the candidates for the borough team. These players have signified their intention of trying for the team: Willard Apgar, George Kuldeshes, Edward Herlick, Frank Reinhart, Jesse Ayres and Fred Vail.

The repairs on the round house were begun yesterday, and considerable progress was made. The old bricks were torn away where they were left hanging, and the rafters which were rotted, were replaced by others. Inside the round house all defective parts, which have for a long time been considered weak, will be renewed, and a general repair will take place.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

New Jersey in the American Revolution.

On Wednesday, February 22, there was displayed in the Reading Room of the Public Library, for the first time, an interesting collection of pictures, engravings, etc., relating especially to New Jersey in the Revolution and to Washington. This collection is loaned by the courtesy of the Newark, New Jersey, Public Library, and will be on exhibition about two weeks.

As will be seen from the following description, the pictures, plans, etc., will be of especial interest to young students of United States history in our schools, and the attention of teachers is, on this account, called to them. The majority of the localities noted are in the vicinity of Plainfield: as Paulus Hook (now Jersey City), Elizabethport, Trenton and Princeton, Freehold, etc.

Among the collection are the following:

Plan of the Battle of Springfield.

Caldwell's monument. Caldwell was chaplain of a New Jersey brigade and will be remembered by readers of Bret Harte's "Caldwell at Springfield," as the militant parson who utilized the hymn books of the old meeting-house at Springfield as wadding.

"They were left in the lurch
For the want of more wadding. He ran to the church,
Broke the door, stripped the pews, and dashed out in the road
With his arm full of hymn books, and threw down his load
At their feet. Then above all the shouting and shots
Rang out his voice—'Put Watts into 'em—Boys give 'em Watts.'"

Old tavern at Elizabethport, where many stirring scenes of the Revolution occurred.

Portrait of Gen. Greene, distinguished at Trenton, Princeton, Monmouth, etc.

Battle of Trenton, December 26, 1776. Engraving of the headquarters of Gen. Knox, in which the council of war was held prior to the Battle of Trenton. Washington crossing the Delaware, from Leutze's painting. Old engraving showing battle ground at Trenton. Engraving from Chappel's Surrender of Col. Hall, Hessian commander. Trenton bridge and vicinity. Old engraving of the Battle of Trenton from a drawing by C. Schuessele.

Battle of Princeton, Jan. 3, 1777. Engraving of Chappel's painting of the Battle of Princeton, and one by Trumbull. View of the battle ground. Death scene of Gen. Mercer. Washington at the Battle of Princeton. Nassau Hall, Princeton College and Bridge at Worth's Mills.

Valley Forge, 1777-78, Sketch by Darley, American troops at Valley Forge. Engraving from Chappel, Washington and Lafayette at Valley Forge. Washington and Steuben at Valley Forge, (H. Pyoe). Washington's Headquarters at Valley Forge. Engraving from the painting of W. H. Powell, Washington and the Committee of Congress at Valley Forge. Portrait of Baron de Steuben.

Battle of Monmouth, June 28, 1778. Meeting house at Freehold, scene of the Battle of Monmouth. Plan of the Battle of Monmouth. Field of Monmouth, from the painting by George Washington Parke Custis. Battle ground, showing position of troops. Engraving from Chappel's painting of the Battle of Monmouth, when Gen Lee was retreating and Washington appearing turned a disgraceful flight into a drawn battle. Engraving from the painting of D. M. Carter, showing Moll Pitcher at the Battle of Monmouth. Washington at Monmouth, by Darley.

Paulus Hook, now Jersey City. Capture in 1779, by Major Lee. Picture of Geu. Wayne.

A list of the Library's best books on the Revolution will be published shortly.

—The case of the State against Jas. Springs, charged with forgery, which came up before Judge Vail at the county court yesterday, was postponed until next Wednesday.

GENERAL VILJOEN IS HORSEWHIPPED

FORMER BOER FIGHTER ROUTED BY AN ACTRESS.

CHARGED WITH JILTING HER

South African Hero Beats Hasty Retreat Before Young Woman—Latter Tells of Romantic Adventures.

Chicago.—Gen. Benjamin Johannes Viljoen, Boer patriot and hero of half a hundred South African battlefields, was horsewhipped at the Coliseum here the other night by Miss May Belfort, an English vaudeville actress, who claims in defense of her act that he jilted her after his wife secured a divorce from him in order to give him his freedom.

The sensational attack upon the famous soldier occurred at seven o'clock, when Miss Belfort appeared before the general and demanded:

"What do you mean by your scurrilous letter to me? Have you acted toward me as a man would toward a woman?"

"I know of no wrong deeds on my part—" began Viljoen, when the enraged actress snatched a heavy rawhide whip from the folds of her skirt and struck him a cutting blow upon the arm. Gen. Viljoen retreated before a shower of blows, the woman following him. With a last vicious cut, she desisted from her attack and then left the place.

In her room at the Sherman house Miss Belfort sat on the edge of her bed and told in picturesque style of her romantic adventures with Viljoen.

"I'm clean flabbergasted over this affair," she said. "Do you know that I met the Boer in 1903, while he was on a lecture tour in Lunnon. We were very fond of each other, but it was quite by accident, you know, that we left England for Africa on the same boat. Then we had our pictures taken together in Johannesburg."

Miss Belfort then obligingly loaned the picture, a heart-shaped card, showing herself and the general together.

"Do you know," she continued, "he wanted to know if I would marry him if his wife got a divorce through a barrister. I said 'Yes,' but my friends wanted to know what I wanted to marry a Boer general for. It was because I loved him.

"We returned to England together. About a twelvemonth ago the Boer went to St. Louis. I have real 'swads' of letters from him. After Mrs. Viljoen's barrister got her a divorce last fall the tone of his letters changed. He wrote to me that 'he was through with married life,' and that he could not afford to get married.

"He often took the trouble to cable to the London Daily Express and deny that he was engaged to marry me.

"I am sure I hurt him. If his coat had only been thinner I would have thrashed him even more soundly than I did. I did my best, anyway."

Miss Belfort sings French and English songs in vaudeville. Gen. Viljoen refused to discuss Miss Belfort, saying that the notoriety was distasteful to him. He declared that Miss Belfort was seeking notoriety for herself.

Gen. Viljoen is certain that a man accompanied the woman and made an appointment by telephone for her. Miss Belfort denies emphatically that any other person was connected with the affair.

Count Dresses as a Woman.

Paris.—An amusing story is related about an eccentric count living in this city on a modest income of 250,000 francs a year, and whose only fad is to dress as a lady. Not content with appearing in his dashing carriage in this strange costume in public, he has just given a ball, the guests being "ladies only," and numbering some of the most distinguished names. The count received and invited in a rose colored satin dress, trimmed with richest lace, and ornamented with bouquets of flowers. Equally interesting is the fact that he is always veiled, to hide his white moustache, as he has no desire to part with it.

Shower of Frozen Geese.

Nagy-Becskerek, Hungary.—The inhabitants of this little town have received an unexpected gift in the form of a shower of half-frozen geese numbering nearly 1,000, which have fallen from the skies.

PUNISH INDIAN TRUANTS.

Boys Who Play Hookey Are Arrested and Imprisoned, According to Account of Tutor.

It doesn't pay for an Indian schoolboy to play hookey, says the Kansas City Journal. Guns are employed to capture the truant, and if caught alive he is not tanned with birch, but is hustled to prison like a felon. At least, if this account of one of the tutors at the Chilocco institute is true. He says:

"One party of five Ponca boys that I escorted to Chilocco last December remained over Sunday and were returning to the reservation ahead of me. Unfortunately, they got on the smoker of the returning train and one of them looked into the coach. I instantly surmised that the others were with him and soon had three well seated and under guard. The fourth refused to come in, and we indulged in a wrestling bout on the platform, with the train speeding along at a rate of 40 miles an hour. I soon quit this method of capture, as it might have ended disastrously for both of us. Just as the train pulled into Ponca City my runaway jumped and I after him. He refused to stop and I fired twice, which simply accelerated his speed, and I am compelled to remark that with proper training that Indian could easily join the professional class of sprinters. I landed at the Ponca agency long after midnight with the three others, who were imprisoned."

STONE FROM EMPIRE STATE

Most of the Article Used in Grinding Apparatus Is Produced in New York.

Arkansas and New Hampshire supply us with most of our oilstones and scythe stones, although we import over $50,000 worth of "Turkey" razor hones. Most of our grindstones came from Ohio last year, but we also found it needful to import nearly $100,000 worth of stones for grinding and polishing lenses. Burr stones still find application in grinding paints, cements, etc., but other forms of grinding apparatus are gradually replacing them. New York state produces most of them, but some are taken from Pennsylvania strata. Pennsylvania provides most of the quartz for sandpaper and some garnet, but New York, New England and North Carolina also provide garnets for sandpaper. The United States produced at one time enough corundum for its own use, but now we have to import from Canada and India. The Chester county deposits are no longer worked and North Carolina and Montana are now the only producers. Nature is being helped out to a wonderful extent in supply abrasives by the manufacture of artificial corundum and carborundum in the electric furnace at Niagara Falls. Crushed steel is a new abrasive, being made in Pittsburg. It is steel of excessive hardness in a granular form.

JAPS GET GENUINE REST.

Coolies Perform All Chores Thus Keeping Fighters Fresh—Burial of Islanders.

It seems an innovation, worthy of particular notice. In the armies of the "civilized powers," so-called, the soldier's work is never done, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. After the battle the cavalrist needs look after his horse, the foot soldier must help clear the battlefield, or dig trenches. Only the Japs allow their men genuine rest, coolies doing all of the chores. It keeps the soldier fresh, gives him plenty of time to recuperate and enhances his feeling of self-importance. With all possible, but not indecent, haste the dead were buried. I saw no mass burials. Each man had a space of six by two feet for himself. The dead were carried to the rear on bamboo poles and crosspieces. An uncommissioned officer took the inventory—name, number and belongings. Then a guard of honor, sometimes six, sometimes only two men, came up and with them looking on silently the coolies shoveled dust upon dust, while the comrades dropped flowers upon the disappearing form.

WORLD'S BIGGEST MOTORS

Machines Capable of Hauling Immense Loads of Logs at High Speed in Use in Canada.

It is in the huge forests of Canada where the biggest motors in the world are seen. They have been specially designed for hauling logs over snow and rough roads. One of these machines is capable of dragging a train of 200 tons weight of logs at a speed of 12 miles an hour. It is the only machine in existence that will draw a heavy load through three feet of snow and over stumps and logs a foot in height. It is of 25 tons weight and 200 horsepower. It travels on four runners, with a traction wheel in the center weighing several tons. The machinery is inclosed in a box-like affair, giving the motor a somewhat strange appearance as it makes it way along the forest roads.

Finds Moth-Destroying Parasite.

George Compere, employed jointly by the state of California and West Australia, has discovered in South America a parasite which destroys the codling moth. Apple orchards that are the habitat of the parasite bring 95 per cent. of their fruit to maturity. Hitherto the product of the world's apple and pear orchards has not been more than 25 per cent. of the promise at the setting. San Francisco expects to receive from West Australia the first of the parasites very soon, and they will be cultivated under the most favorable conditions.

SARTORIAL ITEMS.

Colors For Mousquetaire Gloves. Elastic Instead of Buttons.

The short white glove is considered provincial among well dressed women. Even for long sleeves that have transparent deep cuffs the suede mousquetaire glove is pulled over them to the elbow.

In suede mousquetaire the colors most approved are tans and grays. Black and white gloves are only worn with costumes they match. The grays and tans are allied with gowns of all colors when worn with a hat.

The best makes of mousquetaire gloves are without buttons. They pull on easily over the hand and are worn well wrinkled.

Glace gloves are kept for shopping and traveling wear.

There is a new glove which has elastic at the top instead of buttons. They are convenient to don, but have not the neat and smart appearance of a buttoned glove.

With the low hairdressing in vogue there is a great demand for attractive hair ornaments. Back and side combs will be, of course, in vogue, and there are any number of lovely tortoise shell and amber pins for the hair.

The newest idea in hatpins is the safety pin to keep the hat in position. This pin is very long and has besides the regulation fastening arrangement that fits down firmly into the hair, the snap being adjusted through the folds of the millinery.

The frock illustrated is of blue chine silk. A very decorative ribbon trimming ornaments the skirt. The waist simulates a bolero and is slightly surpliced in front. The girdle and band about the neck of the bodice are of tan suede trimmed with a ribbon design.

FASHION FACT AND FANCIES.

Three Piece Linen Suits a Fad—Floral Effects Are Smart.

Three piece costumes of the finest kind of white linen are the last fashion cry. The costume consists of a long skirt and two bodices, one low and the other high, both made with elbow sleeves. They are beautifully inserted with valenciennes lace and embroidered by hand in floral designs over lace and linen. The low waist depends for adornment upon an exquisitely wrought bertha. The high waist is of the usual dainty lingerie style.

Among the jewelry novelties is a dog collar of jet.

Corset covers fashioned entirely of insertion are worn with slips of fine linen or lawn.

Floral effects promise to outrival all other spring designs and are to be seen on all sorts of materials.

There is a new linen scattered with small blossoms that will be very smart

BLACK MALINES HAT.

this summer made up into the useful shirt waist suit. These linens, which resemble old fashioned calico, are very garish in coloring.

The old chine silk of long ago is again fashionable, the smartest colors in this silk being chrysoprase green and Du Barry rose.

The dainty hat pictured is of black ruffled malines, which forms the entire chapeau. Under the brim and peeping over it on one side are exquisite La France roses, with their foliage.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

LINGERIE SUGGESTIONS.

Dainty Underwear For Summer. New Neck Trimmings.

Nightgowns in lingerie sets are to have the sleeves set in with the tiniest of baby beading.

Some of the new nightgowns are embroidered like the linen shirt waists of last summer, with great flower designs that twist up each side, and are heavily embroidered.

Matelasse silk dressing sacks are stunning and may be bought just now at greatly reduced prices. They are more within the limit of the average woman's pocketbook than the lounging robes of the same material.

Petticoats of changeable taffeta running through many colors are to the fore again.

Very charming are the new silk mulls in solid colors.

Taffeta with a soft finish and in pin stripes holds first place among spring silks.

Filmy fichus, little ripples and swirls of lace and elbow sleeves and lace ruffles will make the summer frock a thing of loveliness.

Quite as pretty as the chiffon ruches are the neck trimmings of double and triple rows of dainty lace. They have the advantage of washing well.

Pink and blue chip hats are trimmed with blue velvet ribbon bows that match in color, but deepen in shade. Pink camellias are placed on the blue hats, while a hat of pink will boast impossible blue camellias.

An exceedingly smart and becoming toque is herewith illustrated. It is made of the palest blue tulle overlaid with a glistening embroidery in which pale blue pearls play an important part. Inside the daintily curved brim folds of tulle are arranged, and a lovely feather droops over the side.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT WILL BE WORN.

Fashions In Outing Skirts — Smart Lingerie Waists.

The circular short skirt for walking and outing generally is one of the summer models. It is made with a seam up the front, which insures a perfect fit about the hips and a pretty swing at the feet that no amount of darts and seams can accomplish.

Soft surah in a checked design, the colorings in black and white, blue or green and white, makes an ideal warm weather traveling gown. A dress of this kind worn with a white "dicky" and cuffs to match always makes the costume look fresh and neat, as these adjuncts may be frequently renewed.

NEW BODICE MODEL.

Chic examples of lingerie, lawn and batiste shirt waists are a mass of tiny tucks. They are daintily embroidered by hand in small sprays of hand worked embroidery. Insertions of lace and swiss are to be seen on the best machine made models, but the hand work is much more exclusive and elegant.

Shirt waist sleeves are fuller at the top and are not trimmed there with tucks or lace, as they were last summer.

The smart waist pictured may be carried out in any of the heavy silks of the season. It is laid from shoulders to waist in wide outward turning plaits. These plaits are embroidered with designs in fancy braid, the upper pattern simulating a yoke. About the vest of Irish lace is an empiecement of velvet embroidered in daisy petals. Tiny pieces of petal embroidered velvet trim the vest from the empiecement down to the chiffon velvet girdle. The sleeves are box plaited into the armholes and have a braid trimmed cuff.

THE GRAFTERS

By

FRANCIS LYNDE

(Copyright, 1904, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company.)

Bucks had striven masterfully to drive and not be driven; but the delays were inexorable, and the impending strike threatened to turn the orderly charge into a rout. The governor had postponed the coup from day to day, waiting upon the leisurely movements of Falkland; and at the end of the ends there remained but three hours of the final day of grace when the telegram came from Falkland with the welcome news that the Overland officials were on their way from Midland City to keep the appointment in Gaston.

Of all this Kent knew nothing, and was anxious in just proportion as the minutes elapsed and the time for the departure of the eastbound express drew near. For the success of the desperate venture turned upon this: that the receiver's special must leave ahead of the passenger train. With the express blocking the way the difficulties became insurmountable.

Kent was still standing at the trainmen's wicket when Callahan sent the private car gently up to the trackhead of track eight. M'Tosh had been telephoning again, and the receiver and his party were on the way to the station.

"I was afraid you'd have to let the express go first," said Kent, when the trainmaster came his way again. "How much time have we?"

"Five minutes more; and they are on the way down—there they come."

Kent looked and saw a group of six men making for the nearest exit in the grille. Then he smote his fist into his palm.

"Damn!" he muttered; "they've got the vice president of the Overland with them! That's bad."

"It's bad for Mr. Callafield," growled M'Tosh. "We're in too deep now to back down on his account."

Kent moved nearer and stood in the shadow of the gate-keeper's box, leaving M'Tosh, who was on the track platform, free to show himself. From his new point of espial Kent checked off the members of the party. When Maj. Guilford left it to come back for a word with M'Tosh, there were five others: the governor, his private secretary, Hawk, Halkett, the general superintendent, and the Overland's vice president.

"All ready, M'Tosh?" said the receiver.

"Ready and waiting, Major," was the bland reply.

"Who is our engineer?"

"Patrick Callahan."

"That wild Irishman? The governor says he'd as soon ride behind the devil."

"Callahan will get you there," said the trainmaster, with deliberate emphasis. Then he asked a question of his own. "Is Mr. Callafield going with you?"

"No. He came down to see us off. How is the fast mail to-night?"

"She's just in—an hour and thirty-five minutes late."

The major swore pathetically. He was of the generation of railway officials, happily fast passing, which cursed and swore itself into authority.

"That's another $500 forfeit to the post office department! Who's taking it west?"

"Tischer."

"Give him orders to cut out all the stops. If he is more than 55 minutes late at Bighorn, he can come in and get his time."

Tischer had just got the word to go, and was pulling out on the yard main line.

"I'll catch him with the wire at yard limits," said M'Tosh. Then: "Would you mind hurrying your people a little, major? The express is due to leave."

Guilford was a heavy man for his weight, and he waddled back to the others, waving his arms as a signal for them to board the car.

Kent saw the vice president of the Overland Short Line shake hands with Bucks and take his leave, and was so intent upon watching the tableau of departure that he failed to notice the small boy in Western Union blue who was trying to thrust a telegram, damp from the copying rolls, into his hand.

"It's a rush, sir," said the boy, panting from his quick dash across the track platforms.

It was Ormsby's message from Breezeland; and while Kent was trying to grasp the tremendous import of it, M'Tosh was giving Callahan the signal to go. Kent sprang past the gate-keeper and gave the square of damp paper to the train-master.

"My God! read that!" he gasped, with a dry sob of excitement. "It was our chance—one chance in a million—and we've lost it!"

M'Tosh was a man for a crisis. The red tail-lights of the private-car special were yet within a sprinter's dash of the trackhead, but the train-master lost no time chasing a ten-wheel flyer with "Red" Callahan at the throttle.

"Up to my office!" he shouted; and ten seconds later Kent was leaning breathless over the desk in the dispatcher's room while M'Tosh called Durgan over the yard limits telephone.

"Is that you, Durgan?" he asked, when the reply came. Then: "Drop the board on the mail, quick! and send somebody to tell Tischer to sidetrack, leaving the main line Western Division clear. Got that?"

The answer was evidently prompt and satisfactory, since he began again almost in the same breath.

"Now go out yourself and flag Callahan before he reaches the limits. Tell him the time-card's changed and he is to run west with the special to Megilp as first section of the mail—no stops, or Tischer will run him down. Leg it! He's half-way down the yard, now!"

The train-master dropped the earpiece of the telephone and crossed quickly to the dispatcher's table.

"Orders for the Western Division, Donohue," he said curtly, "and don't let the grass grow. 'Receiver's car, Callahan, engineer, runs to Megilp as first section of fast mail. Fast mail, Hunt, conductor; Tischer, engineer; runs to the end of the division without stop, making up all time possible.' Add to that last, 'By order of the receiver.'"

The orders were sent as swiftly as the dispatcher could rattle them off on his key; and then followed an interval of waiting more terrible than a battle. Kent tried to speak, but his lips were parched and his tongue was like a dry stick between his teeth. What was doing in the lower yard? Would Durgan fail at the pinch and mismanage it so as to give the alarm? The minutes dragged leaden-winged, and even the sounders on the dispatcher's table were silent.

Suddenly the clicking began again. The operator at "yard limits" was sending the O. K. to the two train orders. So far, so good. Now if Callahan could get safely out on the Western Division. * *

But there was a hitch in the lower yard. Durgan had obeyed orders promptly and precisely, and had succeeded in stopping Callahan. Durgan climbed to the cab of the 1,010, and the changed plan was explained in a dozen words. But now came the crux.

"If I stand here till you'd be bringin' me my orders, I'll have the whole kit av thim buzzin' round to know fwhat's the matther," said Callahan; but there was no other thing to do, and Durgan hurried back to the telegraph office to play the messenger.

He was too long about it. Before he got back, Halkett was under the cab window of the 1,010, demanding to know—with many objurgations—why Callahan had stopped in the middle of the yards.

"Get a move on you!" he shouted. "The express is right behind us, and it'll run us down, you damned bog-trotter!"

Callahan's gauntleted hand shot up to the throttle-bar.

"I'm l'avin', Misther Halkett," he said mildly. "Will yez go back to the car, or ride wit' me?"

The general superintendent took no chance of catching the Naught-seven's hand-rails in the darkness, and he whipped up into the cab at the first sharp cough of the exhaust.

"I'll go back when you stop for your orders," he said; but a shadowy figure had leaped upon the engine-step a

"MY GOD! READ THAT! IT WAS OUR CHANCE AND WE HAVE LOST IT!"

scant half-second behind him, and Callahan was stuffing the crumpled copy of the order into the sweat-band of his cap. The next instant the big 1,010 leaped forward like a blooded horse under an unmerited cut of the whip, slid past the yard limits telegraph office and shot out upon the main line of the Western Division.

"Sit down, Misther Halkett, an' make yerself aisy!" yelled Callahan across the cab. "'Tis small use Jimmy Shovel 'll have for his box this night."

"Shut off, you Irish madman!" was the shouted command. "Don't you see you're on the wrong division?"

Callahan gave the throttle-bar another outward hitch, tipped his seat and took a hammer from the toolbox.

"I know where I'm goin', an' that's more thin you know, ye blandhanderin' divil! Up on that box wit' you, an' kape out av Jimmy Shovel's road, or I'll be the death av yez! Climb now!"

It was at this moment that the tense strain of suspense was broken in the dispatcher's room on the second floor of the Union station. The telephone skirled joyously, and the train-master snatched up the ear-piece.

"What does he say?" asked Kent.

"It's all right," says Callahan is out on the Western Division, with Tischer chasing him according to programme. Halkett's in the cab of the 1,010 with Patsy, and—hold—on By George! he says one of them jumped the car as it was passing the limits station!"

"Which one was it?" asked Kent; and he had to wait till the reply came from Durgan.

"It was Hawk, the right-of-way man. He broke and ran for the nearest electric car line the minute he hit the ground, Durgan says. Does he count?"

"No," said Kent; but it is always a mistake to underrate an enemy's caliber—even that of his small arms.

CHAPTER XXVII.

THE NIGHT OF ALARMS.

If Editor Hildreth had said nothing in his evening edition about the impending strike on the Trans-Western, it was not because public interest was waning. For a fortnight the newspapers in the territory tributary to the road had been full of strike talk, and Hildreth had said his say, deprecating the threatened appeal to force as fearlessly as he condemned the mismanagement which was provoking it.

But it was Kent who was responsible for the dearth of news on the eve of the event. Early in the morning of the last day of the month he had sought out the editor and begged him to close the columns of the Evening Argus to strike news, no matter what should come in during the course of the day.

"I can't go into the reasons as deeply now as I hope to a little later," he had said, his secretive habit holding good to the final fathom of the slipping hawser of events. "But you must bear with me once more, and whatever you hear between now and the time you go to press, don't comment on it. I have one more chance to win out, and it hangs in a balance that a feather's weight might tip the wrong way. I'll be with you between 10 and 12 to-night, and you can safely save two columns of the morning paper for the sensation I'm going to give you."

KAISER'S GIFT TO HARVARD.

Collection of Models Given by Dr. Lewald In Emperor's Behalf.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 1.—A collection of models, charts, maps and books, which formed part of the German educational exhibition at the recent St. Louis exposition, was last night presented to Harvard university by Dr. Theodor Lewald, the German imperial commissioner, acting in behalf of Emperor William. The gift, which represents recent improvements in the problem of social ethics in Germany, will be placed in Emerson hall, the new philosophy building now under construction.

The presentation was made in the Harvard Germanic museum, and the gift was accepted in behalf of the philosophical department by Professor Hugo Munsterberg.

The exercises were attended by many of the faculty and others connected with the university.

Dr. H. P. Wolcott, who presided in the absence of President Eliot, paid a tribute to the generosity of Emperor William and expressed the hope that the present friendly relations between the emperor and Harvard university would be lasting.

Professor Hugo Munsterberg accepted the gift on behalf of Harvard.

Cincinnati Ice Gorge Broken.

CINCINNATI, March 1.—After holding $2,000,000 worth of vessels and other river property in peril for more than two months one of the worst gorges ever known in the Ohio river at this point finally broke up and passed off down the river last night, causing comparatively small damage at the last, although more than $300,000 loss had been suffered during the past few days by the sliding and crushing of the immense ice pack. Three steamers—the Bonanza, the Virginia and the Rees Lee—grounded and were left in a dangerous position as the false water went down. Nearly 200 barges also grounded.

Hilo Attorney Arrested.

DEATH TO VLADIMIR

Russian Terrorists Proclaim Grand Duke Doomed.

WIFE TRYING TO SAVE HIS LIFE.

Grand Duchess Marie, Warned by Assassins That They Intend to Kill Him, Watches and Follows Him Everywhere.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—The terrorists are acting with increasing boldness here. Grand Duke Vladimir, who is marked for death by the organization that blew the Grand Duke Sergius to pieces, is in a state of collapse. His wife is doing her utmost to save him, risking her own life in the attempts to balk the hands of the assassins.

The utter impotency of the police is exciting grave concern. Even on the steps of public buildings simple notices of Grand Duke Sergius' death have been found. They read:

"The sentence of death passed upon Sergius-Alexandrovitch was executed Feb. 17."

They are signed by the fighting organization of the Social Democratic party.

Moreover, the notices were neatly printed, a thing unknown in the days of the late Interior Minister von Plehve, when similar notices were always run off on copying machines.

The secret police then were too close on the heels of the terrorists to permit of the use of a printing press.

The Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, wife of Grand Duke Vladimir, father of Grand Dukes Cyril and Boris, whose husband is high on the list of those condemned to death, is trying to shield his life with her own. The grand duke tries to elude his wife, but she insists upon being immediately apprised if he is going out, donning wraps and accompanying him everywhere.

Since "red Sunday" the Grand Duke Vladimir has not only been showered with threats and warnings, but has twice received from abroad formal letters signed by different groups informing him of his sentence to death and of the assignment of men to execute it.

STRIKES CONTINUE.

Poland Still In Grip of Labor Agitators—Riots at Minsk.

WARSAW, March 1.—The strike situation in Poland is far from encouraging. A general strike of shop assistants in Warsaw is expected today unless the demands of the men are conceded. Seventy-five per cent of the employers are willing to give in, but the remainder refuse to do so. The domestic servants also threaten to strike today.

Negotiations between the employers and strikers are continuing, but there appears to be little hope of a successful outcome. All the coal received here now is coming from Silesia. The situation was further complicated by a strike of coal cart drivers.

The owners of the great cotton mills at Zyrardoff have notified 15,000 strikers that unless they returned to work immediately the mills would be closed for six months.

There is some evidence of a recrudescence of the Lodz strike.

The Vistula railway strike still continues and is costing the company $37,500 daily. The fact that the line has been placed under martial law appears to have had no effect. The chief obstacle to a settlement of the dispute seems to be the strikers' demands for the abolition of the rule restricting the employment of Poles to a small percentage. The directors are awaiting the decision of the St. Petersburg authorities on this point.

The students of the clerical seminary at Minsk have wrecked the houses of the director and inspector of schools and burned all their papers. All the students then left the town.

Maxim Gorky, who was released from the fortress on $2,500 bail, has been banished at St. Petersburg to Riga.

Serious disturbances have broken out at Kutais, and troops have been called for to suppress them.

Fire on Steamer Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Fire broke out in the cargo of the steamer Oregon when the ship was about fifteen miles southwest of Crescent City on her voyage from San Francisco to Portland. The crew fought the flames all night and finally got it under control. There were fifty-six passengers on board the Oregon besides the crew, but the passengers were safely transferred to the steamer Del Norte and taken to Crescent City. The Oregon proceeded to the harbor under her own steam.

Taylor Murder Trial at Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 1.—Paul Herbert Schmidt, charged with the murder of William Taylor at the Crittenden farm in Sherman, has been placed on trial here on a charge of murder in the first degree. The day was spent in selecting a jury. It is understood that the defense will try to show that the killing of Taylor was an act of self defense during a quarrel.

After Binder Twine Trust.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 1.—The house passed a resolution providing for an investigation of the binding twine combination, and the senate decided to look into the workings of the insurance companies doing business in this state. It is alleged that the companies have made a combination in violation of the state antitrust law.

SPORTING NEWS

DIAMOND DUST.

Ralph Schoonmaker, of Columbia University, will make a try for the 'Varsity baseball team this year.

The Ingersoll-Sergeant team at Easton, Pa., hopes to secure Ramsey, of High Bridge, as a batman this season.

The Clinton Avenue ball club will hold a meeting soon and reorganize for the season. The team and schedule will be stronger than ever.

"Smiling Jimmie" Montross, an old-time favorite, is still undecided as to where he will play this season. It is understood that he has had two or three offers.

Mertens, who pitched for Rahway last season, and who is now at Cornell, expects to do the twirling again this year. He is reported to be in exceptional condition.

George Wiltse, of Somerville, one of the star twirlers for the New York Nationals, has been spending several days with his brother, Louis Wiltse, of the New Madison.

Latest advices from Peekskill, N. Y., indicate that "Pete" Oregan is storing up base hits for the coming season. He declares that he will have two or three for every game.

It now looks very doubtful as to whether Washington, Warren county, will have a first-class team this year. If this is true no doubt Badgley, formerly of Plainfield, will locate elsewhere.

The members of the Plainfield team will be in excellent condition for the opening game on April 15, for they are now putting in their spare time in practice, and will play one or two games before coming here.

The followers of the New York American League team all regret the announcement that Fultz will probably not return to professional baseball. He is considered to be one of the most gentlemanly players in the game.

Lines Groo, of the Plainfield Baseball Association management, says that the best team that ever represented the city will be here this season and the strongest attractions will be scheduled, giving the fans the best baseball outside of the major league.

The fans are pleased to know that there will be a good representative team here this season and now that they have been assured of the fact they are willing to support the game. The management declares that there will be no "hot air" dreams about the lineup or the schedule, straight goods and all wool.

The Jersey City Eastern League team is one of the fastest in this part of the country and has been considerably strengthened for this season. The aggregation will prove a hard proposition for the Plainfield team on Saturday, April 15, when the local season will open. The Hudson County boys play the New York Giants and Americans before coming here.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The New Jersey Interscholastic League, organized in 1896, and of which the Plainfield High School was at one time a member, has disbanded, and plans for the formation of a new league are being considered. The local school achieved honors in this league in 1898, though shortly after that time it withdrew, and has not been represented in any State league since. Under the new plans which are to be considered there is a possibility that the Plainfield High School will be again in the ranks of interscholastic competitors, and may begin with the football schedule in the fall.

The league has gradually been declining and interest has been growing so slack that at the recent meetings not even a quorum of representatives has put in an appearance. While the league was at its height many interesting game and meet has been held under its auspices. Plans are already under way for the formation of a larger and stronger league, which will include the best schools in the New Jersey Interscholastic League and the Metropolitan League of New York. This will bring together as good a crowd of scholastic athletes as any State can produce, and for the local school to be represented in this league would be no small honor. Without doubt, when the league is formed, the local association will make known its presence, as it would be able to make a good showing with the rest of the schools and academies, especially in baseball.

MAYOR TO ENLIGHTEN BOROUGH HEALTH BOARD

COUNCIL AND BOARD TO MEET TOMORROW NIGHT.

The threatened eruption between the Borough Council and the Board of Health was again averted last night, when all the members of the two bodies were to have been on hand and do something or other with the mysterious affair which forebodes a tilt. Action was side-tracked because of the non-arrival of Dr. Honeyman, secretary of the board, and President Love, though a conference took place. Part of the expectant populace hovered about the Council rooms in the hope that a stray whisper or two might float through the keyhole and let them "in" on the deal, but they were disappointed.

It was said by one of the councilmen this morning, that the meeting has again been called for tomorrow night and that every inducement will be offered Dr. Honeyman and President Love to attend.

AMUSEMENTS.

The stock company at Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street Theatre is meeting with unparalleled success, which is due not alone to the excellent quality of the organization, but also to the manner in which the productions are staged, one of the noticable features being the little difference between the plays when originally produced and now by the stock company. In all the plays presented thus far Mr. Proctor has employed a wealth of original scenery, electrical effects, and in every way striven to make the productions a faithful following of the original. Miss Edna Phillips also continues adding to her throng of admirers, as does Miss Agnes Scott, Harold Hartsell, Charles Arthur, William Norton and the other members of the company.

There is no modification whatever in the interest impelled by "Leah Kleschna," which at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, plays steadily to a series of audiences that crowd the theatre, and that represent the very best class of metropolitan theatregoers, with distinguished persons from all parts of the country—the cream of sojourners in New York—who even before arrival, so wide is the fame of this production, set down the pleasure of witnessing the work of Mrs. Fiske and the admirable Manhattan Company as one of the first to be indulged. As "Leah Kleschna" runs on, with no cessation of patronage or attention, the fact that it is not only the dramatic treat of the season, but the treat of years, is re-emphasized. The play itself, in ordinary circumstances, would engross attention; but when to its appeal there is added the practically flawless representation, it is no wonder that "Leah Kleschna," originally a revelation, continues to be the dramatic achievement beyond comparison in New York, and maintains a prestige that is all the more notable because it is genuine and deserved. Aside from the occasional holiday matinees, but one matinee a week—on Saturday—is scheduled at the Manhattan.

As the choir is to be engaged this month, the Society meeting was called and the matter was explained by J. E. Morse, president of the Board of Trustees William B. Wadsworth presided as chairman.

SNAP SHOTS.

The Ridgway, Pa., Daily Record, has this to say regarding James Bell, a former Plainfieider who was employed for a long time at the Pond Machine Tool Works:

"At a gathering of the employes of the Ridgway Machine Tool Company on Friday evening last, James Bell, the retiring foreman of the company's machine shops, was presented with a silver service set, a silver fruit dish, and silver knives, forks and spoons, as a token of the fidelity and esteem in which he was held by not only the men under his supervision, but by all those who came in contact with him. It was a fine example of a working man's confidence in one who has been at least fair and honest to those less fortunate under him. He is also said to have been an able and efficient mechanic, which enabled him to manage his department smoothly, turning out the best work in the least time. The many friends Mr. Bell has made in Ridgway, which includes the many employes of the Ridgway Machine Tool Company, regret to see him go.

LITERARY.

The April Red Book promises to be a noteworthy number, with sixteen stories, including such authors as Henry Burnham Boone, Robert Aitken, Anne Warner, Roy E. Norton and Cuteliffe Hyne in the list. In addition to the fiction features, a department of dramatic news and criticism will be introduced, contributed by Acton Davies, who is recognized as one of the most scholarly and interesting of the more eminent dramatic critics of the time.

The leading feature of Lippincott's Magazine for March is a novelette by Captain Archibald W. Butt, U. S. A., called "Both Sides of the Shield." The Shield is, of course, the South before the War. A writer on a Northern paper goes to Georgia to report conditions and falls in with a typical Southern family, much reduced in estate. He also falls in love with the daughter, and when his newspaper revelations come to her ears she indignantly rejects him. The Spanish-American War, strangely enough, brings a true to the bitterness, and all ends in charming appropriateness.

Grandma beside the evening lamp, scanning the pages of her "old scrapbook"—presumably hunting clippings for Joe Chapple's $10,000 "Heart-Throb" competition now running in the National—makes beautiful the cover of the March number of the National Magazine of Boston. Strong short stories by Mary Morrison, Helen Corinne Gillenwater and Christobelle van Asmus Buning, with serials by James Ball Naylor and Anna McClure Sholf, and fine poems by J. A. Edgerton, Edwin Markham, Alice F. Tilden, Zona Gale and Yone Noguchi, round out the best number that the National has ever given its readers. Twenty pages of "Affairs at Washington," with forty portraits and other illustrations, reflect the picturesque aspects of life at the capital.

It is common belief that the germs of disease flourish only in the human organism, and that, if we could once eradicate an infectious malady, it would stay eradicated. It now seems very probable that this is untrue. According to a view held wholly or partially by many pathologists, and strongly upheld by a recent French writer, Professor Bodin, disease germs are only accidentally virulent, their normal existence being what is called "saprophytic;" that is, independent of any other organism. When one of these harmless varieties changes its nature so as to become parasitic, we have a new disease. Observation has shown that many kinds of bacteria are very unstable, and are constantly forming new varieties. It is possible, therefore, that potential germs of typhoid, lockjaw, or consumption may be growing harmlessly about us, to assume, suddenly, a virulent parasitic life at some future time. According to this view, all bacteria are primarily benevolent agents for promoting chemical change, and the variation that turns some of them into injurious parasites is accidental and abnormal.—Success Magazine.

ELKS ACQUIRE WASHINGTON HALL

Sale of Second Street Property Confirmed by Capt. J. A. Baker Today.

CONSIDERATION, $16,500

New Owners Will Make Extensive Improvements As a Home for the Popular Lodge.

The sale of the Washington Hall property on West Second street, belonging to the Rice estate, to Plainfield Lodge, 885, B. P. O. E., was confirmed today when George F. Brown, agent for the property, received word from Captain James A. Baker, of Houston, Texas, one of the executors of the Rice estate, confirming the same. The Elks recently took steps toward acquiring this property for lodge purposes and a good-size deposit was made when the option was obtained. The purchase price is understood to be $16,500.

There was some delay in getting the consent of Captain Baker to the deal, and it was understood that he was on his way here from Texas to close up the matter. He did not arrive and Former Judge Bartine, of Somerville, another executor of the Rice estate, decided to go to Houston and see Captain Baker. The latter's consent was obtained and word to that effect was received this morning. Mr. Bartine will now prepare the necessary papers and the deed for the property will be passed as soon as possible.

It is the purpose of the Elks to make extensive improvements in the hall and when these are completed it will be modern in every detail. Ample provision will be made for a lodge room, which will probably be one of the finest in the State. The front of the building will also be changed, making the entrance more attractive. It is not known at present for what purposes other parts of the building will be used, or whether the lodges now meeting there will continue to do so, this matter all depending on the amount of room the Elks will require. Now that the deal is closed plans for remodelling the building will be prepared at once.

HIGH-CLASS ARTISTS AT HARTRIDGE MUSICALE

EXCELLENT PROGRAMME ENJOYED BY A LARGE AUDIENCE.

Seldom has there been heard in Plainfield such good music as that enjoyed at Miss Hartridge's musicale last evening at the Casino. Two of the artists, Eda Aberle, soprano, and Maurice Kaufman, violinist, are already well-known in New York. Manfred Malkin, the new Russian pianist, a pupil of de Beriot and premier prix of the Paris Conservateire, 1901, is an artist of the first rank.

The programme was a delightful one. Miss Aberle not only has a beautiful voice but is a woman of broad culture and possesses an artistic nature. She showed exceptional understanding and great delicacy in her rendition of a group of Franz songs, one of Brahms, one or two French ballads, and an old English Roundelay. Maurice Kaufman, a native of New Jersey, studied for many years in Europe under Caesar Thomson, Hugo Herman and others. He gave successful concerts in Berlin, London and other European cities, and made his American debut with great success last fall in Carnegie Hall. His playing is that of a virtuoso, his technique is brilliant, his tone colossal and his work shows temperament and fire.

Manfred Malkin, in spite of his youth has already won for himself many honors. His technique is clear and brilliant. His tone is sweet and he never bangs—not even in the noisy Liszt 8th Rhapsodie. His choice of pieces was a happy one in showing his ability to play equally well a Chopin Nocurne and a Mendelssohn Scherso.

About four hundred guests were present. Before the musicale Miss Hartridge received the guests, assisted by Miss Ward, Miss Stiles, Miss Mapelsden and Miss Seward. The hall was prettily decorated with palms. No only was the event a notable one socially but it was appreciated as an opportunity of hearing under delightful auspices the best New York talent.

Miss Hartridge is principal of the Hartridge School, and the academic department of the school was present also.

SCHANZ REMOMSTRANCE STRANGELY DISAPPEARS

COUNCILMAN TYLER HAD IT, BUT IT WENT ASTRAY.

The mysterious disappearance of one of the remonstrances against the granting of a liquor license to Charles Schanz, has caused considerable comment since the adjourned meeting of the Common Council on Monday night. The remonstrance was prepared by W. R. Coddington, one of the interested property-owners, and was signed by fifteen or twenty other property-owners on Park avenue, between Second and Front streets. A majority of these names were published in The Daily Press on Monday.

Mr. Coddington sent the remonstrance to Councilman W. S. Tyler, chairman of the police committee, a day or two before the meeting of the Common Council, but at the meeting he stated that the petition had been mislaid or lost and he was unable to find it. In the place of his petition he presented a personal letter from Mr. Coddington protesting against the granting of Mr. Schanz's license.

In speaking of the matter today, Mr. Coddington declared that his remonstrance reached Mr. Tyler all right and what became of it afterward is a mystery to him. He thinks that some effort should be made to solve the question.

M'ALL AUXILIARY ELECTS

Other Business Transacted at Nineteenth Annual Meeting

MRS. HEELY'S REPORT

Detailed Work of the Plainfield Branch for the Past Year and Gave Interesting Facts.

Officers were elected and interesting reports presented at the nineteenth anual meeting of the Plainfield Branch of the McAll Auxiliary, held yesterday at the Public Library. There was a large attendance and unusual interest. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead; vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Myers; secretary, Mrs. Augustus V. Heely; treasurer, Mrs. John Gray Foster.

Mrs. Charles S. Lee, who was abroad for some time, gave an intensely interesting account of her visits to the auxiliary halls in Paris and of the excellent work being accomplished, and two letters were received from the missionaries at Limoges, France, who are supported by the Plainfield members.

This most excellent report for the past year was read by Mrs. Augustus V. Heely, the secretary:

"The nineteenth year of the McAll Auxiliary of Plainfield, which closes with the present meeting, has had its share of the joy which comes to a society through success achieved by hard work as well as the discouragements which come in any line of missionary labor. But we are thankful to report that the way seems open for most effective work at Limoges and that we have done much to make it possible. Our hearts have been very full of interest during the year, as the financial conditions seemed to be such that something would have to be done to reduce expenses in the general work and we have been looking with some anxiety in the direction of our more especial work at Limoges, fearing that it would seem unwise to curtail at this point, but thanks to the efforts of the women of the Plainfield Auxiliary it now promises to be a year of great usefulness at this place so dear to us all, as the one little portion of the grand McAll work which I think we may venture to call our own. The attendance at our monthly meetings has been very good, but this is one thing we would all like to see increased for we know the value of having women new to the work join us as they are sure to want to know more, of what is so much interest to us. The annual meeting was held in May in East Orange and the following delegates were sent from our auxiliary: Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. Nelson A. Miller, Mrs. Isaac Field, Mrs. Cornelius Schenck and Miss Dietrich. The women enjoyed this meeting thoroughly and came back to us with many helpful thoughts gathered there.

"Mrs. Mead was entertained by Mrs. Freeland, secretary of the East Orange Auxiliary, and who for a number of years corresponded with Mme. Saint Vidal, the wife of the evangelist at Limoges, and Mrs. Freeland was able to tell Mrs. Mead much about Mme. Saint Vidal which seems to have made us better acquainted.

"These meetings do much to bring about a large knowledge of the general work and they promote a spirit of fellowship which is great gain to all who are able to come under the influence of them. After our June meeting we did not come together again until October and I think that we all approached the work of the fall with renewed interest. Several of our members have been abroad during the summer and brought us most direct news of the mission work although no one was able to get to Limoges, which is a two days' journey from Paris. Mrs. Wadsworth visited two halls in Paris and was particularly impressed with the earnestness of one of the pastors. The audience seemed very attentive and really hungry for the truth.

"It must be a most encouraging part of mission work to those actively engaged to see so many avenues open just waiting for development, but though the ways to increase the work take very definite shape the necessary increase in a financial way seldom comes at the same time. But with all the dark side of our work there is so much more that is bright and hopeful that it is perhaps unwise to emphasize the troubles. Mr. Saint Vidal, our evangelist, is a most progressive and aggressive man with the interest of the work very close to his heart. Owing to the ill heath of both Mr. and Mrs. Saint Vidal the work I think has at times been extremely

DECISION REVERSED WHEN TRIED ON APPEAL

HAND AND SMITH GET VERDICT IN CASE AGAINST DR. HERRING.

When tried before Judge Vail in the Court of Appeals yesterday, the decision formerly given by Justice Hand in favor of the defendant in the case of Charles H. Hand and Frank Smith against Dr. George Herring, was reversed, and the plaintiffs were given a verdict of $60 and costs. The jury was out for seven hours.

The case was on contract, concerning the property owned by Mr. Hand on Crescent avenue, occupied by Dr. Herring from April to October, 1904. A provision of the contract was that the landlords would put in a new heater by October 1. The rent was partially paid on the house and then Dr. Herring moved, on the ground that the house was unfit for habitation. He claimed various losses on account of the cold, and the expense incurred in moving and buying furniture. At Justice Hand's court, the verdict was no cause for action for the plaintiff, and $10 damages for the defendant.

When on trial yesterday, the same claims were made by the defendant, against which the plaintiffs swore that an agreement had been made, which waived the delay of twenty-six days in putting in a heater, caused through the shipment. Though the defendant denied this agreement, the jury asserted that his claims for damages were uncalled for, and gave the verdict to the plaintiffs, for the amount owed in rent, $60, and cost of the suit, $35. William Newcorn represented the plaintiffs, and S. S. Swackhamer appeared for Dr. Herring.

MRS. HUGH FRAZER TO LECTURE IN HALL COURSE

SISTER OF NOTED NOVELIST TO GIVE FIRST OF SERIES.

The first lecture of the course arranged by Mrs. Florence Howe Hall will be given Thursday, March 9, by Mrs. Hugh Fraser, the subject being "Sword and Cherry Blossom." The lecturer is a sister of Marion Crawford, the well known novelist, and a daughter of Thomas Crawford, one of our most noted American sculptors, in the middle of the nineteenth century. The statue of Anderican in the dome of the Capitol at Washington and the bronze doors of the same building, are his work.

Mrs. Fraser spent five years in Japan, where her husband was British minister to the Court of the Emperor. She thus had rare opportunities of seeing court festivities at the Imperial Palace, as well as of observing the life of the people. Her book, "Letters from Japan," is full of poetic charm, and contains vivid descriptions of the scenery and life of the island Kingdom.

Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott, who will give the second lecture, "Social Life in Rome," on March 18, is well-known in Plainfield, where she has spoken before the Monday Afternoon Club, at the Seminary and elsewhee. She has recently returned from Italy, where she and her husband, John Elliott, the artist, lived for many years. Her new book, "Roma Beata," published this winter, has called forth very favorable comment from the press, and is being widely read.

Mrs. Katharine Johnston, of Erie, Pennsylvania, is a dramatic reader who has received flattering testimonials from the press, as well as from private sources. The Chicago Tribune speaks thus of her work: "Miss Johnston charmed her audience, particularly in the messenger scene from Antony and Cleopatra." Her lecture recital on March 23, from this drama of Shakespeare, which Coleridge held to be the greatest of all the historic plays and "sustained with a kind of angelic power," is awaited with especial interest, in Plainfield. Mrs. Johnston, be it said in passing, is on the editorial staff of an influential daily paper in Erie.

The closing lecture of the course, "The Gothic Cathedrals of France," illustrated by lantern slides, will be given on March 30, by our townswoman, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, who visited these wonderful buildings, not long ago, and became deeply interested in them, both as matchless works of art, and as historic monuments of great value.

Mrs. Lewis W. Niles, of Orchard place, has been called to Geneva, Ind., on account of the illness of her son.

DEATH OF MORGAN BIRD

Passed Away at His Home This Morning.

A PROMINENT RESIDENT

Had Been Identified With the City's Interests for the Past Fifty Years.

Morgan C. Bird, one of the best known local citizens, who for nearly fifty years has been identified with the business interests of this city, died this morning at his home on Randolph road. Death was due to a carbuncle on the neck, which developed from a cold. The growth caused much trouble for several weeks, but Mr. Bird had only been detained at home about a week. Up to that time he was able to attend to business as usual.

Mr. Bird was born at Mt. Bethel and was a resident of this city fifty years. In his younger days he learned the carpenter trade and constructed many buildings here, including the Plainfield High School and Trinity Reformed church on West Second street, two of his largest contracts. Afterward he engaged in the sash and blind business at Sycamore and Fifth streets and later he operated a mill and cider press on East Fourth street, where he owned considerble property. He was one of the first to introduce horse-power here as a means for sawing wood and doing fancy scroll work. He was of decided mechanical ability and nearly all of the machinery used in his business was of his own handiwork.

In politics Mr. Bird was a Democrat, although he never took an active part in such matters. He was one of the first members of the First Baptist church, and was a regular attendant. He was married twice, his second wife and one daughter, Miss Carre Bird, and a son, Fred Bird, a daughter, Mrs. P. C. Vail, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., by his first marriage, and three brothers, Lewis, George and Jacob Bird, and a sister, Mrs. Benjamin Moulton, of North Branch, survive him.

The funeral services will be held from the house Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

NO STATE INFANTRY AT THE INAUGURATION

FIRST TROOP, BATTERY B AND SIGNAL CORPS ONLY ONES TO GO.

In the Roosevelt inauguration ceremonies this State will not be represented by any infantry or any naval militia. After a conference at the State house yesterday between Governor Stokes and the officers of the National Guard it was decided to send to Washington to represent this State at the inauguration of President Roosevelt the Essex troop, of Newark; Battery B, of Camden, and the Signal and Telegraph Corps, of Jersey City.

This conference took place after the Governor and signed the bill authorizing the sending of troops to Washington including the provisional regiment.

The Governor gave out the following yesterday:

"The legislative directions in reference to the representation of the State at the inaugural parade will be carried out so far as practicable. Under the legislative direction it will not be possible to send the First Regiment, and orders to that end will be, necessarily, countermanded."

School Pupils Debate.

Pupils of the North Plainfield High School debated yesterday on the subject: "Resolved, That the constitution of the United States be so amended that suffrage be given single women and widows." The affirmative was taken by Miss Agnes Cooley and Miss Laura Woolston, who were awarded the decision by the judges, Charles M. Dolliver, N. Douglas Drake and W. H. Riley. The negative was ably argued for by Miss Anna Bach and Lester Matthews.

Played Euchre for Charity.

For the benefit of the poor in St. Mary's parish, 200 people played euchre in Stafford Hall last night. After prizes had been awarded dancing was enjoyed. The committee in charge acting for the Holy Name Society consisted of Arthur Boone, J. W. Graham and Patrick Driver.

Miss Virginia Hegeman, of New York, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

YOUTH COMMITS SUICIDE

Fred Wilson Sends Bullet Through His Heart.

WORKED AT WATCHUNG

Had Been Living Fast Life Since Receiving Money on Accident Policy.

Shot through the heart with indications pointing to suicide, the body of Fred Wilson, of Warrenville, son of George Wilson, a former blacksmith, of that place, was found in an unused portion of the factory of the Lyons Developing Company, at Lyons, near Basking Ridge, yesterday morning. The discovery was made by Italian workmen. They immediately notified Superintendent Reynolds, who ordered the removal of the body to Bishop's morgue, Basking Ridge.

An investigation showed that the bullet was lodged in the left breast, Wilson having apparently pulled his sweater over his head and shot himself. There were powder marks on the clothing, so close was the weapon held to the body. The revolver was discovered on the floor nearby.

Until about three months ago, Wilson was in the employ of Fritz Myers, the well known Watchung kindling wood dealer. In the early part of the winter, Wilson was injured at the saw mill, and since that time was out of work. He received an accident policy from an insurance company, and was known to make frequent excursions to Newark, where he was reported to have lived a rather fast life.

He was the principal party in several quarrels, having dodged the law for over a year. He was widely known here. About ten months ago, Wilson and his father had a disagreement over a settlement of the estate, and the son was forbidden to live at home. As far as can be learned no resumption of the family trouble has occurred recently and no motive is known for the suicide. It is reported that Wilson became entangled in some trouble while in Newark, which caused him to take his life.

He was just twenty-one years old, and had lived for the greater part of his life in the vicinity of Warrenville. He has a step mother, and leaves also a brother, Bert Wilson, an employe of Isaac Winans, of this city. George Wilson, the father, was notified immediately and identified the body at Basking Ridge.

PLAINFIELDERS WEDDED IN BROOKLYN CHURCH

FASHIONABLE CEREMONY UNITES MISS JESSIE PERKINS AND HUGH C. PIERCE.

Miss Jessie Thomas Perkins, daughter of the late Lithgow Towns Perkins, of Brooklyn, who has been living in this city during the past three years, and Hugh Clay Pierce, son of Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, who has been living at Truell Inn for some time, were married last night at 7:30 o'clock in the Emanuel Baptist church, Brooklyn, in the presence of a large and fashionable assemblage of society people.

Miss Perkins was attended by her sister, Mrs. Frank H. Wycoff, as matron of honor, and by Miss Sarah Frances Jones, of Manhattan; Miss Fannie Votey, of Summit, and Miss Marie Kampman, of this city. The best man was Henry B. Moore, of Manhattan, and James Roche, of Bridgeport; Charles Hamilton, John Denholm, of Worcester, Mass., and Ralph Waldo Pierce were the ushers. There were two flower girls, Miss Mildred Wycoff and Miss Frances Williams and two pages, Master Frederick Lyle, Jr., and Master Edward Perkins.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Wycoff, at 25 Clifton place. The couple left last night for a wedding journey in the South. They will return here March 20 and make their home at Truell Inn. Among the Plainfield guests at the wedding was Mrs. Wright, of Park avenue.

Mrs. Hall at Conference.

Mrs. David P. Hall, of Madison avenue, will attend the State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution to be held at the old Barracks, Trenton, today. BROKE NATIONAL RECORD

Walter McNaughton Wins U. S. High Dive Championship.

MADE 6 FT. 1 3-4 INCHES

Plainfield Athletic Team Wins Fourth Place in Inter-Association Meet at Newark.

Walter McNaughton, a member of the athletic team which represented this city at the annual indoor inter-association meet at Newark Y. M. C. A. last night, broke the National high dive record, winning the United States championship with a height of six feet, one and three-quarter inches. The meet, which took place in the Newark gymnasium, was won by Orange with 21 points, Plainfield coming in fourth out of nine competitors. It was largely through McNaughton's work that the local team won a place as six of the seven points were made by him.

Last year, in the in-door meet which was held at the local gymnasium, McNaughton won the State championship with a dive of 5 feet, 11 inches, the National championship being held until last night, by a Buffalo man. A. G. Peeler, of Orange, was McNaughton's nearest competitor. He also broke the old record, but failed to equal the new one established by the Plainfielder.

The following were the events:

Fifteen yard dash, won by W. S. Lindsay, of Orange; G. E. Chase, of Montclair, second. Scull, of Plainfield, qualified for the second heat.

Running high jump, won by A. Herrax, of Montclair; H. Todd, of Newark, second; Walter McNaughton, of Plainfield, third. Height, 5 feet, 8 inches.

Twelve pound shot-put, won by D. C. Colesworthy, of Orange; R. McWilliams, of Orange, second; J. F. Maxfield, of Montclair, third. Collins represented Plainfield. Distance, 40 feet, 6 inches.

Fence vault, won by G. E. Ketcham, of Newark; F. Siebert, of Newark, second; C. M. Cronkite, of Orange, third. Walter Cahoone, of Plainfield, made a good showing. Height, 6 feet, 4½ inches.

Running high dive, won by McNaughton, National champion; Peeler, of Orange, second; Cronkite, of Orange, third. Height, 6 feet, 1¾ inches.

Relay race, one mile, won by Newark; Orange, second; Plainfield, third. Time, 3:58; 3:59 and 4, respectively.

There is a possibility that Orange may be disqualified in the relay race, in which event the local team will win third place in the meet. The Plainfield representatives in the relay race were Ray Smith, E. W. Overton, C. B. Keens and Harry Scull.

Frank Barclay, of Summit, formerly of this city, acted as referee. The other officials were the following: Director of meet, L. M. Smith, of Newark; judges, A. M. Chesley, of Orange Y. M. C. A.; George Henshel, of Montclair Y. M. C. A.; J. L. Roth, of Passaic Y. M. C. A.; Robert Gourley, of Morristown Y. M. C. A.; timers, J. C. Scott, of Central Y. M. C. A., of Brooklyn; M. J. Foss, of Bedford Branch Y. M. C. A., of Brooklyn; scorers, M. Myers, of Newark Y. M. C. A.; Fred Charendon, of Newark Y. M. C. A.; measurers, Mr. Barnard, of Eidgewood Y. M. C. A.; Mr. Flood, of Hudson City Y. M. C. A.; clerk of course, Fred Metz, Jr.; starter, F. Wehmiller, of West Side Y. M. C. A., of New York.

The points were awarded, five for first; three for second, and one for third place. The associations finished as follows: Orange, 20; Newark, 16; Montclair, 9; Plainfield, 7. The other associations, including Jersey City, Ridgewood, Hudson City, Morristown and Passaic, failed to win points.

Social at Trinity Church.

The social committee of the Y. P. S. C. E., of Trinity Reformed church, has arranged for a social and entertainment to be given at the church on Thursday evening, March 9. Plans for the social have been under consideration since October, though until recently no one has taken the matter in charge. Miss Harriet Randall is chairman of the committee for the social, and with the assistance of the following members of the society will arrange for the entertainment: Miss Nettie Kreitling, Miss Leek, Miss Lida Wyman, William Trembath and Clarence Rittenhouse.

New U. S. District Court.

The bill for an additional United States district judge for New Jersey will soon become a law, the House having passed it early Tuesday afternoon. The Senate had already passed it, and it now goes to the President for his approval.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Persons suffering with sore feet should know the curative powers of Thorp's foot relief. It has become a household remedy.

Spring time will soon be here and you will want your house painted and papered. Better let I. N. Wyckoff, of West Front street, do the work.

Hodge sells all drugs, except those which are injurious. For prescriptions and all kinds of remedies, go to Hodge's pharmacy. It is the most reliable.

Fred Endress' specialties are as attractive as usual this week. The finest cuts in beef, lamb, mutton, as well as the best home cured hams, are among the features of this week's sale.

W. H. Kirch never experiments in building a house from the fact that he has had years of experience in contracting and knows every branch of the business. Ask him for estimates.

It's never too late to mend, but it may be too late to get your coal bin filled, when the price has gone up several dollars. John Johnston will fill the order promptly if you call him up.

As the time for moving approaches it is well for you to know that William Hand & Son, of East Second street, will move your goods to any part of the country quickly and with great care.

Demolli asks but a trial in order to assure you that he has one of the best confectionery establishments in the city. He is a capable caterer, and is equipped to attend to all kinds of business in that line.

There are good and bad drugs just the same as there is good and bad in everything but at Schreiner's pharmacy, only good drugs are sold. A trial purchase will convince anyone of the truth of this assertion.

M. C. VanArsdale will provide you with a safeguard against the grip which is so prevalent as result of the wet weather. His heavy storm shoes and excellent rubbers will suffice to keep your feet dry, and will perhaps save a big doctor's bill.

A drive in the open air, be it in winter or summer, is keenly enjoyed by young or old. With the numerous rigs and facilities offered by James D. Fraser's Somerset street livery there is not a particle of excuse for anyone in not enjoying an occasional ride.

Seasons may change and go, but you will always find seasonable goods at A. M. Griffen's hardware store and of the best make. Mr. Griffen guarantees everything sold by him and you will be well pleased with the goods and the prices asked. The housefurnishing goods department offers exceptional bargains.

Are you giving any attention to what you will wear this spring? If not go at once to Woodhull & Martin's store and inspect the very choice line of dress goods. The women who have seen these goods pronounce them to be the most desirable yet seen. They represent the best product on the market and will make up into dressy and serviceable garments. While at the store take a look through the housefurnishing goods' department and see the bargains offered there.

Did you ever notice that when you went to visit your country cousins in the winter time, they invariably brought up a basket of apples from its storage place and distributed them about? They know that apples are splendid eating and that they impart color to the cheeks and a sparkle in the eyes. It is not necessary to go to the country after apples if you are fond of them as Neuman Brothers make them a specialty at their store and they are constantly receiving large consignments of Baldwins, Northern spies, Spitzenbergs, Kings, greenings and Suttons.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

A RHINOCEROS DINNER.

Prince Henry Contributes to New York Club's Menu.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Not only will the Canadian club eat a rhinoceros at its annual dinner at the Hotel Astor tonight, but it has been announced that the rhinoceros has been presented to the club by his royal highness Prince Henry of Prussia.

When Prince Henry made his visit to this country he was entertained by some of the officers of the Canadian club and expressed a desire to return their courtesy. He said that if they ever wanted a scarce or in any way unique animal to serve at a dinner they had only to notify him and he would send them one. The sportsmen took the matter as a joke until this year's dinner was being prepared for. Then, still considering the promise a joke, Prince Henry was asked to contribute something to their feast. A week later the club was informed that a rhinoceros was being shipped to them. The rhinoceros, which had belonged to the Berlin Zoological garden, arrived here about a week ago.

How the animal, which weighs between two and three thousand pounds, will be served is a puzzle. Mr. Harry V. Radford, secretary of the camp, said that the proprietor of the hotel did not himself know how he would serve it. It may be wheeled in on a wagon or a large wooden platter may be called into use.

Mr. Radford emphatically denied that he said that the flesh of the rhinoceros was not good to eat. "It is very tender," he said, "and in every way most desirable as food."

Ex-President Cleveland, who supplied the black bear which occupied the center of the table at last year's dinner, is expected to do his share in dispatching the rhino. More than 300 sportsmen have been invited.

FLORIZEL AT CITY PARK TRACK.

Only Two Favorites Won at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 2. — The beautiful weather and a fast track combined to make the sport good at the City Park race track. Two close finishes furnished the excitement. Only two favorites landed first money. Tod Sloane rode two winners. Florizel, who won the third race, was run up to $1,800 by J. H. Davenport and sold to him at that figure. Summaries:

First Race.—Judge Traynor, first; Padre, second; Marconi, third.

Second Race.—Mathis, first; Hostility, second; Dick Brown, third.

Third Race.—Florizel, first; Cardinal Wolsey, second; Red Thistle, third.

Fourth Race.—Demurrer, first; Noweta, second; Dr. Kier, third.

Fifth Race.—Reticent, first; Mr. Barnaby, second; Bon Mot, third.

Sixth Race. — Lucy Young, first; Brush Up, second; Esterre, third.

Vic Ziegler at Crescent City Track.

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—Leonard Joe Hayman, winner of the Carnival stakes for two-year-olds, galloped home an easy winner in the Crescent City Jockey club's third special. The Hayman colt was always favorite. Hayman had all the speed, shot to the front at once and won, pulled up, by three lengths. Canyon, who lasted just long enough to win, and Vic Ziegler, who ran the best race of the day, were the only other successful favorites.

Never Such Ran Fine Race.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 2.—With a fair track at Oaklawn some good sport was had. Starting out with a severe blow administered in the first race by Madoc, a 30 to 1 shot, and also failing to pick the winner of the second event, the form players landed with favorites in the third, fourth and fifth races. Never Such ran a fine race in the fourth event, covering the mile and a half in the good time of 2:35 3-5.

Bugle Horn Disqualified.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 2.—Bugle Horn won the fifth race over the Brooks course at Ascot, but was promptly disqualified for fouling Invictus and Freesias. Invictus was placed first, Freesias second and Iras third. Tuck Back was played heavily and won the fourth race handily. Favorites had a bad day of it.

Dartmouth Defeated at Basket Ball.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—The University of Pennsylvania defeated Dartmouth at basket ball last night by the score of 30 to 26. At the end of the second half the score was a tie at 22 points, and the game was extended twenty-five minutes.

SUSPECT FOUL PLAY

Stanford University Founder Dies Suddenly at Honolulu.

DYING, SAID SHE HAD BEEN POISONED

Autopsy on Mrs. Jane Stanford Revealed That She Had Succumbed to Tetanus of the Respiratory Organs.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—A special dispatch from Honolulu says that an autopsy on the remains of Mrs. Stanford has been performed there. The physician who conducted the autopsy said that the cause of death was tetanus of the respiratory organs, but that he cannot state how the tetanus was brought about until after an examination of the contents of the stomach.

No inquest will be held until High Sheriff Henry receives the report of the chemists. This report will probably be received today.

Dr. Humphries made the following statement:

"When I was called in I found Mrs. Stanford in convulsions and applied the quickest remedies, but it was not possible to save her life. Mrs. Stanford said to me:

"'Doctor, I have been poisoned.'

"Mrs. Stanford's condition seemed to indicate strychnine poisoning. Between convulsions her mind was unusually active, and she said: 'This is the second time they have tried it. They tried it last January, and I came here to avoid them.'

"Where there is a suspicion of poisoning in a death caused by tetanus (or paralysis) of the respiratory organs it may be regarded as almost a certainty that death was due to strychnine. The administration of strychnine in fatal doses is always followed by tentaus of the respiratory organs."

The house of representatives of the territorial legislature at Honolulu has adopted a resolution of sympathy and adjourned out of respect to the memory of Mrs. Stanford.

The news of the death of Mrs. Stanford was received with surprise and sorrow, to which was added horror when it was learned that probably she had been poisoned. Her brother, Charles G. Lathrop, who is treasurer of the Stanford university, refused to believe that her death was due to other than natural causes, and her attorney, Mountford S. Wilson, positively declined to discuss the report that a previous attempt to poison her had been made in this city. Mr. Wilson is awaiting advices from Honolulu officials before taking any action regarding the business affairs of Mrs. Stanford, which are intimately connected with those of the great university which she and her husband founded at Palo Alto. This institution has already been endowed with $38,000,000 in property and money, to which may be added about $10,000,000 from Mrs. Stanford's personal estate. She took deep personal interest in the university, and to her wisdom and business sagacity is due much of its success, a fact that is testified to by its president as well as the students, nearly all of whom knew and loved her.

The university is closed out of respect to her memory and is not expected to reopen until after Mrs. Stanford's remains have been placed beside those of her husband and son in their mausoleum on the university campus.

In respect to her memory the California legislature adjourned for the day, and flags were placed at half mast throughout the city and state.

The story of an attempt to poison Mrs. Stanford in this city was first made public on the 13th of last month, when it was declared that strychnine had been found in a bottle of mineral water of which she had taken several drinks. She became ill, and an analysis showed the presence of the deadly drug in the water. To Dr. William Boericke, who attended her, Mrs. Stanford told the story of what she believed to have been an attempt upon her life. She suspected no one and on the physician's advice soon went to the country. Returning here, apparently in improved health, she sailed for China and Japan by way of Honolulu on the steamer Korea Feb. 18, arriving at the Hawaiian port five days later.

The alleged attempt to poison her was investigated by a detective agency, but no results were obtained, and the matter apparently was dropped.

In her California street residence, the first of the handsome mansions erected on Nob hill, there were ten persons at the time of her illness, which began with her drinking the water on Jan. 14.

Elizabeth Richmond, a maid formerly in the employ of Mrs. Stanford, said:

"Mrs. Stanford was in the habit of taking bicarbonate of soda. She kept it in her dressing room and often took a little of it in water when she ate anything that disagreed with her."

Orders were received here from New York at the general offices of the Southern Pacific to have the flags fly at half mast on all stations of the Southern Pacific in respect to the memory of Mrs. Stanford.

CZAR AN ASSASSIN?

Father Gopon Sends an Open Letter to Russians.

POLAND NOW UNDER MARTIAL LAW

No Trains Have Left St. Petersburg For Manchuria In Nine Days—Priest Blames Emperor For Bloodshed at the Capitol.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 2.—Father Gopon, the Russian priest who led the workingmen toward the imperial palace at St. Petersburg Jan. 22, when they were fired on by the troops, has published an open letter to the czar, as follows:

"Full of single faith in you as the father of your people, I marched toward you peacefully, accompanied by the children, your people. As you must and you do know, the innocent blood of workers, their wives and their children of tender age henceforth and forever separates you, their assassin, and Russia's people.

"Half measures, even the promised states general, are no longer able to control the flood of popular opinion. Bombs, dynamite and terrorism await all assassins of the people despoiled of their rights.

"Russia perhaps will perish. Try to understand it and remember it. Renounce then as soon as possible with all your family the throne of Russia and appear before the tribunal of the Russian people. Have pity on your children. Have pity upon the countries of the empire, you who have offered peace to other nations and slaughtered your own."

Addressing the people of Russia in a second letter, Father Gopon congratulates the workmen upon their heroism and bids them distrust the promises of the assassin, the czar. He commands them to despise the holy synod and the priests; to organize fighting battalions of workingmen; to shoot down the officers, destroy water mains, gas pipes, telephones, telegraphs, railways and government buildings, but to respect private property.

He announces that a committee of defense will formulate a plan for a general insurrection as soon as possible with a view to abolish the autocracy and to summon a constituent assembly based upon universal suffrage. He promises to join the workers when the supreme moment arrives.

The governor general of Warsaw has proclaimed a minor state of siege in the governments of Kalisz, Ruhlin, Kielce and Lomza. The whole of Poland is now under this modified martial law. No special reason is given for the governor general's action.

In consequence of the strikes and damage to railway lines no trains have left St. Petersburg for Manchuria for nine days. There are 250,000 men on strike in the Donetz coal basin. At Lugansk strikers have seized a dynamite storehouse.

The situation at Lugansk, Poland, is becoming worse. Four thousand men have struck at the Hartmann works.

LONE TREE HILL THE KEY.

Eighty Thousand Men Engaged In Desperate Struggle Near Mukden.

LONDON, March 2. — A Sachetun (Manchuria) dispatch says that the Japanese last night opened a tremendous fire with field and siege guns against Poultiloff (Lone Tree) hill. Columns of white smoke envelop the hill on two sides.

Poutiloff hill is a position of vital importance, judging from the fact that the Japanese since the Russians captured it in October last have made a great many attempts to obtain possession of it.

It is believed that at present 800,000 men are engaged in the operations near Mukden, the battle line extending about 100 miles. The fighting is growing in intensity, and the outcome is anxiously awaited here because of the effect its result must have on the continuance of the war.

The artillery fighting continues along the whole front of about 100 miles. The eastern detachment near Kondayu has repulsed the Japanese attack. The Japanese have also been driven in from Tunsilai pass and from the vicinity of Gauto pass.

At the bridge over the Shakhe river a furious struggle continues. A small wood near by has continually changed hands, but is now definitely occupied by the Japanese. It is rumored that a division of Japanese on the extreme right is marching north and has reached Kalama.

Every one seems to appreciate that the outcome of the great battle now on between Kuroki and Kuropatkin is likely to end the war. The attack being made by Kuropatkin on the Japanese left arouses but little enthusiasm. Defeat in this move must result in his retreating all along the line. It is asserted in less pessimistic quarters, however, that if the Russian army can stand firm they have a good position to defend.

Although it is not admitted at the war office, the general impression in military circles is that General Kuropatkin may be forced to withdraw. Not only is General Kuroki threatening his communications, but the redoubts have been to a great extent outflanked by the Japanese.

A dispatch from Russian army headquarters at Huan mountain says that after an all night battle the Russian forces which seized the railroad bridge across the Shakhe river retired after having destroyed the Japanese fortifications at the farther end of the bridge and thrown the Japanese forces there into consternation. The Japanese losses were heavy.

The redoubts at Poutiloff and Novgorod hills and even the hills themselves, keys to the position of the Russian center, appear to be crumbling away under the impact of terrible eleven inch shells such as leveled the fortifications of Port Arthur and rendered the fortress itself untenable. No troops will be able to retain the position long if the bombardment continues.

The advance of the right wing seems for the moment to have come to a standstill.

For three days Putiloff and Novgorod hills have been subjected to a terrific bombardment with eleven inch shells charged with Shimose powder. From a distance the hills look like volcanoes, spouting flame and great clouds of smoke, a hail of earth and stones falling far beyond their bases. The Russian siege batteries are answering energetically, but their fire is comparatively ineffectual.

All is quiet on the right flank at this time, it being reported that General Nogi is operating against the left flank.

IN THE SENATE.

Lawmakers at Washington Passed Appropriations For $357,000,000.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The senate considered and passed three supply bills aggregating an appropriation of over $357,000,000 and took up a fourth bill carrying over $67,000,000. The sessions, after a recess, continued well into the night.

The appropriation measures passed during the day session were:

The postoffice bill, carrying $181,526,843; the pension bill, carrying $138,000,000, and the river and harbor bill, carrying in immediate appropriations and continuing contracts $38,370,899. Many of the items on the bills were discussed at length, but the principal debate was based on the provision increasing the appropriation for pneumatic tubes in the postoffice bill.

The senate also agreed to conference reports on the Military academy and agricultural department appropriation bills.

The Philippine import tariff bill was passed and also several bills of minor importance. The sundry civil appropriation bill was also considered.

The senate in executive session ratified and made public an international sanitary treaty, adopted by a convention of representatives of practically all nations held for the purpose of agreeing upon uniform safeguards of the public health against the invasion and propagation of plague and cholera.

They also ratified and made public a treaty with all nations for the repression of the trade in white women. All of the contracting nations agree to enact laws for the punishment of any person enticing a woman or a girl from one country to another, even with her consent, with a view to her debauchery.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The senate has confirmed the following nominations: Joseph W. J. Lee, Maryland, consul general at Panama; Daniel W. Williams, Ohio, consul at Cardiff, Wales; Captain Albert S. Snow to be rear admiral in the navy. Postmasters—Connecticut, James Graham, Taftville; New Jersey, Elias B. Mott, Rockaway; New York, Watson J. Matteson, Marcellus, and Thomas B. Lowerre, Flushing; Pennsylvania, George Fox, Altoona; Frank J. Over, Hollidaysburg; Harry H. Nichols, Girard; John Francies, Allegheny; Aaron Hostetter, Hanover; William C. Smith, Dunbar.

Higgins on Gas Question.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 2.—Governor Higgins declined to discuss the gas legislation for New York city, which is pending in the legislature, except to say, "I have made up my mind that if any injustice exists New York city is entitled to relief." The governor was asked whether he would favor the form of relief desired by Mayor McClellan or that wanted by the majority of the citizens. He replied, "I should favor that wanted by the majority of the people of the city."

Long Island Railway Fares.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 2.—Edward M. Shepard appeared for the Long Island railroad before the joint railroads committee of the legislature at the second hearing on the bills to compel reduction of fares to commuters. He contended that the road had run at a loss of $275,000 last year and could not afford to reduce fares; also that the bills were unconstitutional. George Wallace argued that the reduction of rates would increase the profits of the road.

Would Limit Japanese Entry.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 2.—By a unanimous vote the senate has passed a concurrent resolution requesting and directing California's senators and representatives in congress to call the attention of President Roosevelt and the department of state to the menace of Japanese immigration. The resolution urges that immediate action be taken by treaty or otherwise to limit further immigration of Japanese into the United States.

No Firemen's Strike.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 2.—The adjustment committee of the Brotherhood of Engineers is in New York and it is understood was in session with Grand Master Stone. It is generally thought here that an amicable settlement will be reached at the joint meeting today and that all probability of a strike of the firemen is dispelled.

General Henry Gets a Medal.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 2.—Governor Higgins has presented to Adjutant General Henry a medal to signalize his twenty years of service in the national guard. General Henry will wear the medal for the first time at a public function in the inaugural parade at Washington on Saturday.

MAJORITY FOR PEABODY.

Republican Committee at Denver Favor Resenting of Governor.

DENVER, March 2.—After a long executive session of the gubernatorial contest committee thirteen of the eighteen Republican members signed a report in favor of seating James H. Peabody and the nine Democrats signed a report in favor of continuing Governor Alva Adams in the office. The other five Republican members, including Chairman William H. Griffith, refused to sign either report.

Senator Alexander, one of the Republicans who refused to sign the Peabody report, made a hard fight for the rejection of the claims of both the contestor and contestee and the seating in the governor's chair of Lieutenant Governor Jesse McDonald. He found no supporters for this plan in the committee, but he may bring it up before the joint assembly as a compromise measure. His argument was that there is no doubt of the election of Mr. McDonald, while there is doubt as to whether Adams or Peabody was elected lawfully.

Today the house and senate will meet in joint session and receive the reports of the committee. It is believed that a final vote will be reached Saturday night.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY ICE GORGE.

Ohio River at Cincinnati Strewn With Wrecked Shipping.

CINCINNATI, March 2.—The steamers and barges grounded by the sudden fall of the river when the ice dam below was removed are in dangerous positions.

With bow suspended high in air and a dozen huge blocks of ice beneath the hull, the $65,000 stern wheel steamer Virginia of the Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet line is probably in the worst plight.

The bank of the river on the Ohio side for a distance of more than a mile was strewn with stranded shipping, including two wharfboats and the steamboats Rees Lee, Virginia, Bonanza and Winifred. The Bonanza and Rees Lee will suffer little damage, as they settled on good ground.

Damage estimated at $200,000 was suffered by the Marmet company yesterday from crushed barges, lost cargoes and wrecking of other property. A loss of $75,000 was reported by the Campbell's Creek company, and other losses aggregating $50,000 brought the total damage to shipping and cargo well up to $400,000, with the end of the danger not in sight.

WISH THEM ONLY PEACE AND FREEDOM

United States Has No Inclination to Absorb Little Republic, and Her Minister Is So Reassured by Our Government.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Secretary Hay has formally assured the Haitian minister that the United States government has no intention whatever of acquiring, by annexation or otherwise, possession of Haiti or Santo Domingo nor of extending American influence in that direction.

The letter from Secretary Hay to Minister Leger says:

"In answer to your inquiry it gives me pleasure to assure you that the government of the United States of America has no intention of annexing either Haiti or Santo Domingo and no desire of acquiring possession of them, either by force or by negotiation, and that even if the citizens of either of these republics should solicit incorporation into the American Union there would be no inclination on the part of the national government nor in the sphere of public opinion to agree to any such proposal.

"Our interests are in harmony with our sentiments in wishing you only continued peace, prosperity and independence."

Minister Leger in his reply wrote in part as follows:

"The Haitians are too proud of their autonomy to ever think of consenting to the least attack upon it. The jealous care with which they have maintained it for more than a century may be a sure guarantee to you that they will neglect nothing to preserve it in all its integrity. We are therefore glad of the sympathy which their efforts have met with in the United States.

"My compatriots will be especially touched by the interest which President Roosevelt has kindly testified to them in asking you to dissipate, through frank explanations, the anxiety created by erroneous rumors in regard to the character of your relations with the Dominicans."

Murder Trial at Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 2.—Paul Herbert Schmidt, a youth of eighteen years, faced a jury which will pass upon the question of his guilt or innocence of the charge of murder in the first degree. Schmidt is charged with the killing of William Taylor, aged fifty. Both men were employed on the estate, in the town of Sherman, of W. H. Crittendon of New York. The state alleges that in the absence of the family Schmidt was rifling the safe in the house when he was surprised by Taylor, that Schmidt shot Taylor and escaped with valuables worth $1,000. Schmidt was arrested in Paducah, Ky.

Baptists Protest Autonomy Bills.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 2.—The Baptist convention of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories has formulated a strong protest against the government's proposed educational clause in the autonomy bills. The protest was telegraphed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and says: "The bill is an invasion of provincial rights. In matters of education every province should be free to legislate for itself. It is a violation of principles conscientiously entertained by the Baptists—principles of equal rights and the principle of separation of the church and state."

"Arkansaw Traveler" Held Up.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 2.—Eastbound passenger train No. 203 on the St. Louis and San Francisco, known as "the Arkansaw Traveler," was stopped by three bandits eight miles south of Mammoth Springs, Ark., and the Southern Express company's safe was blown open and robbed of about $2,000. The train was signaled shortly after leaving Mammoth Springs by three men heavily armed. They entered the express car and covered Messenger Harry White with revolvers. After rifling the safe the robbers escaped to the woods.

Strike of Granite Workers.

BOSTON, March 2.—The granite industry in Quincy, Worcester and Milford is tied up by the failure of the manufacturers and workmen to agree on a new bill of prices, the time limit of the old list having expired. In all about 1,500 men are on strike, but many more are indirectly affected. In Quincy the union demands a minimum wage of $3 a day, and in Worcester the cutters ask an advance from $3, the old rate, to $3.25.

Indorse Antibeef Trust Policy.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 2.—The lower house of the Texas legislature has adopted a resolution warmly indorsing President Roosevelt's action in attacking the so called beef trust and appointed a committee of six legislators to confer with the cattle men of Texas and the governor to ascertain if there is any way in which Texas can give the president any assistance.

Posses After Negro Murderer.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 2.—Posses that have been searching for Clarence Mason, a negro who shot and killed Baldwin Marr, a white farmer, near here, and seriously wounded his daughter, have traced him to Dutton, near the state line, and it is expected that he will be captured soon. Violence has been threatened. The negro is said to be well armed.

hard for them, but they have done nobly. That which is done for the soldiers seems still to form a large part of the mission work labor and as someone suggests there could be nothing more important.

"For the men, many of them of good birth, are stationed at the barracks for a longer or shorter period and when they come under the influence of the blessed Gospel of Christ they take away with them a priceless gift which they are eager to give to others and so do good missionary work in their own way. The reading and game room is open every evening and during the year a billiard table has been added, which is a great pleasure to many of the men. The sewing classes and devotional services are carried on as usual. So it seems that all that is necessary for us to do is to send more money and there will be no doubt as to how the work will develop. I am glad to say that this year we have contributed more than last so let the good work go on. At Christmas time we sent $10, which was raised by private subscription, to Limoges, for the annual festival, which all the children looked forward to with great joy.

"You will see from Mme. Saint Vidal's letter which came last week, that she wanted us to help out at a fair the early part of March, but I fear she did not leave us time enough to do as she asked. We may well feel that we have great cause for thankfulness with what has been done since we met at our last annual meeting. In reading a report of one of our sister auxiliaries, I came across this extract from the editor of the most important religious paper in Paris. He had been discussing the religious conditions of the populace of France and the difficulty of carrying the Gospel to them, open air preaching, being not only illegal but impracticable. 'Right here,' he goes on, 'the popular evangelical mission continued by the friends of Mr. McAll, presents itself and says to us, there are my nails, make use of them. I make a point of being as near the sidewalk as possible and in the most populous quarters. I have helpers whose special work it is to bring us in the passersby. Come with us; and it is an encouragement to the disciple of Jesus Christ to learn of this opportunity of speaking for his Master to the casual passerby of Paris, in such a way that he will be heard.'

"So the wonderful work goes on and is as much needed as when it started over thirty years ago. As evidence that the French people themselves desire the mission and all Protestant work upheld I call your attention again to the fact that they give to the support of the Gospel, more, proportionately than the Protestant people of America. And these represent the poor people of France and we all know the giving must be done at tremendous sacrifice. Can we ask then if the McAll work is needed? To turn to our work in Plainfield—the women have been most active and interested and we are pleased to think that the interest has reached others during the year.

"This was noticeably demonstrated at the very charming afternoon we spent at the home of Mrs. Wadsworth. She opened her home for a 'birthday tea' and it was a truly delightful affair. Small envelopes were inclosed with the invitations, on which was a verse printed asking the recipient to put therein as many pennies as they were years old. We were most gratified at the substantial response, but most of all did we enjoy the social side of the afternoon for it brought us closer together and made others acquainted with our work. Miss Lent, of New York, and Mrs. Kelly, of Elizabeth, both members of the American McAll Board, gave us bright and instructive addresses and Mrs. Strong, aided by Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Mrs. George S. Ring and Miss Hubbell delighted us with some charming music. Surely Mrs. Wadsworth's most kind hospitality was appreciated and enjoyed by all and we thank her for it. This year we have done better work than last, may next year exceed this and so may our work grow and flourish for the glory of Him who said that doing good to the least of the brethren we would do it unto Him. God who has so wonderfully blessed us in our dear land, keep our hearts always tender toward the unfortunate and may nothing be too difficult for us to attempt in His Name. With a feeling of deep gratitude, a stronger determination for better work and with a loving sympathy toward all who need us, we will start the new year. We again express our thanks to the Boards of Managers of the Public Library for the use of this room and the press for its many courtesies."

Charles Sarson, of Cortland, N. Y., is visiting his brother, S. T. Sarson, of Watchung avenue.

J. L. Terry, of South Second street, entertained his brother, Daniel C. Terry and wife, of Weston, Somerset county, yesterday.

OBITUARY.

Miss Annie S. Morrow.

Miss Annie Sergeant Morrow, elder daughter of Rev. W. Bryce Morrow, of East Fifth street, died early this morning, following an illness which began nearly two years ago. She was affected with heart trouble which developed complications and for a long time she had been a helpless invalid, undergoing great suffering. Her case had been in charge of Dr. E. W. Hedges, whose skill prolonged life and eased the great pain.

Miss Morrow was born in Milburn thirty-six years ago and came to Plainfield three years ago from Bristol, Pa., when her father retired from the ministry. She was a graduate nurse and previous to the time her illness began was assistant superintendent of nurses at Bellevue Hospital, New York. She is survived by one sister, Miss Edith Alice Morrow, of New York, and a brother, Ralph L. Morrow, city editor of The Daily Press.

Funeral services will be held from her late home on East Fifth street, tomorrow night, and interment will be made Saturday in Ashland cemetery, Carlisle, Pa.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

March 5: "The Making of a Christian"—"His Speech"—Ps. cxiv, 1-12, 21; Matt. x, 22, 33.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, Ph. D.

What is it to confess Jesus before men? What is it to deny Him?

Is getting up in meeting and repeating a verse of Scripture all that is meant by confession? Is failure to so do the omission that will cause Him to deny us before God?

It is of value to our Christian experience to acquire the habit of testifying in the services of the church, and this habit should be acquired when we begin the service of our Lord. But this is only a small part of our privilege in confessing Him.

This psalm will repay close study in giving us the main points of the devotional spirit, from which all true confession must flow to be of any value.

There must be, first of all, meditation before there can be any speech of worth. If we are obliged to study long and closely any branch of knowledge before we feel competent to speak on it and others care to listen to what we say, how can we expect to be able to speak things worthy of God and helpful to others unless we think and think and think on the things of God? We need to ponder the "glorious majesty of God's honor."

My God, how wonderful Thou art;
Thy majesty how bright;
How beautiful Thy mercy seat,
In depths of burning light!

We need to think of His wondrous works—what He has done and is constantly doing to make this world all right for us to live in; what an uplift of soul we get when we think of the broad spread universe with depth on depth of world studded spaces all flashing with lights kindled and kept burning by His power; how the psalms and some of the passages of Job kindle the fires of devotion in our hearts on these themes. Then the hymns and selections from many of our poets breathe the same spirit of worship.

Beyond all this is the "might of His terrible acts," for God is terrible to all iniquity. We need to meditate on these things even if they are less pleasant than some others. We need to know God in His righteousness as well as in His mercy.

And then the goodness of God, how high it rises! He is merciful and gracious.

"All Thy works shall give thanks unto Thee, O Jehovah!" All His works do praise Him by doing His will unconsciously and by necessity, but better things remain for us. "Thy saints shall bless Thee." They can and shall talk of God and all His greatness and goodness, to glorify Him and that other men may come to know and love and worship Him.

What a privilege is ours! We alone of all His creatures can bless Him for salvation through His only begotten Son. We alone of all the ranks of beings have had His love so displayed in opening the gates of blessedness. What rapture the thinking of the things of our God can bring to our own souls and how these things grow upon us as the years go by and we see the kingdom of God grow within us and around us! Deeper and deeper becomes our insight and fuller and fuller is our gladness as we see the hand of our Father moving things in the accomplishment of His purposes.

We must speak of it all, for our hearts are full and will utter their gladness. We must tell others of it all and have them share in the sight and in the thrill and in the work.

So, young disciple, speak for Jesus and of Jesus at every opportune time. Speak for your own sake, so as to get confidence and strengthening in the way. Speak that others may hear and be led to blessed trust in the same Saviour. Speak for the sake of the Blessed Christ Himself, for you are His prophet, His messenger sent with this message, and you must speak for His honor that men may know of Him and honor Him.

With what diligence and care should we cultivate our powers of speech, and how pure it should be at all times! These lips are to speak the King's truth; then they must be clean and sweet.

Let the Holy Spirit cleanse the heart and lips.

Make the Best of One Another.

We may, if we choose, make the worst of one another. Every one has his weak points; every one has his faults. We may make the worst of these. We may fix our attention constantly upon these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive, even as we hope to be forgiven. We may put ourselves in the place of others and ask what we should wish to be done to us and thought of us were we in their place. By loving whatever is lovable in those around us love will flow back from them to us, and life will become a pleasure instead of a pain, and earth will become like heaven, and we shall become not unworthy followers of Him whose name is love.—A. P. Stanley.

Your Birthright.

What is your birthright? It is a body richly endowed with health and strength and capacity for happiness. It is a mind thrilling with bright affinities for all things beautiful and high. It is a spirit in which are folded the wings which can soar to heaven and hold communion with the divine. It is life—the innocent brightness of childhood, the spring of youth, the force of manhood, the snowy and sunlit heights of age. It is a happy death, since death is but the vision and Sabbath of God. It is to enter the rejoicing streets of the new Jerusalem. It is that everlasting felicity in which all God's redeemed shall clasp hands in joy and bliss in overmeasure forever.—Dean Farrar.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 5.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—The making of a Christian; his speech.—Ps. cxiv, 1-12, 21; Matt. x, 22, 33. (Consecration meeting.)

The faculty of vocal communication is one of the wonders of human life. What could be more marvelous than the ability of one man to express his thoughts and feelings to another? A child is born. This is the first step in his life, and great interest surrounds his birth. In course of time he learns to talk, and with what loving interest parents listen for the first uttered words and treasure them in their memories! The child of God is born into His kingdom, and he, too, must learn the language of his new life. A child must be taught to talk. He possesses the faculty, but it must be developed. So the child of God must learn the language of His kingdom that in word as well as in deed he may be the true child of a heavenly Parent.

The Bible is the great teacher upon the subject of Christian speech. The importance of speech is emphasized, and its dangerous power, as well as its beneficent possibilities, is pointed out. The psalmist enjoins us to "keep our lips from evil and our tongues from speaking guile," and every child of God may well pray with him, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer."

The Christian should not only guard himself against the false use of the tongue, but should cultivate the proper use of it. The tongue especially needs to be consecrated to God. It is a small member of the body, but no less important for that reason, as James so forcibly teaches in the third chapter of his epistle: "The tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison. Therewith bless we God, even the Father, and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God. Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing." With such vastly different possibilities in speech how careful the Christian should be to consecrate this important member to God. (1) Christian speech should be used in praising God. This is the lesson taught us by the reference from the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Psalm. The psalmist declares that he will extol God and bless His name every day. "Every day will I bless Thee and I will praise Thy name forever and ever." His speech and that of men are to set forth the mighty acts of God. "I will speak of the glorious honor of Thy majesty and of Thy wondrous works, and men shall speak of the might of Thy terrible acts. * * * Thy saints shall bless Thee. They shall speak of the glory of Thy kingdom and talk of Thy Power, to make known to the sons of men His mighty acts and the glorious majesty of His kingdom." God's majesty, His acts, His providences—of these the Christian should speak that others may learn to know and to love his God. (2) Christian speech should be used to testify of Christ. "Whosoever shall confess me before men him will I confess before my Father which is in heaven."

If Jesus has found you,
Tell others the story,
That your loving Saviour
May be their Saviour too.

Christian Endeavor in Switzerland is making its influence felt and is constantly gaining new friends. One of the most worthy workers in that faroff country and, in fact, one of the most intense believers in Christian Endeavor and that which it stands for to be found anywhere is Mr. Charles Briquet, the efficient secretary of the Swiss Christian Endeavor union. In addition to his duties in this office, Mr. Briquet is editor of a Swiss newspaper and has written several books.

Endeavor Loyalty.

The single note that I desire to strike is loyalty. Let this be a year of supreme devotion to our Lord, a year of heroic service; let us put real sacrifice into our work; let us be unmoved by the appeals to selfishness and sin—loyalty to Christ, ready for any errand to which He may beckon; loyalty to the church, supporting her services and performing her tasks at any cost to self; loyalty to our own pastor, cheering his heart with the offer of our strength to secure the salvation of those for whom his heart is burdened; loyalty to the society, always in our place on meeting night, doing our best to make Christian Endeavor a reservoir of blessing to our community.

Be strong!
We are not here to play, to dream, to drift.
We have hard work to do and loads to lift.
Shun not the struggle; face it. 'Tis God's gift!

—President Hallenbeck in New York State Work Sunday Programme.

Mr. Hatch told of the India leader of a meeting who asked near its close for every one who hadn't taken part to please stand up. He followed this by saying, "Now you can sit down when you take part."

NEW HATS.

Poke Bonnets In the Lead—Modified Napoleon Shapes Also Liked.

The 1830 poke bonnet will lead in millinery. It is made up in the airiest materials, including chiffon, mousseline de soie, milan straw and horsehair braid, with long flowing strings of chiffon and dainty wreaths of button roses inside the crown resting against the hair.

The colonial or modified Napoleon is to be a favorite shape, also English turbans, and the flat sailor will hold its own.

Ready to wear hats are mostly of chip. A French chip plateau trimmed with roses in mahogany shades is one of the attractive models to be seen.

An odd lingerie hat is in directoire style, with the stiff lines softened by the material it is made of, which is nothing but the tiniest of frills of airy pink lace. It is trimmed with stiff white camellias.

Irish crochet lace will make many of the summer hats to be worn with thin dresses.

The parasols that have made their appearance are diaphanous affairs, looking as though a breath would blow them away.

China silk petticoats to be worn under lawns and dimities are made very pretty with shirred ruffles, hand embroidered in large dots.

The charming lingerie hat in the cut is of white chiffon, the brim laid in folds of this airy fabric. About the top is a very full ruching of lace trimmed chiffon. Well toward the front is a chou of ribbon loops.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Waistcoats to Be Seen on the New Coats—Some Handsome Laces.

The new spring coats will have chic little waistcoats, which will make them individual and smart.

With the close fitting jacket waistcoats of linen, pique and duck are very mannish and tailor-like. Most women, though, prefer the soft lingerie shirt waist worn under the coat.

The new tweeds and cheviots come in very light shades. Champagne and mode barred off with invisible checks are favorite designs.

Etamine later on will take the place in coat and skirt gowns of the heavier tweeds.

For all coats reaching below the waist line the tight fitting models will be used in preference to loose sack coats.

Embroideries for summer frocks are more alluring than ever and, unfortunately, very expensive. All the modish thin frocks will have about them somewhere lace and embroidery, and often both will be in evidence.

Irish crochet lace is handsomer than ever. The design most fancied has part of the crochet pattern raised and separate from the groundwork.

The costume sketched is of rose cashmere. The full skirt is shirred with a heading in groups of three lines at the knee and a foot higher up the skirt length. The waist has the same shirred treatment at the bust line. Around a chemisette of mousseline are a mousseline trimmed collar and small revers. The buttons on the stole piece are of dull silver. The deep cuffs and the little turnover on the mousseline choker are of lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Let the Girls Do What They Want to Do

Klotho McGee, daughter of Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, is going with her father, Professor McGee, the anthropologist, to Arizona. Professor McGee will make explorations in the desert near Yuma, said to be the hottest place in North America. Miss McGee is fifteen years old and accompanies her father of her own choice. It is pleasant to note that at least one girl is thus allowed to have her own way without any conventional old tabbies to sit upon her and crush the originality out of her. One young woman I know would have made a shining success on the dramatic stage but for the chilling, deadening influence of "our folks," who set themselves against it. All over the country are girls who would have been successful authors, actresses, lawyers, doctors, professional singers or tradeswomen, but the aspiration was crushed out of them by old tabbies of both sexes who surrounded them. To be sure, if a girl has tremendous will power she will take her own way in spite of these professors of conventionality, but they make the way ten times as hard for her. But for them hundreds of girls that are now never heard of would make brilliant records in the professions.

The Mothers' Congress meets in April. Do the mothers know what is the most lamentable lack in America today? It is the want of training in common honesty and courtesy in the schools. The country is overwhelmed with persons who come from the most boorish classes of Europe. They are strong and cheeky; they know only how to grab all they can without any scruple of good manners or any other kind of scruple. Too often, indeed, the very teachers come from this same class and actually themselves need ethical and aesthetic training as much as their pupils do. American men are rapidly acquiring the reputation of being the rudest, most unpleasant mannered men in civilization. These are not men of the old American stock, but those who have no training in morality or politeness either at home or in school. Nobody but mothers can deal with this grave menace to American society.

Always let your opponent have the last word in an argument.

In view of the many recent ferocious attacks on them by men in all parts of this country women need to learn all branches of self defense—shooting, boxing, fist fighting and even jiu jitsu.

A curious thing happened the other evening in New York. A well bred person could scarcely believe it, but I assure you it is fact. A young lady—at least she is supposed to be a lady—had dinner with some friends. After dinner a man told an amusing story. The climax to the story took the girl unawares, and she laughed suddenly and immoderately and swallowed a big steel pin. She—she—one hates to write it, but that girl was picking her teeth with this pin. Troubles followed. There came an ambulance and took the girl to the hospital. Next came surgeons, knives, rays, magnets and eager doctors "trying projects" on her. At last reports the young woman was in a sad condition from fright, suffering and the doctors' continued "projects." Moral—Let those addicted to the dinner table toothpick habit use a fork.

The twentieth century American girl can take care of herself better than anybody else can take care of her.

In the schools conducted by the Society For Ethical Culture, founded in this country by Felix Adler, practical morality without any theological creed is carefully inculcated. So are politeness and the Golden Rule. Every year sons of some of the poorest, most ignorant foreign parents are turned out from the ethical culture schools finished American gentlemen.

For many years girls have been trying, often vainly, to squeeze into colleges and universities attended by the supreme white male person. At length philanthropists took pity on poor, forlorn girls and established schools of housekeeping, where feminine folk with their living to earn might become accomplished cooks and housekeepers. Now young men by the hundred are trying to get into these schools and become skilled cooks, even not hesitating to crowd out the girls, if it were possible. Queer, isn't it, how men always want every good thing in sight?

A girl said to have been discharged from an operatic company because she was not beautiful has brought suit against the company for compensation to her hurt prospects and her hurt feelings. No matter how comely the young lady was to begin, she will find by the time she is done with that lawsuit her beauty will be all worried out of her. Mr. Roath of Chicago is giving away all his property during his lifetime to avoid litigation over it after his death. Wise Mr. Roath of Chicago!

Among the ancient Mayas of Yucatan husbands and wives confessed their sins, not to a priest, but to each other. What a time we should have if that were the custom in America now!

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

THE GRAFTERS

By

FRANCIS LYNDE

(Copyright, 1904, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company.)

It was in fulfillment of this promise that Kent bestirred himself after he had sent a wire to Ormsby, and M'Tosh had settled down to the task of smoothing Callahan's way westward over a division already twitching in the preliminary rigor of the strike convulsion.

"I am going to set the fuse for the newspaper explosion," he said to his ally. "Barring accidents, there is no reason why we shouldn't begin to figure definitely upon the result, is there?"

M'Tosh was leaning over Dispatcher Donahue's shoulder. He had slipped Donahue's fingers aside from the key to cut in with a peremptory "G. S." order suspending, in favor of the fast mail, the rule which requires a station operator to drop his board on a following section that is less than ten minutes behind its file-leader.

"The fun is beginning," said the train-master. "Tischer has his tip from Durgan to keep Callahan's taillights in sight. With the mail treading on their heels the gentlemen in the Naught-seven will be chary about pulling Patsy down too suddenly in mid career. They have just passed Morning Dew, and the operator reports Tischer for disregarding his slow signal."

"Can't you fix that?" asked Kent.

"Oh, yes; that is one of the things I can fix. But there are going to be plenty of others."

"Still we must take something for granted, Mr. M'Tosh. What I have to do up-town won't wait until Callahan has finished his run. I thought the main difficulty was safely overcome."

"Umph!" said the train-master; "the troubles are barely getting themselves born. You must remember that we swapped horses at the last minute. We were ready for the race to the east. Everybody on the Prairie Division had been notified that a special was to go through to-night without stop from Lesterville to A. & T. junction."

"Well?"

"Now we have it, all to straighten out by wire on another division; meeting points to make, slow trains to side-track, fool operators to hold down; all on the dizzy edge of a strike that is making every man on the line lose his balance. But you go ahead with your newspaper business. I'll do what a man can here. And if you come across that right-of-way agent, I wish you'd make it a case of assault and battery and get him locked up. I'm leery about him."

Kent went his way dubiously reflective. In the moment of triumph, when Durgan had announced the success of the bold change in the programme, he had made light of Hawk's escape. But now he saw possibilities. True, the junto was leaderless for the moment, and Bucks had no very able lieutenants. But Hawk would give the alarm; and there was the rank and file of the machine to reckon with. And for weapons, the ring controlled the police power of the state and of the city. Let the word be passed that the employes of the Trans-Western were kidnaping their receiver and the governor, and many things might happen before "Red" Callahan should finish his long race to the westward.

Thinking of these things, David Kent walked uptown when he might have taken a car. When the toxin of panic is in the air there is no antidote like vigorous action.

Passing the Western Union central office, he stopped to send Ormsby a second telegram, reporting progress and asking him to be present in person at the denouement to put the facts on the wire at the earliest possible instant of time. "Everything depends upon this," he added, when he had made the message otherwise emphatic. "If we miss the morning papers, we are done."

While he was pocketing his change at the receiving clerk's pigeon-hole, a cab rattled up with a horse at a gallop, and Stephen Hawk sprang out. Kent saw him through the plate-glass front and turned quickly to the public writing-desk, hoping to be overlooked He was. For once in a way the ex-district attorney was too nearly rattled to be fully alert to his surroundings. There were others at the standing desk; and Hawk wrote his message, after two or three false starts, almost at Kent's elbow.

Kent heard the chink of coin and the low-spoken urgings for haste at the receiving clerk's window; but he forbore to move until the cab had rattled away. Then he gathered up the spoiled blanks left behind by Hawk and smoothed them out. Two of them bore nothing but the date line, made illegible, it would seem, by the writer's haste and nervousness. But at the third attempt Hawk had got as far as the address: "To All Trans-Western Agents on Western Division."

Kent stepped quickly to the receiver's window. The only expedient he could think of was open to reproach, but it was no time to be over-scrupulous.

"Pardon me," he began, "but didn't the gentleman who was just here forget to sign his message?"

The little hook caught its minnow. The receiving clerk was folding Hawk's message to place it in the leather carrier of the pneumatic tube, but he opened and examined it.

"No," he said; "it's all right: 'J. B. Halkett, G. S.'"

"Ah!" said Kent. "That's a little odd. Mr. Halkett is out of town, and this gentleman, Mr. Hawk, is not in his department. I believe I should investigate a little before sending that, if I were you."

Having thus sown the small seed of suspicion, which, by the by, fell on barren soil, Kent lost no time in calling up M'Tosh over the nearest telephone.

"Do our agents on the Western Division handle Western Union business?" he asked.

The reply came promptly.

"Yes; locally. The W.-U. has an independent line to Breezeland Inn and points beyond."

"Well, our right-of-way man has just sent a telegram to all agents, signing Halkett's name. I don't know what he said in it, but you can figure that out for yourself."

"You bet I can!" was the emphatic rejoinder. And then: "Where are you now?"

"I'm at the Clarendon public 'phone, but I am going over to the Argus office. I'll let you know when I leave there. Good-by."

When Kent reached the night editor's den on the third floor of the Argus building he found Hildreth immersed chin-deep in a sea of work. But he quickly extricated himself and cleared a chair for his visitor.

"Praise be!" he ejaculated. "I was beginning to get anxious. Large things are happening, and you didn't turn up. I've had Manville wiring all over town for you."

"What are some of the large things?" asked Kent, lighting his first cigar since dinner.

"Well, for one: do you know that your people are on the verge of the much-talked-of strike?"

"Yes; I knew it this morning. That was what I wanted you to suppress in the evening edition."

"I suppressed it all right; I didn't know it—day and date, I mean. They kept it beautifully quiet. But that isn't all. Something is happening at the capitol. I was over at the club a little while ago, and Hendricks was there. Somebody sent in a note, and he positively ran to get out. When I came back, I sent Rogers over to Cassatti's to see if he could find you. There was a junto dinner confab on; Meigs, Senator Crowley, three or four of the ring aldermen and half a dozen wa-ward politicians. Rogers has a nose for news, and when he had 'phoned me you weren't there, he hung around on the edges."

"Good men you have, Hildreth. What did the unimpeachable Rogers see?"

"He saw on a large scale just what I had seen on a small one; somebody pup-passed a note in, and when it had gone the round of the dinner-table those fellows tumbled over each other trying to get away."

"Is that all?" Kent inquired.

"No. Apart from his nose, Rogers is gifted with horse sense. When the dinner crowd boarded an uptown car, our man paid fare to the same conductor. He wired me from the Hotel Brunswick a few minutes ago. There is some sort of a caucus going on in Hendricks' office in the capitol, and mum-messengers are flying in all directions."

"And you wanted me to come and tell you all the whys and wherefores?" Kent suggested.

"I told the chief I'd bet a bub-blind horse to a broken-down mule you could do it if anybody could."

"All right; listen: something worse than an hour ago the governor, his private secretary, Guilford, Hawk and Halkett started out on a special train to go to Gaston."

"What for?" interrupted the editor.

"To meet Judge MacFarlane, Mr. Semple Falkland, and the Overland officials. You can guess what was to be done?"

"Sure. Your railroad was to be sold out, lock, stock and barrel; or leased to the Overland for 99 years—which amounts to the same thing."

"Precisely. Well, by some unaccountable mishap the receiver's special was switched over to the Western Division at yard limits, and the engineer seems to think he has orders to proceed westward. At all events, that is what he is doing. And the funny part of it is that he can't stop to find out his blunder. The fast mail is right behind him, with the receiver's order to smash anything that gets in its way; so you see—"

"That will do," said the night editor. "We don't print fairy stories in the Argus."

"None the less, you are going to print this one to-morrow morning, just as I'm telling it to you," Kent asserted, confidently. "And when you get the epilogue you will say that it makes my little preface wearisome by contrast."

The light was slowly dawning in the editorial mind.

"My heaven!" he exclaimed. "Kent, you're good for 20 years, at the very lul-least!"

"Am I? It occurs to me that the prosecuting attorney in the case will have a hard time proving anything. Doesn't it look that way to you? At the worst, it is only an unhappy misunderstanding of orders. And if the end should happen to justify the means—"

Hildreth shook his head gravely.

"You don't understand, David. If you could be sure of a fair-minded judge and an unbiased jury—you and those who are implicated with you: but you'll get neither in this machine-ridden state."

"We are going to have both, after you have filled your two columns—by the way, you are still saving those two columns for me, aren't you?—in to-morrow morning's Argus. Or rather, I'm hoping there will be no need for either judge or jury."

The night editor shook his head again, and once more he said, "My heaven!" adding: "What could you possibly hope to accomplish? You'll get the receiver and his big boss out of the state for a few minutes, or possibly for a few hours, if your strike makes them hunt up another railroad to return on. But what will it amount to? Getting rid of the receiver doesn't annul the decree of the court."

Kent fell back on his secretive habit yet once again.

"I don't care to anticipate the climax, Hildreth. By one o'clock one of two things will have happened: you'll get a wire that will make your back hair sit up, or I'll get one that will make me wish I'd never been born.

PAINTS STRIPES ON HOUSE

Tenant Decorates Home with Red, White and Blue and Landlord Issues New Lease.

A man recently took a house upon a lease in a certain crescent in London without examining the terms of his agreement as closely as he should. After a time the landlord called upon him and pointed out that he was bound to do all the outside painting at certain intervals. He protested, but it was "so nominated in the bond," and there was no help for him. After a good deal of thought he hired painters and directed them to paint the whole front of the house red, white and blue—in stripes. When it was finished the neighborhood—it was a fashionable part—was up in arms and the landlord was frantic. The tenant politely explained to him that there was nothing in the agreement about the color, and that red, white and blue, in stripes, was his favorite combination, but he thought he might, perhaps, be better pleased with the painting of the back, which he proposed to color green with yellow spots. The landlord, who well knew that not another house could be let in the crescent if he carried out his threat, nearly had a fit at the idea, and within a week the tenant had a new lease, in which the landlord undertook to do all the outside painting himself.

IVY EXCLUDES DAMPNESS.

Use of Vine Upon Walls of Building Makes Rooms Dryer—Reason Given by Scientist.

"I have of late been very frequently asked, writes a Canadian professor, "about the effect of Boston ivy upon the walls of buildings, some asserting that the covering of walls with the above named vine caused dampness in the interior. I am convinced that this idea is a fallacy. It will be conceded by all that the plant maintains its growth by the effect of moisture, either from the ground in which it is planted or from any other source obtainable. No one will deny but that stone and brick walls absorb a large quantity of rainfall, more especially brick. The vine to obtain a certain amount of vitality naturally absorbs the moisture from the walls of brick or stone, and I have yet to learn of any room in any house becoming damp by the growth of the vine on the outside. The very opposite must be the result. I would suggest that no property holder need be afraid to plant the above named creeper on his or her building, for be assured the interior of the house will be drier with the ivy than without.

HAS GAME, BUT NO SNAKES

Newfoundland Teems with Animal Life, and, as in Ireland, Venomous Reptiles Are Missing.

The American who happens into Newfoundland will find innumerable causes for interest and surprise. The interior of the island is a wilderness primitive and practically unexplored. A quaint, slow, uncertain railway traverses the heart of the island, but for 500 miles of travel over mountains, through dense forests and by the margins of salt water bays and estuaries not a town is to be seen. Herds of caribou, as tame as barnyard cattle, stand staring at the passing train. From the bosom of lake and river trout and salmon are forever leaping. Brant, geese, wild ducks, grouse and many wild birds that migrate hither in the summer can be found all over the island. Here they mate and breed, and their goslings and chicks make the woods and waters vocal all summer long. Newfoundland, like Ireland, is innocent of snakes or reptiles.

RADIUM HAS TRADE VALUE.

Experiments Bring Discovery That a Diamond Becomes Graphite Under Its Rays.

In the course of some experiments concerning the effect of the emanations from radium upon diamonds, Sir William Crookes made a curious discovery. When a diamond was placed in the path of the radiations it was converted from the carbon crystal into the common form of graphite, while in addition its color was quite changed. As a result of this strange metamorphosis Sir William Crookes suggests that the radiam rays may prove of great commercial value to the jeweler since by this means diamonds which are of indifferent and defective color may be appreciably increased in their commercial value by treatment under the radium rays. He also observed that prolonged action of the radium also increased the intensity of the pale-colored gems.

Worshiped God in Hospital.

The most interesting feature among the early physicians of Egypt was a priest of Ra, the sun god, named I-emhotep, who lived during the third dynasty, nearly 6,000 years ago, and was succeeded by a cult of priest physicians, who carried on his work of healing. Temples for the worship of I-emhotep, which were also hospitals for the sick, arose first at Memphis, and then extended to other parts of Egypt. Here the priests not only treated the sick, but also embalmed the bodies of men and the sacred animals.

Scandal in British Navy.

The British admiralty is investigating a grave naval scandal. It appears that the ship's police at the naval schools of the different ports have been allowing the names of men who are on furlough to remain on the messing books the result being that rations were drawn for the absent men and the food or its value appropriated by those who made the false entries in the books. The robbery has been going on for years.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS DIVORCED

IOWA CHILD WIFE RECEIVES DECREE OF SEPARATION.

MARRIED TWO YEARS AGO.

Husband Over Seven Times Her Own Age—Is Once More Enjoying Life with Dolls and Young Playmates.

Brighton, Ia.—Gertrude Trusty Leeper, an 11-year-old girl, of this village, has just been granted a decree of divorce from John Leeper, 65 years of age, to whom she was married two years ago.

The child, who became a wife when she was only nine years old and has become a divorcee at 11, still is in skirts that fall scarce to her knees, and wears her luxuriant brown hair in "pig-tails" down her back, and she is as fond of dolls and takes as keen delight in playing with them as any other child of her tender years, despite the fact that she stood up at the altar and solemnly took the vows which made her the lawful wedded wife of a man seven times her own age.

When two years ago "Gertie" Trusty promised to "love, honor, cherish and obey" the man who was old enough to be her grandfather, a man gray-bearded, gray-haired and bent with the storms of well-nigh three-score years and ten, she presented an odd sight to those who witnessed the ceremony.

The bridegroom looked his age, and the bride looked hers as she stood by him with her head scarcely coming up to his elbow.

Gertrude is an orphan, and had no brothers or sisters to look after her. She had friends, for everybody in Brighton loved the sweet, sunny-tempered, winsome child, but those friends were passive rather than active, and when Leeper made the shocking proposal that she marry him, none of them did aught to save her from so unnatural a fate.

Never had a man a more trustful, obedient, diligent wife than had John Leeper. She accompanied him from Brighton to Arkansas soon after the marriage, and there, in a little village, she assisted him to establish and maintain a home. It must have been a dull, lonesome life for the child-wife, but never did she complain of her lot, never did she meet her husband when he came home at night with other than a bright, smiling face; never did she fail to have his meals cooked, and on the table promptly at the appointed hour; never did she fail to keep her house clean and tidy; never did she fail to darn the holes in his socks, sew buttons on his clothing when that was necessary, or to discharge any of the other wifely duties it fell to her lot to do.

SOLEMNLY TOOK THE VOWS.

Other children passed by her door on their way to school or on childish pleasure bent, but Gertrude never thought of going with them or having aught to do with them or their sports, for she was a wife.

Leeper remained in the southwest for something more than a year, when, in company with his wife, he returned to town. He went to Washington, in this state, and there Gertrude made friends who persuaded her to file a petition for divorce.

The child did not fall in readily with the proposal. It is true that she bore him none of that love which wives commonly bear their husbands. She had not loved him when she became his wife, and he had not inspired her with love, but he had not been cruel to her; he had given her a home and she felt in duty bound to stand by him. Her friends insisted, however, and finally she yielded to their importunities and did so.

It did not take the judge long to decide what he should do. When he learned from the evidence offered by the plaintiff the circumstances under which the marriage had been solemnized, he quickly signed a decree of divorce. Leeper offered no defense.

Thus, Gertrude Trusty, after being two years a wife, has become a child again.

What was to become of her when she had been granted the decree of divorce was a serious question. But it was soon settled by a kind family in Brighton. The divorcee is now in the home of R. L. Davis, of this village, and there she will be cared for till she attains her womanhood. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have not legally adopted her, but they have practically done so, and she will be treated by them as their own child.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Park Club bowlers will roll a match with the Jersey City team on the local alleys on Friday, March 3, and will conclude their schedule on March 9 at Newark against the Newark Bay aggregation. The probable line up will be Barlow, Townsend, Bell, Daniel and Rogers.

A record which any bowling aspirant might be proud of is the one made by William Barlow, Jr., of the Park Club, during the last month. He has rolled over 200 in nineteen games, and has secured first place up to the present time in the Central Journal Bowling League, for the highest individual score. His mark was 247, which has not been reached within ten pins by any of the bowlers in the league. Howe, of Elizabeth, has the highest average. In the recent game with Westfield in which the Parks won the three straight, it was largely through the work of Barlow, that the feat was accomplished. He rolled over 200 in all three games. At practice recently, Mr. Barlow rolled four games, his average being 222. The scores were 208, 204, 234 and 247. Mr. Barlow, in addition to holding the undisputed championship of Plainfield, might well claim a place among the best bowlers in the State.

The Saengerbund bowling team defeated the Triangles three straight games in the return match on their alleys last night. It was a poorly rolled match, the scores being far from creditable for either side. 198 was the high score for the evening, Myers, of the Saengerbunds, being the roller. On the Triangles Sutphen was the high man, his score being 183. The deciding game in this series will take place at Fanwood within three weeks. The first game was won by the Triangles. Following was the score:

LITERARY.

Concentration does not mean straining every nerve and muscle toward obedience, it means dropping every thing that interferes. If we drop everything that interferes with our obedience to the two great commandments, and the other laws which are given us all through the New Testament to help us obey, we are steadily dropping all selfish resistance, and all tendency to selfish responsibility; and, in that steady effort, we are on the only path which can lead us directly to freedom.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO. ACQUIRE SUTPHEN PLACE

WILL USE IT AS AN OUTLET FOR THE FIRM'S YARD.

An important local realty deal was completed yesterday, when the J. C. Sutphen estate on West Second street, adjoining that of the Public Service Corporation, was purchased by Boice, Runyon & Co. The deal has been under consideration for some time and marks the termination of many attempts to acquire this site. Among other parties seeking the property was the Public Service Corporation. There was a desire to increase the holdings of the corporation in this vicinity, but Boice, Runyon & Co. secured the first option which resulted in the sale. The consideration was about $5,000.

The property has a frontage of about sixty feet and when the old house is removed, it will allow for a fine driveway into the coal and lumber yards of the new owners, something that has been desired for many years. For this reason the property is especially valuable to the firm. It will do away with the present inconvenience of being obliged to cart coal and lumber from the extreme end of the yard to Park avenue, and at the same time will allow for a continuous driveway between Park avenue and West Second street. The new driveway will be used chiefly as it offers more advantages than the one on Park avenue where the travel is heavy.

It is the intention of the company to improve its property, making it attractive and in keeping with that of the Public Service Corporation. In the opinion of many it will be only a matter of a short time when much of the West Second street property will become a live business section equal with that of Park avenue and possibly Front street. Business is constantly increasing and every year there is difficulty in securing property suitable for business purposes.

With the erection of the new building at Park avenue and West Second street for the Plainfield Trust Company, a good start will have been made toward making that part of Second street a business thoroughfare. The improvements now being made by W. R. Coddington will also add to this and no doubt more building will follow during the year.

PERSONAL.

Herbert Willett, of Craig place, who some time ago fell in Elizabeth and fratured his leg, is now able to be out with a crutch.

Miss Adelia Phelps, of East Front street, who was operated upon for appendicitis at the hospital a few days ago, continues to improve.

J. W. Conners, assistant superintendent of the Prudential Insurance Company, expects to attend the inauguartion on Saturday. On his return he will visit his sister at Baltimore.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The "smart" figure is achieved by wearing the Redfern Corset. On sale at Woodhull & Martin's.

—H. H. Barnard, of Binghamton, N. Y., has leased H. E. Needham's house on Verdon street, in the borough.

—Harry G. Adams, district manager of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, attended the annual banquet of the New Jersey Life Underwriters' Association, in Newark, last night. One hundred and thirty-five covers were laid, and able addresses by leaders in the profession were made.

SNAP SHOTS.

Former Councilman Vincent L. Frasee, of East Front street, whose fondness for pink cagnations is well-known, has twenty hens of which he is very proud. During the short month of February they laid a total of 225 eggs and he had no trouble in selling them at 40 cents a dozen. It is doubtful if this record has been exceeded for the month.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Hughes Fawcett, who is an earnest and forceful speaker, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Roland R. Randolph, who was the baritone soloist at the last orchestral concert, will sing at different times. Robert W. Davis will be the cornetist.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Washington Camp, Patriotic Order Sons of America, will meet Monday night and install officers. A social will follow.

The regular meeting of Benevolent Council, No. 356, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held in F. O. E. Hall tomorrow evening.

Affects Plainfield.

Plainfield is affected by a bill introduced in the Senate yesterday, which provides for three assessors at large in cities having population of between 15,000 and 35,000 and abolition of all other offices of assessors by Common Councils.

JOSEPH O'KEEFE IS NOW A BENEDICT

QUIETLY MARRIED A NEW YORK YOUNG WOMAN YESTERDAY.

Miss Mary Agnes McKinless, daughter of Mrs. James Chrysostom McKinless, of New York, and Joseph O'Keefe, of West Seventh street, were quietly married in All Saints' church, New York, yesterday. The ceremony was performed by the rector and was witnessed only by the relatives and near friends of the couple. Rev. Father Egan assisted in the nuptial mass and William O'Keefe, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The young couple left for a wedding trip last night and will be at home after April 25 at 16 West One Hundred and Twenty-Seventh street, New York.

Mr. O'Keefe is widely known throughout the city and has taken an active part in local social life for several years. He is a member of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, and other organizations and is also a member of St. Mary's church choir.

HE DEBITS THEN CREDITS.

Scheme on Part of Newspaper Advertisers to Get Agents for Publications.

From time to time advertisements appear in the newspapers calling for industrious men to earn salaries of $15 a week. In response to such an advertisement, says the New York Sun, went 20 applicants, who stood in line, the other day, for hours, waiting their turn to be heard. "Is this a bona fide salaried job, or is it canvassing?" asked one applicant. "It is a salaried position. Call at 10:30 tomorrow morning," responded the man who had advertised. At the appointed time the applicant reappeared. He was asked if he understood bookkeeping. "Because," the advertiser went on to explain, "our method of paying salaries is this: We debit you with $15, your salary. Then we credit you with $2.50 for every volume you sell and—" He seemed to be used to it and not to mind when the man whose time he had wasted for two days called him names.

LITMUS PAPER SHOWS SOIL

Agriculturist Tells How Acidity of Land May Be Determined —Shows Proof.

The state experiment stations are doing a great work for the farmers, declares Country Life in America. The following incident shows how simple some of the tests are "when you know how." A station official was going over a farm with the owner when they came to a crawfishy piece of land just back of the barn. The very weeds looked yellow and unhealthful. "I am inclined to think," remarked the agriculturist, "that this land is too acid for productivity. We can determine this in a moment." Taking a blue piece of paper from his pocket, he stooped and dipped the paper into some of the soil water that was standing in a cow track. To the owner's astonishment, the blue paper changed to a red color as soon as it was immersed. "There," said the agriculturist, "we have our proof. This is just a piece of litmus paper. For five cents, you can buy a similar piece at any drug store. Its change of color shows that the land is sour. Crops cannot thrive on sour land any more than children can thrive on sour milk."

THE EMPEROR'S HONORS.

Kaiser's Many Titles Added To by Appointment of Captain General in Spanish Army.

The kaiser has just been appointed a captain general in the Spanish army. There remains now no European force, military or naval, in which he does not hold honorary rank. He is expecting a fine appointment in the mikado's army, and it is rather surprising to him that President Roosevelt has not invited him to become an American general. He possesses at least 150 uniforms, with all the appurtenances to boot, such as helmets, caps, swords, daggers, scarfs, ribbons and cloaks. They are all arranged in magnificent wardrobes, and the responsibility of superintendence and selection, especially when the kaiser visits a foreign capital, is most harassing. The empress is an honorary colonel of several regiments, native and foreign, and there was a terrible sensation one day when she was discovered to be wearing a uniform with the epaulettes of a mere lieutenant!

MYSTERIOUS "MACK" IS LOCATED

Man Implicated by Accused Murderer Found by Somerset County Authorities.

DENIES WOOD'S STORY

Brands the Scarsdale Trip as a Myth, and Detectives Believe His Story—Expert to Examine Prisoner.

The mysterious "Mack" spoken of so many times by George Wood in connection with the murder of George Williams, the Watchung grocer, has at last been located through the efforts of the Somerset County officials. He is Franklin D. Mack, president of the Franklin Engineering Co., at 346 Broadway, New York, but he disclaims all knowledge of Wood and his stories and his discoverers are convinced that he knows nothing about the accused murderer.

When Wood surrendered himself to the New York authorities the day after the murder, he told a strange story of his journey into the country with his mysterious friend, Mack. He said that in company with Mack he had left New York for Scarsdale, Pa., at which place Mack was to secure him a loan of $1,000 to tide him over his financial troubles in his business as an iron worker. He further stated that in company with Mack he had stopped at a railroad junction near Trenton, and while waiting for a train he and his companion had drank beer together, after which his memory became a blank and he could remember nothing of his movements for several days until he finally landed in New York on the day of the murder.

After Wood was taken to Somerville he was questioned closely by the officials about his mysterious friend Mack. He said he had first met Mack while he was working on the new residence of John A. McCall, at North Long Branch, about three years ago Mack he said, was a civil engineer, who superintended the construction of the iron work on the McCall residence.

With this clue Detective Totten went to work and located the alleged friend, who is a prominent engineer and a man of considerable means When he was questioned by Detective Totten he admitted that he was the

NEW TRIAL REFUSED FOR CONVICTED COLORED MEN

JUDGE SCHENCK RENDERED DECISION IN COURT TODAY.

In the Somerset County Court this morning, Judge Louis H. Schenck denied the application made by counsel for a new trial in the case of the four Plainfield colored men convicted of murderously assaulting three North Plainfield policemen on Chrismas eve Neither of the three lawyers was present at the time and for that reason he did not give his reasons for refusing the request, saying if they were wanted at any time they would be filed in typewritten form.

The four prisoners were in court and they were told that sentence would be passed upon them next Friday.

Rev. H. C. Ashley Heard by Large Audience in Zion A. M. E. Church.

Rev. I. W. Roundtree assisted in the service, and made a few remarks on the subject of pottery. Mrs. Abbie Lyons, of New York, was the soloist, and rendered several pleasing selections. She also made an address to the women of the church, on the line of Rev. Mr. Ashley's remarks, and showing how economy can be practiced. At the conclusion of the lectures, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. A. Holmes, chairman; Mrs. E. S. GOOD BASEBALL ASSURED

The Coming Season's Team Will be a "Crackerjack."

"TUCK" TURNER SIGNED

Philip Daab Was in Town Yesterday and Expresses Pleasure at the Outlook.

In a little more than a month the Plainfield fans will welcome the opening of the local baseball season, at a time when the major and minor leagues will about be ready to start on their long and exciting series of contests for the year. That there will be good baseball here no one doubts as the best list of attractions will be brought to Crescent Oval. Philip Daab, who is best known by his connection with the management of the Hoboken team, was in town yesterday, getting acquainted with conditions. He, together with Charles Woolston and Lines Grao, will look after the management of the Plainfield Baseball Association, and this is assurance that the real article will be presented.

Charles S. Woolston.
(Who will manage the Plainfield Baseball Association Team.)

Mr. Daab is very much pleased with the outlook, so much so that he has about decided to live here during the summer season. He will be interested in the booking of teams here and will assist in placing the Plainfield team on the field, which will be the best ever. This has been brought about by not having a ball player engaged who is in any way connected with a league club without first gaining the full consent of the league club of which the player is a member, and by adhering to this stringent rule it will enable the local management to book only the very best independent and league teams under the National agreement.

While the majority of the players will be from the Hoboken Club, the complexion will be changed a little to strengthen the same. However, many of the familiar faces will be seen and the new men will add to the batting strength.

"Pete" Lamar will be the formidable backstop and captain the team, and there is every reason to believe that Linderman will be the chief twirler, notwithstanding other reports. Mr. Daab is anxious to have him pitch here and arrangements for this are now underway. Linderman was drafted by the New York Nationals, but has not yet signed. "Jim" Beisel, who is now a Plainfielder, will be the second pitcher, and he promises to do good work.

Dave Driscoll will occupy the initial bag and his superior work in this position in past seasons will be duplicated. As a daring base-runner and holding wild thrown balls and catching almost impossible foul balls, he has no equal.

It is probable that "Pete" Kiernan will hold down second base, although there has been negotiations with Frank Quinby, who is well known here. If he will consent to play the whole season, he may be taken on, otherwise Kiernan, who is known as "Happy," will fill the place which he did for Waterbury, of the Connecticut State League.

"Rube" Oldring will be one of the new acquisitions and will either play at short or in the outfield, either of which position he is well qualified to fill. He is of league material with a reputation.

The fans are all glad that "Mike" Leonard will take care of third base This position suffered last year and was one of the weak spots. "Mike" will be here, notwithstanding other reports. His brilliant play of this position was a feature last season. Numerous managers have been after him, but he holds a good position in New York, and prefers to remain with old friends. As a batter he has few

MR. BESLER'S ADDRESS

Popular Railroad Man Tells About the Jersey Central.

TO BOARD OF TRADE

Gives Practical Facts in Relation to Management of the System—Routine Business at Meeting.

A review of the history of the New Jersey Central from its inception and its relation to the various towns along its line, especially Plainfield, formed the basis of an intensely interesting address made by W. G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the company, at a meeting of the Board of Trade, last night. The fact that Mr. Besler is a resident of North Plainfield, and is personally interested in both the borough and city, had a tendency to attract an unusually large number of men, there being nearly one hundred present.

Mr. Besler was introduced by President L. B. Woolston, and he spoke for over an hour. He began by placing the New Jersey Central in the position of a resident of the city, a taxpayer and therefore a part of the community. He referred to the first railroad established in February 26, 1847, and its subsequent growth and extension which resulted in the operation of the line between Somerville and Elizabethport, Easton, Whitehouse, the High Bridge branch and the final opening of the road through to New York with the first trip across the North river on the ferryboat "Central," and he then read an interesting letter written to Mrs. Johnston, by her husband, John Taylor Johnston, who was then president of the road, in which he told of the first trip over the road which was an occasion for much jollification.

Mr. Besler then turned his attention to some figures showing the importance of the New Jersey Central. He quoted the capital stock of the company at $27,419,800 and its bonded indebtedness as $51,817,100. Its earnings last year amounted to $11,830,-618.42. The company employs a total of 12,000 men and the monthly payroll amounts to $900,000. There are 117 persons in and near this city employed by the company, averaging five adults to a family, and representing $130,000 in wages.

There were 161,841 tons of freight to and from Plainfield last year, and 15,997.093 passengers, an average of 133,331 a month and 4,400 daily, eighty per cent. being handled at the North Avenue station. Mr. Besler reiterated his former statement that passenger traffic is not self-supporting, when all the expenses of the company are taken into account, in fact he said that there are but two railroads in the country that claim that the passenger traffic pays and in these cases he thought that it was made to appear so only in bookkeeping.

He referred to the great expense of operating passenger trains, stating that on five round trips of a train between Jersey City and Philadelphia, the cost per car would average from $12 to $15. There are a total of 325 trains arriving and departing daily at Jersey City and 128 pass through Plainfield every twenty-four hours, besides eighty-five freight trains during the same number of hours.

Owing to the fact that the New Jersey Central gives so much in comparison to its returns, Mr. Besler said that the road was twenty-seventh in the list of the leading railroads. He spoke in a humerous manner of the very kind assistance offered the company from persons living along the line and of the requests made to have express trains stop here and there for their convenience. He said that suggestions were frequently received as to the makeup of timetables, all of which would be valuable if the parties could only understand other conditions. However, he added that these suggestions are kindly received.

An item of considerable expense referred to by Mr. Besler is that of timetables. Two million folders are issued yearly at an expense of about $15,000. Continuing Mr. Besler referred at great length to the Interstate Commerce law, competition of railroads and of unjust demands made upon railroad companies, concluding with the statement that the tendency of the times is to form great systems in railroads, thereby making it possible to provide better service. Mr. Besler concluded his remarks by relating a humerous story about a man applying for the position of conductor on a western railroad, he apparently having all the necessary qualifications, although he had never held a railroad job.

As an evidence of the good feeling

HE CAME FROM THE WEST

At Least He Said So, and Nobody Disputed His Word.

CLEARED A SALOON

Stampede Occurred in Glockler's, When He Pulled a Gun and Roared for a Drink.

Comparing him with the ordinary man he didn't amount to much as far as size went, possibly not much more than five feet six, but he swung into Glockler's saloon last night, with the independent air of a physical giant. He was accompanied by Michael Mottley, of the borough, who has a large frame but nothing to back it up. The unknown raised himself on his tiptoes to look over the bar and with what he intended to be a roar yelled out:

"I'm the Man from the West and me and my friend want a drink as soon as you can shell it out."

The rules of the establishment forbid that Mottley be served, drunk or sober, and the white-coated bartender mustered up courage enough to acquaint the stranger from beyond the Mississippi with that fact.

"Wha-a-at?" he screamed, "I'm the Man from the West. D'ye hear me? The Man from the West and the sooner you produce the red eye the better."

The drunk dispenser was inclined to argue the point when a yell from the lunch counter keeper caused him to look at the westerner's right hand and what he saw caused him to drop hurriedly out of sight. The glistening steel of a revolver flashed in his eyes and was noted at the same time by other bartenders, Proprietor Glockler and the patrons of the place, who included three militiamen in full uniform with regulation Krag-Jorgensen rifles resting carelessly on their arms. The whole crowd gave a series of whoops and stood not on the order of going but went. There are five exits to the place and inside of half a minute at least five men were in each making frantic efforts to reach the outer air, the boys in blue getting the lead by using their rifle barrels to form a passageway.

Mottley also took to his heels and when "The Man from the West" stopped yelling and swinging his shooting iron around his head, he had the place to himself with the exception of Rudolph Spiegel, one of the bartenders, who afterward owned up that something glued his feet to the floor and he was compelled to stand his ground. The stranger ignored him but still emitting whoops and howls akin to a mountain lion's cry of anger, he leaped out the door through which Proprietor Glockler had passed. The latter was at Front and Somerset streets looking for a cop when the man and pistol came at him like a flying wedge and he did a disappearing act that landed him back in his deserted saloon. A friendly telephone enabled him to tell the police all about the trouble and Patrolman Higgins, of the reserve force, was hurried out. There was nothing in sight when he reached the danger zone and he trekked back up Park avenue and secured Patrolmen Messler and O'Keefe.

Each saloon in the district was visited but without finding the man from the west and they were about to send out a general alarm when their attention was attracted by shouts at Second street and Park avenue. They followed them up and by making a concerted move Higgins and Messler came upon the untamed one and soon had him in custody. Despite his plea that he hailed from the plains where men live on blood, he was placed in a cell and the revolver which had aided him in causing the stampede, was confiscated. It was of .22 calibre and fully loaded.

There was nothing to indicate ferocity about the prisoner when he appeared in the city court this morning, and in a meek tone of voice he said he was William Ellis, of New York, a railroader on the way to Reading, Pa. He believed he was in New York until Judge Runyon committed him to Elizabeth for twenty days and he wanted to know why Blackwell's Island wasn't designated.

Played Progressive Hearts.

Miss Marjorie Fleming, of Park avenue, entertained the Midwinter Card Club at her home Wednesday night, progressive hearts being the attraction. The prize winners were Miss Taylor, Miss Louise Holly, Miss Lucy Otterson, Thomas and George R. VanBoskerck and Owen Fleming.

STATE MILITARY BOARD CRITICISED

ATTACHMENTS SERVED ON GOODS BEING MOVED

LOCAL MERCHANTS WANT SAMUEL METZGER TO SETTLE BILLS.

The attempt to remove goods belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Metzger from their home in Fairview avenue, yesterday, resulted in the issuance of several attachments through Justice Smalley's court. In all there were four attachments, two obtained by Reed & Codington for Smalley Brothers, butchers, and J. A. Smith & Bro., grocers; and two others obtained by V. W. Nash, Jr., for the Public Service Corporation, for gas, and V. W. Nash, Sr., for coal.

It was noised about that Mr. and Mrs. Metzger were in New York and that their goods were being loaded in two vans belonging to George Conover & Son. Investigation proved this to be true and just as the vans were about to go from Somerset County into this city, Constable William N. Pangborn appeared near the Grove street bridge in the borough, and served the papers. The goods were then taken to the stables of George Conover & Son, there to be held for twenty days, when, if a settlement is not made, they can be sold by due process of law.

In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Metzger were telegraphed for and they are expected to arrive here today. They have been residents of this city some time, coming into prominence through a fire and burglary at their home on Sycamore avenue.

SISTER AND BROTHER DIE WITHIN FEW HOURS

MORGAN BIRD'S DEATH PRECEDED BY MRS. MOULTON'S AT NORTH BRANCH.

Within a few hours of the time of the death of Morgan C. Bird, of Randolph road, his sister, Mrs. Margaret Melissa Moulton, died at her home in North Branch. Mrs. Moulton's death occurred Wednesday night, following a long illness, while her brother died yesterday morning. Some of the relatives from here were at North Branch, when word was received of Mr. Bird's death.

Mrs. Moulton was the widow of Benjamin Moulton, a Civil War veteran, and she formerly lived in West Fourth street. After the marriage of her daughter, Miss Edith Moulton, to D. B. Melick, of North Branch, she made her home at the latter place. She was a Baptist and while a resident of this city, attended the First Baptist church. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Frank Carpenter and Mrs. D. B. Melick, of North Branch, and three brothers, George and Lewis M. Bird, of this city, and Elias Bird, of Mt. Bethel.

The funeral services will be held from the Baptist church, Somerville, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the interment will be at Somerville.

Funeral of Miss Morrow.

A funeral service over the body of Miss Annie Sergeant Morrow was held at her late home on East Fifth street this afternoon at 1:30, with a gathering of relatives and friends from this city, New York, Milburn and Bristol and Carlisle, Pa., in attendance. It was conducted by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, and was very simple. The body will be taken to Carlisle, Pa., tomorrow, where a service will be conducted at the grave by Rev. Alexander MacMillan, rector of St John's church. The interment is to be in the family plot in Ashland cemetery.

Local Board of Trade Passes Resolution Regretting the Turndown of Company K.

WAS HOTLY DISCUSSED

James E. Martine Champions the Cause of the Militia Men and Succeeds In Carrying His Point.

Wishing to put the Board of Trade on record as being opposed to the action of the State Military Board in not permitting Co. K to attend the inauguration at Washington, tomorrow, James E. Martine caused a heated discussion at the meeting of the Board last night by introducing a resolution regretting and disapproving its action. He spoke bitterly of the unfair methods adopted by the State Military Board, inasmuch as Co. K proposed to pay its own way and would be under no expense to the State. He accorded praise to the local company, referring to its high standing in the State Militia.

His resolution was vigorously opposed by Sheriff B. Frank Uoriell and County Registrar F. H. Smith, who said that no good would be accomplished by such an attack and they sincerely hoped that the resolution would not pass. The argument pro and con provoked considerable feeling, but Mr. Martine rallied a sufficient number of friends to his resolution and secured its adoption.

Mr. Martine took the floor and said: "I am in no sense a military man; I hold and insist in the supremacy of the civil over the military, but we as a Nation are proud of our militia and their achievements. As citizens of Plainfield we are justly proud of Co. K, of this city, who by their proficiency in drill, their discipline, their character and general soldierly bearing, have made a place for themselves in the opinion of military men. Now, gentlemen, in view of the above facts, I desire to offer the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Plainfield Board of Trade do most earnestly regret and disapprove the action of the 'State Military Board' in denying a company of the Second Regiment the opportunity to participate in the inaugural ceremonies of President Roosevelt, to be held on March 4."

This provoked a hot discussion, many members taking part, some insisting that it was outside the realm of the Board, etc., but still Mr. Martine held his ground and defended his motion with much earnestness, saying that naught but narrow and petty jealousy prompted this denial, and that the fact that men might wear epaulets should not shield them from criticism. The opportunity to appear on such occasions as an inaugural of a President of our country would stimulate the militia to greater efficiency and higher standards. After some further discussion the motion was declared carried, amid much applause.

James Butcher's Narrow Escape.

While cleaning snow off the back roof of Timbo's restaurant on North avenue, yesterday morning, James Butcher slipped and would have fallen a considerable distance to the ground had not Frank Schaffer, employed by Hoyt & Co., caught him. Schaffer's presence of mind led him to rush toward Butcher just as he was about to fall off the roof.

No tickets will be sold at the door and for the benefit of those who have been unable to secure tickets the management announces that the play will be repeated in the near future.

Entertained Whist Club.

Miss Elizabeth White entertained the Fortnightly Whist Club at her home in the New Madison, last night. Mrs Will F. Williams secured the prize for the women, and Fred C. Lounsbury, Jr., who substituted, won the prize for the men. Miss Boice, of Dunellen, will entertain the club in two weeks.

In Justice Smalley's Court.

A verdict was given to the plaintiff in the case of Charles M. Young against Louis Bacon and S. R. Bacon, which was tried at Justice Smalley's court Wednesday afternoon. The amount of the suit was $147.30, on a promissory note, for a sum owed on goods bought at an auction of Young's property. John French, who represented the defendants, claimed that Mrs. Bacon acted as security for her husband, and could not be held to the note. The court decided that she was not acting as security, however, and gave the judgment in full in favor of Mr. Young. The plaintiff was represented by Francis J. Blatz.

Coal Stealers Fined.

Roosevelt's Inauguration Ceremonies Tomorrow.

THIRTY THOUSAND MEN ON PARADE

President's Personal Escort Squadron A, National Guard of New York, and Volunteer Cavalry, Rough Riders Honored.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The details of the great military and civic pageant at the capital, which is to be the crowning feature of the ceremonies of President Roosevelt's inauguration tomorrow, are given in "General Orders of the Grand Marshal," made public last night by the inaugural committee. It gives the order of the parade its organization, movement and dismissal and shows all of the military and civic bodies which are to participate. It is estimated that approximately 30,000 men will be in line.

The ceremonies of the day are as follows:

Escort of the president from the White House to the capitol.

Assembly of the military and civic grand divisions.

Escort of the president from the capitol to the White House at the conclusion of his inaugural address.

Review of the military and civil grand divisions by the president from the latter's stand in front of the White House.

Dismissal of parade. Escort from the White House to the capitol.

Assembly of grand marshal's staff, president's personal and veteran escort.

The president, accompanied by his personal escort, composed of Squadron A, N. G., N. Y., and a detachment of the late First United States Volunteer cavalry will be escorted from the White House to the capitol by the grand marshal and staff and a division composed of veterans of the civil and Spanish-American wars and of the regular army and navy of the United States, commanded by Major General Oliver O. Howard, United States army.

This escort will be formed as follows: The staff and aids of the grand marshal; Squadron A, N. Y. N. G., with detachment of First United States Volunteer cavalry; the division of veterans, the Spanish war veterans, the veterans of the regular army and navy of the United States and the veterans of the civil and Spanish wars.

The president will be received by his personal and veteran escort as he comes out of the west gate of the White House, and immediately thereafter Squadron A will form column of platoons to the left and, preceded by the grand marshal, his staff and aids, will march to the capitol, the detachment of First United States Volunteer cavalry remaining in line until their front is cleared by the presidential party in carriages.

The parade is organized as follows:

Major General James F. Wade, U. S. A., chief marshal.

FIRST DIVISION.

Brigadier General F. D. Grant, U. S. A., commanding.

First Brigade.—Corps of cadets, U. S. M. A.; midshipmen, U. S. N. A.; Brigadier General A. L. Mills, U. S. A.

Third Brigade.—Brigadier General T. H. Bliss, G. S., U. S. A.; military cadet organizations of universities, colleges and schools.

VETERAN DIVISION.

Major General O. O. Howard, U. S. A., commanding; Captain A. S. Parham, chief of staff; Colonel M. E. Urell, adjutant general; aids, Admiral John G. Walker, Admiral S. Kenney, General George H. Harries, Major J. W. Howard, Hosea B. Moulton, Hillman A. Hall, Robert G. Rutherford and Daniel D. Wheeler.

First Brigade.—Veteran associations civil war.

Second Brigade.—Veteran associations Spanish-American war.

Third Brigade.—Veteran associations United States army and navy.

CIVIC GRAND DIVISION.

B. H. Warner, chief marshal.

First Division.—Major General O. O. Howard, U. S. A.; First, Second and Third brigades.

Second Division.—Brigadier General Joseph Wheeler, U. S. A.; First, Second and Third brigades.

The parade will be reviewed by the president from a stand on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue opposite the White House.

The route of the column will be west on Pennsylvania avenue to Twentieth street, thence north on Twentieth street to K street, thence east on K street to point of dismissal.

The parade will be reviewed by the grand marshal at Vermont avenue on the north side of K street.

At the conclusion of the inaugural parade President Roosevelt will receive at the White House the members of his rough rider escort of honor and such other members of his old regiment as may be in the city. The entire party will be entertained by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt at a luncheon. He also will receive and shake hands with the cowboys who have been brought to Washington by Captain Seth Bullock. They will ride through the porte cochere of the White House, and each man will give the president a "riding shake." None of them will dismount.

The day before the time set for the inauguration ceremonies to begin finds thousands of visitors in Washington ready to do honor to President Roosevelt and Vice President Elect Fairbanks. They have been pouring into the city by thousands. The weather continues exceptionally fine. Many of the electric illuminations were displayed for the first time last night, and their appearance was very pleasing and effective. They were largely in evidence along Pennsylvania avenue which is to be the main route of the great inaugural parade.

At the pension office, where the ball tomorrow night is to take place, the decorators are still at work on the court of the building, and their efforts reveal brilliant artistic effects of surpassing beauty.

But the most interesting question at present is the weather for Saturday. As to this there appears to be just a slight tinge of uncertainty. This is the opinion of Forecaster Frankenfeld at the weather bureau, who says there are four or five barometer depressions scattered over the country, the strongest of which is located in the extreme northwest. Upon this latter depends, he says, the weather in Washington for inauguration day. If this depression moves directly eastward the weather in Washington should be pleasant, with possibly some clouds and a substantial rise in temperature. If, however, it should move rapidly in a southeasterly direction it would make conditions in Washington threatening and the weather uncertain.

ELOPING COUPLE JAILED.

Rev. J. F. Cordova Arrested and Miss Bowne Held as a Witness.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 3.—J. F. Cordova, at one time a clergyman in South River, and Miss Julia Bowne have arrived here from Washington in custody as alleged fugitives from justice.

When the train entered New Jersey Cordova was formally placed under arrest on a charge of abandonment, and Miss Bowne was served with a state's witness warrant. A large crowd made a noisy demonstration at the station. They were taken to the courthouse and arraigned before Judge Suydam. Cordova was held in $1,000 bonds on the abandonment charge and Miss Bowne in $500 as a witness. As neither could furnish bail they were taken to jail.

Battle Over New York Gas.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 3.—What had seemed more than likely to prove a deadlock in the senate committee on miscellaneous corporations over the Fitzgerald bill providing for a seventy cent rate for illuminating gas in the city of New York was dissolved at the meeting of the committee, when it was voted to report the bill to the senate today without recommendation, leaving the battle to be fought out on the floor of the senate. The bill goes into "general orders" or before the committee of the whole and in ordinary course will come before the senate on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Inquest In Larchmont Murder Case.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 3.—Robert F. Dickerson, the steward who discovered the murdered body of John A. Hart in his berth after the arrival of the steamer Larchmont here, was the only witness called at the inquest. The witness told of finding the body in an upper berth. It rested on the left side in an attitude of slumber, and only a pool of blood at the left elbow suggested violence. A blanket covered the body. The lower berth had apparently been occupied.

Special Message on Domingo.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Roosevelt will send to the senate next Monday a special message relating to the Santo Domingo treaty which is pending before that body. The nature of the message has not been divulged, but it will present in concrete form the circumstances of the negotiation of the convention and the arguments on which its ratification is urged by the administration.

Confederate Battleflags.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Representative Bartlett (Ga.) has introduced a resolution for the printing of 5,000 copies of a letter written by Secretary of War Endicott in 1888 giving a history of the Confederate battleflags in the possession of the war department, but which under a law just passed are to be returned to the governors of the states in which the regiments were organized.

Station Agent Killed Burglar.

UNIONVILLE, Conn., March 3.—A. A. Burnham, station agent of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in this village, shot and killed one of a gang of burglars who had broken into the station. A complete burglar's kit was found on the body, but there was nothing to reveal the man's identity.

Antigambling Law Passed.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 3.—The assembly, by a vote of 43 to 20, has passed Espy's bill prohibiting pool-selling or wagering on a horse race and providing a fine. The Ralston antiprize fight bill has been passed by the senate on reconsideration by a vote of 25 to 11.

Japanese Reported to Have Outflanked Kuropatkin.

SIBERIAN TOWNS IN WANT OF FOOD

Strikes Renewed at Moscow and Capital—Bomb Throwers Attack Soldiers at Warsaw—Stoessel Feted at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 3.—A Mukden dispatch says the thunder of cannon is heard from all positions. Putiloff and Novgorod hills are hidden by the smoke from the guns. The bombardment was resumed after the repulse of an infantry attack by Japanese. A heavy bombardment is also in progress in the neighborhood of the Shakhe bridge, apparently in preparation for an attack in that quarter.

In a long dispatch from General Kuropatkin the commander in chief of the army in Manchuria gives details of various attacks by the Japanese, but the report throws no light upon the rumored intention of General Kuropatkin to withdraw northward, which has been the gossip of St. Petersburg for the last two days.

A Tokyo report says the position of General Kuropatkin's army is regarded as being critical. The real turning movement which General Kuroki is operating in the mountains forty miles eastward of Mukden seems to be making progress, and at the same time Field Marshal Oyama is also rolling back the Russian left, while pounding away at the Russian center with heavy high power guns.

Poutiloff and Novgorod hills have been subjected to a continuous three day bombardment, followed by an infantry attack, the main Russian lines being forced to retire two miles to their shelter trenches.

The Siberian railroad, which is being worked to its full capacity by purely military traffic, is about to have a further burden imposed upon it—namely, that of feeding the resident noncombatant population. The stock of provisions in Irkutsk and other towns in Siberia were not as large as usual at the beginning of the winter and are now running low. The government has been informed that provisions must be imported by the railroad or that the towns will be face to face with famine within a fortnight. This will necessitate some delay in the forwarding of military supplies, which are sorely needed at the present moment.

General Stoessel, who was given an audience by the emperor, was received with a warmth which went far to atone for the cool reception which he was given by several of the newspapers and military factions. General Stoessel is being feted by society. A large dinner was given in his honor after his return from Tsarskoe-Selo.

No steps have yet been taken toward an investigation of the surrender of Port Arthur, but the whole matter will soon be placed in the hands of a commission of inquiry.

Black clouds are again lowering over the industrial situation of Russia. The strike at Moscow has been resumed on a large scale, anarchy reigns in the Caucasus, and at St. Petersburg the measures which the government advanced to quiet discontent and restore good relations between masters and men appear to have failed, with the probability of causing the storm to break anew.

At Warsaw a bomb was thrown from a window overlooking the courtyard of the Muranoff district police station at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It fell in the midst of a group of soldiers, but did not explode. Two Jews have been arrested for supposed connection with the affair.

Strike renewals have already assumed large proportions here, about 50,000 men being out. Among those on strike are the employees of the St. Petersburg shops of the Warsaw railroad. The strike has not yet extended to the trainmen, but the leaders may decide to call them out in order to paralyze one of the most important railroads in Russia.

Strikers at Warsaw drove the officials and clerks from the offices of the gas company and thence marched to the gas works, which are occupied by the military. The strikers merely jeered at the soldiers, shouting:

"You will only stay there until tomorrow (Saturday). Then we will clear you out."

AUSTRIAN STUDENTS' FREAK.

At Lemberg a Coffin Was Carried Into Officials' Ballroom.

LEMBERG, Galicia, March 3.—A student demonstration occurred here during a ball which was attended by a number of prominent people and local officials, which was not without significance taken in conjunction with affairs in Russian Poland.

Three hundred students and workmen gathered outside the building in which the ball was in progress. Then twelve students, bearing a black coffin, started to march into the building, singing meanwhile in a scornful manner one of the Austrian national hymns very well known to all Austrians. The police expelled the coffin bearers and dispersed the crowd without trouble. In the disorder five students were arrested. An investigation is proceeding.

Seamen's Wage Scale.

CLEVELAND, March 3.—The wage scale and working conditions for 3,5[illegible] seamen employed on the boats of the great lakes was settled here at a conference between representatives of the seamen and the Lake Carriers' association. The men will receive $27.50 per month from the opening of navigation until Oct. 1, an advance of $2.50 over last year's scale.

Having purchased the Thorn property on Park avenue, I have removed my residence and place of business from No. 119 to No. 125 (one door west of the Hotel Iroquois), where I will be better than ever prepared to serve my customers. HONOLULU MURDER.

Mrs. Stanford a Victim of Secret Foes.

MEMBER OF HOUSEHOLD A SUSPECT

Strychnine, the Cause of Death, Found In Large Quantities—Had Jewels With Her Valued at $75,000. Body to Be Brought Home.

HONOLULU, March 3.—Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, widow of the founder of Leland Stanford university and one of the wealthiest women in the world, who died suddenly here, was, in the opinion of the police, the victim of a relentless pursuit by one or more secret foes, who finally compassed her death.

Chemical analysis of the bicarbonate of soda which the aged woman drank just before her death shows positively that it contained strychnine in large quantities.

It is thought by some that she brought death along with her, for the bottle of soda from which she took the death draught came from San Francisco.

The police of Honolulu suspect a member of Mrs. Stanford's household of having placed strychnine in the bottle of bicarbonate of soda, of which she took a dose before retiring the night before her death.

Dr. H. V. Murray, one of the physicians who conducted the autopsy, reiterates his statement that death was due to strychnine poisoning.

Mrs. Stanford had in her possession when she arrived in Honolulu jewelry valued at about $75,000. This was found apparently intact and was taken charge of by Mr. Hackfield.

High Sheriff Henry denies a rumor in circulation that Miss Bertha Berner, Mrs. Stanford's secretary, and Miss Hunt, her maid, are under surveillance.

A meeting of natives of California resident in Honolulu has been called to take measures to show respect for the memory of Mrs. Stanford. It is probable that special funeral services will be held.

The body of Mrs. Stanford has been embalmed and will be taken to San Francisco on the Pacific Mail company's steamship China, which will sail from Honolulu on March 10. It is due to arrive at San Francisco on March 17.

H. F. Hackfield has been appointed the representative of the Stanford interests here, with former Judge Stanley as counsel.

Turf and Field Club Elect.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Turf and Field club at its annual meeting elected the following officers: President, Perry Belmont; vice president, Brayton Ives; treasurer, F. R. Appleton; secretary, E. C. Lamontague; assistant secretary, H. A. Buck; executive committee, R. B. Van Cortlandt, R. T. Wilson, Jr., and Brayton Ives; board of governors, Francis R. Appleton, J. J. Astor, Perry Belmont, August Belmont, Royal Phelps Carroll and William Astor Chanler.

Crank Threatens Heiress.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Miss Julia Morosini, a noted horsewoman and a laughter of Giovanni P. Morosini, millionaire banker, has received three threatening letters from an unknown crank. The last note said: "Dear Julia—Excuse my not keeping my last appointment. Now, meet me Thursday morning at the Riverdale depot. Have with you $200,000 in either gold or silver. We will elope. If you don't appear, watch out."

Jamestown Exhibition Gets $250,000.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Government participation in the exposition to celebrate the first permanent settlement of English speaking people on the western hemisphere in the vicinity of Jamestown, Va., on the waters of Hampton roads, was provided by the house when by a vote of 192 to 91 the bill for that purpose was passed under a suspension of the rules. The amount appropriated is $250,000.

Union Hill Woman Missing.

UNION HILL, N. J., March 3.—The police have sent out a general alarm for Mrs. Mamie Doyle, who has been missing from her home here since Thursday last. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Spitznagel, and her husband, James Doyle, are unable to account for her absence.

Sultan's Daughter Married.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 3.—Princess Naileh Sultana, daughter of the sultan of Turkey, was married at the Yildiz kiosk last night to Hikmet Bey, a councilor of state and son of the Turkish minister of justice.

GOOD BASEBALL ASSURED

The outfield positions have received as much attention as the infield. One thing that will surely delight the fans will be the announcement that "Tuck" Turner, of the famous Crescents of other days, will play here again. He and Harry McCormick, of last year's Pittsburg team, and Edward Connelly, who has an established reputation, will take care of the outfield.

Of McCormick very little need be said. As a batsman and fielder he is the best. He was drafted by the Philadelphia Nationals this year, but in the meantime he secured a fine position with the Pennsylvania Steel Corporation with offices in New York and has decided to give up professional baseball. "Tuck" Turner can be depended upon to do his share. Errors by him have been so few that one cannot remember them and as a batsman he knows how to score the runs. Connelly, as a heavy batter and fast fielder, is sure to make good. His batting will bear watching, and if this feature does not cause outfielders to lead a strenuous life, his friends will be surprised.

During this month the team will have indoor practice so that everything will be all right for the opening game here with the Jersey City Eastern League team on Saturday, April 15.

IN THE SHOPS.

William Jukes has resumed his former position at the Potter Press Works.

Amos Jackson, one of the oldest and best known machinists in the city, has gone to England and is spending some time with a relative at Hull.

Fred Wharton, of East Sixth street, has resigned his position at the Hoe plant in New York in order to take one with the Pedrick & Ayer company.

The new extension at the Manganese Safe company shop has been fully completed and the necessary machinery for the manufacture of small safes is now being installed.

The Millikin Iron Works at Elizabethport is undergoing one of the busiest periods in its history and at the present time has orders on hand amounting to nearly a million dollars.

PERSONAL.

William C. Cawley, of Somerville, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

Herbert Buxton, of the Jackson building, has returned from a business trip to Boston.

Miss Margaret Goddard, of East Ninth street, is spending a few days in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Beekman, of West Eighth street, leave tomorrow for St. Augustine, Fla. They will be absent two or three weeks.

Mrs. Benjamin Wood, of West Eighth street, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Hutton, of New York, are spending several weeks in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, of East Seventh street, who have been spending some time in New York, will return to their Plainfield home tomorrow.

Fred W. Bird, of Voorheesville, Albany county, N. Y., is spending some time here. He was called to this city by the serious illness and death of his father, Morgan C. Bird.

The Plainfield friends of Mrs. William R. Richards, formerly of this city, but now of New York, will be pleased to know that since going south her health has improved very much.

DR. BLISS RETIRES FROM NEW YORK PASTORATE

WAS PASTOR OF CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH NINETEEN YEARS.

Last Sunday morning Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, a former pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, preached an impressive sermon from the text Exodus 14:15, to a congregation that thronged the Washington Heights Presbyterian church, New York city. The occasion was the ending of his regular pastoral relation with the church to which he had ministered for more than nineteen years, to become pastor emeritus. The Washington Heights and the North Presbyterian have merged and are building a new church costing $250,000, near the site of the former church.

At its final meeting last Wednesday evening the Session of the Washington Heights church unanimously passed the following resolution offered by Elder Magie: "That this Session at this time, place on record our loving appreciation of the faithful and earnest work of the Rev. John C. Bliss, D. D., as pastor of this church during more than nineteen years past.

Dr. Bliss has been faithful in his presentation of God's word from the pulpit and 'has not shunned to declare unto us all the counsel of God,' as taught in His word; and under his ministry, we have had no thought that the Bible would be so considered as aught else than the word of God. By making it his rule to visit the Sunday-school every Sunday, by regularly attending the meetings of the Society of Christian Endeavor, and by his interest in the Ladies' Missionary Societies and other organizations, he has kept himself in hearty sympathy with all of the activities of our church life.

It is, however, as the 'man of God,' in our homes, that Dr. Bliss has won the warmest place in the hearts of this people. Ever ready to respond to the cry of distress, his kind word and helpful presence have cheered our sick, while many of our number will ever remember his tender sympathy and comforting ministery in times of bereavement."

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

For the purpose of a general discussion of baseball plans, the managers of the teams which will probably play in a league next season will meet tonight in the borough. The teams which will be represented are the Bound Brook, Clinton Avenue, New Market, Orange Field Club and Dunellen. The plans for the season will be outlined and possibly a partial schedule will be made out. It is expected that a series will be arranged so that there will be at least one game a week, to be run under the direction of the league managers. It is also possible that other nines may be admitted into the league, which will be strictly amateur. No professional or semi-professional players will have a place on the line up of any of the teams.

At the next meeting of the Council, which will be Monday night, it is expected that the proposition from the Public Service Corporation concerning the extension of their gas pipes through the borough will be brought up. A representative of the P. S. C. will probably be present.

The Home Missionary Society, of the Methodist church, will meet at the parsonage next Tuesday afternoon. The usual business of the society will be transacted at the meeting, which is expected to be an interesting one.

A horse attached to one of Kuldoshes Brothers' wagons ran away yesterday afternoon, partly demolishing the vehicle and cutting the harness in several places. The animal was uninjured.

Michael Moynihan has taken a position in the employ of Levering & Garrigues' Iron Works. He was formerly working in New York but will make his home in the borough for a few months.

Among those who are still on the sick list are Mrs. Peter Staats, Harry Snider, Miss Helen Pearson, Mrs. J. Gallagher, Miss Emma Gray and Charles Moore.

Mrs. George Apgar, Mrs. J. Newton Apgar and Mrs. Jane Apgar are all confined to their homes by illness. The latter has a serious case of pneumonia.

The regular monthly business meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon, and the usual business was transacted.

The Levering & Garrigues factory was closed on Monday and Tuesday, while some repairs were being made on the machinery.

Several borough residents will attend the inauguration at Washington tomorrow and are planning to leave tonight.

Mrs. Sutphen, of Somerville, has returned after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Martin, of the borough.

Frank Breshhart's orchestra has been engaged to play at a dance at Watchung on March 9.

George W. Day has recently been appointed one of the commissioners of deeds for Dunellen.

Howard Bird has had his new office re-arranged and will paint it and furnish it over.

Willard N. Apgar has secured a position with J. D. Loiseaux, of Plainfield.

Miss Emma Giddis is visiting her brother, Dr. Elmer Giddis, of Plainfield.

The Farther Light Society will hold its next meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Annie Giles, of New York, has been visiting Miss Jennie Brokaw.

Miss Ethel Clum has returned after a visit with New York relatives.

The members of the Suburban Club and their friends filled the club hall last night, the occasion being the second of the series of enjoyable club dances the members are holding this winter. Suhr's orchestra furnished music for the dancers, while for those who sought other pleasures, the bowling alleys and billiard rooms were open. As an added attraction prizes were given for the highest scores bowled before the midnight hour, when a short intermission was held and refreshments served. Many friends were present from out-of-town, coming from Westfield, Rahway and Plainfield. Altogether the second club dance was even more enjoyable than the first.

FOREWORDS OF FASHION.

The Tailored Sleeve—A New Dress Fabric—Favored Colors.

Green, blue and brown are the predominating colors in trimmings, and the newest embroideries show the faintest line of gold thread through them.

The tailored sleeves of the spring will be very full at the top and narrow down gradually at the wrist. For more elaborate frocks the bagging sleeve will hold its own, with a double puff effect gathering into a deep cuff in the lead.

Chiffon serge is a lovely dress material which is both serviceable and inexpensive. Many of the new walking skirts are gored at the top and have a side plaited flounce from the knee.

Fashion authorities say that trimming upon trimming will be a characteristic of the spring styles in dress. It seems hardly possible that the adornment craze of the winter can be carried to a greater extent.

Mother-of-pearl effects represent the latest fad in foulard silks.

Valenciennes lace is to be used as a trimming on the new organdies, which are very sheer in texture and lovely in design. The lace is dyed to match the dominant color in the organdie. Ribbon of a contrasting color is combined with the val for trimming.

The picture shows an attractive gown of cornflower blue voile. The skirt at the waist is slightly gathered, and a second skirt hangs full from a scalloped heading. Scallops also trim the bottom of the skirt above a band of deep blue velvet. The waist is plaited about the figure into a horizontally plaited yoke of the voile, trimmed with guipure lace of the same cornflower hue.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

The Laces on Summer Frocks Will Be of Dainty Texture.

The lace to be used on summer frocks will be of thin makes. In place of last year's Irish, cluny guipure and venetian, the thinnest kind of malines and brussels will be employed. These laces are manufactured to look so much like the "real" that it is hardly worth while paying the very great difference in price between them and the imitation even when money is no object.

Chantilly and a new silk Spanish lace which comes in a combination of two colors—for instance, bronze and white or ecru and white or with gold threads—are to be the favorite laces of the season.

Tulle lace with plastic cabochon beads on it and hollow metal capsules in the shape of half a ball in gold, silver, steel or jet is the latest of fashion's creations.

This is to be a great silk season, and fortunately the silks all come in wide widths. The bouffant skirts have made this extra width a necessity. They have also made a silk dress pattern number at least eighteen yards where formerly fifteen were sufficient.

The draped evening bodice shown in the illustration is of yellow taffeta. This waist needs careful fitting over a boned lining. About the decollete neck are two fitted velvet ruffles overlaid with ruffles of brussels lace. The bodice fastens at one side with large cabochons of silk. The puffed elbow sleeves finish with ruffles of lace and silk.

THE GRAFTERS

By

FRANCIS LYNDE

(Copyright, 1904, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company.)

Let it rest at that for the present; you have work enough on hand to fill up the interval, and if you haven't you can distribute those affidavits I gave you among the compositors and get them into type. I want to see them in the paper to-morrow morning, along with the other news."

"Oh, we can't do that, David! The time isn't ripe. You know what I told you about—"

"If the time doesn't ripen to-night, Hildreth, it never will. Do as I tell you, and get that stuff into type. Do more; write the hottest editorial you can think of, demanding to know if it isn't time for the people to rise and clean out this stable once for all."

"MY HEAVEN, KENT, YOU'RE GOOD FOR 20 YEARS AT THE VERY LEAST!"

"By Jove! David, I've half a mummind to do it. If you'd only unbutton yourself a little, and let me see what my backing is going to be—"

"All in good season," laughed Kent. "Your business for the present moment is to write; I'm going down to the Union station."

"What for?" demanded the editor.

"To see if our crazy engineer is still mistaking his orders properly."

"Hold on a minute. How did the enemy get wind of your plot so quickly? You can tell me that, can't you?"

"Oh, yes; I told you Hawk was one of the party in the private car. He fell off at the yard limits station and came back to town."

The night editor stood up and confronted his visitor.

"David, you are either the coolest plunger that ever drew breath—or the bub-biggest fool. I wouldn't be standing in your shoes to-night for two such railroads as the T-W."

Kent laughed again and opened the door.

"I suppose not. But you know there is no accounting for the difference in tastes. I feel as if I had never really lived before this night; the only thing that troubles me is the fear that somebody or something will get in the way of my demented engineer."

He went out into the hall, but as Hildreth was closing the door he turned back.

"There is one other thing that I meant to say: when you get your two columns of sensation, you've got to be decent and share with the Associated press."

"I'm dud-dashed if I do!" said Hildreth, fiercely.

"Oh, yes, you will; just the bare facts, you know. You'll have all the exciting details for an 'exclusive,' to say nothing of the batch of affidavits in the oil scandal. And it is of the last importance to me that the facts shall be known to-morrow morning wherever the Associated has a wire."

"Go away!" said the editor, "and dud-don't come back here till you can uncork yourself like a man and a Cuc-Christian! Go off, I say!"

It wanted but a few minutes of 11 when Kent mounted the stair to the dispatcher's room in the Union station. He found M'Tosh sitting at Donohue's elbow, and the sounders on the glass-topped table were crackling like overladen wires in an electric storm.

"Strike talk," said the train-master. "Every man on both divisions wants to know what's doing. Got your newspaper string tied up all right?"

Kent made a sign of assent.

"We are waiting for Mr. Patrick Callahan. Any news from him?"

"Plenty of it. Patsy would have a story to tell, all right, if he could stop to put it on the wires. Durgan ought to have caught that blamed right-of-way man and chloroformed him."

"I found him messing, as I 'phoned you. Anything come of it?"

"Nothing fatal, I guess, since Patsy is still humping along. But Hawk's next biff was more to the purpose. He came down here with Halkett's chief clerk, whom he had hauled out of bed, and two policemen. The plan was to fire Donahue and me, and put Bicknell in charge. It might have worked if Bicknell'd had the sand. But he weakened at the last minute; admitted that he wasn't big enough to handle the dispatcher's trick. The way Hawk cursed him out was a caution to sinners."

"When was this?" Kent asked.

"Just a few minutes ago. Hawk went off ripping; swore he would find somebody who wasn't afraid to take the wires. And, between us three, I'm scared stiff for fear he will."

"Can it be done?"

"Dead easy, if he knows how to go about it—and Bicknell will tell him. The Overland people don't love us any too well, and if they did, the lease deal would make them side with Guilford and the governor. If Hawk asks them to lend him a train dispatcher for a few minutes, they'll do it."

"But the union?" Kent objected.

"They have three or four non-union men."

"Still, Hawk has no right to discharge you."

"Bicknell has. He is Halkett's representative, and—"

The door opened suddenly and Hawk danced in, followed by a man bareheaded and in his shirt-sleeves, the superintendent's chief clerk, and the two officers.

"Now, then, we'll trouble you and your man to get out of here, Mr. M'Tosh," said the captain of the junto forces, vindictively.

But the trainmaster was of those who die hard. He protested vigorously, addressing himself to Bicknell and ignoring the ex-district attorney as if he were not. He, McTosh, was willing to surrender the office on an official order in writing over the chief clerk's signature. But did Bicknell fully understand what it might mean in loss of life and property to put a new man on the wires at a moment's notice?

Bicknell would have weakened again, but Hawk was not to be frustrated a second time.

"Don't you see he is only sparring to gain time?" he snapped at Bicknell. Then to M'Tosh: "Get out of here, and do it quick! And you can go, too," wheeling suddenly upon Kent.

Donohue had taken no part in the conflict of authority. But now he threw down his pen and clicked his key to cut in with the "G. S.," which claims the wire instantly. Then distinctly, and a word at a time so that the slowest operator on the line could get it, he spelled out the message: "All Agents: Stop and hold all trains except first and second fast mail, westbound. M'Tosh fired, and office in hands of police—"

"Stop him!" cried the shirt-sleeved man. "He's giving it away on the wire!"

But Donohue had signed his name and was putting on his coat.

"You're welcome to what you can find," he said, scowling at the interloper. "If you kill anybody now, it'll be your own fault."

"Arrest that man!" said Hawk to his policeman; but Kent interposed.

"If you do, the force will be two men shy to-morrow. The Civic league isn't dead yet." And he took down the numbers of the two officers.

There were no arrests made, and when the ousted three were clear of the room and the building, Kent asked an anxious question.

"How near can they come to smashing us, M'Tosh?"

"That depends on Callahan's nerve. The night operators at Donerail, Schofield and Agua Caliente are all Guilford appointees, and when the new man explains the situation to them, they'll do what they are told to do. But I'm thinking Patsy won't pull up for anything milder than a spiked switch."

"Well, they might throw a switch on him. I wonder somebody hasn't done it before this."

The train-master shook his head.

"If Tischer is keeping close up behind, that would jeopardize more lives than Callahan's. But there is another thing that doesn't depend on nerve—Patsy's or anybody's."

"What's that?"

"Water. The run is 180 miles. The 1,010's tank is good for 100 with a train, or a possible 160, light. There is about one chance in a thousand that Callahan's crown-sheet won't get red-hot and crumple up on him in the last 20 miles. Let's take a car and go down to yard limits. We can sit in the office and hear what goes over the wires, even if we can't get a finger in to help Patsy out of his troubles."

They boarded a Twentieth avenue car accordingly, but when they reached the end of the line, which was just across the tracks from the junction in the lower yards, they found the yard limits office and the shops surrounded by a cordon of militia.

"By George!" said M'Tosh. "They got quick action, didn't they? I suppose it's on the ground of the strike and possible violence."

Kent spun on his heel, heading for the electric car they had just left.

"Back to town," he said, "unless you two want to jump the midnight Overland as it goes out and get away while you can. If Callahan fails—"

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

MISS PORTER WEDDED AT PARIS.

French Goverment Presents a Sevres Tea Set.

PARIS, March 3.—A dance at the American embassy last night inaugurated the festivities attending the wedding of Miss Elsie Porter, daughter of the ambassador, to Dr. Edwin Mende of Zurich, Switzerland. There was a large attendance of intimate friends of the family, who were given a preliminary view of the superb presents.

The French government signalized its esteem of the ambassador by presenting Miss Porter with a Sevres tea set specially made at the government's porcelain factory and bearing her initials. The other presents included: From Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, a solitaire sapphire ring; Mrs. Mackay, a gold jeweled purse; Secretary and Mrs. Hay, a silver tray; Prince and Princess Radolin, gold bonbonnieres; General and Mrs. Winslow, a gold chocolate service; Andrew Carnegie, a silver candelabra; Marshall Field, a silver tea set, and General Porter, an automobile of the latest landau type and a number of rare jeweled pieces. Dr. Mende, father of the groom, gives a residence at Bern.

The civil marriage was celebrated today at the town hall of the Bois de Boulogne quarter, only the family and the witnesses attending.

Aged Recluse Badly Used.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 3.—Thomas Lockwood, aged eighty-two, a recluse, has been found in his farmhouse on the road to Middlebury with his skull fractured in two places and his body badly cut and bruised. He says that two men called upon him and at the point of a revolver made him sign a document giving them a right for a trolley line over his land. As he was signing it, he says, they struck him with a bludgeon twice, felling him to the floor; then rifled his house, taking everything of value to them. Four thousand dollars in nonnegotiable securities was left behind.

Searching For Cheney's Securities.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 3.—Detectives have visited Miss Olsen here, the young woman who was working in the home of Herman Cheney at Southbridge, Mass., at the time of the disappearance of $285,000 worth of securities. Referring to the visit of the detectives, Miss Olsen later stated that on the day the papers were missed she and one other servant were in the house. When the loss became knowff she was questioned, and Mr. Cheney was satisfied that she was not concerned in the matter.

Chadwick Bankruptcy Hearing.

CLEVELAND, O., March 3.—The adjourned hearing of the Chadwick bankruptcy case has been further adjourned until March 8. Among those who will be called to the witness stand will be Attorney Fay of Elyria, who represented Mrs. Chadwick at one time and who tried to see her while she was in New York, and C. H. Stewart, an official of the defunct Euclid Avenue Savings and Trust company, through whom, it is said, Mrs. Chadwick procured some of her loans.

SPORTING NEWS

DIAMOND DUST.

The Eastern League officials will soon announce the complete schedule for the season. It has been decided to open on April 22.

Umpire (?) Dick Watt, of Garwood, who made his reputation last season at Westfield, has been brushing up this winter on points of the National game.

While Shortell, of the Hobokens, is wanted by the Scranton, Pa., team, there are excellent chances of his playing here this season. It was learned yesterday that he has not decided to go to Scranton.

Manager Frank Burke, of the Elizabeth Stars, and the management of the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. team have combined interests for the season and will try to monopolize that territory for Saturday and Sunday games.

Up to Wednesday Lindeman, the twirler drafted by the New York Nationals, had not signed the contract to play with the Giants this season and some doubt was expressed as to whether he would accompany the team South.

O'Neil, the popular catcher for the Orange A. C. team, has decided to remain with Manager Hill's team this season. He has had many offers to join the professional ranks and last season he helped Jersey City out in several games.

BASKET BALL.

A feature of the athletic meet between the New Brunswick, Passaic, Rahway and Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Boys' departments, will be a basketball game between the two last named associations. The line up will be announced later.

The Whittier School basketball team will have an enlargement made of the photograph, which was recently taken of them after winning the juvenile championship. The picture will be 15x18 inches, and will be placed in a prominent place at the Whittier trophy room, together with the Meraller cup, which has been suitably engraved.

The games in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league which were to have been played this week did not take place on account of the fact that not enough players showed up. The interest in basketball has declined considerably of late, and only the Business Men of the association seem to have any more ambition. It is doubted that the association league will be completed.

The Business Men of the Y. M. C. A. were defeated by the Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A. Business Men, at the latter's gymnasium, last night, by the score of 21 to 17. It was an interesting game, and at the end of the first half the score was 9 to 7 in favor of the local team. In the second half the Plainfielders seemed to become tired, and it was this feature which lost them the game. The local line up was as follows: Doane, Miner and Egel, guards; Browning, center; Clark and Letson, guards.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Park Club bowlers will roll a match with the Jersey City team on the local alleys tonight.

The Triangles commence a series with the Saturday Night Club of Westfield tonight. The games will be rolled at Fanwood.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS VOCALISTS AT PARK CLUB

PUPILS OF J. EDMUND SKIFF PRESENT AN EXCELLENT PROGRAMME.

A large and appreciative audience filled the Park Club last night on the occasion of the midwinter concert given by J. Edmund Skiff, assisted by his pupils. It was a high class musical and both chorus and solo work were well received, and deserving of the applause which was given them.

The programme was well selected and varied, and the singers displayed an ease of rendition, and a musical talent which added greatly to the excellence of the concert. The two chorus selections, "The Lady of Shalott" and "Joan of Arc," were particularly good, while the trio, "Hast Thou Wandered in the Forest," was exceedingly well rendered. Miss Laura Gesswein, the soprano soloist, was given her usual reception, and all the soloists performed creditably. They were J. Edmund Skiff, tenor; Miss Bertha vanN. Willis, soprano; Miss Laura Gesswein, soprano; Mrs. S. H. Tugwell, contralto; Carlos C. Gallup, bass, Charles Barlow, baritone; Paulding DeNike, 'cellist, and Miss Alberta Waterbury, accompanist. There was a chorus of thirty-five voices.

The programme was as follows:

"Bridal Chorus" (Rose Maiden), Cowen, chorus; "Adagio," H. Herbelein, Mr. DeNike; "Maiden's Wish," Chopin, "A Song of Sunshine," Thomas, Miss Gesswein; "Hybrias, the Cretan," Elliott, Mr. Gallup; "Were I Gard'ner, Chaminade, "Betrayal," Chaminade, Miss Willis; Du Bist Die Ruh," Schubert, "Ou Suis-je" (Songe Nuit d'ete), Thomas, Mr. Skiff; "Little Boy Blue," Joyce, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" (Samson and Dalila,) Saint-Saens, Mrs. Tugwell; cantata, "The Lady of Shalott," Bendall, chorus of ladies' voices, Miss Willis, soprano; song cycle—"Fair Jessie," VonFielitz," Mr. Skiff; trio—"Hast Thou Wandered in the Forest" (Rose Maiden,) Cowen, Miss Willis, Mrs. Tugwell, Mr. Barlow; "Cantilena," Goltermann, "Spanish Dance," David Popper, Mr. DeNike; "Joan of Arc" (Rousen) last scene. Gaul, Miss Gesswein, soprano, chorus ladies' voices and mixed voices.

ATTENDED ANNUAL GRANT FAMILY DINNER

PLAINFIELDERS PRESENT AT AUSPICIOUS GATHERING IN NEW YORK.

The Misses Nellie and May Grant, of this city, accompanied by their friend, Mrs. Andrew Phifer, attended the seventh annual dinner of the Metropolitan branch of the Grant Family Association, which was held at the Park Avenue Hotel, New York, Monday evening, the occasion marking the 304th anniversary of the birth of Priscilla Grant, who, with Matthew Grant, were the founders of the Grant family in America.

The dinner was an enjoyable affair for the descendants of the original Grants who were present. Most of those present were from New York and Brooklyn, but many of them from New Jersey and New England, and even from Cleveland. Letters of regret were received from General Frederick D Grant and Congressman T. E. Burton.

The speeches of the evening were all largely eulogistic of the character and career of General U. S. Grant and were made by General Horatio C. King, of Brooklyn, Mrs. Mary Grant Cramer, the sister of President Grant, the Rev. Nelson B. Chester, the pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Caldwell, Elijah R. Kennedy, ex-Park Commissioner of Brooklyn, Judge Ralph M. Grant and the Rev. Arthur H. Grant, of this city.

Piano and vocal selections were rendered during the evening in a very pleasing manner by Miss May Grant, of this city.

Mrs. Lena Hellstrom, of Watchung avenue, who has been visiting her former home in Sweden, has returned.

Mrs. Rowland Cox, Jr., of New York, who was operated upon last week for appendicitis, is now out of danger and steadily improving.

MYSTERIOUS "MACK" FOUND

engineer who had constructed the McCall residence according to Wood's story, but he denied that he knew Wood or had ever employed him. Mack went over his pay roll of the men employed on the McCall residence with the detective and they failed to find Wood's name on the list.

Detective Totten concluded that Mack was too big a man to go hunting about the country with a person like Wood for a loan of $1,000. When Wood was informed of the result of the investigation by the detective he said that he worked as a carpenter on the McCall residence and that he was not employed by Mack. At the close of the interview Wood still insisted that he knew Mack, and he gave such an accurate description of the civil engineer as to leave no doubt in the mind of the detective that he had seen Mack, even if he was not personally acquainted with him.

Mack has expressed a wish to look Wood over, and it is probable that he will face the man who has implicated him in the case.

Dr. A. L. Stillwell under the direction of Prosecutor Griggs has made a partial examination of Wood to determine whether he is insane. After conversing with the prisoner for an hour Dr. Stillwell concluded that it would require a very thorough examination by an expert in mental diseases to determine his true mental condition. An expert of this kind is now contemplated by Prosecutor Griggs.

Frank Haines, who lives near Liberty Corner, picked Wood out from among a group of prisoners in the county jail last week as the man whom he saw hurrying long the road toward Millington shortly after the murder. Haines says Wood wore a sandy mustache at the time but its absence has not changed his appearance greatly.

By a strange coincidence there is a remarkable resemblance between Haines and Wood, which led a man who saw the two together to dub them the "twin brothers."

The cut printed in today's Daily Press is reproduced from a recent photograph of Wood as he appears in a Ferdora hat and overcoat similar to those said to have been worn by him when he started out on the fatal ride with Williams over the mountain. When he was seen later near Millington he had discarded the Ferdora hat for a blue cloth cap which he still retains.

Wood still denies all knowledge of his ride with Williams. During his incarceration in the county jail he eats well, sleeps well and appears to be in good spirits and shows no marked indications of insanity.

and cordial relations existing between the company and the city, Mr. Besler said that the city had treated them very fair and there was no reason to complain on either side. He further stated that any resolution adopted by the Board of Trade tending to improve railroad conditions and benefit the city would be carefully considered.

This led Mr. Woolston to compare the management under Vice President Warren and that of Mr Besler, referring to the time the committee from the Board visited Mr. Warren and was met with the declaration that he would like to know what the Board of Trade had to do with running the New Jersey Central.

Mr. Besler's address closed with long and hearty applause and a vote of thanks suggested by President Woolston and put in the form of a motion by James E. Martine, was unanimously adopted.

The rest of the evening was spent in a social manner, refreshments being served and excellent music rendered by Harold Cook, pianist, and Arthur Mosher, violinist.

While the Board was waiting for the arrival of Mr. Besler, some matters of minor importance engaged their attention. Secretary F. H. Smith presented several communications, one from the librarian of the Public Library, informing the members of the extensive library and special books of interest in municipal affairs. Citizens of Lakewood asked the Board for information relative to the formation of a similar organization in their town.

W. H. Riley, of the borough, who with J. E. Martine, attended the public hearing on the Colby bill at Trenton, gave a short address on the merits of the bill which propose to limit franchises to twenty-five years. He said that he did not believe any Common Council had a right to grant a franchise for a longer period, and all franchises should be guarded jealously.

Mr. Martine followed with a few words along the same line, deploring the fact that franchises are granted in perpetuity, and he did not believe that it was right to grant franchises beyond two generations.

H. C. Runyon caused some laughter when he introduced the saloon question, a matter that has been agitating the minds of the people recently. He said that while he lived in the flat-house district, he did not think that it was drinking that caused the trouble, but the quality of the liquor. While the milk supply is guarded so closely, he believed that similar restrictions should be adopted in the case of liquors. He believed that every applicant for a license should be compelled to give the size of the room in which liquor is to be sold, and he also believed that all screens should be removed giving an unobstructed view from the street into the place. He characterized the liquor sold as vile stuff, not of proper age.

Among those elected to membership was Charles Frost, of the Courier-News Publishing Company. Later in the evening W. W. St. John, city editor of that paper, secured the endorsement of the Board of Trade for a special industrial edition to be published soon and which is to be circulated in Greater New York.

BETTER PAY FOR POLICE

Regular Borough Marshals Will Now Receive $60.

CHIEF'S SALARY $75

Council Refuses Permission to William Lunger to Erect House on Harmony Street.

Acting on a resolution introduced by Chairman VanArsdale, of the Police Committee, the Borough Council in regular session last night, unanimously voted to increase the pay of the regular marshals. Chief George Weiss will hereafter receive $75 per month instead of $60 and the other members of the force will get $60 instead of $50, the change to date from March 1. The only proviso is that the men purchase two uniforms each year and supply other necessary paraphernalia outside of bicycles.

First mention of an increase in pay for the police was made in Mr. Van Arsdale's annual report and other councilmen expressed their approval. All have known that it has been impossible to keep the force up to a high grade of efficiency owing to the poor inducement and they believed more money would be an incentive. The resolution was accordingly presented and passed with but very little comment.

In the regular order of business, permission was refused William Lunger to erect a house on property owned by him on Harmony street. According to his plans he proposed to place a twelve foot house on a sixteen foot lot, which would leave but eighteen inches on one side and less than three feet on the other between it and other frame dwellings. The matter had been investigated by Councilman Arnold, who found that it violated the building ordinance and he recommended the refusal. Mr. Lunger explained his plans to the Council afterwards and for the purpose of making positive that he had been done no injustice all the members will personally inspect the property to see if there is any way he can be allowed to erect the house without conflicting with the ordinance.

A communication was received from the Board of Health asking that its annual appropriation be $550. It was referred to be acted upon later. On motion of Mr. Lee, a "cordial" invitation was extended the Board to use the Council room as its regular meeting place. Collector Brown was instructed to enforce the law regarding action against tax delinquents, and the bonds of the borough officials were ordered renewed. Bills amounting to $3,408 70 were paid and adjournment was made until March 30, when in all probability the budget will be made up.

A HOME WEDDING.

Chauncey F. Martin and Miss Annabel Doty Married at Somerville.

Chauncey Field Martin, of this city, and Miss Annabel Doty were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doty, north of Somerville, Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. D. Opdyke, of Martinville.

The house was beautifully decorated for the event in green and white. As the guests gathered Miss Louella Dilts played a selection from "Midsummer Night's Dream." The bridal party entered the parlor as she began the wedding march from "Lohengrin." The ushers, Messrs. Toleman, of New Haven, and VanMiddlesworth, of Newark, came first; followed by the best man and bridesmaid, they being Robert Doty, brother of the bride and Miss Alice Martin, sister of the groom. The bride and groom then followed, meeting the party in front of an arch of greens, with an emblem of good luck suspended from the centre.

After refreshments were served the bride and groom departed, for an extended tour, after which they will reside at Plainfield. The bride received many beautiful and useful presents.

BOROUGH OF GARWOOD LOSES IN TAX APPEAL

STATE BOARD DECIDES IN FAVOR OF MRS. C. J. NOEL.

The Borough of Garwood, which has been having trouble with the taxpayers over the excessive valuations placed upon properties by its assessor, Richard Watts, has been turned down by the State Board of Taxation in the case of Mrs. C. J. Noel, of Netherwood avenue, who owns some vacant lots on the county road. Mrs. Noel protested against the high valuation placed upon them and appealed to the State Board of Taxation, as also did J. R. Maxwell and the Aeolian Co., with the result that the Board appointed a date for a hearing at the County Court House, where a large number appeared, to give evidence as to values. E. M. Wood, of Elizabeth, was counsel for the Aeolian Co. and J. R. Maxwell, while Mr. Noel appeared for his wife; W. R. Codington, of this city, appearing for the borough.

The Assessor on oath said the valuations were true and just, but was unable to show how properties could be appraised so highly, with the result that the Board adjourned the hearing to February 15 on the ground where the hearing was continued and the properties looked over. Saturday judgment was sent Mrs. Noel granting her a reduction of 40 per cent. from the Assessor's valuation. No decision has as yet been rendered in the Maxwell or Aeolian case, but it is now expected that as in the Noel appeal there will certainly be a reduction. Should there be a like per cent. then the borough will find itself in straits for money as there will not be enough values to bring in the amount for borough government.

There are a great many small taxpayers who have not yet paid, awaiting the outcome of the three appeals taken, and as they have until the first of April to take their grievances to the State Board it is now certain they will do so. When it became known that the Board had rendered a decision in favor of the Noel appeal it came as a big surprise to the borough officials, as it was confidently expected that the appeals would be decided in favor of the borough.

Owing to the failure to collect taxes a note for $700, given to Cranford, one of a series to pay for that portion of the Cranford sewer in Garwood, it was protested when due and when the Township Committee of Cranford ordered suit to be commenced, a note was discontinued at an Elizabeth bank to take it up in the full expectation of a favorable decision. The entire muddle comes from a low rate $1.57 per 100, with a high valuation which in this case failed to do the work.

MASTER BUILDERS' MET.

Members Declare No Trouble Exists in the Various Trades.

The Master Builders' Association held a meeting last night at Woolston & Buckle's store on North avenue, and considered several matters of interest. It was decided to increase the dues from $5 to $10. The association now numbers between fifty and sixty and it is in excellent condition. It was reported that practically no trouble exists between the various trades. There have been rumors that some of the trades would ask for an increase in wages on May 1, but these could not be confirmed. The master builders believe that the wages here compare favorably with those in any city of this size and they do not anticipate any trouble.

FATHER EGAN TO LEAVE

Bishop Assigns Him to Succeed Rector at Bayonne.

ACTION A SURPRISE

Has Been in Charge of St. Mary's Church Three Years, and Has Endeared Himself to Parishoners.

Greatly to the surprise of his parishoners, Rev. Andrew M. Egan, of St. Mary's church, has been appointed by Bishop O'Connor to the pastorate of the Church of St. Mary's Star of the Sea, in Bayonne. Because of ill health, the Rev. Daniel F. McCarthy, of Short Hills, has felt obliged to decline the appointment and Father Egan was then selected for the place. The announcement of the change in St. Mary's parish has caused deep and sincere regret. Father Egan's successor has not yet been appointed.

Father Egan, since coming to Plainfield three years go in January, has had great success in St. Mary's parish and from the very first he won the confidence and love of his people. Before coming here he was at Morris Plains. He is soon to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his admission to the priesthood, and it was hoped that the observance would be in this city.

This will mark Father Egan's third return to Bayonne. His first mission was there twenty-five years ago, when he was an assistant. Later he was sent to St. Michael's church, Jersey City, where he remained two years. He then returned to Bayonne for the second time, serving the church ten years as an assistant rector, and now he goes there as rector. The parish is a very large one and one of the most important in the State. Rev. Isaac P. Whelan was the rector there, but he has been assigned to the pastorate of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark. The change will go into effect on Friday, March 10, when Father Egan will assume the pastorate of the Bayonne church.

Father Egan succeeded Father Smyth at St. Mary's church, and by persistent and earnest effort he has been the means of enlarging the parish and awakening a deep spiritual interest in all the departments of work. He has been very popular, not only with his people, but with the citizens of Plainfield generally, for he has always stood for the best interests of the city and was ever ready to do his share toward advancing the cause of right.

NEW OWNERS PLAN TO IMPROVE SUTPHEN PLACE

WILL REMOVE OLD RESIDENCE AND BUILD A DRIVEWAY.

Plans for the removal of the old house on the Sutphen property on West Second street, which has just been purchased by Boice, Runyon & Co., were filed yesterday with Building Inspector T. O. Doane. The company plans to remove the house and make other improvements in opening up a driveway to its coal and lumber yards. It is undoubtedly the purpose of the company to eventually use this driveway exclusively and close up some of the Park avenue entrances. If this is done there will probably be plans formulated for the erection of modern buildings on Park avenue corresponding to those to be erected by Charles W. McCutcheon on his property which adjoins that of the Boice, Runyon & Co. estate.

With the Second street outlet the company would not need so much room on Park avenue and it could well afford to sacrifice this space for modern buildings which are in great demand at present. There are other important property deals in the business section underway and will probably be closed within a few weeks. Persons who have been engaged in real estate matters in this city for years say that they cannot remember a time when Plainfield property, especially that in the business section, was so much in demand and such high prices were obtainable. It is estimated that improvements representing many thousands of dollars will be made during the coming year, all of which will tend to increase the property values.

Herbert K. Job, author of "Among the Water-fowl," will give an illustrated lecture in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church on Wednesday evening, March 28, under the auspices of The Audubon Society. Mr. Job's subject will be "Hunting Wild Birds With the Camera."

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB CONDUCTING A FAIR

AUSPICIOUSLY OPENED IN THE BABCOCK BUILDING YESTERDAY.

Attractively decorated rooms, furnished with fancy work tables and candy booths were features of the fair at the Babcock building, under the auspices of the Young Women's Club, which opened yesterday afternoon. The initial attendance was large, and many visited the rooms in the evening, when considerable of the articles were sold.

The affair was managed entirely by the young women of the club, each contributing in some way to the event. The fancy table was the chief attraction. Many of the articles for sale were the work of the members, while other attractive and saleable things were contributed by local merchants. A candy table stood opposite the fancy work booth and was in charge of Miss Smith. Miss Emma Line was at the fancy work table.

A feature of the fair was a presentation of Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works, in one of the club rooms, which was arranged for the event. Miss Margaret McCutchen was in charge of this attraction, assisted by the following members of the club:

Bluebeards wives, the Misses Gilson, Giles, Wilson and Clarkson; Japanese figure, Miss Emma Line; gypsy queen, Miss Englehardt; Siamese twins, Miss Clarkson and Miss Gertrude Gibson; Carrie Nation, Miss Mills; Signorina Screcchina, Mrs. Sutton; trained nurse, Miss Hanson.

During the afternoon and evening Miss Edith Tracy made silhouettes, which captured many a stray dime. Ice cream and cake were on sale during the progress of the fair, tables being placed in the hall outside the rooms. The fair will be open again this afternoon and evening. The committee managing the affair is Miss Osgood, chairman; Miss Smith, Miss Mabel VanDeventer, Miss Stephany Krom and Miss Halloway.

PUBLIC SERVICE WANTS NEW ROSELLE ROUTE

PROPOSES CUTTING OFF PLAINFIELD IN THROUGH TRENTON SERVICE.

Frank Bergen, general counsel for the Public Service Corporation, appeared before the Union County Board of Freeholders yesterday afternoon to advocate a petition for a franchise to cross St. George avenue in Roselle with a prospective trolley line.

This line will begin at Third and Jersey avenues in Roselle and run through Linden to Elizabeth avenue in Rahway, where it will connect with a line for which rights have already been obtained. The franchise through Linden has been obtained. The petition was referred to the committee on county roads with power to act.

By the proposed line the Public Service will shorten the distance from the through line between Trenton and Jersey City. Instead of going round by way of Plainfield the cars will reach New Brunswick after passing through Linden and Rahway. For this purpose the Public Service sought a franchise from the Elizabeth City Council, but the application was granted under conditions that seemed onerous. It was the opinion in Elizabeth that the trolley company would ultimately accept the conditions imposed.

The county relinquished Westfield avenue, between Bayway and Broad street, in Elizabeth to the city; Westfield avenue, between St. George avenue, and the line between Rahway and Clark Township; St. George avenue, between Grand street and the line between Rahway and Linden were relinquished to Rahway.

CLEAR AT WASHINGTON

Inaugural Will Proceed With Favorable Weather.

SNOW STORM LOCAL

Union County Delegation Got Away Last Night Half Hour Behind Schedule Time.

While Plainfielders were enjoying genuine winter weather with prospects of a snow storm of good proportions, this morning, thousands of people from all parts of the country were basking in the glorious sunlight at Washington. The snow storm was only a local affair and word was received from Washington at noon that the weather there is clear and favorable for the inaugural ceremonies.

There were forty Plainfielders who boarded the Union County special at the North Avenue station last night, en route for the Capitol City. The train, composed of four sleepers and three day coaches, started from Elizabeth, about 10:30, the time it was due to leave here, but owing to other specials preceding it and which were given the right of way, it was a half hour late in departing from this city. There was a very large delegation from Elizabeth and vicinity and when the train reached here it was well filled. The local delegation occupied one sleeper.

Accompanying the Republicans was a band from Elizabeth and lively airs were discoursed on the trip. While the train was at the North Avenue station the occasion was enlivened by selections by the band. F. H. Smith, as chairman of the committee, looking after the local end of the trip, was kept very busy completing arrangements and assigning members of the party to berths in the sleeper.

In addition to a number of Republicans of more or less importance from here there were several city officials in the party. It is expected that they will return home some time tomorrow. While in Washington, the Union County delegation will be entertained by Senator John Kean, he having extended the invitation while plans for the trip were being made.

BURSTING PIPE LINE CAUSES BIG OIL FIRE

BLAZING FLUID RUNS OVER FIELDS BACK OF NEW MARKET.

A break in the Standard Oil Company's pipe line running through Piscataway township, near New Market, was followed by an explosion of the escaping oil, yesterday morning. For two hours the oil burned fiercely, sending up huge clouds of thick black smoke that at times obscured the sun and could be plainly seen in every part of this city.

The break occurred between New Market and Lincoln. The pipe line here runs through fields and is at some distance from any houses. The leak was at first a small one but a huge quantity of oil had gathered in a great puddle on the frozen ground.

It is stated that boy threw a lighted match on the oil in an attempt to see what would happen. Something did happen, and all at once. The boy, or whoever was responsible for setting the oil ablaze, is not publishing the fact, or letting his identity be known.

The heat from the blazing oil thawed the ground and the first leak was followed by a second which let out a huge gush of oil. This was shortly before noon time, and the explosion which followed was heard distinctly in Plainfield.

The fire occasioned considerable excitement and speculation in town. When the smoke died down for a half hour and was then followed by another dense cloud, it was supposed that a general conflagration of some sort was under way.

The Bound Brook and Plainfield fire departments were notified but their services were not needed.

The fire was overcome in the usual way, by cutting off the supply of oil above the break, and letting the fire burn itself out. Repairs will be made to the line at once.

"Bosey" a Physical Director.

"Bosey" Reiter, the star football player on the Princeton 'Varsity eleven of a few years ago, and who was married this winter to Miss Edith Hart, of this city, has been selected as physical director of Wesleyan University to succeed Dr. H. C. Swan, who has filled that place for two years. "Bosey" will have charge of all athletics, including the '05 baseball team.

HOME MISSION WORKERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH WOMEN ENJOYED PROSPEROUS YEAR.

Largely attended and marked by excellent reports of prosperity, the annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society, of the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday afternoon, was the most gratifying in years, with respect to both spiritual and financial growth. The chapel was filled when the meeting opened with a devotional service led by Mrs. William Honeyman. Mrs. Charles Hall presided at the piano and Mrs. Ring was the soloist.

At the conclusion of the devotional exercises, the officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Israel C. Pierson; first vice president, Mrs. William Honeyman; second vice president, Mrs. Townsend Rushmore; secretary, Miss Mary W. Ketcham; treasurer, Mrs. William Myers; secretary of literature, Mrs. H. B. Halloway; young people's secretary, Mrs. Albert H. Atterbury.

A feature of the meeting was the report of the secretary, Miss Mary W. Ketcham, who in an interesting manner described the work of the year in general, referring particularly to the missionary boxes, which aggregated $600. The report was well written and listened to attentively. The treasurer, Mrs. William Myers, reported a balance of $100 in the treasury, which was appropriated to the New Jersey Academy at Utah, an institution supported by the Women's Missionary Societies of this State.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Ella Alexander Boole, corresponding secretary of the Women's Board of Home Missions. Her address referred to home missionary work in general, though she particularized the work in the southern schools. Mrs. Boole has recently returned from a trip through the schools in the south, and was well prepared to speak on that subject. The speaker brought out especially the fact that the schools are growing extensively. "This," Mrs. Boole said, "may be said of home missionary work in general, but of all the varied branches, the growth, both in numbers and spiritually, with which the schools in the south have been blessed, is the greatest. It is in some places beyond the control of those in charge, and without a proportionate increase in managing funds, the work cannot go on." Mrs. Boole did not make a financial appeal, though she spoke of the natural need of money in order to meet the rapidly growing expenses, which come with the general growth of the work.

Following the address, a social hour was enjoyed and tea was served by a committee of the society.

STOLE A RING.

Pretending Purchaser Grabbed It Up and Ran From Jewelry Store.

Ferdinand Meyers, a young man who until recently was a resident of Scotch Plains, was arraigned before Justice Mosher this morning, charged by Marcus Silbert, of Park avenue, with stealing a gold ring from him. The theft was admitted by Meyers and he held in $100 bail for the grand jury.

Meyers, who is a young married man, went into Silbert's store Thursday night, and asked to see some rings. While the proprietor's back was turned he seized a plain gold affair from a tray and ran out of the place. Silbert was unable to catch him but he knew the identity of the thief and preferred complaint. Meyers gave himself up voluntarily last night, and said that he had sold the ring for a dollar. Hitherto he has borne an excellent reputation and his friends are at a loss to account for his action.

A "HOUSE WARMING."

Friends of H. A. Todd Assist Him in a Birthday Celebration.

In celebration of the fortieth anniversary of his birthday, and his removal from Duer street to East Third street, a large number of friends of H. A. Todd, manager for Boice, Runyon & Co., gave he and Mrs. Todd a "house warming" last night. There were guests from Westfield, Elizabeth, New York, Somerville, Manasquan and this city. The evening was spent in purely a social manner and at a late hour supper was served.

Mr. Todd received a number of valuable presents, including a Morris chair from the firm of which he is manager. He also received the best wishes of all for many happy returns of the day.

CITY COUNCIL MATTERS

Plenty of Business to Come Up at the March Meeting.

A PUBLIC HEARING

Property Owners Will be Given Opportunity to Speak on Sycamore Street Widening.

In the proposed matter of widening Sycamore street the Common Council will grant a public hearing on Monday night to property-owners or any one interested in the improvement. There will also be action taken in the matter of establishing building lines on West Second street, between Park avenue and Liberty street, and Watchung avenue, between North and Crescent avenues.

There will probably be introduced an ordinance providing for the widening of Park avenue, on the south side between Second street and the railroad bridge. The Plainfield Trust Company, which is about to erect a handsome bank building at Park avenue and Second street, is anxious to have the avenue widened at this time as it will be more desirable while the building operations are in progress. The Common Council also favors the scheme and will no doubt lend its influence in the matter. The improvement will give about ten feet additional to the street and sidewalk. The Trust Company will put its building back to the established line, therefore giving its share of land for the improvement. Charles W. McCutcheon, owner of the adjoining property, proposes to do likewise.

It will be necessary for the Common Council to appoint commissioners to assess benefits and damages for the Park avenue widening as the interested property owners are not willing to give their land entirely without some compensation, inasmuch as the city will also be benefitted by the improvement.

Now that the Plainfield garbage bill passed the Legislature, it is possible that the Common Council may take some action relative to either adopting a municipal garbage system or laying it on the table for the present. The Board of Health is using its best influence to have the system adopted, but it is said that the Common Council does not feel like adding the expense to the taxpayers this year.

The Common Council will also arrange to advertise for bids for the street sprinkling this season, the street committee having recommended this method of letting the contract. It is likely that all persons bidding for the contract will be obliged to deposit a $1,000 check as a guarantee. In view of this it is possible that the number of bidders will be limited as under former conditions there was no great rush for the job, and as John Keely, who has held the contract, is the only one well-enough equipped to do it, it seems to be the opinion that he will again be successful this season.

WERE WEDDED QUIETLY.

Charles Hartfelder and Miss Georgianna West Spring Surprise on Friends.

Miss Georgianna West, eldest daughter of Mrs. Sarah and the late George West, of Brooklyn, and Charles Hartfelder, of Whitewood avenue, the borough, were quietly married on Saturday night, February 25, by Rev. L. R. Heward, pastor of Hope chapel. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. Heward and Mrs. Heward was a witness.

The bride has been a resident of the borough during the past year. Mr. Hartfelder is a carpenter. He is a member of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., the Jr. O. U. A. M., and at one time was active in the Hope Y. M. A. The couple will reside on Whitewood avenue until June, when they will begin housekeeping.

ALUMNI RECEPTION.

St. Mary's School Graduates Conduct a Delightful Affair.

The Alumni Association of St. Mary's school gave a reception in Stafford Hall last night that proved a delightful affair in more ways than one. In the early part of the evening recitations were given by W. J. Bonayne, the well known romantic actor, and Miss Elizabeth Day contributed vocal solos. Dancing followed and was continued after midnight. The hall was very prettily decorated in blue and white, the alumni colors.

The committee which had charge comprised Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Loretta Flannigan and John Kyle.

With this as a sample of the series, everyone will be interested to see the complete set. Mr. Edwards is known for his beautiful color work. There is no doubt that his scheme will be a most effective and interesting one.

AMUSEMENTS.

A very fair example of the quality of attractions at Keith's Theatre, is manifested in next week's big bill. It is headed by that famous star eccentric comedian, Eddie Foy, (Late of "Mr. Bluebeard") and who will be supported by a capable company, giving the first presentation in New York of an original comedy, written especially for his engagement on the Keith circuit of theatres. As a special attraction for the children, Mr. Keith has arranged with Barnum & Bailey for the appearance of Harry Watson's Farmyard, containing trained donkeys, cats, roosters, pigs and dogs—a genuine novelty, which is sure to cause a sensation in vaudeville. The popular Irish comedian, Walter LeRoy, assisted by the capable actress, Miss Florence Clayton, will offer for the first time this season, the laughable comedy, entitled "A Horse on Hogan."

SAYS SCHMIDT CONFESSED.

Surprise at Bridgeport Murder Trial When Detective Testified.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 4.—A surprise developed in the trial of Paul Herbert Schmidt in the superior court on the charge of murdering William Taylor in Sherman when the state tried to put in evidence of an alleged confession by the respondent. There had been no public intimation before of any confession.

P. J. McCabe, a private detective from St. Louis, was the chief witness. When he took the stand the jury was excused and retired to an anteroom while the detective told the judge and counsel that while in the county jail at Paducah, Ky., Schmidt made a confession to him in relation to the death of Taylor and that he afterward signed a written statement.

On objection of counsel for the defense Judge G. W. Wheeler ruled that the part of the alleged confession of Schmidt relating to the killing was not admissible at this stage of the trial. The witness, Detective McCabe, was allowed, however, to testify before the jury that Schmidt told him that he pawned two watches, two stickpins and a diamond ring which he took from the Crittenden house in Sherman, where Taylor was killed, and that he received $40 from a New York jeweler for the articles.

SPENCERIAN WON IN A ROMP.

Crescent City Track Handicap at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 4.—The class of the card at the Crescent City track centered in the mile handicap, for which Spencerian was a pronounced favorite at 7 to 10. The filly won in a romp after a rough journey over the distance. In the five furlong dash for two-year-olds Panic, after considerable interference and a wide turn into the stretch, caught Leonard Joe Hayman and beat him home a neck. Besides Spencerian, Inquisitive Girl and Hands Across, both of whom won easily, were successful favorites. The weather was clear and the track fast. Summaries:

First Race.—Inquisitive Girl, first; Belle of Portland, second; Owaska, third.

Second Race.—Panic, first; Leonard J. Hayman, second; Proteus, third.

Third Race.—Duke of Kendal, first; Viv Zeigler, second; Frank Rice, third.

Fourth Race.—Spencerian, first; Careless, second; Whorler, third.

Fifth Race.—Lady Felix, first; Cyuttica, second; Pure Favor, third.

BOSTON, March 4.—It is now certain that the doubles racquet championship will remain with the Boston Racket and Tennis club for another year, two of its players, Percy D. Haughton and P. E. Stockton, defeating C. G. Sands and George Clarke of the New York Tennis and Racket club in four successive games.

Waswift Got Handicap.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 4.—The card at Oaklawn was divided between three favorites and three short priced outsiders. The seven furlong handicap went to Waswift, favorite, at 6 to 5, which beat out Toscan in a good race. Hildebrand had another successful day, riding three winners.

Foncasta Suddenly Awoke.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 4.—Foncasta awoke suddenly at Ascot, ran seven furlongs in 1:26½ and beat a good field. This was the big surprise of the day, short priced horses having things much their own way on the whole.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—Recent form cut little figure, and long shots gathered in the money. Olympian won from a good field. Glen Rice, Ramona and Ebony won.

Ah Wing Not Accused.

HONOLULU, March 4.—Miss Bertha Berner, who was Mrs. Jane Stanford's secretary, states there is absolutely no truth in the dispatch from this city published at San Francisco attributing to her a statement to the effect that she suspected Ah Wing, a cook employed for many years at Mrs. Stanford's mansion in San Francisco, of having placed the strychnine in the bottle of bicarbonate of soda, a dose of which Mrs. Stanford took before her death.

Victim of Dock Fire Dead.

BOSTON, March 4.—Chief Steward J. W. Fellowes of the Leyland liner Philadelphian, who was injured at the recent dock fire at Charlestown, is dead at the City hospital. Fellowes was one of forty men who jumped into the water from the steamer when the fire broke out. He was thirty years of age and lived in London, where he leaves a widow and two children.

Lunatic Kills Himself at Corning.

CORNING, N. Y., March 4.—After setting fire to the home of his son-in-law, with whom he lived in the town of Potter, eighty-year-old Henry Hermans went to the barn and almost severed his head from his body with a knife. The son-in-law and his family were absent at the time. It is believed that Hermans was insane.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Report of Week's Business.

NEW YORK, March 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Trade reports are still somewhat conflicting; but, on the whole, improvement has followed more settled weather, and the outlook is considered favorable, even in sections where current business is irregular. Mercantile collections are not as prompt at the east as elsewhere, but the liabilities of commercial failures in February were much smaller than a year ago. Traffic blockades have been lifted, restoring a normal distribution of merchandise, and railway earnings in February were only 5.1 per cent smaller than last year, despite the severe weather at the start Little idle machinery is noticed in the iron and steel industry, textile mills are increasingly active, and New England shoe shops are shipping more freely than a year ago, although there is still delay in booking orders for fall footwear.

Activity continued in Wall street, sixty railway stocks rising to the highest point of the season at an average of $113.59, which was within $2.68 of the high record established in 1902, but subsequently there was more or less reaction and irregularity. Rates for money continued firm at the recent advance to about 3 per cent for call loans, but foreign exchange became weaker. Bank exchanges at New York for the last week were 121.4 per cent larger than in the same week of 1904, and at other leading cities there was a gain of 25 per cent.

Commercial failures in the United States are 245 against 252 last week, 258 the preceding week and 236 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 35 against 29 last week, 32 the preceding week and 27 last year. Of failures this week in the United States 79 were in the east, 75 south, 70 west and 21 in the Pacific states, and 86 report liabilities of $5,000 or more. Liabilities of commercial failures in the United States reported for February are $9,780,370 against $15,812,553 for the corresponding period last year.

Four Workmen Killed.

PIKEVILLE, Ky., March 4.—At the railroad camp of A. H. Calligan, a Chesapeake and Ohio railway contractor, at the mouth of Greasy creek, ten miles south of here, four workmen were instantly killed, two were fatally hurt and four dangerously injured by an explosion. The men were heating dynamite in powder cans when the explosion occurred.

Athletic Training of Cadets.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Athletic training of the cadets at the military and naval academies will be conducted hereafter through the entire four years' course at those institutions if the president should approve the report recently submitted to him by a joint board of army and navy officers which he appointed to consider the subject.

THE INAUGURATION.

Washington En Fete to Honor Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

MARCHING THOUSANDS IN REVIEW

President Takes Oath at Capital and Delivers His Inaugural Address. King Edward's Personal Congratulations.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—President Roosevelt's life now during his formal inauguration to the presidency is almost a continuous reception. So great is the pressure from visitors upon the president's time that cabinet meetings are abandoned, and Mr. Roosevelt gives up as much of his time as he possibly can spare to greeting and shaking hands with callers. He said to his friends that this day of all others his time belonged to the people, and it afforded him genuine pleasure to meet them and exchange with them even a transient meeting.

As soon as prominent visitors get to Washington they go straight to the White House to see Mr. Roosevelt.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

The desire to see the president and shake hands with him is the strongest characteristic of the crowds that have come to town.

The central feature of the grand pageant here is the plaza formed by Pennsylvania avenue between the White House grounds, the treasury building and the state, war and navy building on the south side and Lafayette park and the two blocks of buildings flanking it on the north side.

This whole space is virtually inclosed by reviewing stands, and the plaza is transformed into a "court of history." This court stretches along for four blocks, flanked on either side by high Corinthian columns and great bamboo poles with arrow peaks that point far above the roofs of the stands. These columns and poles were brought from the world's fair at St. Louis.

Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, presented to the president a personal letter of congratulation on his inauguration and the beginning of the new administration from King Edward VII. Sir Mortimer received the cordial thanks of President Roosevelt. The letter was sealed, and its contents are known only to the president and to King Edward. This is the first of the letters from foreign rulers which, it has been indicated, would be sent to President Roosevelt.

Starting the inaugural ceremonies, President Roosevelt left the White House for the capitol, accompanied by the congressional committee of arrangements and escorted by his personal escort of the department of the Potomac, G. A. R., and a detachment of the United Spanish War Veterans.

When President Roosevelt arrived at the capitol the doors of the senate chamber were immediately opened to high government officials, ambassadors and ministers and the senate galleries were opened to guests with cards of admission.

President Roosevelt entered the senate chamber and was seated in front of the desk of the presiding officer.

The president pro tempore of the senate declared the senate adjourned sine die and administered the oath of office to the vice president elect. Mr. Fairbanks delivered his inaugural address.

The entire assemblage proceeded to the stand at the east front of the capitol, where President Roosevelt took the oath of office and delivered his inaugural address.

At the conclusion of President Roosevelt's address the parade of 30,000 men began to march. The parade halted at the head of Pennsylvania avenue to allow the president to take luncheon and reach the reviewing stand.

In the center of the plaza, directly north of the White House, on the reviewing stand, President Roosevelt was saluted by and saluted the marching thousands as they passed, cheered by the assembled multitude. Directly opposite was another stand, on which the grand marshal and members of the Republican national committee reviewed the parade. It held 6,200 people.

On the stands overlooking this arena 25,000 people were gathered. All the stands were made to blend in one scheme of color and design, with figured balustrades and harmonious arrangement of the stars and stripes. The rough rider comrades of the president and the corps of cowboy soldiers from the west were recognized as one of the great features of the inauguration and everywhere received a double acclamation.

Thousands of these visitors are country folk from remote districts. Some say they were never on a railroad train till they started for the inauguration. They add a touch of picturesqueness to the vast crowds. Mingled with them are Indians, cowboys, rough riders, Filipinos, Porto Ricans and governors of states with their staffs.

In the plaza after sunset a grand display of fireworks will fill in the time of the visiting thousands until the opening of the great social feature of the inauguration, the presidential reception and ball at the Pension building. At 9 o'clock the grand ceremonial entry and march will take place. The festivities are ordered to cease at midnight.

KUROPATKIN RETREATING.

Japanese Crossed Hun Near Fuchau, Outflanking Russian Left.

LONDON, March 4.—According to the latest information from the seat of war, the fighting along the whole line south of Mukden is now general and of the most desperate character. The losses have been exceedingly heavy on both sides. Although it is not officially admitted, it is regarded as certain that General Kuropatkin is directing all his efforts to the withdrawal of his army to Tie pass.

It is now practically a rear guard action, but the task of extricating himself is proving very difficult.

The Japanese have not only driven in his left, but a column is already reported to have crossed the Hun river east of Fuchau. At the same time the Japanese are pressing the Russian center under cover of the fire of their siege guns, and General Kuropatkin is gradually retiring before the Japanese advance.

The efforts of the Japanese to envelop the Russian right wing have been unsuccessful, but it has been forced back almost on a line with Mukden. Two Russian divisions were dispatched to head off the wide flanking column advancing from the Liao river toward Sinmintin, about thirty miles west of Mukden, but according to the latest advices they were too late, the Japanese having entered the town Thursday.

No official figures regarding the losses are obtainable, but according to unofficial reports the Russian losses are nearly 7,000 men.

The wounded are streaming through Mukden northward. Great confusion prevails in that city, every means of transport out of Mukden being used.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS ENDS.

Senators Threatened to Talk Improvement Bill to Death.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The last day's session of the house before the final adjournment of the Fifty-eighth congress found that body almost through with its work of disposing of conference reports on the great supply measure of the government and a few measures of more or less public importance. From the moment the doors were opened until late in the night the galleries were packed, while outside in the corridors were thousands anxious to gain entrance to the chamber.

A feature of the proceedings was the general desire of the members to abstain from obstructive tactics and permit the disposition of business. Speaker Cannon wielded the gavel over the entire session and maintained the best of order.

The only subject which gave rise to any considerable debate was the conference report on the river and harbor bill, in the course of which Mr. Sibley (Pa.) attacked Chairman Burton for being prejudiced against a free conference in the question of state aid in the improvement of the Delaware river below Philadelphia. Messrs. Adams and Morrell, his colleagues from Pennsylvania, joined in the attack, the latter declaring that unless the house receded from its position two senators would talk the bill to death. Mr. Burton vigorously defended his attitude and said that if the Pennsylvania delegation wished to take the responsibility of defeating the bill they could do so. By an overwhelming vote the house refused to agree to a motion by Mr. Sibley to concur in the senate amendments, and the bill was sent back to conference.

"Burglary With Explosives."

ALBANY, N. Y., March 4.—J. T. Smith (Dutchess) in a bill introduced here recognizes a new kind of burglary to be known as "burglary with explosives." The bill provides that a person who breaks into a house in which there is a human being by the use of dynamite or other explosives is guilty of burglary with explosives and subject to imprisonment from twenty-five to forty years.

Iri Reynolds to Testify.

CLEVELAND, O., March 4.—Mrs. Chadwick has given up the idea of asking for a change of venue in connection with her trial. Iri Reynolds, formerly secretary of the Wade Park bank, who held a package for Mrs. Chadwick containing securities to the alleged value of $5,000,000, has been served with a subpoena as a witness for the government in the trial of Mrs. Chadwick.

Postoffice Thief at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, March 4.—Sidney Adams, for twenty-three years chief clerk of the general delivery office in the Baltimore postoffice, has been arrested on the charge of tampering with the mails. When searched marked money contained in a decoy letter was found on him, and when taken before United States Commissioner Rogers he confessed his guilt. He was committed for the action of the grand jury.

Addicks Still Leads.

DOVER, Del., March 4.—The ballot for United States senator here has resulted as follows: Addicks, 13; Saulsbury, 10; Ball, 9; Hughes (Dem.), 6; Curry, 4; total vote, 42; necessary to a choice, 22.

MANY SOLDIERS DEAD

Troop Train For Washington Inauguration Wrecked.

REAR END SMASH NEAR PITTSBURG

Train of Ohio Guardsmen Telescoped Coaches Containing Cleveland Marching Club—Wreck Took Fire and Was Burned.

PITTSBURG, March 4.—A special train from Cleveland in two sections, containing the Ohio engineers en route to Washington, was wrecked last night at Clinton Station. It is reported twenty-five or thirty are dead, and thirty-five have been injured. The second section ran into the first, splitting the rear car in two.

Major Keyes of the engineers had both legs broken and will probably die.

The trains in collision were specials on the Pennsylvania railroad, one from Cleveland, carrying Ohio troops, and the other from Indianapolis with the Fairbanks Republican Marching club aboard en route to Washington.

The coroner says he has been notified that twenty-two are dead.

The first train, bearing the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland and the Ohio engineers' battalion of the national guard was run into by the following special, carrying the Sixth Ohio national guard regiment.

In the rear car of the first train were the officers of the guard, a number of whom are reported killed.

The wreckage took fire, and three cars were burned.

The first section of the train, carrying the battalion of engineers, of seven cars, stopped at Clifton Station, eight miles this side of Pittsburg, to pack a hot box and was run into by the second section, which contained five cars, on board of which were the members of the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland, which left Cleveland at 2:30 p. m.

An additional report of the wreck has been received by the superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad, which states that the three last cars of the first section, two tourist and a Pullman, and the engine, the baggage car and two tourist sleeping cars of the second section were destroyed. The number of persons aboard both trains was probably 400 or more.

AMHERST STUDENT STRIKE.

Claim That Faculty Has Not Kept Good Faith With Them.

AMHERST, Mass., March 4. — The senior class of the Massachusetts Agricultural college has refused to attend chapel or class recitations and has determined to remain out until the difficulties with the faculty have been adjusted to the satisfaction of the students.

The action is the outcome of the suspension from college of three members of the senior class three weeks ago, due to disturbances in the classroom caused by the throwing of torpedoes and beans. The faculty at that time suspended the three seniors, and immediately the entire class, claiming that all were equally guilty, went out, but was induced to return at the solicitation of the local alumni.

The twenty-seven remaining seniors now claim they were led to understand that the alumni would secure the reinstatement of the three men suspended, and on this representation the class returned. The three men have not been taken back, and the class decided to leave their studies. The faculty is not inclined to reconsider the action taken.

Plainfield, N. J., March 4, 1905.

The Borough Council's action in raising the rate of pay for its marshals is one that will meet with the commendation of all of its citizens. An efficient police force is one of the greatest needs of a community, but when the compensation is so small good men decline an appointment, a poor system is the result. North Plainfield, until recently, was hampered in this way but its present officers are capable man and the substantial increase will tend to spur them on to greater efforts.

Although no announcement has been made regarding the selection of the judges for the new place in the United States District Court of New Jersey, it has been learned from good authority that the position will undoubtedly go to Hon. Joseph Cross, of Elizabeth, State Senator from Union County. He is eminently qualified for the place, and his appointment would give satisfaction. Of course, the South Jersey people would like to see Judge Armstrong appointed, but inasmuch as the office of the new judge will probably be located at Newark, for the convenience of the lawyers in the northern part of the State, it is but natural that the judge should come from that part of the State. It is believed that Senator Kean will be glad of the opportunity to recommend Senator Cross, and any recommendation he may make will be concurred in by Senator Dryden.

THE FORUM.

Editor, The Daily Press:

We have reason to believe that many persons who are active in mission work have withheld their support from the Grove Street Mission on the ground that it is a sectarian organization. The following quotation is from the minutes of the first meeting of the mission, which constitutes a formal statement of the purpose of the organization: "Realizing the need of a non-sectarian mission in Plainfield, a number of persons gathered themselves together on Thursday evening, Feb. 9, at the First Church of Christ on Grove street, for the purpose of organizing an association whose purpose should be (1) works of charity; (2) temperance; (3) and the salvation of souls." The mission is not a part of the First Church of Christ, or is it in any way connected with any other religious body; neither is it the intention of the body ever thus to become affiliated.

BOY FINDS MOTHER HE HAD NEVER KNOWN

WILL NOW RETURN TO PLAINFIELD AND CLAIM PROPERTY LEFT HIM.

Robert Vliet, of New Brunswick, a youth nineteen years old, who has always been known as "Jake Brown," found his mother yesterday, whom he had never known, after an absence of seventeen years. He also discovered that he had left to him some property by his father, who died recently. He had been brought up by Mrs. Stella Brown, the widow of a policeman of Elizabeth.

The Vliets then lived in this city and gave their two-year-old boy to the Browns to care for. The Browns later moved to New Brunswick, and Mrs. Vliet lost trace of her son. Mrs John Dunn brought mother and son together, and young Brown will now return to this city and live with his mother on the farm left to the family by the boy's father. He was employed at New Brunswick by the John H. Rolfe Lumber Company.

Proceedings of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders held on Thursday, February 2, 1904, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed the following members present, viz.: Director Hubbard and Freeholders Adams, Cady, Chandler, Cladek, Connoly, Darby, Jensen, King, Kline, Krouse, Marsh, Meisel, Murphy, Robison, Scudder, Swain, Wahl, Westphal and Woodruff—20.

The minutes of the previous meeting (reading of bills being omitted) were, on motion, approved as read.

PETITIONS, COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

From Harry L. Barck, Jr., assistant secretary, an invitation to attend the next annual conference of the New Jersey Charities and Correction at the Assembly Chamber of the State House, Trenton, N. J., on February 16, 17 and 18, 1905.

The program of the conference was stated, and on motion of Freeholder Cladek it was ordered that the invitation be received and placed on file.

From E. C. Hutchinson, State Commissioner of Public Roads, as follows, viz:

Trenton, January 27, 1905.

My Dear Director: I have taken the liberty to write your honorable board, through you, of the importance of keeping the county roads in repair. It will soon be time for your board to make up its budget for this year, and, in my judgment, it is more important to keep what roads we now have built in good repair than to construct new ones.

In looking over the roads of our State, I find some that are going to be beyond repair if not taken care of soon. As Commissioner of Roads, I want the different boards of freeholders to know my policy from the start. It will be useless for those counties that do not keep their roads in perfect repair to ask for any more State aid.

Since the State Aid Law has been in effect, our State has given toward building county roads the sum of $1,765,168.55, and the counties $3,978,920.81, and I propose to carry out the strict letter of the law and protect what we have already built.

Our State today has the name of having the finest roads of any State in the union, and we want to retain it, therefore, I want to say to your honorable board in all kindness, that first, we must have good roads built, and second, we must have them taken care of in order to retain our reputation.

(Signed) Yours very truly,
E. C. Hutchinson,
State Commissioner of Public Roads.

On motion of Freeholder King, received and it was ordered that the communication be spread on the minutes in full.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Freeholder King, chairman of the County Road Committee, reported in the matter of the petition of Charles R. VanHouten and others, that the matter was one which rested entirely with the Township Committee, and that the county attorney had so advised, which report was received and accepted.

Freeholder Jensen, chairman of the committee on Elizabeth drawbridges, presented the following report:

Feb. 2, 1905.

To the Board of Freeholders, Union County:

Your chairman of Committee on Bridges, by lack of instruction from the board as to mode of procedure, reports that it has not been considered necessary to hold a meeting of the committee.

The chairman personally inspected the South Front street, Summit street, South street and Bridge street bridges, and found the South Front street, South street and Bridge street bridges in good condition.

The Summit street bridge is not in good condition, and the person in charge is not able to give the bridge proper care because his business interferes with his bridge duties.

Several complaints were made to me regarding his absence, and he lives about three (3) blocks from the bridge. I recommend that proper lights be put on all bridges, so that anyone approaching the bridges at night can determine whether or not the bridges are open.

I also recommend that bridges be kept under lock and key to prevent mischievous persons from opening the bridge, at the risk of those approaching.

I find the attendant in charge of the South Front street bridge in need of kerosene oil, and recommend that same be procured. At this time your chairman begs to inquire whether he has power to order proper and necessary supplies for any bridge inspected by him. (Signed)

Charles J. Jensen.

After some discussion it was ordered, on motion of Freeholder Westphal, that the report be received and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholders Adams:

Resolved, That the Rahway Drawbridge Committee be authorized to execute a contract with George Ball as tender for the Milton Avenue drawbridge, Rahway, for the term of one year from March 1, 1905, at a compensation of $200 per annum.

Freeholder King moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Wahl:

Resolved, That the bill of the New Providence News in amount $50 for publication of minutes to date be paid when properly sworn to and audited.

Freeholder Robison moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Wahl:

Resolved, That the bill of J. H. Parker Co. amounting to $9,800 be paid when properly audited and accompanied by the architect's certificate.

Freeholder Cady moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder King:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Board, that the several municipal clerks of this county be limited to not exceeding $15 for room rent for special election purposes to be held Feb. 7, inst., and that the clerk of this Board be instructed to forward to each of the municipal clerks of the county a copy of this resolution together with a copy of special act of the Legislature, wherein the fees of the election officers are fixed at $10 to each election officer for services to be rendered at said election, and be it further

Resolved, That the fees of the several members of the County Board of Elections be fixed at $35 to each member of said board for their services pertaining to said election. And be it further

Resolved, That the fees of the several municipal clerks for all services by them rendered at said election be, and are hereby fixed at $8 for each election district.

After a brief explanation by County Attorney Codington relative to the laws regulating the fees of municipal clerks, etc., the foregoing resolutions, on motion of Freeholder Cady were adopted without dissent.

Freeholder Meisel said he was informed that it was the intention of the Rahway Valley Railroad Co. to lay its tracks at grade across Springfield avenue, a county road. He was of the opinion that such action by the railroad company would be dangerous to the traveling public, and that steps should be taken by this board to prevent the same.

County Attorney Codington explained that if the railroad company owned the ground on both sides of said crossing the law would permit the tracks to be laid at grade, and, on motion of Freeholder King, the matter was referred to the County Board Committee and County Attorney.

Freeholder Swain moved that the resolutions heretofore laid over, relative to vacating certain county roads in Elizabeth and Rahway, be taken up for public consideration, which was so ordered.

Freeholder King moved that the resolutions relinquishing control of certain county roads in the city of Rahway be laid over, which was so ordered, receiving on roll call 13 yeas, 6 nays and 1 not voting.

Freeholder Swain moved that the preamble and resolutions relinquishing control of the county roads on Orchard street, Union street and West Grand street, in the city of Elizabeth, be taken up for further consideration, which was so ordered.

The following resolutions were read by the clerk, as follows:

Whereas, The Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union have heretofore, to wit, on the 14th day of July, 1898, in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enable boards of chosen freeholders to acquire, improve and maintain public roads," approved March 19, 1889, and the supplements and amendments thereto, acquired, improved and maintained certain public roads located in the city of Elizabeth, and hereinafter described, and it being the sense of this board that control of said should be relinquished; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union do hereby relinquish control of the aforesaid roads which are described as follows:

(1) Orchard street in the city of Elizabeth from Westfield avenue to Morris avenue.

(2) Union street in the city of Elizabeth from Westfield avenue to West Grand street.

(3) West Grand street in the city of Elizabeth from Union street to Broad street, and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution duly certified by the clerk of this Board, be filed in the office of the county clerk, and that the map now on filed be changed accordingly.

Freeholder Kline moved the adoption of the foregoing preamble and resolutions, and on roll call they were unanimously adopted.

Freeholder Meisel stated that owing to extra work necessary to open county roads during recent heavy snow storms, he had found it necessary to pay some persons $2.50 per day, in order to secure their services as they refused to work for less.

Freeholder King, chairman of the County Road Committee, replied that the law fixed a limit of $2 per day for doing such work as stated by Freeholder Meisel.

GIRL IS SEEKING HER FATHER'S MURDERER

Pretty California Maid Follows Trail in Nevada Wilds Looking for Clews to Slayer.

Oakland, Cal.—For more than three months pretty Annie Ahern, of this city, has been in the mountainous wilds of Nevada, near Derby, attempting to gather evidence which will lead to the detection and conviction of the murderers of her father, Michael Ahern, whose body, bearing unmistakable evidence of foul play, was found in the Truckee river, near Derby, last July. The plucky girl returned with the remains of her murdered parent, and after seeing them decently buried returned to take up the trail which she hopes will lead to the discovery of the criminals. In her role of detective she has met with many vicissitudes in the "manslaughter hell hole" of Nevada, as the girl declares Derby is termed. Not alone have the thugs in the camp put every obstacle in her way, but the very grave in which her father had been buried had not been marked, and the daughter was forced to undergo the ordeal of having the coffin opened in order to identify the body.

Michael Ahern, employed as a gang foreman in the construction of the government canal between Derby and Wadsworth, was last seen alive July 19, 1904, at Derby. At that time he cashed $800 worth of pay checks at Buckman's store, but retained uncashed additional checks to the value of $95. Two days later his body was found in the Truckee river at Peterson's ranch, a deep gash on his body showing where he had been felled before his body was thrown into the water. The uncashed checks were still upon his person, but the currency was gone. The remains were taken to Wadsworth and buried there.

The family of the murdered man was at a loss to know what to do. No effective steps being taken by the Nevada authorities to run the criminals down, Miss Annie Ahern, one of the three daughters, resolved to take matters into her own hands. She is a determined young woman of four and twenty and does not know what fear is. She went to Derby. There, procuring a pony and a rifle, she has spent three months in the canal camps, and she believes that sheh as unmistakable clews to the identity of the murderers.

MANICURE BY GIRL SAINTS

Unique Establishment Maintained in London by Young Society Women.

London.—A London morning paper prints a remarkable story of a manicure establishment maintained by society women with a leaning toward the high church doctrine, which has been opened in a fashionable street off Piccadilly. Outwardly the shop does not differ from the ordinary establishments of its kind, but inside it is to be found a private chapel where the fair manicurists are encouraged to perform their daily devotions.

The clientele includes many women of title, but only a privileged few are ever allowed to penetrate the recesses of the chapel. Fresh cut flowers and lighted candles bedeck the altar, and the light falls on the kneeling group of manicurists through windows of stained glass.

In solemn procession the manicurists, clad in perfectly fitting black gowns and white embroidered collars, pass into the chapel each morning before manicuring the fair fingers of a single patron.

The manicurists' assistants are all girls of good birth. All of them have made a solemn vow never, under any circumstances, to manicure a man. The girls who belong to this saintly select band of beauty doctors may not even beautify the hands of their brothers. A forfeiture of £500 is mentioned as one of the penalties for disobedience to this eleventh commandment of the manicurists.

CHICAGO THUGS MAKE BOLD ASSAULT ON LADY BARBER.

REMOVE STOCKINGS IN HUNT

Find Secret Hiding Place of Her Wealth—Unusual Methods of Burglars in Robbing a Flat.

Chicago.—When within a few feet of her home last night Miss Nellie Spraber, No. 221 Dearborn avenue, was attacked by three highwaymen, who, after they had assaulted her robbed her of $500.

Miss Spraber was on her way home from the barber shop at No. 95 Washington street, of which she is the proprietress, and had drawn some money from the bank. Her movements were evidently known to the thugs who assaulted her. They hid in a hallway next to her home and when she passed one of the three sprang out and dealt her a blow on the head. She was felled to the ground and the three threatened her with death if she cried out.

A pocketbook containing a small amount of change was torn from her wrist and three rings which fitted so tightly that the flesh was torn off her hand when they were torn from her, were taken.

The spokesman for the men then demanded to know where she had her money. She feigned unconsciousness and a search was made in her clothing. Her stockings were pulled from her legs and $175 was found in them.

After the robbery the men carried her to her doorway and told her to go to her apartment and remain perfectly quiet. After threatening death if she called for assistance they left her in her hallway. She was discovered by a neighbor, who summoned a physician. None of her injuries is fatal.

Using methods entirely new to the police, burglars planned to rob the home of Samuel Schweitzer, No. 4440 Vincennes avenue, recently, and the ruse failed only because of the fact that owing to illness Dr. Emil G. Hirsch was unable to deliver a lecture at Temple Israel, Forty-fifth street and Vincennes avenue, as had previously been announced. Mr. and Mrs. Schweitzer decided to attend the lecture and they left home shortly after eight o'clock, leaving Mrs. Schweitzer's mother and a maid at home. They had been gone but a short time when the maid was called to the telephone. She was told that Mrs. Schweitzer had been seriously injured by an automobile and that, accompanied by her husband, she was on her way to the Provident hospital. The maid informed Mrs. Schweitzer's mother and immediately they started for the hospital. They had been gone but a short time when the coachman was called to the telephone. The speaker ordered that he drive to Provident hospital immediately. In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Schweitzer went home from the church, and when they entered saw two men run across the yard from the house and disappear in the alley.

Freed by Prison Wedding.

New York City.—Love of a girl of wealthy parents for the son of a janitor in an apartment house at No. 340 West One Hundred and Twentieth street, in which she lived, had its denouement in the Tombs prison, when Emma Couch, 19, pretty and well dressed, became the wife of William Frahm, 20 years old, who gave his address as No. 383 Hudson street, where his mother made a home for the young couple. The two met last summer when Frahm was assisting his father. On last Wednesday Frahm was committed to the Tombs from the court of special sessions for "failure to comply with an order of filiation." The ceremony was performed by one of the prison chaplains, and the young couple left the Tombs apparently happy.

Lobster's Pinch Causes Death.

New York.—Blood poisoning caused by the pinch of a lobster's claws has caused the death of Otto Zimmerman, a chef in a big Harlem restaurant. Zimmerman's special work was in preparing lobsters, his skill for which was somewhat noted. He handled hundreds of crustaceans every day and frequently was bitten. Finally one, particularly strong, caught him by a thumb and brought the blood. Swelling set in the next day and in a few hours the chef died in great agony.

DRESS HINTS.

The Warm Weather Frock Will Be a Thing of Fluffiness and Beauty.

The summer frock will be a thing of fluffiness and beauty with its ripples and swirls of lace and ribbons. Flounces are to be more used than ever. Three tiered skirts with fitted flounces are to be a favorite summer model for gowns that do not visit the laundry.

A very pretty and new belt is of dull soft gray suede leather stamped with peacock feathers in their natural colors.

In the shops are found ready made flounces of embroidery that come by the yard for skirt ruffles and berthas.

Bodices are tight and pointed and are much shirred in up and down lines.

DEMISEASON HAT.

Surpliced effects, too, are to be a feature of the summer frocks. A dainty little dimity dress is made with full skirt shirred about the waist ten inches deep, with a wide hem at the feet. The bodice is shirred at the shoulders, and about the surpliced fronts are bands of swiss embroidery outlining a chemisette of tucked lawn. The sleeves are puffed to the elbow and finished with a shirred ruffle. A ribbon girdle completes the attractive little frock.

Buttons are used in every conceivable place on a frock—up and down the skirt, down the back of the coat and in any becoming part of the jacket.

A demiseason hat is shown in the cut. It is something of a tricorne shape, covered with heavy silk and bound with a wide piece of velvet. About the crown are massed rather large roses without foliage. Falling becomingly over the hair at the side are two short ostrich feathers.

MILLINERY MATTERS.

Attractive Spring Hats—Wings and Birds Prominent Features.

The spring hats promise to be rather small affairs and are to be worn tilted well forward over the face. For dressy occasions the picture hat will have its accustomed place. The modified Gainsborough is the shape most approved of fashion for this purpose.

Wings are to be a feature of the new millinery arranged in pairs—for instance, a pair of wings with a rosette of ribbon or velvet or an owl's head holding them in position.

GUIPURE LACE WAIST.

Feathers are to adorn the large hats, and some of the smartest artists are mingling flowers with the feathered beauties.

Marabou is used bunched up in aigret fashion. Indeed, any kind of an upstanding arrangement of trimming is the mode, the flat effects having gone "out."

A tulle toque made up with two silver wings immediately in front of the little creation and a good sized rosette of silver gauze ribbon in the center is a smart piece of evening headgear.

Parisian fancy favors the marquise hat, the brim turned up in a variety of ways with the trimming massed at the back.

Lace is more worn than ever, especially the finer makes, such as valenciennes and brussels.

Nothing in the way of a lace waist could be daintier than the model illustrated. It is of all over guipure lace simply gathered from an oddly shaped yoke of fagoted ribbon. Little ruffles of ribbon edge the collar all around. The sleeves are puffed and ruffled at the elbow.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

THE RELENTLESS WHEELS.

But Engineer Callahan had no notion of failing. When he had drawn the hammer on his superior officer, advising discretion and a seat on Jimmy Shovel's box, the 1,010 was racking out over the switches in the Western division yards. Three minutes later the electric beam of Tischer's following headlight sought and found the first section on the long tangent leading up to the high plains, and the race was in full swing.

At Morning Dew, the first night telegraph station out of the capital, the two sections were no more than a scant quarter of a mile apart; and the operator tried to flag the second section down, as reported. This did not happen again until several stations had been passed, and Callahan set his jaw and gave the 1,010 more throttle. But at Lossing, a town of some size, the board was down and a man ran out at the crossing, swinging a red light.

Callahan looked well to the switches, with the steam shut off and his hand dropping instinctively to the air; and the superintendent shrank into his corner and gripped the window ledge when the special roared past the warning signals and on through the town beyond. He had maintained a dazed silence since the episode of the flourished hammer, but now he was moved to yell across the cab.

"I suppose you know what you're in for, if you live to get out of this! It's 20 years, in this state, to pass a danger signal!" This was not all the superintendent said: there were forewords and interjections, emphatic but unprintable.

Callahan's reply was another flourish of the hammer, and a sudden outpulling of the throttle-bar; and the superintendent subsided again.

But enforced silence and the grindstone of conscious helplessness will sharpen the dullest wit. The swerving lurch of the 1,010 around the next curve set Halkett clutching for hand-holds, and the injector lever fell within his grasp. What he did not know about the working parts of modern locomotive was very considerable; but he did know that an injector, half opened, will waste water as fast as an inch pipe will discharge it. And without water the Irishman would have to stop.

Callahan heard the chuckling of the wasting boiler feed before he had gone a mile beyond the curve. It was a discovery to excuse bad language, but his protest was lamb-like.

"No more av that, if ye plaze, Misther Halkett, or me an' Jimmy Shovel'll have to—Ah! would yez, now?"

Before his promotion to the superintendency Halkett had been a ward boss in the metropolis of the state. Thinking he saw his chance, he took it, and the blow knocked Callahan silly for the moment. Afterward there was a small free-for-all buffeting match in the narrow cab in which the fireman took a hand, and during which the racing 1,010 was suffered to find her way alone. When it was over, Callahan spat out a broken tooth and gave his orders concisely.

"Up wid him over the coal, an' we'll put him back in the car where he belongs. Now, thin!"

Halkett had to go, and he went, not altogether unwillingly. And when it came to jumping across from the rear end of the tender to the forward vestibule of the Naught-seven, or being chucked across, he jumped.

Now it chanced that the governor and his first lieutenant in the great railway steal had weighty matters to discuss, and they had not missed the superintendent or the lawyer, supposing them to be still out on the rear platform enjoying the scenery. Wherefore Halkett's sudden appearance, mauled, begrimed and breathless from his late tussle with the two enginemen, was the first intimation of wrong-going that had penetrated to the inner sanctum of the private car.

"What's that you say, Mr. Halkett?—on the western division? Whereabouts?" demanded the governor.

"Between Lossing and Skipjack siding—if we haven't passed the siding in the last two or three minutes. I've been too busy to notice," was the reply.

"And you say you were on the engine? Why the devil didn't you call your man down?"

"I knocked him down," gritted the superintendent, savagely, "and I'd have beat his face in for him if there hadn't been two of them. It's a plot of some kind, and Callahan knows what he is about. He had me held up with a hammer till just a few minutes ago, and he's running past stop-signals and over red lights like a madman!"

Bucks and Guilford exchanged convictions by the road of the eye, and the governor said:

"This is pretty serious, Major. Have you anything to suggest?" And without waiting for a reply he turned upon Halkett: "Where is Mr. Hawk?"

"I don't know. I supposed he was in here with you. Or maybe he's out on the rear platform."

The three of them went to the rear, passing the private secretary comfortably asleep in his wicker chair. When they stepped out upon the recessed observation platform they found it empty.

"He must have suspected something and dropped off in the yard or at the shops," said Halkett. And at the saying of it he shrank back involuntarily and added: "Ah! Look at that, will you?"

The car had just thundered past another station, and Callahan had underrun one more stop-signal at full speed. At the same instant Tischer's headlight swung into view, half blinding them with its glare.

"What is that following us?" asked Bucks.

"It's the fast mail," said Halkett.

Guilford turned livid and caught at the hand-rail.

"S-s-say—are you sure of that?" he gasped.

"Of course: it was an hour and 35 minutes late and we are on its time."

"Then we can't stop unless somebody throws us on a siding!" quavered the receiver, who had a small spirit in a large body. "I told M'Tosh to give the mail orders to make up her lost time or I'd fire the engineer—told him to cut out all the stops this side of Agua Caliente!"

"That's what you get for your infernal meddling!" snapped Halkett. In catastrophic moments many barriers go down; deference to superior officers among the earliest.

But the master spirit of the junto was still cool and collected.

"This is no time to quarrel," he said. "The thing to be done is to stop this train without getting ourselves ripped open by that fellow behind the headlight yonder. The stop-signals prove that Hawk and the others are doing their best, but we must do ours. What do you say, Halkett?"

"There is only one thing," replied the superintendent; "we've got to make the Irishman run ahead fast enough and far enough to give us room to stop or take a siding."

The governor planned it in a few curt sentences. Was there a weapon to be had? Danforth, the private secretary, roused from his nap in the wicker chair, was able to produce a serviceable revolver. Two minutes later, the sleep still tingling in his nerves to augment another tingling less pleasurable, the secretary had spanned the terrible gap separating the car from the engine and was making his way over the coal, fluttering his handkerchief in token of his peaceful intentions.

He was charged with a message to Callahan, mandatory in its first form, and bribe-promising in its second; and he was covered from the forward vestibule of the private car by a revolver in the hands of a resolute and determined state executive.

"One of them's comin' ahead over the coal," warned James Shovel; and Callahan found his hammer.

"Run ahead an' take a siding, is ut?" he shouted, glaring down on the messenger. "I have me ardhers fr'm bether men than thim that sint you. Go back an' tell thim so."

"You'll be paid if you do, and you'll be shot if you don't," yelled the secretary, persuasively.

"Tell the boss he can't shoot two av us to wanst; an' the wan that's left

"WHAT IS THAT FOLLOWING US?" ASKED BUCKS.

'll slap on the air," was Callahan's answer; and he slacked off a little to bring the following train within easy striking distance.

Danforth went painfully and carefully back with this defiance, and while he was bridging the nerve-trying gap, another station with the stop-board down and red lights frantically swinging was passed with a roar and a whistle shriek.

"Fwhat are they doing now?" called Callahan to his fireman.

"They've gone inside again," was the reply.

"Go back an' thry the tank," was the command; and Jimmy Shovel climbed over the coal and let himself down feet foremost into the manhole. When he slid back to the footplate his legs were wet to the mid shin.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

BOY WONDER VIOLINIST.

Eleven-Year-Old Lad Whom Daniel Frohman Pays $1,500 Each Time He Plays.

New York.—Franz von Vecsey, the little Hungarian violinist whose performances have been the talk of musical circles of Europe, and who is to give a series of 30 concerts in this country under the management of Daniel Frohman, arrived a few days ago on the Lucania of the Cunard line, accompanied by his father and mother and by Herr Zilcher, a Berlin pianist, who is his accompanist.

Wrapped in a gray fur lined ulster and wearing a small fur cap young Von Vecsey looked as bright and wide-awake as any ordinary 11-year old boy who doesn't know one note from another and thinks more of skating at this time of year than anything else, says the Herald. In fact, his chief concern seemed to be for a small camera which he carried with him. He is of good height and frame. He has large black eyes and a pronounced frontal development. The forehead is high and broad. In complexion the boy is dark. He is said to be of Magyar descent.

Franz was very hungry when the liner arrived, and when soon after he landed he started with his parents to leave the dock to get something to eat, a customs official "spotted" the camera and insisted on taking charge of it until an inspector had seen it.

"No, no!" cried the boy. "You must not take this. See, it is an American camera," and he showed the manufacturer's stamp to the customs man, who thereupon let him pass.

The youngster speaks English very well.

"I want to see Chicago and San Francisco," he said to Daniel Frohman, his American manager. "When are we going to those places? I have heard so much about them. I saw the Statue of Liberty and I know I got a good picture of it. No, I was not ill at all crossing. Mamma was, though, all the time."

The boy was delighted to learn that Wassily Safonoff, who conducted when he played in Moscow, was here. Franz has played at Buckingham palace before King Edward, as well as before the kaiser and the czar and czarina of Russia.

When he played a month ago at Berlin Joachim led the orchestra for him. His first recital was given in Carnegie hall the other evening. The 30 concerts for which Mr. Frohman has engaged the boy embrace Philadelphia, Baltimore, Brooklyn and Washington.

minister of finance, receiving much praise for his work in converting government rentes from a 3½ to the present 3 per cent. basis. The celebrated Mme. Rouvier, writer, sculptress and diplomat, who died six years ago, was his wife. She married M. Rouvier shortly after the death of the famous Abbe Constant, whose marriage to her had caused his expulsion from the church.

Foreign Labels for Sale.

Many have looked with awe upon suit cases and steamer trunks covered with labels of every size and color, and thought enviously of the advantages the traveled owners of such baggage had over the poor stay-at-homes. The baggage proclaimed that its owners had been from Sydney to San Francisco, from Copenhagen to Colombo, to say nothing of visiting half the capitals and health resorts of the continent. But the iconoclast has found shops where such baggage is sold, all shattered and battered and labeled with a score of foreign towns, although it may never have traveled two miles from the Grand Central station

RUSSIA'S FREEDOM.

Czar Takes a Step Toward Popular Government.

PEOPLE'S RIGHTS TO BE RECOGNIZED

"I Am Willing," Said Emperor Nicholas, "to Shed My Blood For My People"—Emperor Will Hear Elected Representatives.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 4.—In the Alexandra palace at Tsarskoe-Selo, surrounded by the ministers and a few members of the court and with the empress at his side, Emperor Nicholas has affixed his signature to a rescript containing his majesty's decree to give elected representatives of the people an opportunity to express their views in the preparation of the laws of the empire.

This is the autocracy's final response to the agitation in favor of participation by the people in government which has brought Russia in the last few months almost to the brink of revolution. Its import must not be misunderstood. For the present at least it involves no change in the regime of autocracy, and it means neither a constitution nor a national assembly. At the same time it recognizes the principle of the people's right to be heard regarding laws under which they must live. Whatever the result may be the document is sure to mark an epoch in Russian history as important if not more important than the signing of the emancipation manifesto, the twenty-fourth anniversary of which it was intended to signalize.

The signing of the document came at the end of a dramatic scene, the climax of which was an impassioned speech by Emperor Nicholas to his ministers, in which he declared that he sought only the welfare of his subjects.

"I am willing," the emperor said, "to shed my blood for the good of my people."

From the lips of a high personage who was present when the rescript was signed the following authoritative statement is taken:

"The action of the emperor is not a step toward, but the actual grant to the people of the means whereby their duly elected representatives can place before his majesty their views upon every important measure affecting them and recommended by the council of the empire. Moreover, if you will read the rescript carefully you will see that it contains a distinct promise of something more in the future. Its small beginning will not involve the surrender of the principle of autocracy now. What it may involve in the future, only the future can determine. We do not expect that it will meet the wishes of radicals and extremists of any class. Nothing would satisfy them but the complete overthrow of the existing regime. We do hope, however, that after mature deliberation it will meet with the approval of moderate men who are sincere well wishers of the country.

"The emperor has been much maligned and misunderstood abroad. Nobody appreciates the trials and suffering he has endured the last few months. He has been represented as indifferent to the condition of his people. Nothing could be further from the truth. Not only the welfare of the people, but the greatness of Russia, is his sole care. For him the two are indissolubly linked. For this reason he refuses to surrender the autocratic power in favor of a constitutional regime. Why? Because he is convinced, as he virtually says in so many words in the rescript, that the people are not prepared for popular government. The heterogeneous elements of the population—Poles, Finns, Tartars, Armenians, Mongols and other races—are only held together by the autocracy, whose end would mean the fall of Russia as a great state. But the emperor recognizes the strength of the outcry against the bureaucracy, as manifested by addresses and memorials voted by all classes of society and has yielded to their demand. The people's representatives can make known directly to him their views concerning every law which the council of the empire proposes."

A general strike has been proclaimed at sectional meetings of workmen here.

General Malama, acting commander in chief of the Caucasus, has issued an order announcing to the people that under the powers granted him by the emperor he has invited Prince Amilach Vori, the emperor's aid-de-camp, to fulfill the functions of governor general of the town and government of Baku.

Serious disorders broke out at the Polnariski cotton mill while the men were being paid off. Troops were summoned to restore order, and three workmen were killed and forty-two injured. A general strike is on.

Bad Effect at Warsaw.

WARSAW, Russian Poland, March 3.—The emperor's manifesto was published here. It is feared its reactionary tone will have a bad effect. Every one is nervously anticipating the developments of the next few days. It is rumored that martial law will be proclaimed here March 6. Three regiments of infantry and some squadrons of Cossacks arrived here. The authorities apparently are concentrating troops at critical centers in readiness for emergencies. Seven infantry regiments and a strong force of Cossacks are stationed at Lodz.

Passed River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The senate has agreed to the conference of the river and harbor bill, which passed, thus disposing of all appropriation bills.

SPORTING NEWS

DIAMOND DUST.

"Gene" Bassford, of last year's Plainfield team, is now coaching the team at the New York University.

It will seem like old times to see "Tuck" Turner in a Plainfield uniform again. He was always popular here with the cranks.

The patrons of the bleachers will be given better accommodations this year, it being planned to provide comfortable seats for those who like to be near the field.

It is about definitely decided that Charles Dixon will be the official scorer for the Plainfield Baseball Association, this season. It is also quite likely that a little better arrangements will be made for the scorers.

The Paterson independent team has written Manager Woolston for a date, but as it cannot give its lineup, it is doubtful whether it will be given a game. Only aggregations of recognized standing will be scheduled.

The Plainfield Baseball Association will probably decide not to enclose Crescent Oval this season with a fence, although the lumber is on the grounds. If an opportunity offers another year other grounds more convenient to the trolley may be secured and a fence erected there.

Some of the fans have been talking about an occasional Wednesday or Thursday game on Crescent Oval. They say that the contests could be started as late as 4:30 or 4:45, giving the commuter element a chance to attend, as well as clerks in the local stores. It may be decided to try the scheme.

"Jimmie" Kane is now spokesman for the St. Mary Baseball Association. It was announced yesterday that grounds have been secured on East Second street and a schedule will be announced soon. The full team has not yet been signed, although the management hopes to complete the line-up within a few days. It is undecided whether "Warry" McLaughlin will pitch for the nine, as he is considering other offers

It is the desire of Manager Woolston to arrange a schedule of six games with Westfield this year, three in the early part of the season and three in the latter part. By this arrangement the fans would not get tired of the contests as they did last year. However, there is some doubt about the series if "Red" Waller plays with Westfield. He is under the ban, having jumped his contract with the Bridgeport, Conn., club, and teams respecting the National agreement are not permitted to engage in contests with aggregations having such players.

Initial steps toward the organization of a baseball team were taken at the Whittier School yesterday morning, among the athletes who won for the school the Juvenile basketball championship title. Nearly all of the basketball players expressed their intention of playing on the baseball team, and the names of several other candidates were received. The balloting for officers resulted in the selection of Fred Martin, as captain, and William Briggs, manager. It is probable that Harding will do the twirling for the team, while Edward Alpaugh will be behind the bat. Among other candidates will be Woodhull, Briggs, Loughlin, Morris, Mosher and Robins. Owing to the resignation of Fountain, as secretary of the Board of Directors, Stanley Robins was elected to that position and William Briggs will fill the capacity of assistant secretary.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Saturday Night Club, of Westfield, defeated the Triangle bowling team on the Fanwood alleys last night in three games out of five. The bowling was fair all the way through, though no remarkable scores were made. This was the result of the match:

The Park Club bowlers were superior to the Jersey City times on the local alleys last night, defeating them two games out of three in the Central Journal League match. The scores were good on both sides, six of them reaching the 200 mark. The second game of the Jersey City rollers was won by just 100 pins, the total team score being 962. The best Park team score was 924. Daniel was the high man for the evening, and had the best average. His first and third games were 223 and 208. Barlow was somewhat below his usual average. Captain Ball, of the Parks, reached 208 and Griswold, of Jersey City, was high man for his team with a 202. The local team has one more match to roll, and if it wins this one, its standing in the league will be raised considerably. The scores follow:

Y. M. C. A. BOYS CONTEND IN INDOOR ATHLETIC MEET

PLAINFIELD AND RAHWAY TIE FOR POINTS THIS MORNING.

Plainfield and Rahway Y. M. C. A. boys' departments tied this morning in an indoor athletic meet at the local gymnasium. Each association won 20 points and New Brunswick, the third department represented in the meet, captured 5 points. At the conclusion of the events a basketball game was played between Plainfield and Rahway, won by the former, the score being 6 to 2

Woodhull, of the Plainfield boys' department, made a new boys' record at the meet for the running broad jump. He took fifteen feet, ten inches, the greatest distance ever made in a boys' competition. The record is not official, however, as it was not in a regularly conducted meet. This was the schedule of events:

Running high jump, won by Rahway; second, Rahway; third, Manning, of Plainfield.

Standing broad jump, won by Rahway; second, New Brunswick; third, Rahway.

Running broad jump, won by Woodhull, of Plainfield; second, Caldwell, of Plainfield; third, Rahway.

Potato race, won by Manning, of Plainefild; second, Woodhull, of Plainfield; third, New Brunswick.

Three legged race, won by Rahway; second, Caldwell and Alpaugh, of Plainfield; third, New Brunswick.

The line up of the local team in the basketball game was Woodhull and Deane, forwards; Caldwell, center; Alpaugh and Deeringer, guards.

A committee of the Women's Auxiliary served the boys with dinner after the meet. Those who assisted were Mrs. W. H. Freeman, chairman; Mrs. J. W. Gavett, Mrs. F. T. Ostrom, Mrs. Charles Stover and Mrs. Kenneth Robbie.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Miss Marion Bowen, of Watchung avenue, will give a tea at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Rowland Cox, of West Seventh street, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wildes, of Baltimore.

Miss Munger and Harry Munger, of Washington avenue, gave a dinner party Thursday night, covers being laid for twelve. The decorations comprised a basket of pussy willows, sunrise roses and lilies-of-the valley. Following the dinner, Miss Munger gave a luncheon yesterday, there being twelve guests. Orchids were used chiefly in the decorations.

A Lively Runaway.

Becoming frightened at the cars overhead, a horse driven by Mrs. David Steele, of Fanwood, ran away yesterday afternoon, on Park avenue, from the railroad bridge to Fourth street, where it collided with one of J. Sachar's wagons. Mrs. Steele held he reins while the animal galloped wildly down Park avenue and succeeded in avoiding collision until it reached the corner, where a west bound trolley car caused the horse to plunge to the right. The wheels jammed, but Mrs. Steele and her son were not thrown out. The horse broke away from the carriage but was quickly caught.

Wedded at Parsonage.

In the presence of a few friends and relatives, William Magne and Miss Florence Pullan, both of this city, were quietly married last night by Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, at his home on West Fifth street. Frank Magne, a brother of the groom, was the best man, and Miss Bessie Magne, his sister, was bridesmaid. A reception followed the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Magne will reside in this city.

Camera Club Smoker.

The Plainfield Camera Club has arranged for a smoker and lantern evening at the club rooms on Tuesday night, March 14. Robert Rushmore will give an illustrated lecture on camping and hunting and there will be vocal and instrumental music.

Arrived Too Late.

Miss Belle J. Cary, of Madison avenue, who was summoned to Providence, R. I., because of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Forest Jones, reached there yesterday to find her dead. The body will be taken to Osmont, Va., for burial

In Honor of Cousin.

Miss Edith Wolcott, of East Second street, entertained twenty friends at her home last evening in honor of her cousin, Miss May Wolcott, of Jersey City. Cards, dancing and a supper at midnight were features of the gathering.

Is it Right?

Is it right that a property owner should lose $4.20 to let a dealer make 50 cents? A dealer makes 50 cents more on fourteen gallons of ready-for-use paint, at $1.50 per gallon, than our agent does on eight gallons of L. & M. Paint and six gallons of linseed oil, which makes fourteen gallons of the best paint in the world, at $1.20 per gallon; the property owner loses just $4.20. Is it right?

It only requires 4 gallons of L. & M. and 3 gallons linseed oil to paint a moderate sized house.

LICENSEE IS BLOCKED

Remonstrants Obtain Writ Holding Up Schanz Transfer.

IN SUPREME COURT

Successful Application Before Justice Fort—Made by Neighboring Property Owners.

Being defeated in their efforts to prevent the granting of a liquor license to Charles Schanz by the Common Council, a writ of certiorari was obtained from Judge Fort on Saturday, putting a stop to all proceedings until the matter can be reviewed by the Supreme Court. This action prevents Mr. Schanz from getting his license or opening the place at 136 Park avenue. The writ has been served on City Clerk James T. MacMurray and there will be a report on the matter at the regular meeting of the Common Council tonight.

It will be remembered that Mr. Schanz was granted a liquor license for 136 Park avenue, with the understanding that an iron gate be placed at the entrance to the driveway, adjoining his place, and that a lock and key be attached thereto. It was afterward learned that if any one person having the right to use the driveway should object to its being closed, the Common Council would be helpless to act and could not compel the closing of the driveway. There has been objection to the closing and Mrs. Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., owner of the building occupied by her husband and William Feiring, the barber, instituted the action which resulted in obtaining the writ of certiorari.

Some of those who are opposed to the establishment of a saloon at 136 Park avenue, when seen today, expressed the opinion that the latest move would probably result in compelling Mr. Schanz in applying for a license for some other place.

ENCOURAGING REPORT OF WOMAN'S EXCHANGE

IT WILL BE PRESENTED AT ANNUAL MEETING TOMORROW.

At the annual meeting of the Plainfield Exchange for Woman's Work to be held tomorrow, the recording secretary will present the following report for the year ending March 1, 1904:

"Our sales have satisfactorily increased, showing that the good this organization is doing is appreciated both in helping its rousing work and also in furnishing the very best articles possible to its patrons. Our receipts for the year beginning March 1, 1903, and ending March 1, 1904, were $12,136 70; expenditures, $12,057 89. Included in these receipts were the following items: Profits of a play, $274, given by some very talented amateur friends; from Mrs. Craig Marsh, $50, for a book published in the interests of the Exchange.

"A very generous donation was also received from Miss Merris of $25. All of our kind friends mentioned above we feel greatly indebted, and our sincere thanks are due them for their kind assistance. Our receipts for last year show an increase of $1,170.76 over those of the previous year, and we have paid consignors during the year, $9,296 94.

"Our superintendent, Miss Hill, reports the present number of consignors to be 170, an increase of 30 for the year. It is earnestly requested that all bills due the Exchange be paid promptly, so the Exchange can settle its accounts with the consignors. A thread and needle department has also been started which has proved most successful.

"The Board of Managers has shown the same untiring zeal and energy in working to advance the best interests of the organization that they have always shown in the past, it is owing to their efforts and those of the other officers of the Exchange, that we have been so successful.

"This Exchange is carrying on a noble work and we feel justified in asking our friends to help us in every possible way. Our small commission alone would not be sufficient and it is necessary that we have also the support of our annual subscriptions and entertainments, and we earnestly request the assistance of all our friends in the future as well as in the past toward our success."

SOMERVILLE WITHOUT REGULAR WATER SUPPLY

PUMPING STATION SHUT DOWN BY BOARD OF HEALTH'S ORDERS.

Fearing an epidemic of typhoid fever, the Board of Health of Somerville on Saturday caused the water supply of that place to be shut off. Harold B. Kempton, a well-to-do man living between Somerville and Raritan, was taken ill with typhoid fever, and died on Thursday. This led to an investigation which disclosed the fact that he contracted the disease from drinking water which is obtained from the Raritan river. A sewer was found running from Kempton's place into the river, polluting the stream, and orders were at once given to shut down the pumping station.

Just how long this sewer has been in operation is not known, but that more persons were not taken ill, is a mystery to all, as a majority of the families in Somerville are supplied with this water. The shutting off of the supply has led to further complications for some families are even without the ordinary pump in their homes.

As a partial relief from the predicament, a large order has been placed with the Watchung Spring Water Company, of this city, and the company will for the present supply many residents daily with this water. Steps are being taken to make the regular water supply fit and safe to use again so that the suspension will not prove too much of a hardship on the town people.

AUDUBONS AROUSED OVER OPEN DOVE SEASON BILL

SOCIETY WILL VIGOROUSLY PROTEST AGAINST ITS PASSAGE.

The members of the New Jersey Audubon Society, of which Miss Julia S. Scribner, of this city, is secretary, are much aroused over a bill before the Assembly which allows an open season for doves, from August 20 to October 1, of each year. In a notice issued by Miss Scribner, it is stated that probably few know of the great service done to the farmers by this bird, which feeds almost entirely on the seeds of weeds. These are eaten at all times of the year and in enormous numbers.

Mr. Dutcher, a well known ornithologist, who is greatly interested in the preservation of birds, says: "It is a question for the farmers to settle whether they will permit any one to kill on their land birds that annually destroy tons of the seeds of pigeon grass, ragweed, smartweed, bindweed and many other noxious plants, and are thus worth so much as helpers on farms."

The New Jersey Audubon Society has taken up this matter and will enter a strong protest against its adoption by the Legislature. Any one wishing to join in the protest against the bill (Assembly 54) may send a letter to that effect to the members of the Legislature from his county. The society hopes to make such a vigorous protest that the matter will be settled definitely and that future Legislators may not be disposed to favorably consider such a measure. It is expected that a strong petition will be sent to Trenton from this city.

FATHER EGAN GIVES HIS FAREWELL SERMON

WILL ASSUME RECTORSHIP OF BAYONNE CHURCH FRIDAY.

At the various masses in St. Mary's church yesterday, Rev. Father Andrew M. Egan bade formal farewell to the parishioners to whom he has been ministering for the past three years. He expressed deep regret that it was the will of the Bishop that he assume the rectorship of St. Mary's church at Bayonne as his relations in Plainfield had been of the happiest. He touched upon the leave taking in his regular sermon which was the last one he will preach as rector of St. Mary's.

Father Egan will leave Plainfield Friday and will at once enter upon his new duties in Bayonne. Who his successor will be has not yet been decided upon although the Bishop will undoubtedly make his selection within a few days.

During the day, Miss Webster has been receiving congratulations of those of her friends who know of her birthday.

She sustained a severe nervous shock and several bruises. She was assisted home, where she has been under the care of a physician ever since.

WESTFIELD DATES FIXED

Local Management Decides on Series of Six Games.

DENMAN WANTED TEN

Other Baseball Matters Discussed at Conference in This City Saturday Night.

Following a lively discussion, Manager Charles S. Woolston and Lines Groo, of the Plainfield Baseball Association, and Charles Denman, president of the Westfield Baseball Association, fixed the dates for the Plainfield-Westfield series, at a conference held in this city, Saturday night. The proposed plan of the local management not to exceed a series of six games was adhered to, against the opposition of Mr. Denman, who wanted ten games. Failing in this, he asked for eight games, then seven, and finally six was the number decided upon and they are so arranged that they will not become tiresome to the fans.

The first contest will be played in this city on Saturday, May 20, and the second at Westfield on Saturday, June 10. On Saturday, June 24, the third contest will be played on Crescent Oval, and the fourth at Westfield, on Saturday, July 15 The teams will meet for the fifth time in Plainfield on Saturday, August 5, and the final game will be at Westfield on Saturday, August 19

It will be noticed that among the dates there are no holidays. The local management decided to reserve holidays for home games and it is likely that but one contest, in the afternoon, will be scheduled with the strongest attractions possible. It is thought that the fans will like one first-class game, instead of two as has heretofore been the rule. The morning game has never been a good drawing card and it is believed that one afternoon contest will attract a big crowd.

The local management has also decided not to issue season tickets this year, and all that is asked is that the public support the games by its attendance. The same prices, twenty-five and thirty-five cents, will be charged, the former for the bleachers and the latter for the grandstand. It is expected to have additional seating capacity, for it is believed that the attendance will be greater than before and it is proposed to accommodate all. The management also want it stated that the merchants or other individuals will not be asked to contribute a sum of money toward the support of the team.

Manager Murray, of the Jersey City Club, Eastern League, has promised to bring his strongest team here for the opening game on Saturday, April 15, and the local management will perfect every detail for a banner event.

IN THE CITY COURT.

One Offender Gets Twenty Days for Brandishing a Knife—Sentence Suspended on Another.

In the city court this morning, Edward Garretson, who ran amuck on Arlington avenue, Saturday night, brandishing a knife, was sent to jail for 20 days. He had imbibed a little too freely and was in a high state of intoxication when the police caught him. Sentence was suspended on William Hook, who was so drunk on Saturday that he proposed marriage to several girls on Watchung avenue and threatened suicide when they ignored his love-making.

Charles Leonard, known as "Shorty," an old offender, was picked up helplessly drunk this morning and is now sobering in a cell. He was only recently released from Elizabeth after serving forty days.

HIS LIFE IN DANGER.

P. J. McAndrews Suffers Another Paralytic Stroke.

P. J. McAndrews, formerly yard master at the Jersey Central's freight station, had another stroke of paralysis at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, on North avenue. His wife was awakened by his struggling for breath and she found that blood from a slight hemorrhage had almost choked him. He was unconscious and appeared to be dying.

Mrs. McAndrews aroused the household and a physician and priest were summoned. For a time it appeared that life could not be saved. The patient rallied last night and is believed today to be out of danger.

Council Meeting Tonight.

The regular March meeting of the Common Council will be held tonight when a number of matters of more or less importance will be taken up.

JUMP FROM COAL TRAIN CAUSED REASON TO FLEE

BECAUSE PLAINFIELD WAS ASLEEP IT WAS TAKEN FOR PHILADELPHIA.

Chris Delmunsch, who gives his home as Philadelphia and still believes himself to be in that city, though he occupies a cell at the local police station, was arrested on West Third street last night, where he aroused the neighborhood with cries of "murder," "help" and "police." When Officers McGinley and Saunders arrived on the scene, Delmunsch had a sad story to tell It appears that while riding on a coal train from Jersey City he had been keeping up his spirits with the aid of a little whiskey, so that when he came upon this city in the quiet of midnight and as all was still, he thought it was Philadelphia and jumped to the ground.

He was thrown on his head and the force of the blow was so great, that in addition to inflicting several severe cuts, it drove him completely out of his mind. He rose to his feet and raving up and down West Third street for some time, omitted the terrifying cries that called the lieucoats. The latter took him to what he persists in calling the Philadelphia police station.

Delmunsch will not listen to any truth concerning his whereabouts, and his parents have been summoned with the hope that they may be able to assure him of the fact that he is in the "wrong stall."

STATE OFFICERS GUESTS OF OLD GLORY COUNCIL

LOCAL LODGE RECEIVES AWARD FOR GREATEST MEMBERSHIP INCREASE.

Old Glory Council, No. 63, D. of L., at its regular meeting Saturday night, entertained the State officers and received the silk banner for the greatest increase in membership for the year 1904. Those of the State officers who were present were State Councilor Margaret Russell, State Secretary Heywood, State Guide Pulian and State Secretary Margaret Witt. The presentation speech was made by the state councilor, who in bestowing the banner upon the local council, complimented its members upon their work, and commended them upon the fact that no council in the state had made such a good showing. The local council has added forty-eight new members during the last year.

The various officers made speeches following the words of the State councilor and representatives from other councils were called upon for addresses. Councils from the following places were represented: New York, Jersey City, Elizabeth, Cranford, Westfield, Dunellen and New Market.

Six new members were initiated Saturday night and after the degree work, took part in the speech making. There were 225 present at the meeting, which was one of the largest ever held in the local lodge rooms. At the conclusion of the formal entertainment, the lodge members and guests were invited to the banquet room, where light refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. George Demarest, chairman; Mrs. Benjamin Moore, Mrs. John Wakefield, Mrs. William Mundy, August Windham and Fred Soper.

The interment was in Hillside Cemetery and the pall-bearers were members of Mr. Blow's Bible class at the Calvary church.

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS PRESENT "THE PRINCESS"

PLAYED TO CROWDED HOUSE AT FRANKLIN HALL SATURDAY NIGHT.

Franklin Hall was filled to the doors Saturday night, on the occasion of the junior class, Plainfield High School, production of Alfred Tennyson's poem, "The Princess," which was well received by the enthusiastic attendants. There were passages in the play which were somewhat beyond the actors, but for the most part the production was well carried out.

The poem was arranged for dramatization by Miss Elizabeth Winters, a member of the class. Much credit is due to Dramatic Director S. B. Howe, Jr., of the High School faculty, who coached the pupils. The best acting was the work of Miss Edith Hansford, who took the part of Lady Psyche. The parts of the Princess and the Prince, taken by Miss Antoinette Anheim and Stuart Freeman, were also well executed.

A feature was the music which accompanied the production. Several choruses added much to the play. The High School Mandolin and Banjo Club furnished music between the acts and accompanied the chorus numbers. The members of the cast and chorus were the following: Stuart Freeman, Malcolm Davis, Arthur Whitney, Jerome Cline, Howard Freeman, Hudson Burr, and the Misses Antionette Anheim, Edith Hansford, Louise Kline, Sadie Coyle, Avis Aldrich, May Hallett, Margaret Demarest, Louise Ricketts, Ruth Thompson, Gertrude Hunter, Mary Conover, Bertha Hill, Elizabeth Winters, Ellen Ulrich, Bessie Dunham, Mabel Pound, Rose Droll and Ethel Boice.

An informal dance followed the play.

LOCAL CHURCHES HOLD COMMUNION SERVICES

Snow Interfered With Chase.

Though it was expected that a good chase could be held by the Watchung Hunt Club members on Saturday afternoon, the riders were again disappointed, as the snow Saturday morning interfered with the run. A few of the most enthusiastic met at the jumps and exercised their horses for a while. It is the hope of the club members to start the regular weekly runs again by next Saturday, and an effort will be made to get an unusually large crowd out for the resumption of the sport.

AGAIN AFTER GLAZER

Alton Residents Want His Fat Factory Removed.

SAY ITS A NUISANCE

Fanwood Board of Health Advises Them to Take the Necessary Legal Steps.

The residents of Alton are again up in arms and waging a war of extermination against Theodore Glazer's fat rendering factory, which has been in operation for the past three years On Friday night at the Fanwood Township Board of Health meeting a long petition was received from the residents there, claiming that the odors from the factory were foul and a menace to the public health. The petition was backed up by the personal appearance of many of the signers.

Ever since Glazer began operations the residents in that neighborhood have tried in many ways to have the local board declare the place a menace to health, but so far their efforts have failed. The board has visited the factory and demanded certain improvements that have always been followed by the proprietor. Two years ago modern machinery was installed and a large smoke stack erected to carry off the offensive odors. This entailed an expense of several thousand dollars, but it was thought that a remedy for the evil had been found, but not so.

Last summer the residents again petitioned the board to condemn the place and the matter was even taken to the State Board of Health. Dr. Hunt, the head of the board, became interested and visited the factory personally. Just what he discovered has not been learned, but it is said the local board was told that he was unable to detect the offensive smells spoken of and personally he could not say the place was a menace to the health of the community. The residents always claimed the Doctor's visit was paid upon a day favorable to the rendering of fat, when the little wind stirring would hardly take the odor outside of the building.

The failure of the local or State board to act at this time met with some criticism from those interested, but for the time being the matter was allowed to drop, but the flame of extermination was only smoldering and several weeks ago was fanned into a flame again with the result that another petition was presented at Friday night's meeting.

The board received the petition as well as the verbal appeal for relief, but being familiar with the several phrases of the case could not declare the factory a nuisance, but decided that if any of the residents would go about it in the regular way and by making an affidavit that the factory was a nuisance and menace to the general health, the township counsel, W. R. Coddington, would take the necessary legal steps to secure an injunction against Glazer. This the residents declare they will do and the outcome of the prospective battle will be watched with interest.

Funeral of Morgan Bird.

The funeral services of Morgan C. Bird were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the late home on Randolph road. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Mr. Bird was a member, conducted the services. The interment was in Hillside Cemetery, and the pall-bearers were George Bird, Lewis M. Bird, Elias Bird, Lemuel E. Hart and N. W. French.

Westfield Gets the "Go By."

The petition of the town council of Westfield to have another express train stop at that place, morning and night, has been denied by the officials of the New Jersey Central on the grounds that the present express trains are now overcrowded and an additional train cannot be put in service just now.

Netherwood Subway.

Within a short time work will be started building a subway at the Netherwood station of the New Jersey Central, similar to the one at the North Avenue station. A fence will be erected between the east and westbound tracks.

AMUSEMENTS.

The newest comedy success at the Liberty Theatre is to be credited to Augustus Thomas, who has already put two brilliant triumphs to his score this season. "The Education of Mr. Pipp," founded upon Charles Dana Gibson's familiar drawings, is the latest Thomas play, and the Broadway critics, professional and amateur, are united in saying that it is the best thing in the comedy line that has come from the pen of the gifted author of "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots," "The Earl of Pawtucket," "Arizona," "On The Quiet" and "The Other Girl." The comedy is in three acts and the story told is that of a wealthy middle-class American family who attempt an ambitious social career, under the goad of a vigorous and vulgar old lady. Kirke La Shelle and Daniel V. Arthur are the managerial sponsors for the new play, which is crowding the Liberty Theatre, and they have given it a stage production of rare beauty, as well as a thoroughly competent cast.

CALCUTTA, March 6.—Lady Curzon, with her husband, the viceroy of India, has arrived at Calcutta, where she was given a unique reception. A regiment of light horse formed a special escort along the beflagged and crowded route to Government house, where a big social gathering cheered

Lord and Lady Curzon are delighted with the warmth of the reception.

AWAITING CHEMICAL TESTS.

Police of San Francisco Ready to Make Arrest in Stanford Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—Acting Chief of Police Spillane here said that the police department had stopped all work on the Stanford case until they hear from High Sheriff Henry of Honolulu in regard to the result obtained by the chemists in their analysis of the contents of the stomach and the conclusions deducted by the physicians from the autopsy performed on the various organs of the body.

"Are you ready to make an arrest in the event that these reports make it certain that the cause of Mrs. Stanford's death was the result of strychnine poisoning?" the chief was asked.

"Yes; we are prepared to act," was the reply.

As to who was to be placed in prison the official would not say.

Police officers said detectives working on the case are beginning now to express doubts that Mrs. Stanford was really poisoned. It is believed that a private detective agency of this city will continue to shadow all suspects until the results of the work at Honolulu clearly demonstrates that no crime was committed.

SEVENTY-EIGHT CARS WRECKED.

Head-on Collision Near Defiance, O., on Baltimore and Ohio.

TOLEDO, O., March 6.—As a result of a head-on collision between two freight trains on the Baltimore and Ohio four miles east of Defiance, Fireman Samuel Beadle of Garrett, Ind., was instantly killed and J. E. Cogley, fireman, and Thomas Carr, brakeman, both of Garrett, were seriously injured. Cogley's two legs were cut off, and one of Carr's was crushed so that amputation was necessary. Both will survive, it is thought.

There were thirty-eight cars in one train and forty in another, and the impact was so terrific that there was hardly a solid car left in either train. Three engineers and one fireman as well as the others of the train crews jumped just before the collision and escaped injury.

Confusion of train orders is said to be responsible for the collision.

Light Plant Boiler Exploded.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 6.—One of the boilers of the city electric light works exploded, instantly killing John Davis, the negro fireman, and fatally injuring Captain Fred W. Ellis, the engineer of the electric light plant and of the water works plant, which are only about fifty feet apart. Lewis Carroll, aged forty-five, and John Dunn, aged twenty-eight, were seriously injured. Carroll was badly burned about the body and had his collar bone broken.

Bishop of Buffalo Home From Rome.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Right Rev. Charles H. Colton, bishop of Buffalo, who was one of a large delegation of clergymen, has returned on the Caronia from a visit to Rome and the Holy Land. He said that all of the party had been greatly pleased with their tour and especially with their reception in Rome, where the American prelates presented to the holy father the reports of their respective dioceses for the preceding ten years.

BOSTON, March 6.—The Post says: "A definite clew has been discovered in connection with the disappearance of the $285,000 worth of securities belonging to Herman S. Cheney of Southbridge, and if this clew leads, as is expected, to the establishment of certain facts Mr. Cheney will be placed in possession of his securities or the state police will be given information that will result in an arrest."

GARFIELD'S MISSION

Ordered by President to Probe Kansas Oil Problem.

"MAY EXTEND TO PENNSYLVANIA."

Will Be Completed at an Early Date, and if Facts Warrant Proceedings Against All Illegal Combinations Will Follow.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Commissioner James R. Garfield of the bureau of corporations has instituted a rigid investigation of the operations of the oil industry in Kansas and contiguous states. In response to a resolution of the house of representatives introduced by Representative Campbell of Kansas the investigation of the oil industry will be carried on as rapidly as is consistent with thoroughness. The report of Commissioner Garfield will be made directly to President Roosevelt.

"During the past year," said Commissioner Garfield, "a great amount of general information relating to the oil trust has been obtained. This affords a basis from which to undertake immediate specific inquiries into the conditions existing in specific fields, such as Kansas, Texas and California. The method of procedure will be similar to that followed in the inquiry into the operations of the alleged beef trust. The commissioner of corporations, personally and through special agents, will obtain information from original sources. Already these sources of information have been sounded. They have responded to the commissioner of corporations by agreeing to furnish information, to afford the fullest opportunity for inspection and examination of records and accounts and to answer all questions pertinent to the matters involved in the inquiry."

It is the intention of Commissioner Garfield, under direction of President Roosevelt, to make the inquiry into the operations of the oil trust as comprehensive and exhaustive as possible. Nothing will be left undone that will develop a single fact relating to the work of the trust, and if it has been unjust in discrimination against the producers of oil in Kansas or in any state the inquiry will show it. It is pointed out that the oil trust, through its pipe lines, is not a common carrier under the law, and it cannot be compelled to carry oil from any given field unless the producers accede to its terms. The oil trust maintains that it has conducted its business not only in accordance with the law, but in perfect regard to recognized business principles, and that therefore it is perfectly willing to have the government make as rigid an inquiry as it may desire into its methods of doing business.

Every ramification of the inquiry will be followed, whether it lead across state lines or not. It may lead from Kansas to Texas, from Texas to California and from California to Pennsylvania. But wherever it may lead it will be followed in an earnest endeavor to ascertain all the facts regarding the operations of the alleged oil trust.

As soon as the investigation is completed, and it will be completed in accordance with the wishes of the president at as early a date as possible, the findings will be transmitted to President Roosevelt. If in his judgment the facts warrant an inquiry by the department of justice, the facts will be turned over to Attorney General Moody, with instructions to proceed according to law.

Police Suspect a Murder.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The body of the woman found last Friday in Lake Michigan, at the foot of Fifty-ninth street, has been identified as that of Mrs. Eva Belmont, whose home is said to have been in Milwaukee. The clew to the woman's identity was furnished by John McCarthy of Chicago, who asserted that he had known Mrs. Belmont for some time and positively identified the body as that of the Milwaukee woman. Mystery still surrounds the death of the woman, but the police are of the opinion that they have a murder problem to solve.

Oldest Indian In America Dead.

SHAWNEE, O. T., March 6.—Klathlo Harjo, a Seminole, known as Old Fish, said to have been the oldest Indian in America, is dead at the age of 110. He was born in the Everglades of Florida and fought in the war of 1812 against this country as well as in the Seminole wars. He enlisted as a volunteer soldier of the United States during the civil war and served with distinction.

Caronia's Maiden Trip.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The new Cunarder Caronia has arrived here from Liverpool on her maiden trip after a passage of 7 days 9 hours from the latter port, made at an average speed of 16.33 knots. Beheaded In Elevator.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 6.—Alcimus Strickland, aged sixteen, was instantly killed in the Kilmer building in this city by being beheaded by an elevator with which he was not familiar and which he was trying to operate. He is the third person to be killed in this building.

Fearing and Scott Champions.

BOSTON, March 6.—George R. Fearing, Jr., and H. D. Scott defeated their clubmates, Quincey A. Shaw, Jr., and H. H. Hunnewell, in the final round for the doubles racket championship of the United States at the Boston Tennis and Racket club, the victors taking four out of six games.

ROOSEVELT'S WORDS

Acclaimed as Chief of the Nation at Washington.

"NO REASON TO FEAR THE FUTURE"

President Said, "We Have Faith That We Shall Not Prove False to the Memories of the Men of the Mighty Past."

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Theodore Roosevelt is now the president of the United States by the voice of the people. He has passed, self reliant and aggressive, into the category of chief magistrates who have been elected by the popular vote.

Standing bareheaded in a nipping northwest wind on the east portico of the capitol, facing a great concourse of admirers from all over the Union, Mr. Roosevelt typified the active and impulsive figure that his admirers worship and his enemies decry.

Mr. Roosevelt swore, with uplifted hand, to uphold the constitution and obey the laws of the United States. Then in an address as remarkable for its brevity as for its scope he dedicated the next four years of his life to the solution of those great economic problems which have been thrust into the very foreground of American politics and the importance of which he has emphasized. He said:

"My Fellow Citizens—No people on earth have more cause to be thankful than ours, and this is said reverently, in no spirit of boastfulness in our own strength, but with gratitude to the Giver of Good, who has blessed us with the conditions which have enabled us to achieve so large a measure of well being and of happiness. To us as a people it has been granted to lay the foundations of our national life in a new continent. We are the heirs of the ages, and yet we have had to pay few of the penalties which in old countries are exacted by the dead hand of bygone civilization. We have not been obliged to fight for our existence against any alien race, and yet our life has called for the vigor and effort without which the manlier and hardier virtues wither away. Under such conditions it would be our own fault if we failed, and the success which we have had in the past, the success which we confidently believe the future will bring, should cause in us no feeling of vainglory, but rather a deep and abiding realization of all which life has offered us—a full acknowledgment of the responsibility which is ours and a fixed determination to show that under a free government a mighty people can thrive best, alike as regards the things of the body and the things of the soul.

"Much has been given to us, and much will rightfully be expected from us. We have duties to others and duties to ourselves, and we can shirk neither. We have become a great nation, forced by the fact of its greatness into relations with the other nations of the earth, and we must behave as beseems a people with such responsibilities. Toward all other nations, large and small, our attitude must be one of cordial and sincere friendship. We must show not only in our words but in our deeds that we are earnestly desirous of securing their good will by acting toward them in a spirit of just and generous recognition of all their rights. But justice and generosity in a nation, as in an individual, count most when shown not by the weak, but by the strong. While ever careful to refrain from wronging others, we must be no less insistent that we are not wronged ourselves. We wish peace, but we wish the peace of justice, the peace of righteousness. We wish it because we think it is right and not because we are afraid. No weak nation that acts rightly and justly should ever have cause to fear us, and no strong power should ever be able to single us out as a subject for insolent aggression.

"Our relations with the other powers of the world are important, but still more important are our relations among ourselves. Such growth in wealth, in population and in power as this nation has seen during the century and a quarter of its national life is inevitably accompanied by a like growth in the problems which are ever before every nation that rises to greatness. Power invariably means both responsibility and danger. Our forefathers faced certain perils which we have outgrown. We now face other perils, the very existence of which it was impossible that they should foresee. Modern life is both complex and intense, and the tremendous changes wrought by the extraordinary industrial development of the half century are felt in every fiber of our social and political being. Never before have men tried so vast and formidable an experiment as that of administering the affairs of a continent under the forms of a democratic republic. The conditions which have told for our marvelous material well being, which have developed to a very high degree our energy, self reliance and individual initiative, also have brought the care and anxiety inseparable from the accumulation of great wealth in industrial centers. Upon the success of our experiment much depends, not only as regards our own welfare, but as regards the welfare of mankind. If we fail, the cause of free self government throughout the world will rock to its foundations, and therefore our responsibility is heavy to ourselves, to the world as it is today and to the generations yet unborn. There is a good reason why we should fear the future, but there is every reason why we should face it seriously, neither hiding from ourselves the gravity of the problems before us nor fearing to approach these problems with the unbending, unflinching purpose to solve them aright.

"Yet, after all, though the problems are new, though the tasks set before us differ from the tasks set before our fathers who founded and preserved this republic, the spirit in which these tasks must be undertaken and these problems faced if our duty is to be well done, remains essentially unchanged. We know that self government is difficult. We know that no people needs such high traits of character as that people which seeks to govern its affairs aright through the freely expressed will of the free men who compose it. But we have faith that we shall not prove false to the memories of the men of the mighty past. They did their work. They left us the splendid heritage we now enjoy. We in our turn have an assured confidence that we shall be able to leave this heritage unwasted and enlarged to our children and our children's children.

"To do so we must show not merely in great crisis, but in the everyday affairs of life, the qualities of practical intelligence, of courage, of hardihood and endurance and, above all, the power of devotion to a lofty ideal, which made great the men who founded this republic in the days of Washington, which made great the men who preserved this republic in the days of Abraham Lincoln."

At the inaugural ball every nation in the civilized world, every state in the Union, every branch of the military establishment of the United States, was represented among the 12,000 guests who gathered to do honor to the inauguration of President Roosevelt's second term, and once more Washington's greatest social function will go down in history as a permanent success. In that vast assemblage were men whose names are household words the country over, men whose fame has spread beyond the seas, men who control the destinies of great foreign states, attended by brilliantly uniformed staffs and all accompanied by beautifully gowned and superbly jeweled women, presenting a scene which could be excelled in its beauty and brilliancy in no capital in the world.

President Roosevelt's Sunday.

WASHINGTON, March 6. — President Roosevelt spent Sunday quietly, except for a horseback ride through the suburbs during the afternoon. He was alone and took his mount at the outskirts of the city.

NOT CARNEGIE'S HANDWRITING.

Trustee of Mrs. Chadwick's Assets Calls on New York Financier.

CLEVELAND, O., March 6.—Trustee of the Chadwick assets, Nathan Loeser, and County Prosecutor Harvey R. Keeler called by appointment upon Andrew Carnegie at the home of Sylvester T. Everett in this city. Mr. Loeser brought with him the famous $5,000,000 note and the equally famous trust agreement. The officials obtained specimens of Mr. Carnegie's handwriting for the purpose of comparing it with the writing on the paper which Mrs. Chadwick used as security for many of her transactions. Mr. Carnegie was amused when he saw the documents bearing his name. The dissimiliarity between the signature which Mr. Carnegie wrote for Mr. Keeler and the signature which was reputed to be his on the bank paper was marked.

A second purpose of the visit to Mr. Carnegie was to learn if Mr. Carnegie could be dispensed from coming for the second trial which Mrs. Chadwick and her husband will have to undergo upon state indictments.

Mr. Carnegie said that he was willing to come to Cleveland in the interest of justice as often as necessary, that he regarded it as his duty as a citizen to do so and that every citizen should aid in the punishment of crime wherever found.

Mr. Carnegie said that he would be in court at 9:30 in the morning to be sworn as a witness in the government's case.

Professor Gould of Cleveland, a handwriting expert, was present during the conference between Mr. Carnegie and the trustee and Prosecutor Keeler and made some interesting comment upon the two styles of writing as shown by the alleged forgeries and the genuine signature of Mr. Carnegie.

Ex-Federal Judge Francis J. Wing, who has been retained to assist J. P. Dawley in the defense of Mrs. Chadwick, said last night that he had no idea as to how long the trial would last; neither would he give any intimation as to what the defense would be.

Mr. Carnegie, in the course of his talk with Prosecutor Keeler and Trustee Loeser, repeated his former statements that he had never met Mrs. Chadwick; had never even heard of her until the financial crash in the woman's financial affairs came. Inasmuch as the great ironmaster and the prisoner who is on trial meet in court today face to face for the first time the scene is likely to prove a dramatic one.

Burglars Robbed and Fired Store.

SOUTH BRITAIN, Conn., March 6.—After rifling the money drawer and taking a few small articles, burglars here set fire to the building occupied by Mitchell & Williams as a general store. The building was destroyed, entailing a loss of $6,000. The robbers made their escape.

Two Killed on Northern Pacific.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 6.—General Manager H. J. Horn of the Northern Pacific has received information that passenger train No. 3, from St. Paul for the Pacific coast, was in a head-end collision with a freight train near Bearmouth, Mont., and two persons were killed and two injured.

Azienza Specialties Co.,

Dear Sirs:—For over two years I have been troubled with inflamed and itching blotches on both feet. I have doctored and used any number of preparations which failed to cure. Azienza Cream, immediately after the first application, caused the soreness and itching to cease. After using two fifty-cent jars I am cured. I cannot speak of and recommend it too highly. Azienza Cream is a necessity in every household.

Very truly,

J. B. HATFIELD.

STEYN WANTS ONLY PEACE

The Ex-President of the Free State Says the Boers Would Protect the British.

Paris.—The departure of Judge Steyn for South Africa was the occasion for a gathering of Boer sympathizers at the northern railroad station. Judge Steyn expressed his thanks for the sympathy manifested toward him, but said that he had no resentment at the result of the war. He was glad to return to his farm near Bloemfontein, which was one of the few not burned under Gen. Kitchener's regime, but it had been completely devastated, and all the live stock had been commandeered. When a representative of the press approached Judge Steyn concerning the reports of another uprising of the Boers the ex-president answered:

(He Says the Boers Will Help the British in South Africa.)

"We have given our parole to the British government, and as men of honor shall keep it. I look forward to the day which I think is near when South Africa will have renewed prosperity, with Englishmen and Boers working side by side."

Judge Steyn leaves his son to be educated at Cambridge university. He continued:

"The Boers will be the first to help put down an uprising of the blacks against the British."

The ex-president is still partly paralyzed and has been under the care of Paris specialists.

FITTED WITH A CRANE.

A Unique Traction Engine That Will Serve Many Purposes—Many Now in Use.

Boston.—Traction engines are coming more and more into use for hauling heavy loads. For them it is claimed that they can "do anything." But supposing a traction engine on the road finds its path blocked by a fallen tree! It will be stopped! Only temporarily, though, if, as with our engine, it be fitted in front with a crane.

The crane—some of them are removable at will—is fixed to the fore-platform

PECULIAR TRACTION ENGINE.
(It Is Fitted with a Crane and Is Adapted to Many Uses.)

of the traction engine. In some cases, when the crane is in use, legs or supports are fitted beneath the fore-platform, to take some of the strain off the front axle and wheels. A long steel chain is passed up to the pulley of the crane, and down to the trunk of the fallen tree, around which the end of the chain is made fast. The engine then, instead of revolving its big driving wheels, expends its energy in hauling in the chain; the tree swings in the air; and, the power being switched back again to the road wheels, the engine trundles to the side of the highway and drops the tree in a field.

Worm's Defense.

The annelid, Podynce cirrata, is a mean-looking worm about an inch and a half in length, of flattened shape, blunt at both ends, apparently covered by a smooth skin of a dull brown color. On being touched it throws itself into elegant serpentine curves, and then what appears to be the upper skin is seen to be composed of a great number of round flat membranous plates or shields, arranged in two rows, overlapping each other. These, though of larger size, are attached to the body only by a small point in the center of their sides, so that when the animal moves the edges of these shields are lifted and reveal their live structure, sliding upon each other in a singular manner.

Champagne City.

The town of Epernay, in France, is a vast subterranean city, the streets for miles and miles being hewn out of the solid chalk, flanked with piles of champagne of all blends and qualities. There is no light in this labyrinth of streets, crossings and turnings, except that which the sputtering candles afford. All is dark and damp, with the thermometer down about zero. The largest champagne manufacturers in Epernay possess underground cellars which cover no less than 45 acres and contain 5,000,000 bottles of wine.

Must Be Clean.

Under a new rule, women inspectors visit the public schools of London and inspect the pupils. Those that are not clean are sent home. But already it has been found that some of the children smear themselves with mud before entering school, in hope that an inspector will pay a visit.

THE SMALL FARMER

HIS OPPORTUNITIES ARE IMPROVING EACH YEAR.

How Employment in Shop or Store Might Be Combined with Agriculture on a Small Scale to Advantage.

How to get people "back to the soil" has been a question for years with economists. It has been brought forward more clearly of late, by the military successes of the Japanese—a people living on small farms, on what we would call a meager diet, yet manifestly highly civilized, and physically strong.

The extension of irrigating schemes in the arid regions of the United States has directed attention to the possibility of a profitable use of much smaller tracts of land than we have been accustomed to accept as our minimum allotment for a home.

When in order to "get back to the soil," there was required ability to secure and handle 80 or 160 acres of land, the difficulties seemed insurmountable. But if it can be shown to the people to whom this counsel is given that they can be supported and can even accumulate property on a tract of three, five or ten acres, the problem will seem much easier of solution.

DEVOTE TWO HOURS A DAY TO INTELLIGENT CULTIVATION.

Farming is a profession, and should be studied as such. This pursuit is subject to a great variety of modifying influences, and requires wide intelligence and careful judgment to secure the full measure of success.

It is believed that most men have a natural aptitude for drawing support from the soil, since the mechanics of large cities and even their children frequently make a measure of success, cultivating little corners of town lots.

It is no longer necessary for men to search the outskirts of civilization to find land where they may secure a living. Small tracts from one to five acres may be had on easy terms almost everywhere, even in the suburbs of large cities and out along trolley lines. Thus the isolation of farm life is avoided and when there are 40 to 50 families instead of one on 160 acres, cooperation makes house building, as well as the procurement of tools, animals and machinery much easier.

It is also much easier to combine work on the land with employment in the shop or store, to the great advantage of the worker. Health would be promoted, and great pecuniary advantages would result from a judicious combination of this kind.

It would be interesting, for example, if a factory could be established, the employes of which would work eight hours a day therein, and during the proper seasons devote two hours a day to the intelligent cultivation of a two-acre or three-acre field.

On this tract could easily be produced vegetables and small fruits, sufficient for family use, and a marketable surplus, which, under favorable circumstances, would in many cases equal the earnings in the factory.

A comparison of the health and prosperity of the operatives of such an institution with that of workers in a neighboring establishment, giving ten hours a day to their indoor work, would, we are confident, make an unmistakable showing in favor of the former.

Details have recently been made public as to the operations of a five-acre farm in an eastern state that is making a comfortable living for a family of four and a good profit in addition. After paying for the farm, the implements, a cow, some poultry and pigs, which cost $1,200, the owner had $300 left for working capital. A garden was planted, which soon furnished most of the food for the family, and the surplus was sold in a neighboring town. The cow and poultry, too, contributed to the income. Small fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries and blackberries and trees like pears, peaches and plums were set out. In the fall the hogs were butchered, and this and the surplus poultry gave the meat for the family with some left for market.

Each year his income increased, until to-day he shows a net gain, after paying all living expenses, of $50 a month. He keeps 300 head of poultry and devotes the rest of his land to gardening, vegetables and fruits.

This success shows what can be done by a combination of muscle and brains on a small piece of land. The same measure of success is possible to many people in different localities, and each instance thereof helps to solve the problem of getting people back to the soil and relieving the congestion in cities.

The plan as applied to factory employes is worth careful thought.

Plainfield, N. J., March 6, 1905.

Senator John Kean well knows the fact that the "nearest road to a man's heart is through his throat and by his stomach." His magnificent entertainment to the New Jersey delegation and West Point cadets at Washington is a case in point.

Adjt. Gen. Breintnall is in danger of losing his official head because of the small showing made in Washington Saturday by the New Jersey troops. A bill has been prepared for introduction into the Legislature tonight to legislate him out of office by fixing an age limit of retirement at sixty-two years. Breintnall will be sixty-two years old on August 12 next. The Adjutant General was one of the State Military Board which decided that New Jersey could not get together a provisional regiment in three days, as wanted by the law which passed last Tuesday.

From Trenton comes the statement that the "State Military Board will have to mount its heaviest guns and prepare for a siege of its official fortress." The turning down and denying the State Militia from participating in the inaugural ceremonies rankles in the hearts of Jerseymen the State over. Already it is rumored that bills will be introduced in the Legislature looking to the abolition of the Board. They may learn that one plays with the buss saw when you step on the toes of the soldier boys.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINTIY.

The trustees of the First Baptist church presented recommendations for the changes in the church edifice at the meeting of the congregation yesterday, and received the almost unanimous support of the church members in the undertaking. The recommendations stated in brief, the changes which are proposed, and which will be made at once. Among the principal alterations will be the raising of the choir loft, the removal of part of the gallery, and the repapering of the building. The entire church will be wired for electric lights, and the seats will be re-varnished.

Plans for the reopening of Riverside Park are already underway, and the managers are arranging for an attractive season. As far as can be learned, no changes will take place next summer, though a number of new features will be introduced in the way of entertainments, which are warranted to draw crowds. Among the new features is Sunday baseball, which according to reports, will be without legal restraint. A high board fence will be put around the grounds, and it is thought that the park will be opened about April 1.

The borough Board of Education will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening, when the question of fire escapes will be considered. The committee will report and the matter of public appropriations for the improvement will be decided upon. The committee has been looking into the cost of the proposed fire escapes so that the citizens may be notified of the exact output needed for their construction.

The regular monthly social, which will be held tomorrow night under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E., of the Presbyterian church, at the home of Mrs. James Craig, will be one of the most enjoyable events on the church calendar. A pleasing programme has been arranged for the occasion and a large attendance is anticipated.

The last of the evangelistic services, which began two weeks ago and which were continued for another week at the Presbyterian church, was held Friday night, in conjunction with the regular preparatory service. It was conducted by the pastor. The Lord's Supper was observed at the church yesterday.

The Farther Light Society, of the First Baptist church, held its regular business meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Giles. None but routine business was transacted, though plans for a number of interesting events were discussed. The business meeting was followed by a social.

A delegation of members of Lakeside Council attended the regular meeting and social given by Old Glory Council, D. of L., of Plainfield, Saturday night. A pleasant evening was spent, and the visitors were royally entertained.

The meeting of the Literary Circle, which was postponed from last week on account of the evangelistic meeting in the Presbyterian church, will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. George Schenck.

The Holy Name Society, of St. John's church, will hold a lecture at the church parlors on March 17. The subject will be "Historical Ireland," and it will be treated by Rev. P. E. Reilly.

There will be a meeting of the Borough Council tonight, at which important business will be transacted.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society met Friday night at the home of Mrs. Mary Squier.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The younger members of the congregation of the Baptist church held a successful cake sale Saturday afternoon and night at the home of Mrs. William H. Hear, of the borough, all the details and arrangements being in charge of the Misses Hear, Todd, Gilmour and Beeken. Their efforts towards swelling the church treasury met with a ready response from their elders, $15 being realized from the sale.

Rev. William R. Mulford's lecture upon "Pilgrims and Plymouth," given Saturday night in the borough fire house, was one of the most enjoyable of the winter events. The hall was nicely filled with an appreciative audience whose attention the speaker held for an interesting two hours At the close of the lecture refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed together.

HIS ARMY CUT IN TWO

Kuropatkin Defeated on Hun With Great Slaughter.

SEVENTY THOUSAND HORS DE COMBAT

Japanese Corps, Numbering 200,000 Men, Broke Through Russian Left Wing and Are Marching on Mukden.

LONDON, March 6.—A dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters in the field says that the Japanese have gained a signal victory beyond the Hun river, defeating in detail two divisions of the Russian Sixteenth corps, recently arrived from Europe, with great slaughter, and capturing huge quantities of ammunition.

It is estimated that the total loss is 70,000 men.

The Russians, fighting stubbornly between midnight and daybreak, made four attacks in heavy force against the contingent of Japanese, which gained their first line in front of Waitao mountain. The Japanese maintained their foothold and repulsed the Russian attacks, inflicting heavy losses on the Russians.

According to reports at St. Petersburg, Field Marshal Oyama has cut General Kuropatkin's army in two, and the situation for General Kuropatkin is perilous.

In the fighting at Sanlinpou the Russians were facing only a division and a half of the four Japanese divisions in the Liao river valley and with the utmost difficulty repulsed these.

The general staff decline to say whether General Kuropatkin is standing his ground or if he is already retiring. An important council of war is being held.

A special from St. Petersburg says that General Kuropatkin has reported that 260,000 Japanese have broken through the Russian left wing and that it was cut off from the remainder of the army, that the Japanese are marching on Mukden and that his position is extremely dangerous.

In government circles there is a conviction that General Kuropatkin has been fully beaten, that part of his army has been dispersed and that the railroad north of Mukden will probably be cut.

Dispatches from General Oku's headquarters say that the Japanese have occupied three more villages in the Russian second line of defenses, carrying the captured lines twelve miles east of Changtu. The Russians are falling back on their heavy defenses south of Mukden.

The Japanese movement is entirely successful. The pursuit of the Russians continues.

A Fuchau report says that the Japanese have occupied the second line of the Russian right defenses. Their line was taken early in the morning. The Japanese also hold positions on the west bank of the Hun river, four miles north of Ghangtan, thus completely turning the Russian right flank. The Japanese fire badly demoralized the Russians, who retreated in disorder. The Russians are still retiring, and Oku's army is advancing rapidly in pursuit.

A St. Petersburg report says that the advanced guard of the Japanese left army is within five and a half miles of Mukden station, according to a telegram from General Kuropatkin. Other Japanese army corps have captured Suchudzia and Lanschanpa, while their attacks on Poutiloff hill and thirteen fierce assaults on Kandolesan have been repulsed.

The advanced guard of the Japanese which is enveloping the Russian right flank has been seen between the Mukden-Sinmintin road and the Hun river, five and a half miles from Mukden station.

A Mukden report says that the rumble of carts in the streets of Mukden is drowned by the roar of battle, which is raging northwest, west and southwest of the city, a few miles away, between General Nogi's Port Arthur veterans and the hastily assembled army interposed by General Kuropatkin to defend the city and railroads. The Japanese attack came like lightning out of a clear sky.

The carnage at the center and on both flanks has been enormous. The Japanese at many places simply threw away their lives, beating against the Russians' powerful fortifications in attacks which, in the center, apparently were intended chiefly as a demonstration to cover the driving home of General Nogi's blow.

A feature of all accounts of the fighting reaching St. Petersburg is the emphasis laid on the awful carnage. There is reference after reference to dead piled high on the ground, over which an attack was delivered, strewing breastworks, almost hiding abatis from sight, and even being used by the Japanese to construct hasty intrenchments. The Russian losses on both flanks are conceded to be enormous.

SERGIUS MIGHT HAVE LIVED.

Imperial Rescript Lately Issued the Work of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 6.—The history of the imperial rescript, as has been authoritatively disclosed, sheds a curious and illuminating light upon the struggles for ascendency between the forces of reaction and liberalism which are raging about the emperor, again compelling one to draw a parallel with the French revolution and impressing the truth of Prince Bismarck's famous remark that everything King Louis XVI. did to preserve his throne came a day too late.

Substantially the decision to permit representatives of the people to participate in a consultative capacity in consideration of projected reforms and preparation of laws had been taken by the emperor three months ago on the advice of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky and had been actually incorporated in clause 3 of the December manifesto. Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's heart was set upon this scheme, making it a condition of his continuance in office. But at the last minute, yielding to the pressure of the reactionaries, led by Grand Duke Sergius and M. Pobedonostseff, procurator of the holy synod, it was stricken out, and Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, under the sunshine of whose inspiration the hopes of the whole nation burst into bloom, stepped down.

Had Emperor Nicholas then clung to his original resolution many painful events since the first of the year, including the assassination of his uncle, might have been avoided.

It is hoped that the rescript will help the general situation and especially that there will be no repetition of terrorism. Certainly the czar's words have created a powerful impression.

The disorders which were predicted here and at Moscow for Saturday and Sunday did not occur, although the strike situation appears distinctly threatening. The authorities profess great hope that the rescript will completely change the attitude of the vast bulk of the workmen, who really are only demanding economic reforms by a strike, but who are easy victims to a propaganda of their revolutionary comrades.

Jap Squadrons near Hongkong.

LONDON, March 6. — The German steamer Nubia, at Hongkong, reports having sighted two Japanese squadrons on Saturday 100 miles southeast of that port. The first squadron comprised nine battleships and cruisers and the second squadron thirteen large warships.

CHICAGO FIRE PANIC.

Music Hall on Site of Iroquois Theater Had Narrow Escape.

CHICAGO, March 6.—Ten minutes after the patrons of the matinee performance at Hyde & Behman's music hall had been dismissed yesterday smoke from a fire in an adjoining building penetrated the stage of the playhouse and caused a panic among the actors and actresses who were still in their dressing rooms.

The music hall is the old Iroquois theater, and the clanging of fire bells and the smell of smoke were such vivid reminders of the catastrophe of Dec. 30, 1903, when nearly 600 persons lost their lives, that the attaches of the theater became frightened and made a rush for the exits. Many of the players were but half clad, but all of them managed to escape from the place without injury. It was soon discovered, however, that there was no danger of the theater proper catching fire, and in a few minutes the frightened players returned to their dressing rooms.

Sad Day In Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., March 6. — The funerals of the victims of the railroad wreck at Clifton Station, near Pittsburg, on Friday will be held in this city today. Their comrades in the battalion of engineers desired to give them a military burial, with the bodies together in their armory or other public place, but this arrangement was not satisfactory to the families of the dead men, and each funeral will be held separately. The funerals of Lieutenant Schofield, Surgeon Hendry and Private Held will be held at 2, 2:30 and 4 o'clock respectively at their several homes. The body of Wallace Pinney will be placed in a vault until his father and stepmother are able to attend a funeral service.

R. C. Luther Dying.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 6.—R. C. Luther, second vice president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, is dying at his home here. He is rapidly sinking, and all hope has been abandoned. Mr. Luther is the executive head of all the Philadelphia and Reading company's coal interests and is a member of the anthracite board of conciliation created by the coal strike commission of 1902.

Decision Against Strike Pickets.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 6.—Judge Humphrey, in the United States circuit court, has granted an injunction against the men now on strike at the works of the St. Louis Smelting and Refining company at Collinsville, restraining them from picketing the works. Four hundred men who went on a strike a month ago demand recognition of the union and shorter hours.

Reciprocity With Germany.

WASHINGTON, March 6. — Berlin advices indicating a purpose on the part of the German foreign office to renew its efforts to secure something in the nature of a reciprocity treaty with the United States have attracted much attention in official circles here, as it has been known for some time past that this was in contemplation.

ADVICE FOR EVERYBODY.

It Is Given Gratuitously by a Young and Handsome English Nobleman.

London.—Though he is only 32 years old, the earl of Beauchamp—pronounced "Beecham," you know—is said to possess the distinction of having made more speeches than any other living Englishman. He takes himself very seriously and believes that it is his chief mission in life to set other people right by bestowing upon them unlimited advice and counsel. He never lacks an opportunity to ventilate his ideas, because lords are always in demand at public functions in England. It has not yet been noted that he has ever accomplishtd anything

EARL OF BEAUCHAMP.
(English Nobleman Who Has Advice for Everybody.)

by his oratory, but he is still young and persevering.

He is very devout, and in his early youth he had decided to enter the ministry. He changed his mind on that point on succeeding to the ancestral acres and titles when only 19. He has, however, always shown keen interest in church matters, and only the other day he berated church choirs and organists for being more devoted to music than to religion and thereby sacrificing piety to art.

When he was 27 a conservative government whipped him off to New South Wales as governor of that colony. The Antipodeans, who have much less respect for hereditary titles than English folk, did not take very kindly to him. His state dances were derisively dubbed "Seidlitz Powder balls," because tickets of admission were blue and white. The holders of the blue pasteboards were entitled to a better feed than those who had been provided only with white ones, and had other exclusive privileges, too. To the democratic colonists distinctions of this sort savored of snobbishness, and they resented it. The earl did not mend matters any by taking them to task for their small families and declining birth rate. That sort of talk comes all very well from President Roosevelt, whose precepts are backed up by the example his own home furnishes of a large and healthy family, but Australian husbands and wives regarded it as sheer impertinence, coming from a young peer who was at that time still a bachelor, although he could well afford a wife.

In 1902 Beauchamp married Lady Lettice Grosvenor, a daughter of the late Earl Grosvenor and a sister of the second duke of Westminster.

The earl is a very good looking man, and he knows it, too. Likewise he is well aware that he has very shapely hands, and they always figure prominently in his photographs. He is considered the best dressed man in the house of lords.

WOMAN OF STRANGE POWER

New Spiritualistic Leader Is Attracting a Large Following in New York.

New York.—The strange mystery of Rev. May S. Pepper and her spiritualistic power is attracting great attention in Brooklyn. Mrs. Pepper does not pretend to read the future; she does not even enact the pretense of going into a "trance" state. Messages purporting to come from the dead are received through her in answer to questions placed in sealed and unopened envelopes. Many strange and unaccountable instances of her power are reported. So strongly has the belief in her advocacy of spiritualism taken hold that a congregation has been formed of which she has been made pastor. Among the members are some of the most prominent business and professional men of Brooklyn. Many of the attendants at meetings conducted by Mrs. Pepper assert that messages she delivers from the dead are correct and they are moved to deep emotion thereby. She has gained a large following of believers in this city.

DAINTY TRIFLES.

Syrian Scarfs For Opera Hoods. Some Novelties In Jewelry.

Syrian scarfs are very fashionable for opera hoods. Most of these scarfs are black, cream or white, with designs in gold or silver. They are handmade, and no two are alike. The simpler scarf may be bought for $12.

Now is an excellent time to buy handsome furs at reduced prices. There is a month or so to wear them yet this season, and the furrier will store them through the summer months and see that they are in good condition for the first cold days of fall.

One of the novelties in jewelry is the miniature scarfpin containing the tiny portrait in oils upon porcelain of the wearer's favorite horse. For women favorite dogs and cats pose for these miniatures, which are set in a gold brooch or lace pin.

For the hair is a shell pin with jeweled chains attached which forms a

Juliet cap. These caps are very much affected by smart women for theater wear.

New white neck and sleeve ruching, which comes by the yard, is now polka dotted.

Very modish and stunning is the bridal gown illustrated. It is evolved from the softest kind of peau de soie. The skirt is laid in plaits at the waist and trimmed at the bottom with an exquisite piece of brussels lace. This lace is made into medallions, and in the center of each alternate one is set a bunch of orange blossoms. The bodice is shirred slightly a few inches from the shoulders and blouses in plaited fullness over a lace girdle. A collar of lace fastens with a chou of silk and a bunch of orange flowers. The puffed sleeves have a band of lace catching the shirrings.

NEW SLEEVES.

Wide Skirts With Many Gores—The Popular Wash Fabrics.

Sleeves are the crucial test of the up to date frock. If the sleeves are in style, much in the want of modishness is forgiven the rest of the dress. A very practical way of making over the sleeves of yesterday is to turn them upside down. The bagging fullness at the wrist is easily pushed up the arm and smartened with a deep cuff. These cuffs must be buttoned, and much of the grace and style of the lower sleeve is lost if it does not fit snugly to the arm.

Skirts are wide and many gored, twenty-one gores being not an unusual number for a skirt to possess. A new and swagger skirt is formed of alternate box and side plaits. For instance, the front of the skirt will boast a box plait; then on each side will be laid three moderate sized side plaits, then a box plait, and so on around the skirt.

In wash fabrics Scotch plaids and checks are to be used. Linen lawn and dimities in the thin materials are favorites for summer frocks.

Taffeta with a soft finish and in pin stripe effects holds first place among spring silks.

The illustration shows a practical way of renovating an old sleeve to look like a new one. The upper portion of the sleeve was originally of lace, which in the new edition forms the cuff, while the fluffy wrist fullness is promoted to the top of the sleeve.

THE GRAFTERS

By

FRANCIS LYNDE

(Copyright, 1904, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company.)

"It's only up to there," he reported, measuring with his hand.

Callahan looked at his watch. There was yet a full hour's run ahead of him, and there was no more than a scant foot of water in the tank with which to make it.

Thereafter he forgot the Naught-seven, and whatever menace it held for him, and was concerned chiefly with the thing mechanical. Would the water last him through? He had once made 170 miles on a special run with the 1,010 without refilling his tank; but that was with the light engine alone. Now he had the private car behind him, and it seemed at times to pull with all the drag of a heavy train.

But one expedient remained, and that carried with it the risk of his life. An engine, not overburdened, uses less water proportionately to miles run as the speed is increased. He could outpace the safe-guarding mail, save water—and take the chance of being shot in the back from the forward vistibule of the Naught-seven when he had gained lead enough to make a main -line stop safe for the men behind him.

Callahan thought once of the child mothered by the Sisters of Loretto in the convent at the capital, shut his eyes to that and to all things extraneous, and sent the 1,010 about her business. At the first reversed curve he hung out of his window for a backward look. Tischer's headlight had disappeared and his protection was gone.

On the rear platform of the private car four men watched the threatening second section fade into the night.

"Our man has thought better of it," said the governor, marking the increased speed and the disappearance of the menacing headlight.

Guilford's sigh of relief was almost a groan.

"My God!" he said; "it makes me cold to think what might happen if he should pull us over into the other state!"

But Halkett was still smarting from the indignities put upon him, and his comment was a vindictive threat.

"I'll send that damned Irishman over the road for this, if it is the last thing I ever do!" he declared; and he confirmed it with an oath.

But Callahan was getting his punishment as he went along. He had scarcely settled the 1,010 into her gait for the final run against the failing water supply when another station came in sight. It was a small cattle town, and in addition to the swinging red lights and a huge bonfire to illuminate the yards, the obstructionists had torn down the loading corral and were piling the lumber on the track.

Once again Callahan's nerve flickered; and he shut off the steam. But before it was too late he reflected that the barrier was meant only to scare him into stopping. One minute later the air was full of flying splinters, and that danger was passed. But one of the broken planks came through the cab window, missing the engineer by no more than a hand's-breadth. And the shower of splinters, sucked by the whirl of the train, broke glass in the private car and sprinkled the quartet on the platform with split kindling and wreckage.

"What was that?" gasped the receiver.

Halkett pointed to the bonfire, receding like a fading star in the rearward distance.

"Our friends are beginning to throw stones, since clods won't stop him," he said.

Bucks shook his head.

"If that is the case, we'll have to do something on our own account. The next obstruction may derail us."

Halkett stepped into the car and pulled the cord of automatic air.

"No good," he muttered. "The Irishman bled our tank before he started. Help me set the hand brakes, a couple of you."

Danforth and the governor took hold of the brake wheel with him, and for a minute or two the terrible speed slackened a little. Then some part of the disused hand-gear gave way under the three-man strain and that hope was gone.

"There's one thing left," said the superintendent, indomitable to the last. "We'll uncouple and let him drop us behind."

The space in the forward vestibule was narrow and cramped, and with the strain of the dragging car to make the pin stick, it took two of them lying flat, waiting for the back-surging moment and wiggling it for slack, to pull it. The coupling dropped out of the hook and the engine shot ahead to the length of the safety chains; thus far, but no farther.

Halkett stood up.

"It's up to you, Danforth," he said, raising his voice to be heard above the pounding roar of the wheels. "You're the youngest and lightest: get down on the 1,010's brake-beam and unhook those chains."

The secretary looked once into the trap with the dodging jaws and the backward-flying bottom and declined the honor.

"I can't get down there," he cried. "And I shouldn't know what to do if I could."

Once more the superintendent exhibited his nerve. He had nothing at stake save a desire to defeat Callahan; but he had the persistent courage of the bull-terrier. With Bucks and the secretary to steady him he lowered himself in the gap till he could stand upon the brake-beam of the 1,010's tender and grope with one free hand for the hook of the nearest safety-chain. Death nipped at him every time the engine gave or took up the slack of the loose coupling, but he dodged and hung on until he had satisfied himself.

"It's no good," he announced, when they had dragged him by main strength back to a footing in the narrow vestibule. "The hooks are bent into the links. We're due to go wherever that damned Irishman is taking us."

Shovel was firing and the trailing smoke and cinders quickly made the forward vestibule untenable. When they were driven in, Bucks and the receiver went through to the rear platform, where they were presently joined by Halkett and Danforth.

"I've been trying the air again," said the superintendent, "but it's no go. What's next."

The governor gave the word.

"Wait," he said; and the four of them clung to the hand-rails, swaying and bending to the bounding lurches of the flying car.

Mile after mile reels from beneath the relentless wheels, and still the speed increases. Station Donerail is passed, and now the pace is so furious that the watchers on the railed platform cannot make out the signals in the volleying wake of dust. Station Schofield is passed, and again the signals, if any there be, are swiftly drowned in the gray dust-smother. From Schofield to Agua Caliente is but a scant ten miles; and as the flying train rushes on toward the state boundary, two faces in the quartet of watchers show tense and drawn under the yellow light of the Pintsch platform lamp.

The governor swings himself unsteadily to the right-hand railing and the long look ahead brings the twinkling arc-star of the tower light on Breezeland Inn into view. He turns to Guilford, who has fallen limp into one of the platform chairs.

"In five minutes more we shall pass Agua Caliente," he says. "Will you kill the Irishman, or shall I?" Guilford's lips move, but there is no audible reply; and Bucks takes Danforth's weapon and passes quickly and alone to the forward vestibule.

The station of Agua Caliente swings into the field of 1,010's electric headlight. Callahan's tank has been bone dry for 20 minutes, and he is watching the glass water-gauge where the water shows now only when the engine lurches heavily to the left. He knows that the crown-sheet of the fire-box is bare, and that any moment it may give down and the end will come. Yet his gauntleted hand never falls from the throttle-bar to the air-cock, and his eyes never leave the bubble appearing at long intervals in the heel of the water-glass.

Shovel has stopped firing, and is hanging out of his window for the straining look ahead. Suddenly he drops to the footplate to grip Callahan's arm.

"See!" he says. "They have set the switch to throw us in on the siding!" In one motion the flutter of the exhaust ceases, and the huge ten-wheeler buckles to the sudden setting of the brakes. The man standing in the forward vestibule of the Naught-seven lowers his weapon. Apparently it is not going to be necessary to kill the engineer after all.

But Callahan's nerve has failed him only for the moment. There is one chance in ten thousand that the circumambulating side track is empty; one and one only, and no way to make sure of it. Beyond the station, as Callahan well knows, the siding comes again into the main line, and the switch is a straight-rail "safety." Once again the thought of his motherless child flickers into the engineer's brain; then he releases the air and throws his weight backward upon the throttle-bar. Two gasps and a heart-beat decide it; and before the man in the vestibule can level his weapon and fire, the one-car train has shot around the station, heaving and lurching over the uneven rails of the siding, and grinding shrilly over the points of the safety switch to race on the down grade to Megilp.

At the mining-camp the station is in darkness save for the goggle eyes of an automobile drawn up beside the platform, and deep silence reigns but for the muffled, irregular thud of the auto-car's motor. But the beam of the 1,010's headlight shows the small station building massed by men, a score of them poising for a spring to the platforms of the private car when the slackening speed shall permit. A bullet tears into the woodwork at Callahan's elbow, and another breaks the glass of the window beside him, but he makes the stop as steadily as if death were not snapping at him from behind and roaring in his ears from the belly of the burned engine.

"Be doomping yer fire lively, now, Jimmy, b'y," he says, dropping from the box to help. And while they wrestle with the dumping-bar, these two, the poising figures have swarmed upon the Naught-seven, and a voice is lifted above the Babel of others in sharp protest.

"Put away that rope, boys! There's law here, and by God, we're going to maintain it."

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

SHOT AT A CAT BUT KILLED WIFE INSTEAD

Long Island Farmer Put a Bullet Through a Wall Into Heart of His Helpmate.

St. James, L. I.—Ludwig Weisse, a prosperous farmer of this place, shot and almost instantly killed his wife the other day, but the bullet that entered her heart was not intended for her. It was aimed at a strange cat that had invaded the hennery.

Weisse, prostrated by the tragedy, was arrested by his own son, Deputy Sheriff Rudolph Weisse, the only official at hand legally competent to act in the case. But it was so clear that the killing was accidental that the county authorities released the heart-broken farmer and surrendered to him the body of his wife.

THE BULLET MISSED THE CAT.

Weisse is 66 years old. He owns one of the best equipped farms in the vicinity. His wife was a noted breeder of fine poultry, and the Weisse hennery is one of the finest on Long Island. Recently eggs and chickens have disappeared. Mrs. Weisse accused prowling cats.

At nine o'clock the other morning Mrs. Weisse saw a cat enter the hennery. She called her husband, who took a rifle and ran to the big hennery.

Just then a farmhand called for instructions and Mrs. Weisse went out in search of her husband. At the door of the hennery she called his name.

"In a minute," he replied. "I'll come as soon as I kill this cat and not before."

Just then Weisse spied the cat on top of a barrel in the dark. Supposing that his wife had returned to the house he fired. The bullet missed the cat, crashed through the thin wall of the hennery and entered the heart of Mrs. Weisse. She screamed as she fell, and in an instant the farmer was at her side. Medical aid was summoned in haste, but she was dead before it arrived.

A VILLAGE SHOCKED OVER FOOT SOCIAL.

Fad in a Charity Entertainment Leads to Wrangle Among Norristown, Pa., Church Folk.

Norristown, Pa.—A "foot social," held recently at a residence near West Conshohocken, has caused much gossip among those who do not believe in novelties. The "social" was held for the purpose of providing certain charity funds, and those who attended say that the affair was a complete success.

The manner in which the fad was carried out is the cause of the excitement and the sudden suppression of the names of those who participated in the affair. Across the room in which the guests of the evening were assembled there was drawn a curtain, being such a distance from the floor as to permit the display of the feet of those sitting in the rear of the curtain.

The women guests took positions back of this curtain and exposed their feet beneath it, while one, acting as auctioneer, sold the pair of feet to the highest bidder. The lucky purchaser kept the woman to whom the feet belonged as a partner during the evening and entertained her at supper.

It is understood that about $100 was realized and the proceeds were applied to a worthy charity.

LAID TO MISPLACED LIVER.

Why Worst Boy in Chicago Is a Confirmed Thief According to a Physician.

Chicago. — Stephen Szadokierski, dubbed by the police of Chicago as the worst boy in the city, has at last found out why it is that he cannot help being bad. It was found on an examination by Dr. Sydney Kuh that the lad's heart is on the right side and his liver is on the left side. "Who could help being bad with such an arrangement of his 'works?'" said the doctor, after he had made the examination.

"I can't understand how he has been as good as he has been, for, besides this peculiar arrangement of his physical organs, he has water on the brain," concluded Dr. Kuh.

The formal report of the case, setting forth in formal terms the cauces of little ten-year-old Stephen's excessive badness, will be sent to Judge Mack, in whose court the case was tried.

This will probably solve the problem of the little fellow, who was brought into the juvenile court and hailed by his father and the police as an incorrigible little thief. The father, Marion Szadokierski, claims that he has been impoverished by the thefts of his son.

THE YAQUI INDIANS

ANCIENT MEXICAN RACE OF ADVANCED CIVILIZATION.

Oppressed and Their Lands Confiscated They Have Become Rebellious and a Menace to Citizen and Traveler.

When the whole country is aroused over the murder in Mexico of prominent Americans by Yaqui Indians, it comes in the nature of a surprise to one searching after information concerning these hostile red men to read, in the first paragraph of an authoritative article: "Before the advent of the Spaniards they were the most numerous and powerful race in northern Mexico, and were then, as now, an exceedingly peaceful people." We have been led to think of them, when we thought of them at all, as exceedingly fierce, vengeful, lawless, no respecters of life or property; now swooping down on inoffensive Mexican, now playing highwaymen, robbing and slaying luckless bands passing by their mountain retreats.

Heedful of the oft-repeated admonition to judge the present in the light of the past, let us consider what manner of Indians they were in days gone by, what conditions have brought them to their present state of rebelliousness.

Before the Spaniards came the Yaquis were the most numerous and powerful race in northern Mexico, to-day they are the most populous aboriginal tribe dwelling in the province of Sonora. Prior to the Spanish invasion they had attained to a considerable degree of civilization; they tilled the soil, and in minor manufactures were well skilled; made excellent pottery, wove blankets and woolen fabrics. After the Spaniards came they continued, when not interfered with, a peaceful, independent people; but oppression decimated their numbers and drove many of them into open rebellion.

For some years past the Sonora government has had an Indian question it has not found a ready matter to solve. Ever since the Sonora government confiscated their hereditary lands along the course of the Yaqui river. From time immemorial the Yaquis had owned these lands, and when the government seized them the Indians did not submit tamely. Upon being dispossessed, a part of the tribe took to the war path, and successfully defied troops sent to quell them. Ever since the Indians were driven from the river and sought the mountains, back in 1886, efforts to dislodge them have met with failure. Repeatedly in the last 25 years have Sonora troops been sent from the capital out into the Yaqui region for the purpose of settling the rebels, and generally have had to retreat ignominously.

The Yaqui is as good a fighter as he is worker; knowing every inch of his country, an adept in ambush warfare, he has such an advantage on his side that soldiers and travelers fare ill when they fall into his retributive hands. Though there never is any very large band of Yaquis engaged at one time in fighting, yet their system of reenforcing in time of need keeps up the strength of the warrior band; as soon as scouts inform a chief that soldiers are advancing against the tribe, he sends out messengers in all directions where his tribesmen are at work, and presently in small groups there come straggling in enough men to make a resistance. They stay just long enough to scare the soldiers away, then when the game of war is over return without delay to their labor.

It is thought that a better way to overcome the Yaquis than by violence is to assure them of steady work and good wages in the rich lands that American capital has been developing; and to assure them of honest rule, relieve them of the oppression they experienced when under dishonest Mexican overseers they labored in the Sonora mines and fields. Though given but a scanty pittance for their hard work, their employers knew well enough that these laborers were industrious and plucky, immeasurably superior to the lazy, sullen Mexicans working beside them. And the Yaquis of a few years ago was socially superior, "exhibiting an activity and gayety in marked contrast to the sullen, brow-beaten Mexican laborer."

NORMAN CUTTING.

More Time, Less Sermon.

The subject of making literary abridgments was being discussed.

"To make a good abridgment," said Hugh Hastings, the state historian, "requires as much time and talent as to write an original work. That reminds me of an interview between a distinguished authoress and the late Henry Ward Beecher. She complimented him upon his sermon, but said it had one fault—it was too short."

"'Madam,' he replied, 'I should have made it shorter if I had had more time.'"—N. Y. Herald.

SPORTING NEWS

DIAMOND DUST.

The New York Giants will play at the St. George Cricket grounds, Hoboken, on Sunday, May 7, which will be the opening game for Hoboken.

Yesterday's New York World says that if Dave Fultz does not sign with the New York Americans he will play Saturday ball for the Plainfield Baseball Association.

Dave Driscoll, who will play first base for the Plainfield team, will also be the captain. This is sure to inspire confidence in the players for he probably has no equal on the initial bag outside of the big league.

Some of the managers in the Lackawanna League are much disturbed over the announcement that "Mike" Leonard is to play in Plainfield this season. They had hoped to have him in that league, but such is the fortune of baseball.

Manager Murphy, of Summit, Lackawanna League team, still believes that he will have Linderman as a pitcher for his team this season. It is safe to bet that if he pitches anywhere outside the New York Giants, it will be here in Plainfield.

Westfield will open the season on Saturday, April 22, with Rahway for an opponent. It has been noted that Westfield always selects a team for the opening which it is almost sure to beat. On Saturday, April 29, the Cuban X Giants are announced to play at Westfield.

"'Al.' Farmer as Westfield's catcher has caused more than a few Plainfield fans to prick up their ears. George H. Johnston as a trustee, has also caused some comment on the down to business way of Westfield methods."—Westfield Standard.

Herbert Smithson, better known in baseball as "Hubbie" and who played short-stop for Westfield last year, is now out of the game for good. He met with an accident a few weeks ago, when pieces from a broken saucer got in his eyes. While it will not deprive him from his sight entirely, it is so impaired that he will never again be able to stop hot grounders in the infield. "Hubbie's" father has since set him up in the hotel business in Hoboken, within a block of the St. George Cricket grounds.

"The cry of The Plainfield Press is 'no hot air and a straight schedule this year,' all this following the announcement that Plainfield would open April 15 against the Philadelphia Athletics, when any reasoning follower of ball knew well that such could not be the case."—Westfield Standard. However, just as soon as the management learned it could not get the real thing from Philadelphia, the game was cancelled and the Jersey City Eastern League team was given the date. Westfield need not lose any sleep over Plainfield this year. When the teams meet the Queen City boys will be prepared for "Hot Air" Mallen's collection.

GOLF.

With the approach of spring the members of the Plainfield Country Club and the Park Club are anxiously waiting for the opportunity to get on links and resume play. The present indications are that both courses will be in fine condition this year.

FLOMERFELT TRIAL BEGAN THIS MORNING

INDICATIONS ARE THAT IT WILL CONTINUE FOR TWO OR THREE DAYS.

The trial of Jacob Flomerfelt, charged with the killing of his brother-in-law, Frank Cramer, was begun in the Somerset County Court, this morning, and is likely to continue for two or three days. The morning session was occupied in examining witnesses for the State.

Cramer met his death as the result of a quarrel which he had with Flomerfelt. In the fight which followed it was claimed that the accused used brass knuckles, inflicting fatal injuries. The matter caused widespread interest throughout Somerset county, owing to the prominence of the men, both belonging to old families, highly respected for many year. It was also charged that Cramer was addicted to the use of liquor and that while in an intoxicated state abused his wife, which incensed her brother, Flomerfelt, and led him to attack Cramer.

JOURNALISTIC OPINION.

A Model Vice Chancellor.

Vice Chancellor James J. Bergen has just completed the work of his first full term as a member of the Court of Chancery and it has been noted in connection with this fact that Vice Chancellor Bergen in his first term's work lived up to the standard of his predecessor, who is now a member of the Supreme Court, Justice Reed, by rendering opinions in almost twice as many cases as any other Vice Chancellor. As a result of the work of the November term of the Court of Chancery 88 opinions were filed. Of these 24 were written by Vice Chancellor Bergen. The next largest number was 14, rendered by Vice Chancellor Emery. Chancellor Magie gave opinions in 11 cases, Vice Chancellor Stevenson in 12 and Vice Chancellor Garrison in 10. The promptness with which Vice Chancellor Bergen decides the cases that come before him has attracted the attention of the members of the bar. A lawyer who has a large Chancery practice, in speaking of this matter said: "When a lawyer argues a case before Vice Chancellor Bergen he knows that he will get a decision soon and that is a satisfaction even if the decision be against him, for then he knows just how he stands and does not have to wait in suspense." The first of Vice Chancellor Bergen's opinions to be carried to the higher court was affirmed by the Court of Errors and Appeals last Friday. It was in the suit of Alice E. Strong against Bernard Smith and others, involving the right to sell some mortgaged property on the Rumson Road in Monmouth County.—New Brunswick Home News.

Military Board "Uppish."

New Jersey's military representation in the inaugural parade consisted of the Essex Troop, the Signal corps, the Camden Battery and the naval reserves. It is regretted that the differences between the Legislature and the State Military Board occurred; however, the State organizations made a good showing. If the military board had not been so "uppish" in its action toward Captain Martin, the presence of Companies K and L in the parade would have made Jersey's contribution to the display exceedingly creditable.—Elizabeth Journal.

MRS. BABCOCK'S GIFT

Offers $4,000 to Equip Science Room of New High School.

IN MEMORY OF HUSBAND

Board of Education Accepts and Expresses Thanks by Naming it "Babcock Laboratory."

Through the generosity of Mrs. George H. Babcock and her son, George L. Babcock, the new Plainfield High School now in course of erection, will be equipped with one of the most extensive science departments to be found in any building of its character in the State. In the name of her husband, the late George H. Babcock, who was at one time president of the Plainfield Board of Education and intensely interested in the local school system, the present Board of Education received an offer of $4,000 from her to equip the laboratories. Her intentions were made known in the following letter read at the regular meeting of the Board last night:

"To the Board of Education:

"Gentlemen—During his life, Mr. Babcock was deeply interested in all that pertained to the public schools and particularly in the proposition to erect a new high school. If he were now living, he would be especially interested in the equipment of the science department in the new building; therefore as an expression of this interest which he always felt and as a memorial of his service as a member and president of the Board of Education, I hereby join with my son, George H. Babcock, in offering the Board of Education four thousand dollars for the equipment of the laboratories of the new high school.

"Respectfully submitted,

"Mrs. George H. Babcock."

Following the reading of the letter by Superintendent Maxson, Mr. Abbott offered a resolution that Mrs. Babcock's generous offer be accepted and that in recognition of her thoughtfulness, this department be designated as the "Babcock Laboratory," and that a memorial tablet bearing the donors' names be placed in the room. It was carried unanimously.

The remainder of the business transacted at the meeting was purely of a routine nature with the exception of Superintendent Maxson's report of the National Superintendents' Association annual convention at Milwaukee which is printed entire in another column. The medical inspectors reported examining twenty-eight pupils during the past month, this being supplemented with a verbal report from Superintendent Maxson, who said the epidemic of measles in the West End had practically abated. Thomas Fay and Patrick Powers applied for the appointment as engineer of the new high school and S. S. Valentine and William Gunselman asked for the janitorship of the same. Miss Mabel Wilkins, of Mountainside, also applied for appointment on the teaching staff.

Preliminary plans for the commencement exercises in June were discussed and it was said by Mr. Abbott that in all probability, if the Board so desired, they could be held in the auditorium of the new building. It would necessitate a decrease in the number of invitations at least 400 as the seating capacity is but 800. Mr. Abbott also reported that he would secure the commencement speaker before the next meeting.

SABBATH DESCREATION.

Subject of Address Before Trinity Ladies' Christian Work Society.

Better observance of the Sabbath, and how to deal with the growing desecration of the Lord's Day, was in brief the substance of Miss White's address at the regular meeting of the Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed church yesterday afternoon. The meeting was largely attended.

Miss White referred in her address to the many ways in which the Sabbath is broken and said that the sin is growing. She mentioned various sports as aiding in Sabbath desecration and dwelt at some length upon the business houses which require Sunday work.

In conclusion, Miss White said that though in many cases the spirit and enterprise of the age demands a more or less excusable disregard for the Sabbath, it was the work of all Christian societies to stop as far as possible the rapidly growing desecration, which comes from mere pleasure seeking.

SUPT. MAXSON'S REPORT OF PRINCIPALS' CONVENTION

GIVES INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF RECENT GATHERING AT MILWAUKEE.

According to his annual custom, Superintendent H. M. Maxson, of the city schools, made a report to the Board of Education, last night, telling of his observances at the convention of the National Association of School Superintendents, held this year at Milwaukee, Wis. His report in detail was as follows:

"March 6, 1905.

"To the Board of Education.

"Gentlemen—Through the kindness of the Board I attended the annual meeting of the National Superintendents Department last week. Nearly a thousand superintendents and other educators were present and I found the meetings very profitable both by way of gaining new ideas and inspiration and by gaining confirmation and approval of ideas and principles already in use in the Plainfield schools. No small part of the value of such a meeting is the opportunity it affords for personal exchange of ideas with other earnest workers from all parts of the country, as they gather in groups for conversation on the cars and between the meetings, and I was fortunate in being able to discuss many problems and compare methods in with men wide experience. I also found opportunity to visit schools in Chicago and Milwaukee, seeing some things that offered new suggestions and also much that simply increased my pride in the Plainfield schools.

"It was particularly gratifying that the strongest address was by one of our own graduates, Dr. George Vincent. The chief topics for consideration were: 'How to Increase the Efficiency of Our Public School Work;' 'Morality in Children;' 'Child Labor;' 'The Appointment and Promotion of Teachers;' and 'Manual Training.'

"Much emphasis was laid on the necessity for securing strong character in the teacher if we would improve the school and that this cannot be done without paying salaries sufficient to attract to school work men and women of high character and attainments who will make teaching a life profession. It was further held that good teachers require wise direction and strong leadership by principals and superintendents and that efforts should be made to stimulate them to continual growth while teaching.

"Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, Chicago, addressed the convention on child labor, maintaining that in many states the work of the school is well nigh thrown away because the factory takes the child at such an early age that his growth is stunted and his powers weakened so that he can never give a full return to the State as a normal man. She criticised the New Jersey law in its concession to certain manufacturing interests and in lack of vigor in its enforcement in some quarters.

"The discussion of manual training was of special interest and value to me as the subject has been much in my own thoughts this year. The completion of the new High School will make it possible for us to take up the work of hand training in the city schools. As is known to the Board, I have long felt that this work is desirable but that it was not wise to undertake it under present crowded conditions. The addresses at the convention brought out with much force the educational value of a well ordered course in manual training and the principles on which it should be based and confirmed my own estimate of its desirability for our schools. I hope to present the matter to the Board in formal shape at some future meeting.

"Respectfully submitted,

"H. M. Maxson."

Notice to North Plainfield Taxpayers

In conformity with instructions from the Mayor and Council, I must proceed under the new law to enforce the payment of delinquent poll and personal taxes for the years 1903 and 1904. All taxes remaining unpaid on March 15th will be placed in the hands of W. W. Rowley for collection, who has been appointed Deputy Collector. Payment made before the above date will save interest and costs.

WORK OF THE COUNCIL

Board of Health Desires Appropriation of $4,500.

ROUNDSMAN RESIGNS

Remonstrances Against Schanz License Transfer—Commissioners of Assessment.

While the March meeting of the Common Council held last night was not taken up with the transaction of many matters of great importance, there was an unusual amount of business of general interest. In accordance with the rule, Mayor J. F. Buckle appointed Robert A. Meeker, John W. Murray, Jr., and DeWitt C. Ivins, commissioners to assess benefits and damages for the construction of sanitary sewers. The matter was referred to the street and sewer committee and later the appointments were confirmed.

Elston M. French complained that he had been assessed twice on some property on the Second Ward, when he had sold some of the property on contract with the understanding that the purchaser pay the tax. The petition was referred to the finance committee and Mr. Tolles reported that Mr. French's request could be granted this year, but that the corporation counsel had informed the members that taxpayers have their redress by consulting with the Commissioners of Appeal, and only in case of error has the Common Council any right to act, and he therefore moved that the request for an adjustment be denied. The motion was adopted.

Mrs. Caroline J. Rockfellow, in a communication, informed the Common Council that she had paid her real estate tax for 824 Park avenue, but requested that a personal tax of $350 be crossed off her bill as she has not lived in Plainfield for three years and she has no personal property here. The matter was referred to the proper committee.

Residents of East Front street petitioned for two fire hyrdants to be located on that street between Raymond avenue and Terrill road, and the petition was referred to the fire and building committee.

The Board of Health, through the president, Charles J. Fisk, stated that the amount needed this year for the care of the city's health would be $4,500, with the understanding that all fees coming to the Board should be transferred to the city treasurer. The matter was referred to the finance committee. Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that during February nine permits were granted, and after Chairman Bullock, of the fire and building committee, examined the permits he moved that they be received and filed.

Mr. Bullock offered a resolution, which was adopted, granting the petition of residents for a fire hydrant at McDowell and West Third streets.

Mr. Tyler offered the resignation of Roundsman William J. Mattox, dated Friday, February 10, and on his motion it was accepted. He stated that Mr. Mattox had been a faithful member of the police department and he regretted that he was forced to resign on account of ill-health.

Regarding the petition of W. R. Coddington, protesting against the granting of a license to Charles Schanz for 136 Park avenue, and which was not presented at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council in February, owing to the fact that it could not be found, Mr. Tyler said that it had been given to Mr. Coddington's partner, Mr. Swackhamer for the purpose of securing other signers and through an oversight it did not come back in time for the adjourned meeting. Mr. Tyler presented the petition last night and it was filed, as was also one received from Mrs. T. J. Pruden, who owns property in Park avenue, between Second and Front streets, in which she protested against the granting of a license to Charles Schanz and threatening to take legal action if an attempt is made to close up the driveway adjoining the property in question at 136 Park avenue.

After Mr. Tolles called up on third reading the ordinance providing for the sending of the city's indigent poor to the hospital, in accordance with the agreement with the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, the Common Council adjourned.

Hospital is Busy.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital met at the Public Library, last night, and transacted routine business. It was reported that February was a very busy at the hospital there being a large number of operations. Sunday there were twenty-six patients at the institution.

FIRE DEPARTMENT NEEDS MORE MONEY

Commissioner Bullock Asks For a Larger Appropriation.

A PLAN SUGGESTED

May Take 25 Per Cent. of Funds Derived From License Fees—$4,500 as Extra Appropriation.

Councilman W. S. Bullock, as chairman of the fire and building committee of the Common Council, took occasion at last night's meeting of the Common Council to make a few remarks regarding the money which will be needed to run the fire department this year. He explained the situation before the annual budget is fixed and what he had to say caused a mild sensation. Mr. Bullock was impressing upon the members the necessity of allowing a large appropriation for its maintenance, when City Clerk MacMurray wheeled about in his chair and engaged President Daniel in conversation. Mr. Bullock immediately stopped talking and did not resume until Mr. Daniel addressed him. He then returned the recognition on the part of the president by a pleasant "Thank you."

In speaking of the matter which he introduced, Mr. Bullock said:

"I find myself appointed the chairman of a committee which has in charge the supervision of one of the most important departments of the city's work—in many respects, perhaps, the most important. And I find the committee handicapped at the very beginning of the year by the seeming certainty of not having money enough at its disposal to carry on the necessary work of the department and maintain its present efficiency throughout the term of office of this committee.

"It is all very well for committees to run into debts as has been done on more than one occasion, and then carry certain bills over to the next year for the purpose of showing a balance on the books. Personally I do not believe in handing this sort of a legacy to succeeding committees. Let the balance be a real one or none at all.

"I would call your attention to the list of fixed and absolute expenses of the department, and to the further items of necessity appended thereto, for which no provision has been made or can be made if the department has to be conducted for the year on a little more than $24,000. On a conservative estimate the items on this appended list will total $4,500, which with the fixed expenses will be but $28,170, which is $3,633.46 less than the Chief asked for in his annual report. The total amount presented to your attention does not include any addition to the manual force, although the Chief has asked for more full paid men, it does not include any addition to apparatus, nor does it comprehend the much needed fire house in the East End, with the necessary complement of men and apparatus. The sum asked for is for essentials—and essentials only. It is less than $1,000 above last year's expenses.

"Speaking personally, I prefer to resign my position as chairman of this committee, rather than to see the department run into debt or become less efficient through lack of a few thousand dollars. I do not propose to stand by until the end of the year and turn the department over to the fire and buildings committee of 1906 with a legacy of unpaid bills. Neither do I propose to wait until the closing months of the year, when bills have accumulated beyond our capacity to pay, and then ask this body to help us out.

"The Mayor, in his annual message, saw fit to criticise last year's committee for not having asked the Council for assistance earlier in the year, and in so doing he created the absolutely erroneous impression in the minds of some citizens that the department was extravagantly conducted. Of course the Mayor did not intend to convey any such impression, as his long years of experience in Councilmanic work put him in position to be intimately in touch with the exact situation. Yet, as I say, this wholly erroneous impression did obtain, in certain quarters, from a perusal of the Mayor's message. The Mayor intended only to call the attention of the committee, and of the Council of which it was a part, to the fact that it was not right for that

LARGE CROWD AT BALL

Gesang and Turn Verein Annual Affair a Great Success.

VARIED COSTUMES

Many Features Make the Event One the Best the Organization Has Ever Conducted.

In point of attendance, costumes and all-round success, the sixteenth annual masquerade ball of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein in Saengerbund Hall, last night, will stand out prominently as the peer of its fifteen predecessors. Fully 400 people, the majority of them in fancy dress and with features hidden behind masks, were present when O'Reily's orchestra of eight pieces struck up the grand march and the number did not lessen perceptibly until long after midnight. The general committee headed by Herman Klinsman had exerted every effort to provide for the comfort of their many guests and the members had the satisfaction of witnessing everyone enjoying the social side of the affair as well as the delights of terpischorean pleasure.

The ball was the first annual affair the Turn Verein has held in the remodelled hall and the interior was a mass of decorations in honor of the event. German and American flags were draped everywhere and with the full illumination from hundreds of electric globes, the effect was strikingly pretty. Stretching across the dancing floor was a German flag measuring twenty-seven feet that was made by John Reitzer at the instigation of Chairman Klinsman, who planned the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Meyer, who have led the grand march for many years, again acted in that capacity and the scores of masqueraders that followed their intricate manoeuvres were watched by as many spectators in the gallery. The long line included Kings and Queens, Knights and Ladies, flower girls, shepherdesses, brides and grooms, fairies, dancing girls, clowns, harlequins, tramps, wild men and many others, all mingling in one jolly, Democratic crowd. Some of the costumes were unusually elaborate and the amusing features were more plentiful than ever before.

Amusement for young and old was furnished by an elephant that roamed about under the direction of Frank Neidig as the "Dutch trainer." It was truly a remarkable piece of work and when "dissected" revealed Andrew Mulford and William Skinner as the locomotive power. While there were many dancers on the floor who had attended the Gesang's first ball in 1889, honor last night went to Walter Weber, the two-year-old grandson of Michael Weber, of East Third street, who participated in the march. The little fellow was attired as a "butcher boy" and he kept step with the music like a veteran marcher. Another feature of the march was five "brides maids" in the persons of Mrs. Adolph Barre, Mrs. Herman Klinsman, Miss Edith Kreutzfeldt, Mrs. Henry Haurand and Miss Martha Jellig. Mrs. Charles F. Meyer was a sixth "bridesmaid."

Among the many other notable costumes were the following: Mrs. J. William Waters, "butterfly;" Miss Clara Weber, "dancing girl;" the Misses Edith Meyer, Nettie Schlick and Barbara Shlick, "Japanese girls;" Mrs. Emil Dembowsky, "Queen of the night;" Mrs. Henry Rummel, "nurse;" Mrs. I. H. Boehm and Miss Margaret Burke, "Red Cross nurses;" Mrs. Andrew Schlick, Mrs. John Retzer, Mrs. Carl Felber and Mrs. George Haurand, "sister of charity;" Mrs. Charles Holstein, "fairy;" Mrs. E. A. Laine, of Brooklyn, "Country maiden;" Miss Clara Dembowsky, Miss Hilda Petterson and Mrs Edward Townley, "flower girls;" Miss Margaret Whelan, "morning star;" Mrs. A. Alster, "Sis Hopkins;" Mrs. Jack Alster, "college widow;" Miss May Eriksen and Mrs. Frank Manchester, "Mexican girls;" Miss Christine Sorensen, "jockey;" Miss May Hirst, "tambourine girl;" Miss Minnie Gunther, "domino;" Miss Emma Gunther, "Japanese girl;" Miss Bessie Strickler, of New York, "shepherdess;" Mrs. Eugene O'Reilly, "Egyptian girl;" Miss Hilda Rummel, "Swiss maiden;" W. Dembowsky, "farmer;" Herman Klinsman, Jr., "harlequin;" Rudolph Bleyr, "Happy Hooligan;" Frank Jellig, "Wild Man of Borneo;" Charles Fuchs, "clown;" John Schaub, of Raritan. "Uncle Sam;" William Stites, "prince;" Jacob Schlick, "Chinaman;" George Schlick, "Mother Hubbard;" M. Mennenbach, "Mikado;" Heinrich Hansen, "Mephisto."

The committee which arranged and had charge throughout consisted of Herman Klinsman, chairman; Charles F. Meyer, floor manager; Adolph Barre, John Wirth, Frank Jellig, John Reinman and Fred Schmith with Carl Felber, J. William Waters and William Claassen as assistants.

STREET WIDENING ORDINANCE PASSED

SECTIONS OF WATCHUNG AVENUE, SYCAMORE AND WEST SECOND STS.

Prior to the regular meeting of the Common Council, last night, a public hearing was granted those who wished to speak for or against the proposed widening of Sycamore street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, and the proposed action to establish building lines on Watchung avenue, between the New Jersey Central Railroad and Crescent avenue, and on West Second street, between Park avenue and Liberty street. Ordinances providing for these improvements were previously introduced by Mr. Wilson, chairman of the street and sewer committee.

G. W. V. Moy, Esq., representing Mrs. Anne R. Chapin, who owns the property on the north corner of Fifth and Sycamore streets, the one which will be most affected by the improvement, stated that while he formerly objected to the plan to widen the street sixty feet, he had no serious objections to the present plan calling for fifty feet. He added that his client was willing to have the street widened, believing it would be a benefit to the city, although her property would be damaged considerably and she would expect proper remuneration.

With the exception of the corner in question, where the width is forty-seven feet, the street is now fifty feet wide and the plan is to make it uniform.

There being no objectors to the widening or the establishment of side lines on Watchung avenue and West Second street, Mr. Wilson later moved the adoption of the three ordinances on final readings.

COUNCIL RECEIVES CERTERORARI WRIT

CORPORATION COUNSEL TO ACT IN SCHANZ LICENSE MATTER.

As was stated in The Daily Press of yesterday, a writ of certiorari issued by Chief Justice Gummere, of the Supreme Court, was served on City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, last night, as a result of the action of the Common Council in granting a liquor license to Charles Schanz for 136 Park avenue, provided he make certain improvements, including the erection of an iron gate with a lock and key at the entrance to the driveway, adjoining his proposed place of business.

The writ was issued at the request of W. L. Hetfield, Sr., as attorney for Mrs. Mary G. Hetfield, owner of the building on one side of the driveway and which is occupied by William Feiring and Mr. Hetfield. It requests that all papers and any facts in connection with the action of the Common Council in granting a license to Mr. Schanz be returned to the Supreme Court for review by Monday, March 20, and the writ does not stay all proceedings, as was first supposed.

Clerk MacMurray read the writ and on motion of Mr. Tolles the matter was referred to the police committee with instructions to consult with Corporation Counsel Marsh with a view to future action.

It is expected that W. H. Runyon and W. L. Hetfield, Jr., of counsel for Mr. Schanz will soon make a move looking toward a settlement of the matter which will secure for their client his license for 136 Park avenue. It is within the power of the counsel to rescind the resolution upon which Mr. Schanz's license was granted, compelling certain improvements, and have the application come up in the regular way as the others did.

An attempt will probably be made to have this done, although it is not known at present whether six votes could be obtained in favor of Mr. Schanz's application.

Another Good Show.

Manager Mase Edwards announces another great bill of professional talent at the Casino for the forthcoming Saturday matinee and night. Archie Boyd, the stellar attraction, is a well-known artist, a second Denman Thompson, and for many years played that gentleman's part throughout the country. The vaudeville artists in the great programme are "top liners" and a splendid entertainment may be expected. See advertisement for full particulars. Reserved seat tickets at Armstrong's.

TRIED TO KILL HIS WIFE

Colored Man Fires Three Shots at Her and Flees.

CAPTURED BY POLICE.

Charles Carr, the Husband, Held Without Bail on Charge of Atrocious Assault With Intent to Kill.

Angered because his wife refused to listen to his pleadings for her to return and live with him, Charles Carr, a well known local colored man, made a desperate attempt to kill the woman in a West Fourth street house last night. He called her to the door and when she retreated he pulled a revolver and fired three shots directly at her. The bullets buried themselves in the wall behind her. Carr fled but was captured this morning by Roundsman John Flynn and Patrolman Overbaugh. Arraigned before Justice Mosher on a charge of atrocious assault with intent to kill, he was committed without bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The Carrs have been living in the old "Battle Row" on West Fourth street but separated a short time ago and the wife boarded with the family of Hulbert Randolph just below on the same street. Carr has been trying to get his wife to return home but without avail and lately she even refused to see him. He went to the Randolph house last night and through the family asked his wife to come out and talk with him on the street. She declared she wanted nothing to do with him and this so angered him that he forced the door back and fired the shots as his wife ran to the far corner of the room.

Carr is employed as a driver.

STREET SPRINKLING BIDS ARE INVITED

CHECK FOR $500 MUST ACCOMPANY EACH BID.

Steps were taken at the March meeting of the Common Council, last night, toward securing bids for sprinkling the streets of the city during the coming season. These bids will be received at a meeting of the Common Council to be held on Thursday night, March 23, at 8 o'clock. The proposals will include the prices per month for furnishing sixteen horses with harness and eight drivers for operating the eight sprinkling wagons owned by the city, also separate proposals for operating the wagons in sets of two each. The specifications are on file.

All proposals must be accompanied by a certified check for $500, except for less than the entire contract and in that case the amount of the check must be $350, and upon the award of the contract, the successful bidder shall execute a bond, with two good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of $1,000 for the entire contract; $750 for six wagons, $500 for four wagons and $250 for two wagons; as a guarantee for the faithful performance of the work.

BOARD DISMISSES MAYOR'S CHARGES

BOROUGH BOARD OF HEALTH HOLDS EXECUTIVE SESSION.

After considering the facts behind closed doors, the Borough Board of Health last night, dismissed the charges brought by Mayor Smalley against Health Inspector Pangborn. Another closed meeting is to be held Friday when Mayor Smalley will be present.

MUKDEN THEIR SEDAN

Kuropatkin's Army Encircled by Nogi's Veterans.

A VERITABLE VALLEY OF DEATH.

Army of Japan Holds Its Main Center Position While Wings Envelop Russian Flanks, Threatening Their Railway Line.

LONDON, March 7.—A Newchwang dispatch says that the great Japanese movement for the envelopment of Mukden has so far met with overwhelming success, and it is almost certain that the stronghold of the Russians will prove another Sedan.

It is believed that the Japanese center is only required to hold its ground while the wings stretch far to the northward to encircle the Russian flanks or threaten the railway.

A Tokyo report says that the left of the Japanese army is rapidly closing on Mukden. A general attack is only a matter of hours. The right wing of the force advancing eastward has captured Onshiniu and Tachucapu, close to the railroad and twelve miles south of Mukden.

The Russian center has retired to Tinchatun station, ten miles south of Mukden. It is believed the Russians have set fire to their stores and retreated.

The escape of the main Russian forces seems impossible. It is already estimated that the troops opposing the left wing have lost more than 10,000 men.

The Russians are throwing away their arms and clothing in order to facilitate their escape.

General Nogi's Third army from Port Arthur has advanced far on the left wing and swept all before it. Nogi's men are reveling in the field work, which they regard as child's play after the siege of Port Arthur.

Generals Oku and Nogi are hammering the Russians back upon Mukden. The dramatic feature of all the recent fighting has been the forced march of General Nogi's Port Arthur army, which, advancing between the Hun and Liao rivers, not only passed the Russian right flank, but reached a point so near Mukden that its bursting shrapnel is visible from the western gates of the town.

The imperial tombs are a few minutes' ride from the Mukden railway station. Not only is there no natural line of defense on that side of the city, but not even temporary fortifications have been raised.

There is a suggestion in some dispatches that General Nogi's efforts may be neutralized by the tremendous strain imposed on his men by their extraordinarily rapid advance. In making this march General Nogi seems to have employed the same tactics he used at Port Arthur, believing that any sacrifice was justifiable to achieve the great end.

The road northward from Mukden is crowded so far as the eye can reach by a continuous file of two wheeled Chinese carts full of Russian wounded, the best testimony of the valor with which the army of the east, fighting continuously for a fortnight, has defended every inch of the ground over which it has been compelled by superior numbers to retire.

The valley in front of the Russian position has become a valley of death. Corpses strew the debatable ground from which neither side can remove its dead.

Again and again the Japanese charged down the slope and up the hill. Again and again the Russians counter attacked, trying to gain possession of "the hill with the tower." No quarter was asked for or given by either side. The enmity ceased only in death, the wounded, with breasts torn open by shrapnel or bayonet, essaying another shot with their last breath.

Everywhere corpses, corpses, corpses!

For two days the Russians have been concentrating a heavy artillery fire on "the hill with the tower," stopping the Japanese sapper work. At 2 o'clock in the morning the Russian skirmishers heard a noise at "the hill with the tower." Creeping forward, they discovered that the Japanese were heaping up corpses as defenses. The Russian field batteries immediately opened fire and forced a cessation of the work.

Japanese prisoners are filing past toward the rear. They are ravenous with hunger. They say they started with provisions for three days and were then ordered to make them last for six days. They had not eaten since Sunday morning. General Kuropatkin has ordered that they be fed, and they are eating as they march in.

It is reported that the scouts of General Nogi's and General Kuroki's armies are already in touch behind Tie pass.

General MacArthur For the Front.

TOKYO, March 7.—Major General MacArthur of the United States army, accompanied by his aids, Captain Parker W. West of the Eleventh cavalry and Captain John Pershing of the Fifteenth cavalry, will leave Tokyo for the front on March 9 as military observers with the Japanese armies.

General Strike at Vilna.

VILNA, March 7.—A general strike has been inaugurated here. No newspapers appear today. All shops have been closed for fear of looting. Since martial law was declared at Baku order has been restored, but business remains at a standstill. The streets are patrolled by troops.

Dear Sirs:—For over two years I have been troubled with inflamed and itching blotches on both feet. I have doctored and used any number of preparations which failed to cure. Azienza Cream, immediately after the first application, caused the soreness and itching to cease. After using two fifty-cent jars I am cured. I cannot speak of and recommend it too highly. Azienza Cream is a necessity in every household.

CARNEGIE IN COURT

Trial of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick Abruptly Adjourned.

COURT CLOSED WHEN SHE FAINTED

New York Financier and Woman Who Held Large Notes Signed With His Name Met Presumably For the First Time.

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—A complete nervous collapse by Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick brought the first day of her trial to an abrupt close.

E. H. Halter of Oberlin, the second witness called by the state, was on the stand and had answered but two questions when Mrs. Chadwick, who was very pale, whispered to her attorneys that she would be compelled to leave the room. She passed out quickly and upon reaching the anteroom sank into a chair in a faint. Two trained nurses who were in the courtroom were hastily summoned, and in a few moments Mrs. Chadwick was revived. She was in no condition to return to the courtroom, however, and Judge Taylor adjourned the trial.

Shorn of its legal phraseology, the charge on which Mrs. Chadwick is arraigned is conspiracy against the laws of the United States, the conspiracy as defined by the government resting in the agreement between her and the officials of the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, O., to issue and negotiate certified checks when she had no money in the bank.

"The evidence to be submitted in the case," said District Attorney Sullivan in opening the case, "will show that Mrs. Chadwick was associated with Spear and Beckwith, the officials of the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, O., in business. They had many transactions together, in the course of which eight different checks amounting in all to $67,000 were certified by Spear and Beckwith. The evidence will show that when these checks were certified no money was in the bank in the name of Mrs. Chadwick and no entries to her credit were on the books of the bank."

He then read several counts of the indictment to the jury, in one of which Mrs. Chadwick was mentioned as "alias Mme. Devere."

Mrs. Chadwick kept her eyes on Attorney Sullivan's face throughout his address and never moved a muscle or changed a feature in the slightest degree when called "Mme. Devere."

Jay P. Dawley, leading counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, said on rising to make his statement to the jury:

"The defendant has pleaded not guilty to all the charges contained in the indictment, and that is all that she at this time is prepared to say."

Mr. Dawley alluded to the aliases mentioned in the indictment, saying that he had no knowledge of why they were inserted there unless it was for the purpose of creating a prejudice against his client.

Ten minutes prior to the time set for opening the case Mrs. Chadwick came into court in the custody of two bailiffs. She was calm and self possessed, showing not the slightest trace of excitement.

She wore a black gown and white silk shirt waist, which was for the most part concealed by a black velvet coat which was relieved by white revers and white cuffs covered with black braid. She wore a wide black hat, on the left side of which was a bunch of long black feathers which shaded off into white at the tips. She took a seat at a long table in the center of the courtroom immediately behind her leading counsel, Jay P. Dawley, and, resting her chin in the palm of her right hand, remained a calm but closely interested spectator of the proceedings.

The jury secured is considered a good one for Mrs. Chadwick. The evidence against her will naturally relate largely to banks and banking procedure, and there is not a banker or a business man among the twelve. Eleven are farmers, and one is a real estate dealer.

Mr. Dawley was busy with the third juror when the door opened and Andrew Carnegie, followed by S. T. Everett, at whose home he is staying, entered the room. Mr. Carnegie gave one quick glance at the woman sitting by the table and then walked quietly past her to a seat on the east side of the courtroom.

Mrs. Chadwick was ignorant of his arrival and made no signs as he passed her. Later the information was whispered to her that Mr. Carnegie was in the room, but she did not turn her head or glance in his direction.

Mr. Carnegie, on the contrary, seemed to be highly interested in Mrs. Chadwick, and, as he sat where he could study her closely without being himself observed, he took advantage of his opportunity to the full and subjected her from time to time with close scrutiny.

Mr. Dawley in mentioning the name of his client invariably called her Mrs. "Shadwick," which afforded considerable amusement to the audience at first and caused Mr. Carnegie to smile broadly when he first heard it.

Just prior to the acceptance of the jury Mrs. C. T. Beckwith, widow of the president of the Oberlin bank, came into the courtroom and was given a seat next to Andrew Carnegie. She gazed at him with frank curiosity for a moment and then gave her attention to the courtroom. Mr. Carnegie had no knowledge of the identity of his neighbor or if he had did not betray it.

Plainfield, N. J., March 7, 1905.

Thanks, the license question is settled for a year to come, out of all the discussion and contention. We feel that it will be quite generally admitted that our city has evolved a more satisfactory settlement of the vexed question than any other city in this State.

Through the generosity of Mrs. George H. Babcock and her son, the new high school, for which $125,000 will be expended, is to have a thoroughly equipped laboratory. The gift is intended as a memorial to her husband, who during his life was deeply interested in the cause of education. Mr. Babcock was once president of the Plainfield board and during the entire period of his connection with that body displayed great energy in advancing the grade of the schools and promoting education facilities. This timely gift from his widow and son will be indeed a fitting memorial.

"The loser of a gold watch or a valuable piece of jewelry or a roll of bills never seeks to recover his property by sending out circulars, or hiring sandwich men to parade the streets, or plastering blank walls with flaring posters," says the Philadelphia Record. "He advertises his loss in the newspapers. Common sense tells him that he can reach the greatest number of people with least expense in that way. It is for precisely that reason that the newspaper is the best means of communication between producers and distributers on the one hand and consumers on the other. It gives the advertiser more for his money than he can obtain through any other channel of publicity."

FIRE DEPT. NEEDS MORE MONEY

committee, or any other committee, to be placed in such a position by the body which created it. I do not subscribe to the belief, expressed in certain quarters, that the Mayor desired or intended to make political capital out of his statement.

"Now the Mayor has made public, on the floor of this Council, certain private courtesies extended by him and to him, but he has not made any suggestions as to the best methods of relieving the situation in the fire department to which reference has just been made, although he has been asked to by this committee. I therefore ask, on behalf of a majority of the committee, if it is found to be feasible, that 25 per cent. of the sums accruing to the city from liquor, hack, peddler, show and other licenses and from water, gas, electric light, telephone, telegraph, street railway, railroad and other franchise taxes be set aside for fire department purposes. This will give the department about $4,500, figured on the basis of last year's receipts from the several sources mentioned. This sum, in addition to the $24,000 which we estimate will be derived from direct taxation, will make it possible for this committee to conduct the fire department creditably, keep up its credit in the city treasury.

"Fixed expenses of the fire department.

Salary account	$13,105
Hydrant rentals, 312, at $15	4,680
Keep of horses	2,225
Fuel	525
Rent of team for steamer	325
Rent of lot (right of way)	30
Insurance (houses and apparatus)	280
Interest	400
Fire alarm telegraph system (Maintenance, wire, repairs, labors, etc.)	1,300
Supplies	900

"In this total absolutely no provision is made for additional equipment of any kind, no repairs to apparatus or buildings, some of which are necessary each year, no extra horses in case of heavy snows such as we have just experienced, or to temporarily replace those now in the department in case of accident or sickness, no unusual repairs to the fire alarm system, should severe storms cripple it, no extensions to the same; no printing and stationary account and no incidental expenses, which include laundry, etc."

Mr. Bullock then introduced a resolution referring to the question of collecting twenty-five per cent. of the taxes from the various funds to the fire and building committee for advisement with the corporation counsel. This resolution prevailed.

Mr. Tolles wanted to know what the twenty-five per cent. would amount to, and Mr. Bullock replied that it would give the department about $4,500, the amount desired, although it was not the intention of the committee to spend any more than was absolutely necessary.

Mr. Tolles continued by saying that with the increased valuations in the city the fire department would receive about $30,000 this year, but Mr. Bullock added that he had consulted with Corporation Counsel Marsh and the latter said that he saw no reason why the fire department should not ask for more money.

Mr. Tyler wanted to know what effect the proposed law fixing the tax rate throughout the State at $1.70 would have on Mr. Bullock's measure. The latter replied that probably every department would be cut down, unless the valuations were greatly increased.

William T. Newman, of West Second street, is confined to his home by illness.

Miss Emma Space has returned after a visit with friends in New York.

William Brokaw has taken a position in the employ of John Kenney.

M. G. Fagely has returned from a visit with relatives in Mauch Chunk.

Mrs. Joseph Apgar is confined to her home by a bad cold.

Arthur Vail is confined to his home by illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The residents of Alton may be far removed from the outside world, but they manage to enjoy life. First it was the telephone war, when the lonely sentinels of the "Glazer Guards" patrolled the cowpaths and lawns, for the purpose of preventing the employes of the Northeastern Telephone Company erecting poles and stringing their wires until they had paid certain levies claimed for damages. Now a war of extermination against Glazer's fat rendering factory is on. Surely "Dog Corners" is enjoying the strenuous life of late.

The 'Plains bowling team and the Westfield team roll the "rubber" game tonight on Lee's alleys. Both teams have a win to their credit, and from the way the locals are bowling the Westfield team will have to roll a great game to win out.

The borough sidewalks on Park avenue are still blocked with the snow banks of the blizzard of last month. Pedestrians find walking in the mud and slushy roadway anything but pleasant.

Miss Gallagher, of Metuchen, who is spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lee, has been entertaining friends from Bound Brook.

The result of the Suburban Club's dance, held in the club hall Thursday night of last week, added $30 to the club's treasury.

Miss Nancy Wade has returned to her home at Milburn, after a visit of several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wade.

Robert Gutridge, who was detained at home for several days with a severe attack of grip, has recovered.

Miss Sadie Lee, who has been visiting Miss Hazel Morrison, of South avenue, has returned home.

Victor Coles has resigned his position at the Dunellen round house.

Rev. G. M. Shotts has returned from a visit with out-of-town friends.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The Piscataway Township Committee has given consent to an ordinance for the formation of the Piscataway Water Company, a corporation formed for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating water works in the township, for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants thereof with water. Accordingly the corporate seal of the township has been affixed thereto and attested by the township clerk.

A special meeting of the officers of the Piscataway Protection Society was held recently at the City Hotel in New Brunswick for the purpose of settling bills and attending to other important business. Among other matters the society reimbursed Mr. Onderdonk by the payment of an extra reward of $50 which he had offered and paid for the apprehension of horse thieves.

Mrs. Drake, of Plainfield, remained yesterday at the bedside of her brother, George Ryno, who since Sunday evening has been seriously ill.

LEGISLATURE HAS 361 BILLS TO CONSIDER

MOST IMPORTANT MEASURES ARE LIKELY TO COME UP THIS WEEK.

The Legislature began its busiest week last night. The number of bills before both houses is 392, in the House 242 and in the Senate 150.

Of these the House has passed 75 and the Senate 47. Only 18 Assembly bills have passed both houses, and the number of Senate bills that have gotten through both is but 13. These figures indicate the mass of business that still confronts the lawmakers.

Several of the most important measures have not yet been considered and this week is likely to see some of them up for action. Among them are the taxation bills, canal abandonment measure, automobile bill, bill for municipal lighting plants and the act limiting the life of franchises granted by municipalities to 25 years.

Among the bills introduced last night was one by Assemblyman Hulse providing for the erection of a new arsenal on East State street, Trenton, adjoining the armory.

AMUSEMENTS.

That famously funny fellow, Lew Dockstader, accompanied by his merry eighty, appearing in the latest novelties of the black-face art, will be the magnet at the Grand Opera House following the two weeks of "The County Chairman." Dockstader was once referred to by a clever Chicago writer, as an "animated humor column," and the clever minstrel has never belied that apt appellation. He can always be safely trusted to provide the very latest in the laugh line, and his jests and quips are always directly down to the minute. Dockstader is the one American comedian who believes that the American joke must keep apace with the times, and his efforts to get away from the old funnicities are unceasing.

When David Belasco brought Blanche Bates in "The Darling of Gods" to the Academy of Music, New York, last night, the occasion was of particular interest, for many reasons. In all its features of star, play, cast and production, it was, of course, the greatest dramatic offering ever made at the Academy, inasmuch as everything was offered precisely as during the remarkable triumph which gave David Belasco's Japanese drama its great run of 348 consecutive performances at the Belasco Theatre. This in itself should prove sufficient for the patrons of Manager Gilmore's popular playhouse; but there are other points that cannot pass unmentioned. Especially should it be borne in mind that Monday marked the beginning of the end of "The Darling of the Gods." Great as has been Miss Bates' success in this gorgeous triumph of oriental picture and drama, made real through the magic of Belasco's genius, she soon must set aside the fascinating language and dress of the Princess Yo-San to prepare for next season's new play which Mr. Belasco is now writing for her. Accordingly, the coming performances will be not only the last of "The Darling of the Gods" in New York but also Miss Bates' farewell to the part.

Surprised on Birthday.

In honor of her birthday, Miss Agnes Bailey, of Jackson avenue, was given a delightful surprise party last night by her fellowemployes at Woodhull & Martin's.

SAVE THE BUFFALO

THE MOVEMENT FOR THIS IS GAINING GROUND.

Ernest Harold Baynes Tells of the Men and Societies Assisting in This Work—The Real American Animal.

The movement for the preservation of the last few hundred specimens of American buffalo, not long since the most numerous of the earth's big mammals, is rapidly gaining ground. The deep regret of the American people at the fact that their grandest native animal has all but disappeared, finds expression in a hundred ways. Naturalists and true sportsmen are meeting, both in public and in private, not to discuss the advisability or the possibilty of preserving the animal—those points have been decided once and for all by the best authorities in the country—but to consider and formulate wise plans for its preservation. Naturalists who have never lectured or spoken in public before are raising their voices in this cause; they know that if they have anything to say in the interest of the buffalo, they must say it at once or it will be too late. And men, aye, and women, too, who are not naturalists, but who are lovers of things which live, are helping the movement by expressing to others their interest in it.

The interest of scientific bodies is being aroused, and almost every day we hear of some sportsman's club or natural history society discussing the subject of the buffalo and passing resolutions expressing sympathy with the movement now on foot to save him. Some have gone even further than this, and are even now agitating the question of organizing a national society, whose object shall be to arrange for the preservation of the typical American mammal. The first step has been taken, the men and women who took it are in earnest, and it is safe to predict that, before the buffalo has grown his heavy coat to protect him from next winter's cold, his friends will have gathered around him in force, for the purpose of protecting him from the colder hand of the fate which now threatens his existence. And when these people have once organized I believe that the preservation of the bison will no longer be one of the objects which "should be accomplished," but rather one of those which "must be and shall be" accomplished.

In the meantime it is very desirable that those who are now, and who for months have been, working so hard for this cause, should be assured of the cooperation of all who have the interest of our native animals at heart. The success of the movement would be beneficial to the entire nation, and therefore it should have the support of the nation. That means the support of the reader of this article, just as much as that of the man in Cincinnati, or St. Louis. The preservation of the buffalo is probably dependent on governmental action in the matter, since in the hands of the government alone will it be quite safe from those who are continually offering big prices for heads and hides. In other words, the matter is in the hands of the people, and my reader is one of these. Every set of resolutions that is passed, favoring the movement; every letter addressed to me at Meriden, N. H., will help the cause of the buffalo, and will bring nearer to us the day when this great animal will be out of danger. In the entire United States there are now only 600-odd buffaloes, exclusive of those confined in public parks and gardens, and which cannot be counted on to assist in the perpetuation of the race. The majority of these are in three herds, the Corbin herd at Newport, N. H.; the Pablo-Allard herds in Montana, and the James Philips herd in South Dakota. If tuberculosis or other contagious disease were to carry off any one of these herds, the fate of the race would probably be sealed, as even now there are none too many strains to allow for the necessary interchange of blood. This danger could be avoided at once if the government divided these herds into smaller ones and provided for their maintenance on separate reservations.

While speaking on this subject with an old plainsman the other day, he remarked:

"Well, there is no other native animal toward which Americans should have so kindly a feeling as for the buffalo; it has done more toward the civilization of the country than all the rest put together. To the explorer and early settlers it was an unfailing supply of the best kind of food, and many a hundred times have thirsty tradvelers been more than grateful for the water which collected in the buffalo wallows. And who shall say how many thousands have enjoyed the luxury of a fire on the treeless plains of the west, when but for the constant supply of buffalo chips they would have been obliged to spend the days and nights damp, cold and miserable. Save the buffalo? Well, I should say they ought to, rather."

ERNEST HAROLD BAYNES.

KING EDWARD'S SECRETARY

Private Correspondence of England's Monarch Is a Task Requiring Great Labor.

Should you by any chance receive an autograph letter from King Edward or Queen Alexandra, the royal signature may be there, but they know nothing of the contents, beyond the fact of having said to their secretaries, "Write thus and so," declares the Boston Herald. To be the private secretary of popular sovereigns is no sinecure. Fifty or sixty letters a day is the average of her majesty's "correspondence," while the king's "duty" is doubled by state papers for his signature, which no one, of course, can save him the labor of writing. Royalty reads a letter and often limits its supervision to a laconic no or yes, scrawled on the margin; then Lord Knollys and Miss Knollys, the queen's confidant, will take it and do the rest. King Edward's skillful right hand man expands this into the diplomatic style with which most people are familiar and long believed direct royal dictation. Such very private notes as the king and queen do send to their families or intimates are discreetly burned, or buried in archives, from which it would be lese majesty to unearth them.

ELECTRICITY MENDS BONES

Sundered Limbs of Both Animals and Men Have Been Repaired by Process.

The same power that speeds the destructive automobile mends the bones of the unfortunates along the highway. The sundered bones of both rabbits and men successfully unite when properly treated by electricity. The electric current is applied to the fracture daily. Galvanism, faradism, and static electricity were all tried. In the rabbits the galvanic current acted rapidly, there was no suffering, and after the apparatus was removed the animal walked and ran well at once. The other forms of electricity seemed beneficial to a less degree, and there was some limping after removal of the bandages. Four cases in man were treated, one of over a month standing without any tendency to union. In this case the patient was cured in about three weeks from the beginning of electrical treatment. The other cases all did well. The most noticeable thing was the absence of trophy and disability after the removal of the bandage.

CAT WAS LEFT IN TRUNK.

Disappearance of Kitty Proves Mysterious Until Clothing Receptacle Is Opened.

A teacher in one of the public schools has a very attractive cat, says the Hartford Times. The feline is of an inquiring turn of mine, it may be because of association with the learned lady who is her mistress. A night or two ago kitty was much interested in watching her mistress rearrange things in her trunk. Suddenly the cat disappeared. How she vanished was a mystery. Doors and windows were closed and there was no chance of her getting out of the room. Her mistress was much exercised, and sought high and low for kitty, from whom not a sound was heard. A day or two afterward the teacher had occasion to go to her trunk again, and when the cover and the tray were lifted there was kitty reposing cosily on her mistress' evening dress. A mew, a shake, a stretch, and kitty was herself once more, a sadder but a wiser feline.

MYSTERY OF REAL HEALTH

If One Would Be Physically Perfect Regularity and Diet Must Be Observed.

Whenever anyone is released from jail or penitentiary after a long sentence, we read that while he was in poor or downright bad health when he entered, he comes out as hearty as a brick, says the Saturday Evening Post. Yet almost without exception jails and penitentiaries are unsanitary, sunless places, with no facilities for proper exercise or for any of the other precautions usually taken by those who wish to get or keep health. The mystery lies in two words—regularity and diet. The first is perhaps the more important. Clocklike regularity; everything done on the second, and on the same second every day; a recognition of the fact that the body is a machine. Then, as a supplement to this, a simple diet—plain, not too varied—enough to eat, but not too much.

Curious Cave Creatures.

Marvelous are the lives of creatures condemned to live always in a darkness as black as night, says the London Globe. One of these creatures a very rare specimen and is styled the cavern beetle. It was first discovered some 70 years ago in an Austrian cave, the grotto and, though its discoverer offered a prize of $25 for another, it was 14 years before a second was found. Brought out from its gloomy haunts into the light of the sun it dies almost immediately. The sunlight seems to wither and shrivel up these insects, just as though they had been placed in front of a hot fire. Yet, in spite of this fact, it is known that the blind cave creatures are descended from others which originally lived in the light of day.

Embalmed in Glass.

In order to preserve the features of those who have died it is proposed by a Russian to embalm corpses by casting around them a solid mass of glass. This would be perfectly transparent, and as no air could get in the features would be preserved indefinitely. Of course, it is not possible to pour molten glass directly on the body, so it is first coated with a thin covering of so-called "liquid glass," or sodium silicate. This is allowed to harden and forms a protective coating. The body is then put in a mold and melted glass pour around it.

TERRAPIN UNDER HOTEL.

Largest Farm in the World Is Located Beneath Big Philadelphia Hostelry.

In point of stock, if not in area covered, the largest terrapin ponds in the world are in Philadelphia. Deep down in the earth, three stories under the Bellevue-Stratford, the ponds are located, and are intended to supply the tables of the big hotel exclusively. There are no less than 5,000 of the succulent "turtles," every one a diamond back of the finest variety, says the Philadelphia Telegraph. Some of the terrapin in the Bellevue-Stratford ponds are seven inches in diameter, which is exceptionally large. These cost $85 per dozen. From these kings of their kind the size gradually diminishes to six inches, and those of that size cost $45 per dozen. The value varies between these prices, according to the difference in size. The value of these toothsome beauties is estimated at nearly $30,000. The terrapin ponds are located in the wine cellar, and the beauties are the pride of the Steward, Martin McLaughlin. "It will be many years before the Bellevue-Stratford guests will have the pleasure of eating terrapin which are born and raised in these ponds," said the steward, in talking about his plans, "and until that time, of course, we must buy our supplies."

INVESTITURES IN ENGLAND.

King Edward Makes Several Important Changes in the Regulations for Them.

The king of England has made an important change in the regulations for investitures. Hitherto the order has been: "No insignia are worn by gentlemen who are to be invested." In future, however, the recipients of honors are to wear any orders, decorations, or medals which they may have recived. Investitures are now state cermonials. Queen Victoria observed semistate if the function was at Windsor castle, but at Osborne there was a considerable reduction in the ceremonial, with fewer members of the court in attendance. It is understood that next year the periodical investitures of the Bath, the St. Michael and St. George, the Indian orders, and the military decorations will be held by the king in the throne room at St. James' palace. Queen Victoria usually conferred investitures to the higher classes of the several orders—i .e., Knights Grand Crosses and Knights Commanders. The king, however, has kindly consented to invest the companions of the orders, who are introduced into his majesty's presence in single file, as at a levee.

CACTUS USED FOR FORAGE

Botanical Wizard Robs Plants of Their Thorns and Spines—His Methods.

Luther Burbank, who is called the botanical wizard because of his development of stoneless plums and other fruit freaks, has just produced, after ten years' work, a spineless cactus, which is half as nutritious as alfalfa, and will yield more forage to the acre, says the San Francisco Letter. By a series of crossings and recrossings of different varieties from different parts of the world, Mr. Burbank is aiming to make the plant hardier and to produce more fruit and leaves. He has at his Santa Rosa experimental grounds specimens of a cactus which he has robbed of thorns, having brought the leaves to a state of perfection in which a man can rub a leaf over his face. The surface is found as soft as silk. The creation of a spineless cactus is of world-wide importance. The plant will grow luxuriantly on the driest desert. In this and other countries its leaves and fruit are food for man and beast, and it will mean to some regions more than the introduction of the potato means to Europe.

NATIONAL 'PHONE IN JAPAN

Entire Service of Insular People in Possession of the Government.

Telephones in the land of the mikado are government institutions. The service has been established since 1890. There are 5 exchanges in Tokio, employing 63 men and 25 women clerks, and 115 men and 1,722 women operators. The number of subscribers at the end of November, 190, was 35,265. The telephone department has 2,537 miles of bare wire, 201 miles of aerial cable, 169 miles of underground cable, and 3.58 nauts of submarine cable employed in the service. The charge to subscribers varies according to the size of the town, being 48 yen per annum in some of the smaller towns and 66 yen in Tokio and Osaka, the middle charge of 54 yen being made in Yokahama and other places. The call office fee is five sen for a conversation not exceeding five minutes, with an additional five sen for each additional five minutes' conversation within town limits, and ten sen with similar regulations for out-of-town subscribers.

Valuable Furs of Indian Girls.

"Expensive dress is not the exclusive privilege of civilized women," said E. L. Foster, an Alaska mining engineer, as he watched a party of fashionably dressed women preparing to go out into the rain. "Up on the Seward peninsula I have seen Indian girls wearing suits of furs which would be worth $5,000 to $10,000 here. More than one of those semi-barbarous women have dresses of sealskin and hoods of silver fox fur. I have seen such outfits which were lined with the fur of young sea otter, trimmed with fringes of wolverine tails. I should say that $700 is a good average value for the dresses of Indian women on the upper Columbia and Fraser rivers, so you see those women have no reason to envy their more sophisticated sisters in the matters of fura."

OUR GOOD LOOKS.

Hints as to the Care of the Skin, Teeth and Hair.

The woman with good complexion, even, well cared for teeth and neatly kept hair can never be uncomely. All these are within reach of every woman, so that it is evident no woman need be hopelessly plain. Even with irregular features a woman's face may always beam with good temper and intelligence if she so wills it and takes pains to acquire these graces.

To have a good complexion absolute cleanliness of the skin is necessary, so that it can be unclogged in doing its work of throwing off waste matter. You can tell the moment you set eyes upon a person's face, neck and ears whether the individual keeps the skin clean. The perfectly kept skin has a burnished, almost transparent look. The blood shines through it and gives it a real radiance. The neglected skin, on the other hand, is dull, coarse grained and fairly gummy.

In washing the body two points are to be remembered—first, to cleanse the skin properly, hot water, soap and vigorous scrubbing with a brush are necessary; next, cold water sprayed or dashed over the skin afterward prevents taking cold. One needs two brushes, a stiff one for the body, a softer one for the face and throat. Almost any kind of brush will do for the body. For the face comes specially an oval brush about two inches wide by three and one-half long. This face brush is sold in drug and department stores and is not expensive. In using the brush move it with a circular motion, always backward and upward from the mouth. About three times a week a brisk scrubbing with brushes is needed all over the body. The other days a less strenuous bath may be taken.

Lemon juice has a bleaching effect on the skin, glycerin a softening effect. Mixed in equal parts and well shaken, one counteracts the ill effects of the other, and the two together constitute one of the best skin lotions ever devised. Apply, rubbing in well, to face, neck and hands after the bath. A few drops of a favorite perfume may be added.

Care of the Teeth.

With a country full of the best dentists in the world, there is no excuse for bad teeth in the mouth of any person in America. First, keep them clean; second, have them examined by a good dentist once a year. That is all. To keep them clean brush with a moderately stiff brush every night before retiring, and do it thoroughly. About twice a week use the tooth powder your dentist recommends. Once a year at least have the dentist scrape or cleanse the tartar and discoloration from your teeth.

A foolish fad is one lately for "bleaching" the teeth, as it is called. Don't do it. It injures the teeth, and in time they again become discolored as badly as ever. Just keep them clean and take care of your health. Our dentists have evolved a white porcelain filling that promises to supersede the gold fillings.

Children's teeth should be looked after closely in the growing stage. Crooked, too prominent or unduly crowded teeth mar sometimes the whole beauty of a girl's face, or a man's either, for that matter. Watch your children's teeth, and if there is tendency to abnormality in their growth consult the best dentist you know of and have the abnormality corrected.

Let none grudge the money paid to a skillful dentist. It is far better to have a pretty mouth than to have costly clothes upon one's back.

Beautiful Hair.

It can only be said over and again that to have fine hair it must be kept clean. Dingy, "gummy" hair is an unspeakable horror. The first duty of those who have the care of the shining coats of blooded horses is to remove from them all dust. Let us take a lesson from this. Even the longest, heaviest hair should be washed once a month. A pure soap and abundance of hot soft water, with plenty of rubbing of the scalp, are all that one needs. The soap must be entirely rinsed out of the hair, and it must afterward be thoroughly dried.

Massage of the scalp is admirable. To perform it run your finger tips into your hair and press them firmly upon the scalp. Then, without letting them slip, gently work the skin beneath them around and around with spiral action. Keep this up from time to time till the skin of your head will move freely to the touch over any part of the skull. This promotes growth of the hair.

THE GRAFTERS

By

FRANCIS LYNDE

(Copyright, 1904, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company.)

At this a man pushes his way out of the thick of the crowd and climbs to a seat beside the chaffeur in the waiting automobile.

"They've got him," he says shortly. "To the hotel for all you're worth, Hudgins; our part is to get this on the wires before one o'clock. Full speed; and never mind the ruts."

CHAPTER XXIX.

SUBHI SADIK.

The dawn of a new day was graying over the capital city, and the newsboys were crying lustily in the streets, when David Kent felt his way up the dark staircases of the Kittleton building to knock at the door of Judge Oliver Marston's rooms on the top floor. He was the bearer of tidings, and he made no more than a formal excuse for the unseemly hour when the door was opened by the lieutenant-governor.

"I am sorry to disturb you, Judge Marston," he began, when he had closed the door at his back and was facing the tall thin figure in flannel dressing gown and slippers, "but I imagine I'm only a few minutes ahead of the crowd. Have you heard the news of the night?"

The judge pressed the button of the drop-light and waved his visitor to a chair.

"I have heard nothing, Mr. Kent. Have a cigar?"—passing the box of unutterable stogies.

"Thank you; not before breakfast," was the hasty reply. Then, without another word of preface: "Judge Marston, for the time being you are the governor of the state, and I have come to—"

"One moment," interrupted his listener. "There are some stories that read better for a foreword, however brief. What has happened?"

"This: last night it was the purpose of Governor Bucks and Receiver Guilford to go to Gaston by special train. In some manner, which has not yet been fully explained, there was a confusion of orders. Instead of proceeding eastward, the special was switched to the tracks of the Western Division; was made the first section of the fast mail, which had orders to run through without stop. You can imagine the result."

Marston got upon his feet slowly and began pacing the length of the long room. Kent waited, and the shrill cries of the newsboys floated up and in through the open windows. When the judge finally came back to his chair the saturnine face was gray and haggard.

"I hope it was an accident that can be clearly proved," he said; and a moment later: "You spoke of Bucks and Guilford; were there others in the private car?"

"Two others; Halkett, and the governor's private secretary."

"And were they all killed?"

A great light broke in upon Kent when he saw how Marston had misapprehended. Also, he saw how much it would simplify matters if he should be happy enough to catch the ball in the reactionary bound.

"They are all alive and uninjured, to the best of my knowledge and belief; though I understand that one of them narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an excited mob."

The long lean figure erected itself in the chair, and the weight seemed to slip from its shoulders.

"But I understood you to say that the duties of the executive had devolved upon me, Mr. Kent. You also said I could imagine the result of this singular mistaking of train-orders, and I fancied I could. What was the result?"

"A conclusion not quite as sanguinary as that you had in mind, though it is likely to prove serious enough for one member of the party in the private car. The special train was chased all the way across the state by the fast mail. It finally outran the pursuing section and was stopped at Megilp. A sheriff's posse was in waiting, and an arrest was made."

"Go on," said the lieutenant-governor.

"I must first go back a little. Some weeks ago there was a shooting affray in the mining-camp, arising out of a dispute over a 'salted' mine, and a man was killed. The murderer escaped across the state line. Since the authorities of the state in which the crime was committed had every reason to believe that a governor's requisition for this particular criminal would not be honored, two courses were open to them: to publish the facts and let the moral sentiment of the neighboring commonwealth punish the criminal as it could, or would; or, suppressing the facts, to bide their chance of catching their man beyond the boundaries of the state which gave him an asylum. They chose the latter."

"This murderer is James Guilford, I take it; and the governor—"

"No," said Kent, gravely. "The murderer is—Jasper G. Bucks." He handed the judge a copy of the Argus. "You will find it all in the press dispatches; all I have told you, and a great deal more."

"NO I CAN'T GO THERE ANY MORE," SAID KENT GRUFFLY.

The lieutenant-governor read the newspaper story as he walked, lighting the electric chandelier to enable him to do so. When it was finished he sat down again.

"What a hideous cesspool it is!" was his comment. "But we shall clean it, Mr. Kent; we shall clean it if it shall leave the party without a vote in the state. Now what can I do for you? You didn't come here at this hour in the morning merely to bring me the news."

"No, I didn't, Judge Marston. I want my railroad."

"You shall have it," was the prompt response. "What have you done since our last discussion of the subject?"

"I tried to 'obliterate' Judge MacFarlane, as you suggested. But I failed in the first step. Bucks and Meigs refused to approve the quo warranto."

The judge knitted his brows thoughtfully.

"That way is open to you now; but it is long and devious, and delays are always dangerous. You spoke of the receivership as being part of a plan by which your road was to be turned over to an eastern monopoly. How nearly has that plan succeeded?"

Kent hesitated, not because he was afraid to trust the man Oliver Marston, but because there were some things which the governor of the state might feel called upon to investigate if the knowledge of them were thrust upon him. But in the end he took counsel of utter frankness.

"So nearly that if Bucks and the receiver had reached Gaston last night, our road would now be in the hands of the Plantagoulds under a 99-year lease."

The merest ghost of a smile flitted over the lieutenant governor's face when he said, with his nearest approach to sarcasm:

"How extremely opportune the confusion of train orders becomes as we go along! But answer one more question if you please—it will not involve these singularly heedless railway employes of yours: Is Judge MacFarlane in Gaston now?"

"He is. He was to have met the others on the arrival of the special train."

There were footsteps on the stair and in the corridor, and Marston rose.

"Our privacy is about to be invaded, Mr. Kent. This is a miserable business; miserable for everybody, but most of all for the deceived and hoodwinked people of an unhappy state. God knows, I did not seek this office; but since it has fallen on me, I shall do my duty as I see it, and my hand shall be heaviest upon that man who makes a mockery of the justice he is sworn to administer. Come to the capitol a little later in the day, prepared to go at once to Gaston. I think I can promise you your hearing on the merits without further delay."

"Thank you," said Kent, simply, grasping the hand of leave-taking. Then he tried to find other and larger words. "I wish I could do something to show my appreciation of your—"

But the lieutenant governor was pushing him toward the door.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

KILLED HIS MOTHER.

Richard Wakeman Held at Glen Ridge For Murder.

GLEN RIDGE, N. J., March 7.—Richard Wakeman, a youth of eighteen years, who had been an inmate of an insane asylum at one time and who was regarded as simple minded, killed his mother with an ax and then shot his father, John Wakeman, twice at their home here. His father is badly injured and may not recover. His mother died after being taken to the hospital. The boy is under arrest.

He went into the kitchen, where his mother was at work, bringing an ax. Without warning he attacked his mother viciously, striking her twice over the head with the weapon, inflicting severe wounds and felling her to the floor. His father witnessed the assault and attempted to prevent the youth from hacking at his mother's unconscious body, whereupon the youth turned upon him. The father had taken the ax away from his son when the latter pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot his father, one bullet striking him in the head and the other in the chest.

The boy then calmly walked out of the house and started for the neighboring town of Bloomfield. On his way he told a neighbor and a policeman of the crime and confessed to the neighbor that he had committed it, but no attention was paid to him until neighbors discovered what had happened. His father is in a critical condition.

RIDER HAGGARD'S MISSION.

Comes as British Commissioner to Study Colonization Projects.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—H. Rider Haggard, the English novelist, has arrived here for the purpose of studying the work of the Vacant Lots Cultivation association. Mr. Haggard has undertaken the mission on behalf of the British government.

"I was sent here by his majesty's government," said he, "to study the industrial and agricultural work of the Salvation Army and other philanthropic organizations.

"The disposal of the overflow population of London and other great cities has become a serious problem, which must be met, and one plan suggested is their colonization in different parts of England and perhaps her colonies. There is plenty of land available owing to the emigration of young people to the cities in the hope and expectation of making more money."

President Saw "Mrs. Black Is Back."

WASHINGTON, March 7.—President Roosevelt last night attended the theater for the first time in some weeks, finding need of relaxation after the strain of the congressional season and the inauguration. He witnessed Miss May Irwin's production at the Columbia theater of "Mrs. Black Is Back." With the president were Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Senator Lodge and Mrs. Lodge and Dr. W. L. Bigelow. The president laughed heartily at the topical and coon songs.

Republicans Elected In Maine.

PORTLAND, Me., March 7.—The Republicans have been successful in electing their mayoralty candidates, except at Lewiston and South Portland, in the municipal elections held in eleven of the twenty Maine cities and obtained control of all except the Saco and Lewiston city governments.

FIGHTING PAPER TRUSTS.

General Paper Company Denies Alleged Combine.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 7.—Answers were filed in the case of the United States against the General Paper company, the case being generally known as that against the paper company.

The General Paper company and twenty-four other defendants filed a general answer, the Rhinelander Paper company filed a separate answer and the Manufacturers' Paper company of New York filed a general demurrer, denying that the complaint showed that the United States was entitled to any recovery or relief from or against this company.

The general answer made by the General Paper company and its co-defendants denies most of the allegations made by the United States.

The twenty-three companies and the General company admit, however, that an agreement was entered into in May, 1900, under which the General Paper company was appointed exclusive sales agent for the other mills for a specified period. The contract was to the effect that the General Paper company should use its best efforts to keep the various mills in the agreement supplied with orders at the best reasonably obtained prices.

It is denied, however, that the General Paper company had any authority to arbitrarily dictate the prices at which paper should be sold or restrict the output of any of the mills.

It is specifically denied that any power was conferred on the General Paper company which would enable it in any way to be instrumental in restraining interstate trade and commerce.

A FATAL NET.

Mlle. Antonio, Diving From Luna Park Tower, Badly Injured.

NEW YORK, March 7.—While making a backward dive from the top of the 120 foot tower at Luna park, Coney Island, Mlle. Adeline Antonio, who recently came here from Europe to appear at Thompson & Dundy's new Hippodrome, received injuries which it is feared will prove fatal.

The accident took place at a private exhibition attended by 200 persons. As Mlle. Antonio struck the centre of the net into which she made her dive it gave way and she struck the ground. She was picked up unconscious and was found to have sustained internal injuries and a fracture of the left leg. Her former partner in aerial feats was killed by falling out of the same net in Calcutta last fall.

May Tie Up Subway Lines.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees who work on the subway were instructed not to go to work after midnight without orders from the executive board. This order was given to each man after he voted at a meeting in Marion hall to sustain the action of the board, which presented an ultimatum to Frank Hedley, general manager of the company. A member of the committee said that the vote was unanimous for sustaining the board should it order a strike. In the meantime the company has more than 1,000 strike breakers on the steamboat C. H. Northam on the Harlem river, near the subway yards, ready for emergency.

Bribery In Colorado House.

DENVER, March 7.—Charges of bribery in relation to the contest of James H. Peabody for the chair of Governor Alva Adams were openly made by State Senator R. W. Morgan before the first session of the Colorado legislature, which had met to hear arguments in the gubernatorial contest. Representative B. J. O'Connell, a Democrat, expressed surprise that the members of the Republican majority remained quiet as to the charges, and he moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to make a thorough investigation. The motion was unanimously adopted.

Editor Disfellowshipped by Mormons

SALT LAKE CITY, March 7.—Former United States Senator Frank J. Cannon has been disfellowshipped by the Mormon church for "un-Christianlike conduct and apostacy." This action of the church authorities, which is announced, followed a hearing in Ogden before the local bishopric, with whom charges had been preferred against Elder Cannon, who is editor of the Salt Lake Tribune. The charges were based on editorial utterances, including "an address to the earthly king of the kingdom of God."

King Edward Writes to Davis.

LONDON, March 7.—As Rear Admiral Charles H. Davis, the American member of the international commission on the Hull incident, was embarking at Dover yesterday a letter was handed him from King Edward congratulating him upon the success of the commission and regretting that time did not permit of Admiral Davis passing through London.

Speaker Cannon to Accompany Taft.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Speaker Cannon has accepted the invitation of Secretary Taft to accompany him on his trip to the Philippines to begin the 1st of July, with the proviso that he may withdraw the acceptance in the event of unforeseen business or legislative duties, which may become imperative.

Found Indications of Poison.

HONOLULU, March 7.—There is a report in circulation, and it is thought to be well founded, to the effect that chemists have failed to find strychnine in the organs of Mrs. Jane T. Stanford, but that they have found indications of poison and will probably so testify at the inquiry.

SPORTING NEWS

DIAMOND DUST.

The report that Linderman is going South with the New York Giants must have been mistaken for a trip he took on a South Ferry boat recently.

"Big Bill" Tierney, who will be remembered for his coaching stunts while with Hoboken last season, says that he will organize a team of his own this year.

The Plainfield Baseball Association is being congratulated on securing Dave Driscoll as first baseman and captain for the team that is to represent Plainfield. Team work is one of Driscoll's "trump cards," and as a heady and scientific ball player he has few equals.

One of the fans in speaking of some of the Westfield gossip regarding Plainfield's lineup, says that the sporting editor of the Westfield Standard must have discovered a special brand of "dope," when he says that Linderman, Fultz and McCormick are about to be rubbed off the slate. Linderman has not signed with the New York Nationals, and will positively not play with them this season. He can be found at his desk with the Equitable Life Assurance Company, and will be in Plainfield on scheduled time. Fultz has not signed with the New York Americans, having given up professional baseball, to practice law. If he plays anywhere it will be in Plainfield. McCormick has not signed with the Philadelphia Nationals, and has also given up professional ball. He will follow the game as a "side issue," playing Saturdays and Sundays. He will be a member of the Plainfield team. The Westfield sporting editor is assured that he will be kept in touch with Plainfield's "doings," and guaranteed correctness of same.

TENNIS.

The Cedar Brook Tennis Club is planning for a busy season. Contests will be arranged with other clubs in this vicinity and no doubt there will be a championship series.

The revival of the interest in tennis last year at the Plainfield Country Club courts, attracted an unusual number of players. It is proposed to maintain that interest this year by arranging a number of special events for which prizes will be offered.

CLERICAL ERRORS IN THE CITY'S BOOKS

AUDITOR'S REPORT ON ASSESSORS AND COLLECTOR'S BOOKS.

The report of George E. Collins, expert accountant, employed to audit the books of the city for the past two years, was presented at the March meeting of the Common Council, last night. It is a lengthy statement of the city's financial standing, showing the exact amounts in each department, and the liabilities and assets of the city complete to December, 1904.

Mr. Collins made a criticism regarding the clerical errors he found in the field books of the assessors and in those of the former collector, but he stated that these had been straightened out and all accounts found to be correct.

A Resort Unequalled.

A most unique health and pleasure resort is Atlantic City. Favored by nature in a thousand ways and with the assistance of the energetic business man it has become the most popular and likewise the most frequently visited resort in America. The position geographically of Atlantic City is at the extreme Southern part of the State of New Jersey and though directly on the ocean, its proximity to the Gulf Stream tempers the climate so perceptively that there is a very marked difference in temperature during the winter and in the summer months cool breezes are more frequent than at any other point on the coast. No other resort is reputed as is Atlantic City as an all year round resort and the season at Atlantic City at Easter time is most fashionable. The great hotels, and there are scores of them, are thronged with a gay assemblage and the board walk is a moving mass of happy tourists. No city pays greater attention to the care and entertainment of its guests than Atlantic City and every possible method of amusement is provided. The hotels are mammouth in proportions, elaborate in furnishings and nearly every one located adjacent to the board walk or strand. The New Jersey Central was the pioneer road in making Atlantic City so accessible to New York and northern territory through the introduction of its famous Atlantic City 3-hour flyers. These trains leave New York from station at foot of Liberty street at 9:40 a. m., 3:40 p. m., and 9:40 a. m. Sundays. The route traversed is the shortest and most direct. The trains are vestibuled and are drawn by hard coal burning engines and there is neither dust, cinders or smoke. There are Pullman buffet cars on every train and for comfort and convenience the New Jersey Central's Atlantic City Express service can't be equalled. If you want time tables and other information, drop a postal to C. M. Burt, G. P. A., New Jersey Central, New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble C. King, of East Ninth street, left this morning for Chicago, where they will make their home in the future.

LENT BEGINS TOMORROW

Special Services in the Catholic and Episcopal Churches.

FOR FORTY DAYS

St. Mary's and St. Joseph's to Have Solemn Services Wednesday Morning—In the Episcopal Churches.

The Lenten season, which begins tomorrow, Ash Wednesday, and continues for forty days, is observed by all the communicants of the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches. It is marked by special services and the general rule of abstinence. Services of an especially interesting character have been arranged for St. Mary's church, although the change in the pastorate, whereby Rev. Andrew M. Egan goes to Bayonne, has made it necessary for his assistant, Father Delehanty, to assume charge until the appointment of a successor to Father Egan.

Tomorrow morning at the 8 o'clock mass there will be the blessing and distribution of ashes and at 8 o'clock in the evening there will be the distribution of ashes followed by the usual Lenten devotions. On Friday night there will be the service entitled "The Way of the Cross." Commencing on Sunday morning after the 10:30 mass, the two-weeks' mission which will be in charge of the Paulist Fathers, will be held with special services to be announced on Sunday.

During the first week the services will be for men and those during the second week for women. Two of the Paulist Fathers will be in charge the first week and three the second week, and it is expected that there will be very large congregations throughout the mission.

At St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, there will be the blessing and distribution of ashes at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning and at 8 o'clock in the evening there will be distribution of ashes followed by a sermon. On Friday night there will be the "Station of the Cross" service. During Lent there will be a sermon every Wednesday and Sunday night, with special preachers to assist Father Miller. These preachers will be announced probably on Sunday. The usual services will be held on Sunday during Lent.

Services will be held tomorrow at Grace church at 7 and at 10 o'clock in the morning, and at 8 o'clock in the evening. At the Church of the Holy Cross, the hours of service are 10:30 in the morning at 4:30 in the afternoon.

ROGERS LITIGATION.

Local Corporation Need Not Account for Profits—Opinion of Court of Errors and Appeals.

The Court of Errors and Appeals yesterday handed down opinion in the three appeals in the case of the International Silver Company against the William H. Rogers Corporations, of this city. In the first appeal, that of the defendant, the decree below is affirmed; in the second appeal, that of the complainant, the decree below is reversed and modified so as to restrain the defendant from the use of its corporate name in the manufacture and sale of silver-plated ware; in the third appeal, that of the complaint, Mr. Rogers' corporation is successful, the court affirming the Vice-Chancellor's decision that the complainant is not entitled to any decree for accounting for profits or damages.

The corporation may continue in the silver-plated ware business, subject to the restraint against its use of the name William H. Rogers. The complainant is awarded costs below and on the first and second appeals, and the defendant on the last appeal.

Pensions for Policemen.

With a view to increasing the efficiency of the police force and securing better service, Councilman W. S. Tyler, chairman of the police committee, introduced at last night's meeting of the Common Council the question of establishing a pension fund for the benefit of the regular policemen, who have served a certain number of years. Mr. Tyler desires a free and full discussion of the matter before action is taken.

SAM METZER'S TROUBLES

Thirteen Attachments Issued on His Household Furniture.

TRADESMEN'S BILLS

As far as can be learned Samuel Metzger, formerly of Fairview avenue, an alleged absconding debtor, has not returned to this city to settle the various claims against him or attempt to secure the release of his goods which are still held at the stables of George Conover & Son, of the borough.

In all there are thirteen attachments on these goods, eleven of which were obtained by Reed & Codington for these persons, who have claims against Mr. Metzger: Smalley Brothers, butchers; Frank Rowley, druggist; Woodhull & Martin, dry goods; Consumers Coal Company; two physicians, medical services; Dr. O. L. Jenkins, rent; J. A. Smith & Brother, grocers; J. K. Arnold, groceries; J. P. Humble, grocers; John I. Brokaw, carpenter. These parties have claims representing about $500. In addition there are two other claims, the Public Service Corporation, for light, and V. W. Nash, Sr., for coal. These claimants are represented by V. W. Nash, Jr.

According to legal procedure the goods can be held twenty days, when a judgment can be obtained, the goods appraised and advertised and then sixty days are allowed for the owner of the goods to settle the claims against them. It is possible, however, that Reed & Codington may proceed sooner under a distress warrant in the claim of Dr. Jenkins for rent. This would expediate matters considerable.

Originally Reed & Codington had a claim for $100 for prosecuting his case in the Supreme Court against a burglary insurance company, last summer, securing a settlement in favor of Mr. Metzger, also for services in securing a settlement from a fire insurance company. Mr. Metzger did not pay Reed & Codington for services rendered and three weeks ago the firm brought a suit against him on contract in Justice Smalley's court, securing judgment on this claim and another one for a claim of the Plainfield Cab Company for the care and keeping of Mr. Metzger's horse and wagon there. Following the judgment there was execution and a levy on the goods in the Metzger home on Fairview avenue and the sale was advertised. The firm met a representative of Mr. Metzger at the house and received $285, the amount of the claim. The firm then released the goods, only to be followed by the thirteen attachments, the claimants getting wise to Mr. Metzger's intention to leave the city.

There's a touch of humor in the Metzger case. Shortly before the attachments were issued, a reporter for The Daily Press was rung up on the 'phone and was informed by a feminine voice of the great fortune which had come like a windfall to the Metzgers. The woman refused to give her name but took great pains to explain that a grandfather of Metzger's wife had died in Paris, leaving a cold million dollars. According to her romantic story, the decendant's father had been disinherited and the estate was left entirely to Mrs. Metzger, of this city. "Mrs. Metzger dislikes any publicity about her good fortune but in justice to the family I think it ought to be published," said the informant. "Now you can say that the Metzgers don't care what the people of Plainfield think of them," declared the woman as she hung the receiver up on the 'phone. An investigation failed to reveal any fortune but closely followed the woman's story came the news that creditors all over the city were seeking Mr. Metzger for payment of their claims.

PARENTAL SCHOOLS IN ALL COUNTIES

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION MAKES IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATION.

At the annual session of the State Board of Education, held at the Hotel Seaside, Atlantic City, on Monday, it was decided to recommend to the Legislature the establishing of parental schools in all counties of the State where there are juvenile courts. S. St. John McCutchen, of North Plainfield, is a member of this board. These parental schools are to be merely schools of detention for incorrigible children under the age of 16. The schools are to be maintained at the expense of the various counties in which they are located.

After a lengthy discussion it was decided to accept the plans and specifications of the proposed new New Jersey State Normal School to be erected in Passaic County, near the Essex County boundary line at Montclair. The building of the school was authorized by the Legislature last year, and $255,000 was appropriated. It was decided to ask the Legislature for an appropriation of $375,000.

The Board voted in favor of amending the bill now before the Legislature providing for a pension for teachers who have taught forty consecutive years in one district.

WHISTLER A SUBJECT FOR PROF. NIEMEYER

LECTURE BEFORE THE MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB ON GREAT ARTIST.

An unusually large audience greeted Professor John H. Niemeyer, M. A. instructor in the School of Fine Arts, Yale University, who lectured on James McNeill Whistler before the Monday Afternoon Club Monday at the Casino. The president, Mrs. Lowry, in her introduction of the lecturer referred to the coincidence that the date of this lecture planned a year ago was the same date as the memorial exhibition of Whistler's works in London.

Professor Niemeyer traced the combative qualities of Whistler to an ancestry of military men, and claimed that the man must be known by his works rather than by biographies which are diverse in their estimate of the artist, born in Lowell, Mass., in 1834, and resident abroad most of his life. Whistler, he said, was persistently and aggressively defiant of the opinion of the public. In Paris for many years his works were rejected, but the day came when they were received with acclamation, a medal was granted him and also the decoration of the Legion of Honor. Still, Professor Niemeyer said, every insult was offered him but that of popularity.

The lecturer illustrated his talk with a large number of stereoscopic views of Whistler's etchings and paintings, the former showing departures from old methods and the latter being symphonies in shade and grade color. Among the most remarkable of his portraits, which reveal character rather than the sitter's double, were Miss Alexander, Thomas Carlyle and a picture of his mother. It was Professor Niemeyer's opinion that the portrait of Carlyle would be his greatest work if he had not painted his mother's picture showing his great love of art and his filial devotion.

The American puritanism of Whistler's pictures, the lecturer regarded as their greatest charm, claiming that forty-five years of life in Paris and foreign cities had not diminished the purity of Whistler's conceptions which had in them the artistic touch of the century.

Mr. Holbert has booked a tour for them that will continue at intervals until late in the spring.

A Mammoth Kite.

In his spare moments at the West End engine house No. 3, Driver Walter Harrison has constructed a mammoth kite with which he intends to conduct a number of experiments for the purpose of ascertaining its lifting capacity. It is twelve feet nigh and is composed of an aluminum frame work covered with the very best grade of silk. Instead of cord, small twisted steel wires are used to hold it in check and at times it requires two men to steady it. Clarence Woodcock assisted in making the kite and will help conduct the experiments.

—Miss Bertha Needham has returned to her position at Reed & Codington's law offices having recovered from a recent illness.

FINE MENU OF MUSIC

Eleventh Annual Concert at Seventh-Day Baptist Church.

HEARTY APPLAUSE

Mrs. Faxon, Miss Wohlfert and Paul F. Handel the Soloists—Pianist's Splendid Work.

An audience that comfortably filled the main auditorium and parlors of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, gathered last night to enjoy the eleventh annual musicale given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the church. It was an audience comprised largely of music-lovers and the excellent programme prepared by Miss Jessie Utter, who was also organist and accompanist for the evening, was fully enjoyed and received with generous applause. Too much cannot be said in praise of the soloists, Mrs. John G. Faxon, of Fitchburg, Mass., contralto; Miss Florence Wohlfert, of this city, violinist, and Paul F. Handel, of East Orange, tenor, while the work of the Euterpean Glee Club was fully up to the standard. A pleasing feature was the work of Miss Mabel A. Maxson, Miss Grace I. VanSickle, Mrs. W. C. Hubbard and Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard, pianists. They gave several selections on two pianos, eight hands, accompanied by Miss Jessie Utter on the organ. The execution, as well as the selections, were such as to call forth hearty applause.

The programme opened with an overture, "Rosamunde," by Schubert, two pianos, eight hands, and organ, which was followed with a contralto solo, "Were I a Sunbeam I Would Fly," and an encore by Mrs. Faxon. She received a cordial welcome by her many friends, and her singing occasioned favorable comment. The Euterpean Glee Club sang "Annie Laurie," and was obliged to respond to an encore. Paul F. Handel's first selection was "Daphne's Love," by Ronald, and his rich tenor voice aroused considerable enthusiasm, calling for a second number equally as pleasing.

The work of Miss Florence Wohlfert was of the usual high standard. Her first numbers were "Les Adieux," by Sarasati, and "Obertass," by Wieniawski, in which she displayed that perfect skill which has placed her among the most favored violinists.

Part first of the programme was concluded with two selections by Mrs. Faxon, "The Rose," and "The River and the Sea," by Noel Johnson, in which her voice was heard at its best. At this time a silver offering was received.

Miss Mabel Maxson, pianist, and Miss Utter, organist, opened part two with an instrumental duette—two movements from "Stabat Mater." The glee club then gave "Pickaninny Lullaby," by Macy, and "Honey dat I Love So Well," air by Honeyman. The selections were so well received that the quartette was recalled twice, when they gave two popular selections.

"Israfel," by King, was Mr. Handel's selection in this part, and the range of his voice was given full test. As an encore he gave "The Four Leaf Clover." One of the features was the instrumental trio, "Walther's Preislied," by Wagner, given by Miss Wohlfert, Miss Maxson and Miss Utter. The rendition was delightful.

The next number was a contralto solo, "Till Death," by Mrs. Faxon, accompanied by Miss Wohlfert, violin, and Miss Utter, organ. The last number was an overture, "Stradella," by Flotow, two pianos, eight hands, and organ.

The members of the Euterpean Glee Club are Elmer D. Cutting, E. Maxwell Honeyman, tenors; Sydney R. Titsworth, baritone; Howard T. Lewis, basso, and Clifford A. Braider, conductor.

The silver offering received amounted to $90 and the money will be placed in the treasury of the Christian Endeavor Society.

GOLF CLUB OFFICERS

Parks Re-Elect Charles W. McCutchen as President.

MEMBERSHIP, 111

T. U. Dudley Chosen as Vice President—List of Committees.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Park Golf Club was held last night at the Park Club, with Charles W. McCutchen in the chair. It was the annual meeting and besides receiving reports, electing officers, there was the appointment of committees and discussion of plans for the coming year. The report of the treasurer, Leon R. Thurlow showed a balance of $87 in the treasury, and Charles B. Morse, as secretary, reported a membership of 111.

J. B. Betts and John L. Watson were appointed a nominating committee and they presented the names of the following persons as trustees: Charles W. McCutchen, S. St. John McCutchen, Charles B. Morse, Leon R. Thurlow, T. U. Dudley, Samuel Townsend and Rev. J. O. McKelvey. It was a source of much regret that George T. Rogers found it impossible to serve as a trustee, although he will continue to be just as active in the club affairs and in the play on the course.

Following the meeting of the club, the trustees met and organized by electing Charles W. McCutchen president; T. U. Dudley, vice president; Leon R. Thurlow, treasurer and Charles B. Morse, secretary. The president then appointed these committees:

Greens—Samuel Townsend, chairman; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, J. B. Betts, Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll; golf—T. U. Dudley, chairman; Charles B. Morse, Morgan T. Townsend; house—George D. Hallock, chairman; Mrs. George D. Hallock, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peck, Nelson A. Miller; membership—Charles B. Morse, chairman; George T. Rogers, Leon R. Thurlow.

Plans for the coming year were discussed and outlined and it was generally believed that it would be one of the most successful in the club's history. It was decided to continue the weekly competitions for the President's and Park Golf Club cups, and in addition the golf committee will arrange for the other competitions, including those for women. If the four-cornered golf league, comprising the Westfield, Cranford, Colonia and Park Golf Clubs, is continued, the local club will arrange to have a strong team.

While the opening of the course will depend largely on the weather, the members hope to begin play the last of April. Considerable attention will be devoted to the putting greens with a view to making them better than ever.

TEST FOR SUFFRAGE.

School Debate on Qualification for Suffrage.

The subject "That There Should be an Educational Qualification for Suffrage," was well argued at a debate held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of St. Mary's Parochial School. William Summers and John McEachon took the affirmative and Miss Mary Murray and Miss May Harding the negative.

The judges were the Misses Jeannette Hand, Elizabeth Casey, Elizabeth Brown and Henry J. Ferrisiel, Warren L. Seaman and James Buckley. Following a lively debate, the affirmative side was given the decision.

Oracle's Officers.

These have been elected members of the Plainfield High School Oracle Editorial Board: Editors, Miss Gertrude Hunter, Miss Jessie Maclay, Miss Charlotte Taylor, Arthur Whitney and Fred Smith; reporters, Miss Edith Jarvis, Miss Elizabeth Winter; Miss Gertrude Moody and Miss Charlotte Taylor, Harold Brownell, Leslie Palmer, William Taylor and Francis Foster. The business manager for the next year will be Weston Gavett. The faculty members of the editorial board, Miss Ellen E. Niles, and Lindsey Best retain their offices for the next term. The newly elected board will convene in the near future and appoint the sub-editors.

To Reproduce "The Princess."

The date for the second performance of "The Princess," by the Plainfield High School juniors, has been set for Saturday, March 11. It will be reproduced at Franklin Hall instead of the Casino, as was the original intention. Tickets for the second performance are now on sale.

OSTEOPATHS FIGHT FOR RECOGNITION

DR. HERRING AMONG THOSE WHO ATTENDED A HEARING YESTERDAY.

Physicians from all parts of the State were at Trenton yesterday to attend the hearing of the Osteopathy bill before the Senate Committee on Miscellaneous Business, among those present being Dr. George D. Herring, of this city. Old and new schools were alike represented, as were also the State Medical Society and several county medical societies and there were a number of women in the delegations. The discussion was at times acrimonious, and was heated up to the "liar" point in one instance.

The osteopaths urged and the regular practitioners opposed the passage of the bill introduced by Senator Hutchinson, which authorizes the Governor to appoint a State board of examiners in osteopathy, the board to consist of three members. A license fee of $25 is required, and practising without a license after July, 1906, is made subject to a fine of $50 or imprisonment of not less than sixty days or more than six months. The same bill, in substance, was before the Legislature two years ago.

A. V. D. HONEYMAN ENTERTAINS MEN'S CLUB

LECTURE TO CONGREGATIONALISTS ON REINDEER LAND.

The Congregation Church Men's Club held a social last night which was largely attended. A. V. D. Honeyman made an address on the subject: "Travels in Reindeer Land." The talk was a description of Mr. Honeyman's own experiences while travelling in Lapland. The speaker referred to the nature of the country, its climatic and scenic conditions, and dwelt at some length upon the people with whom the "reindeer land" is inhabited.

Mr. Honeyman's description of the rough life of the Laplanders, their habits and characteristics was at once interesting and instructive. It is rarely that anything is heard of the Laplanders except through books, so few people have visited their frozen domains. This fact made Mr. Honeyman's account doubly appreciated, as he spoke from direct knowledge of the people and their country.

Selections by the Victor talking machine were appreciated, as were solos by E. C. Martin. Dr. J. H. Buchanan was the accompanist. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. The member of the refreshment committee were A. Millard, chairman; Gilbert Rhoads and Samuel Harper.

ORDINANCE FOR BARBERS

Health Board's Rigid Provisions Covering Local Shops.

IN EFFECT JUNE 1

Sanitary Requirements — Penalty of $20 for Violations—Licenses.

The Board of Health at its March meeting yesterday adopted on second reading the ordinance to license and regulate barber shops in this city, the object being to prevent the spread of contagious skin diseases in unsanitary shops. The ordinance provides that every barber in the city shall on or before June 1, 1905, and annually thereafter, procure a permit in writing from the Board of Health for which permit the sum of $3 shall be paid.

The ordinance also provides for strict adherence to these rules: First—barbers must wash their hands thoroughly with soap and water before attending any person, and keep their finger nails short and clean. Second—no alum or other astringent shall be used in stick form. If used at all it must be in the form of powder. Third—the use of powder-puffs is prohibited. Fourth—no towel shall be used for more than one person without being washed. Fifth—a sponge must not be used on more than one person. Sixth—mugs and shaving brushes shall be thoroughly washed in boiling water after use on each person. Seventh—combs, razors, clippers and scissors shall be thoroughly cleaned by the use of some germicide as frequent intervals. Eighth—floors must be swept or mopped every day and all furniture and woodwork kept free from dust. Ninth—hot and cold water must be provided. Tenth—no person shall be allowed to use any barber shop to sleep in.

The ordinance also provides that on and after June 1 next, a printed copy of the ordinance shall be placed and kept in a conspicuous place and position in the various barber shops. Any persons offending against or violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall on conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a penalty of not less than $2 nor more than $20, the amount of such penalty to be left to the discretion of the court or magistrate before whom complaint may be made.

POLICE PENSIONS.

Plan to Deduct Two Per Cent. From Active Men's Salaries.

Councilman W. S. Tyler, chairman of the police committee, believes that the city can secure better police service and greater efficiency in this department if after a long service the men are given a suitable pension, according to the system in vogue in other cities. At the meeting of the Common Council Monday night he made the suggestion that some scheme be adopted whereby a pension fund can be established and he invites suggestions from everybody. Mr. Tyler does not propose to bring the matter up at present for action. He wants a free and full discussion of the subject.

Mr. Tyler referred to the case of Roundsman William J. Mattox, who has just resigned owing to ill-health, and stated that he regretted that the city was not in a position to assist him. With some kind of a pension system this trouble would be overcome and it would prove an incentive for persons seeking positions on the force, knowing that in after years they would not be thrown on their own resources.

By way of a suggestion Mr. Tyler said that after a certain period of service a man might be retired on half-pay and that to provide for this a pension fund might be established by deducting two per cent. from the salaries of the active men. This system is in force in other cities, although the amount deducted is said to be one per cent. The police departments are larger and the one per cent. would bring in more than two per cent. would here. It was believed that if the plan is fully explained to the members of the force it would receive their hearty endorsement.

City Court Cases.

The following cases were disposed of in the city court yesterday morning: Charles Leonard, intoxication, sixty days; Miss Emma Rockfellow, adjudged insane and committed to State Hospital; Chris Deimunsch, who has temporary aberration, committed for ten days until his mind clears up, when he will be sent to his home in Philadelphia.

Miss Clara Weber, of East Third street, has been entertaining Miss Bessie Stricklets, of New York.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN LENTEN REGULATIONS

PRIVILEGES GRANTED CATHOLICS OF NEWARK DIOCESE NOT RENEWED.

There is an important change this year in the Lenten regulations for Roman Catholics of the Newark diocese, which includes St. Mary's parish, as the dispensation granted those performing manual labor permission to use meat on certain fast days, including the Ember days, but excepting, of course, Fridays, the closing days of the Holy Week and the eve of Christmas, has expired. This privilege was granted for ten years by the late Pope Leo, and the time expired this month. A request for a renewal of the dispensation was sent to Rome, but as yet no answer has been received from the Pontiff. The Rt. Rev. John J. O'Connor, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Newark, delayed preparing the regulations until a decision was reached, but nothing was heard from Rome and the regulations will be issued this week and read through chancellor of the diocese, the Rev. T. A. Wallace, and will be read in the churches throughout the diocese.

The regulations in full are as follows, and under the provisions workingmen will be required to abstain from meat on fast days unless the dispensation is again granted, and if so formal announcement will be made of the fact:

"The following regulations will be observed throughout the Diocese of Newark during the Lenten season, commencing on Ash Wednesday, March 8, 1905:

"All the week days of Lent from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday are fast days of precept on one meal, with the allowance of a moderate collation in the evening. The church excuses from the obligation of fasting (but not of abstinence from flesh meat, except in special cases of sickness), the infirm, those who are attaining their growth, those whose duties are of an exhausting or laborious character, women bearing or nursing infants, and those who are enfeebled by old age. The following dispensations are granted for this diocese:

"The use of flesh meat is permitted at every meal on the Sundays of Lent, and at the principal meal on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, with the exception of Ember Saturday and Holy Saturday.

"The use of eggs and milk, butter, cheese and the like is allowed every day at the principal meal, and at the evening collation.

"A small piece of bread with a cup of coffee, tea, chocolate or similar drink, may be taken in the morning.

"When it is not convenient to take the principal meal at noon, it is lawful to invert the order and take the collation in the morning and the dinner in the evening. Dripping and lard may be used in the preparation of food.

"On Sunday there is neither fast nor abstinence, but it is not allowed to eat fish and flesh meat at the same meal on any day during Lent. Those who are not obliged to fast may partake of flesh meat at every meal on a day when by special indult flesh meat is permitted at the principal meat.

"All priests exercising the faculties of this diocese are empowered to grant dispensations from the precept of fast and abstinence in particular cases and for sufficient cause.

"A plenary indulgence has been conceded by the Holy See to all the faithful of this diocese, who, on the Feast of St. Patrick, or within the Octave, receive with proper dispositions the sacraments of penance and the blessed Eucharist, and visiting a church or chapel, offer prayers to God according to the intention of the Holy Father and for the propagation of the faith.

"The holy oils will be consecrated at the Cathedral on Holy Thursday, April 20, at 10 a. m., and distributed at 2 p. m.

"In accordance with the direction of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore a collection will be taken up in all the churches of this diocese on the first Sunday of Lent, in aid of the propagation of the faith and of the Indian and colored missions.

"With the view of encouraging this salutary work of mercy and of animating the Christian zeal of the faithful for the salvation of perishing souls, our Holy Father has benignly granted a plenary indulgence to all who having contritely confessed and worthily received holy communion on that day, devoutly visit a church in which the collection is made, assist at the sermon and the other observances of divine worship that may be celebrated on that occasion, and offer prayer for the propagation of the faith and the intention of the sovereign pontiff.

"In compliance with the command of our Holy Father in his brief of December, 1887, a collection for the Holy Land will be taken up in all the churches of this diocese either on Good Friday or on the third Sunday after Easter this year."

Sharpened Swords For Army.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The officers and cavalrymen of the American army are to have sharpened swords hereafter if they want them. Heretofore the accepted type of military sword has been rather blunt, and, in fact, a considerable element in the army maintained that the spirit of the rules of modern warfare was opposed to a keen edged sword. But modern practice is the other way, and the Japanese in particular sharpen their terrible cutting swords so that they frequently split a man down from his shoulder to his heart or chop off an arm with ease.

Quadruple Murder In Arkansas.

A STRIKE DISASTER

Rear End Collision In New York Subway.

TWENTY-NINE PERSONS INJURED.

Elevated and Underground Lines Being Run With Strike Breakers. Cause of Accident Said to Be Inexperienced Men.

NEW YORK, March 8.—With one collision, in which twenty-nine persons were injured and none killed, the New York transportation lines are still running, manned by strike breakers. Beyond this accident and some minor casualties due to the abnormal conditions the sum total of the day was annoyance and vexation to a million or more people usually dependent upon the Interborough company's lines for transportation to and from their business. So far there has been little disorder. Sporadic encounters between individuals, some bad language and the action of a few hoodlums in throwing missiles at passing elevated trains tell this phase of the strike.

The annoyance to the multitude was increased by a wet snowstorm. Service on the elevated roads and subway, while not tied up, was crippled, and badly crippled at that. Trains were run on irregular schedules in the underground beginning with the early morning, but the elevated lines did not fare so well. On the east side practically no attempt was made to institute a service, while the Sixth and Ninth avenue lines, which serve the west side, were run in a fashion woefully inadequate. In fact, the elevated system of the Interborough's lines was pretty well paralyzed.

The company's entire energy seemed to be directed to an effort to maintain service in the subway, and in this it was partially successful. Strike Breaker Farley and his crew of 700 or 800 men were thrown into the tunnel. Officials of the company gave this system their personal attention, and an enormous number of policemen were detailed to the trains and stations.

The attempt to run express trains was abandoned early in the day. Every available man was put on the locals, and a fairly good schedule was maintained during the evening rush hour until the accident at Twenty-third street took place. This upset things, but after strenuous effort they were straightened out, and a service was resumed on a headway of from five to seven minutes.

The accident at Twenty-third street was in the nature of a rear end collision, due, it is said, to the inexperience of the men on the trains. Two cars had their ends smashed in, there was a panic among scores of passengers, and of the injured fifteen were so severely hurt that they had to be sent to the hospitals. Traffic was delayed for over two hours—from 5 o'clock until after 7.

The train had just drawn into the Twenty-third street station and some of the passengers were about to alight when there was a crash, as a train which had left the bridge only thirty seconds after the first train dashed into the train standing at Twenty-third street. The steel car on the first train was forced into the rear of the car just ahead. All of the lights of the first train went out, and a moment later were heard the cries of the injured and panic stricken passengers. Those who were standing in the two rear cars of the first train and in the first cars of the second train were thrown to the floor.

The passengers standing on the platforms of the last two cars of the first train were caught as in a vise. It was here that all of those who were hurt received their injuries.

Policemen and firemen were summoned to chop the cars apart and rescue the imprisoned. It was fifteen minutes before the first of the victims was released. Meantime some of the cooler of the passengers in the train had lighted matches in the cars and were assisting the women to the doors at the unbroken ends of the two cars, and in a few minutes men and women were being passed through the broken windows to the platform. Some of them were carried across the tracks to the downtown station. Many persons bleeding from slight cuts and other trifling injuries left the train in this way without giving their names to the police.

The firemen worked for over an hour before they were able to cut the last of the injured passengers out of the car.

Cortelyou's First Appointment.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The first appointment made by Postmaster General Cortelyou was that of H. O. Weaver of Ohio to be private secretary. Mr. Weaver sustained this relation to Mr. Cortelyou during the last two years of his White House work, went with him to the department of commerce and labor, then to New York, when Mr. Cortelyou assumed the management of the Republican national campaign.

Veteran Burned to Death.

WATERFORD, Vt., March 8.—George Williams, a veteran of the civil war, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his home here. Williams lived alone, and there was no other person about the house when the fire started. The fire is believed to have been caused by an explosion of kerosene.

Cereal Company's Mill Burned.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., March 8.—The plant of the American Cereal company, said to be the largest oatmeal mill in the world, was burned down last night and will be a total loss. Two persons lost their lives in the flames. The fire spread rapidly, and assistance had to be asked from nearby cities.

PROBING STANFORD CASE.

San Francisco Police Using Third Degree on Butler and Maid.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—For the last two days the police have been considerably more active in their investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford.

Albert Beverly, the former butler, and Miss Elizabeth Richmond, the former maid, have been through a severe inquisition lasting nearly three hours, and the police are not through with them.

Mr. Mountford Wilson, attorney for the Stanford estate; District Attorney Byington and Captain of Detectives Burnett did the questioning.

The police have steadfastly refused to divulge the line of questioning to which Beverly and Miss Richmond have thus far been subjected, but it has been gleaned from a reliable source that Beverly admitted to them that he was in the habit of taking commissions on purchases made for the household while in Mrs. Stanford's employ. This much the police have admitted, but they refuse to affirm or deny the correctness of the further statement of Beverly that Miss Berner shared with him in these illegal commissions on purchases. In a cable dispatch from Honolulu she makes an absolute denial of the charge.

Miss Richmond declared to the police that it was Butler William McWhinney who opened the bottles of mineral water on the occasion of the attempt made to poison Mrs. Stanford last January. She said she carried one of the bottles to Mrs. Stanford and that the other was intended for Miss Berner.

A Honolulu dispatch says that the chemists in a test of the contents of Mrs. Stanford's stomach have found a color which indicated strychnine poisoning and that they will so testify at the inquest. The chemists also found strychnine in the bicarbonate of soda of which Mrs. Stanford partook on the night of her death.

THE CLIFTON WRECK.

Failure of Engineer to Observe Railway Rules Caused Disaster.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—The result of the investigation of the Clifton (Pa.) wreck last Friday evening, in which seven members of the Ohio engineer battalion were killed and thirty-two were injured while going to the inauguration from Cleveland, O., has been made known by the Pennsylvania company. The failure of the engineer on section 3 to observe the rules, the company alleges, was responsible for the collision with the second section.

According to the statement, the engineer, who has been dismissed from the service, testified that because of drifting smoke from a passing train he failed to see the signal west of Clifton, and notwithstanding this he made no effort to stop until it was too late. It was found that all signals displayed the proper indications.

Those remaining in the hospitals here are reported to be doing well, and all will recover.

THE CHADWICK TRIAL

Defense Established Errors In Government Case.

CARNEGIE MAY NOT BE CALLED.

Oberlin Bank Books Did Not Show Any Account That Accused Could Draw Checks on Without Funds as Charged.

CLEVELAND, O., March 8.—Nine witnesses were examined in the Chadwick trial, and the defense established the fact that the claim of the government that Mrs. Chadwick had no money in the Oberlin bank at the time of drawing checks which were certified by Spear and Beckwith was incorrect in two instances at least.

It was shown by the general journal of the bank that on Nov. 3, 1903, when Mrs. Chadwick received a certified check for $10,000, an entry crediting her with that amount was made on the journal of the bank and a deposit slip for $10,000 was made out in her name. The entry and the slip were in the handwriting of Cashier Spear. Another entry of similar nature, amounting to $5,000, was also found. These facts were brought out on cross examination by Judge Wing, counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, after long and tedious questioning of H. H. Avery, assistant cashier of the Oberlin bank.

Mr. Avery testified that the entry giving credit to Mrs. Chadwick for $10,000 was in the handwriting of Cashier Spear and that the deposit slip for the same amount was also in Spear's handwriting. Robert Lyons, receiver for the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, was the last witness of the day. He said that the books did not show that any account had ever existed by which Mrs. Chadwick could draw checks on the bank. All the accounts of the banks balanced, with the exception of that with the First National bank of Cleveland, where there was a discrepancy of about $27,000 in favor of the Cleveland institution.

Avery at first testified that Mrs. Chadwick at no time had either money in or credit at the bank.

It is doubtful if Andrew Carnegie will take the stand. District Attorney Sullivan said:

"It is not my present intention to put Mr. Carnegie on the stand, and I do not think that he will be called upon to testify unless his evidence should be needed in rebuttal of something introduced by the defense."

YOUNG MEN'S PARTY WON.

Charter Election at Bath—Bennett Elected Mayor.

BATH, N. Y., March 8.—At the annual charter election here the Young Men's party, which is nonpartisan, defeated the straight Republican ticket, headed by Moses Davison, Republican candidate for mayor, electing every candidate on the ticket except one. The successful candidates were:

Mayor, Edward Clarence Bennett; trustees, Martin V. Barton and Ambrose W. Hewlett; treasurer, Charles Davison; clerk, Frederick Y. Wynkoop; assessors, Burchard D. Platt and Royal C. Clark, and collector, George L. Dale. Hewlett was the only Republican elected and will be the only Republican in the common council. It was one of the hardest fought elections ever held in Bath.

Captain Kirkman Resigns.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Captain George W. Kirkman, Twenty-fifth infantry, who is being tried by court martial at Fort Niobrara, Neb., on charges of scandalous conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, has tendered his resignation as an officer of the army, and the question of its acceptance is under consideration by the president and the secretary of war. Charges of a serious character have been preferred against Captain Kirkman, and it is said to be unlikely he will be allowed to leave the service without punishment.

Protest Against Japanese Poachers.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 8.—A protest, supported by affidavits, has been sent to the department of commerce and labor by influential fishermen of Washington and Oregon calling attention to the fact that Japanese fishermen are coming across the Bering sea and catching salmon by the shipload off the Alaskan coast. The supply of fish in Japan is now limited and the demand increased by reason of the war, so that the poachers are cutting off a good market for the American fishermen.

Ex-Queen Leaves Villa For Hotel.

FLORENCE, March 8.—The Countess Montignoso, formerly crown princess of Saxony, has been obliged to give up her villa at Papiniavo and has taken rooms in a hotel at Fiesole. The countess states that the change is necessary until her former husband, King Frederick Augustus of Saxony, either voluntarily or by order of the court pays her the allowance agreed upon at the time of her divorce.

Arrest In Montclair Murder Case.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 8.—A man giving the name of Brooks and claiming to be a shipwrecked sailor has been arrested in York county on the charge of being implicated in the murder of Mrs. Hannah Ross in Montclair, N. J. He is said to answer fully the description sent out of the missing coachman.

Case Against Santa Fe Opens.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 8.—The taking of testimony was begun here in the case brought by the state of Kansas against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company in Chautauqua county on the charge of violating the state antitrust law.

Plainfield, N. J., March 8, 1905.

According to the Elizabeth Evening Times, there are 1,234,567,890,000 mosquitoes hibernating in the lower end of that town. Why not try on the pesky little creatures some of that power house whiskey?

In another column are published the provisions of the sanitary barber shop ordinance which the Board of Health has passed on second reading. It is a rigid measure and should have salutory effects. As a rule the local barber shops are clean but there are a few establishments where a more strict regulation is needed and in these particularly an improvement may be expected when the new ordinance goes into effect on June 1.

"The Indianapolis News chronicles the dissolution of a dry goods firm at Marion, Ind., which for seventeen years had maintained an up-hill fight against modern business methods, only to be beaten at last," says the Philadelphia Record. "The firm in question had the best site in town, and hosts of friends; and when its field was invaded by other houses that advertised, it refused to throw its money away for newspaper space. Gradually the new stores won the patronage of the old one; new customers failed to appear to take the place of the deserters, and the firm that tried to get along without advertising has finally relinquished its business. Which demonstrates again that advertising is not a luxury, but a necessity."

MRS. HART SENTENCED TO ONE YEAR IN PRISON

THOMAS WEARREN FINED $100 IN COUNTY COURT THIS MORNING.

Mrs. Mary Hart, who was convicted of manslaughter at the last term of be Supreme Court, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment this morning by Justice Vail, at Elizabeth. Mrs. Hart caused the death of a little deaf mute at the Egenolf Day Nursery by putting it in a hot mustard bath, so that it died from scalding. The case is significant for the fact that it occurred almost at the same time as the Wilcox manslaughter case, in which the defendant was acquitted.

Thomas Wearren was fined $100 in the bankruptcy suit brought by Botce, Runyon & Company. The defendant claimed that the extent of the sum owed to the lumber firm was $100 and not $800 as was charged. He was represented by William Newcorn. The case has been dragging through the courts for a long time, having started on October 12, 1903. The verdict was given last week.

HOPE CHAPEL FAIR OPENED LAST NIGHT

LADIES' AID SOCIETY IN CHARGE OF THE BAZAAR.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, for the benefit of the kitchen fund, a fair opened at Hope chapel Sunday-school yesterday afternoon, which promises to be one of the quite successful. The rooms were attractively decorated in red and white and the tables were tastefully arranged. Festoons of red and white paper were hung about the room and around the tables. During both the afternoon and evening, the friends of the society visited the rooms, and a considerable sum was realized from the sale of useful and ornamental articles.

Fancy work, candy, tea, cake, ice cream, groceries and fruit tables were among the attractions. The affair was in charge of Mrs. Hanglter, the president of the society.

She was assisted by the following committees: Fancy work, Mrs. William Gray, Mrs. L. R. Howard, Mrs. J. B. Higgins, Mrs. O. Pearsen, Mrs. Struthers, Mrs. Margaret Sweeney and Mrs. Miller; candy, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Fred Wharton, Mrs. Joseph Farley, Mrs. Paul Symons and Mrs. George Wallace; groceries and fruit, Mrs. J. Johnston, Mrs. A. Jackson, Mrs. Charles Vincent, Mrs. Thos. Chamberlain and Miss Moffett; ice cream, Mrs. G. M. Rittenhouse, Mrs. P. Manchester, Mrs. Ruckman, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Graves; cake, Mrs. Walter Bradford, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. Joseph Randolph, Mrs. Charles Delehunt, Mrs. Clarence Leland; tea and coffee, Mrs. H. Hoffman, Mrs. Mewinkle, Mrs. L. H. Martin, Mrs. Crateley, Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. William Thompson.

During the evening the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, under the direction of M. I. Kerr, rendered a pleasing programme of popular selections. They will also play tonight. The fair will be open this afternoon, and will conclude in the evening.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

At the recent meeting of the Borough Council, Mr. Kline, of the Public Service Corporation, was present and submitted a chart of the company's plans, outlining the proposed line of gas pipe which it desires to lay in the borough. The map covered the principal streets, and showed the proposed location of the P. S. C. gas pipes. The matter was thoroughly discussed by the Council, and though no definite decision was made, it was stated that the answer would be given at the next meeting, after the subject has been considered and the plans inspected. It will probably be on March 20. The plan seems to met with general favor, and undoubtedly the offer of the Public Service Corporation will be accepted if it is the main streets will be supplied and without question the majority of the citizens will welcome the improvement. The chart showed plans for the north side of the railroad only, and at the next meeting it will be presented again, with provision for the streets on the south also.

Owing to the great increse in freight traffic, it has been necessary to lay another side track south of the station. The new track was partially put down yesterday, and will be about one hundred yards in length. During the winter, a great deal of freight business has been carried on at the local stations, the large number of factories in the vicinity adding greatly to the demand for freight accommodations. Shipments are received daily for the local concerns and in the past the tracks have been greatly over crowded. There is also a large expert freight business, which requires adequate track space.

At the meeting of the Board of Education last night, the object of which was a discussion of the proposed fire escape for the borough school, it was decided to ask for an appropriation from the Council and the matter will be considered by that body at its next meeting. The long felt need of fire escapes was brought out by several speakers in favor of the construction and the dissenting voices were few. The committee on the matter reported their investigation of the cost, and considering the public sentiment in favor of the erection of fire escapes, the Council will doubtless approve of the appropriation.

Mrs. Beck, wife of Michael Beck, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home in West Dunellen. She was a resident of the place for many years and had been ill about a month. She was sixty-seven years old and leaves a husband and two daughters. The funeral services will be held from the late home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A team of bowlers that George E. Firstbrook promised to bring from Plainfield to Dunellen Monday night and pit against Neil Taylor's team, failed to show up. The local pin hitters are at a loss to understand why "Fozzy" showed the white feather.

Th Y. P. S. C. E., of the Presbyterian church, met last night at the home of Mrs. James Craig. A business meeting was combined with a delightful social. Games were played, and refreshments were served.

The new coal shutes are now in working order, having started this week. The work has commenced again on the Central yards, and is progressing faverably. Over 300 hands are employed.

The invitations for the dance to be given at Friendship Hall on Saturday night, have been sent out. The affair is in charge of Harry Kenyon and William Piddington.

Miss Eva Bodine, of Bayonne, has returned to her home after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Bodine, of the borough.

Garreson & Gray have installed new machinery in their stone work on the mountain. It was moved up the mountain yesterday.

Joseph Hague has taken the position of engineer and his brother, George, will be employed as fireman for the Central Railroad.

George Huff has been given the contract for delivering coal to the Watchung Water Company's plant at Greenbrook.

George Giles has begun various improvements about his property, among which is the erection of a new roof on his barn.

Mrs. J. Newton Apgar, who has been confined to her home nearly all winter by illness, is now much improved.

Miss Georgia Twining, of Watchung, has been visiting Mrs. William Twining, of the borough.

Rev. Frank Fletcher has recently changed his boarding place. He now resides with Mr. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Creager, of Newark, have returned after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Vail.

James Vail will shortly move to Plainfield, where he will make his home in the future.

Mrs. Robert Giddis, of Philadelphia, has been visiting Mrs. I. T. Giddis.

Mrs. Emma Rarick has returned after a visit with her mother at Freehold.

Edward Limepeter has returned to work, after an illness with appendicitis.

Frank Touseau has returned after a visit with out-of-town friends.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

But little interest in baseball is being manifested this season by the scholars of the High School. There is not enough available material in the class to put a streng team on the diamond, so the school probably be without a ball team this year.

Lynus Walople, Jr., is quite ill at his home, scarlet fever having developed after an illness of several days. The home was quarantined by the Board of Health yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Robison, who have been visiting Mr. Robison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robison, of the borough, have returned to their home in New York.

DEFEAT OF RUSSIANS

Kuropatkin Cannot Hold Mukden Against Oyama.

WILL RETREAT TO NORTHWARD.

Slaughter Is Worse Than That of Liaoyang—Both Armies Have Suffered Tremendously In Ten Days' Fighting.

LONDON, March 8.—A St. Petersburg dispatch this morning says: "That the battle of Mukden will go down in history with Liaoyang in the long list of Russian defeats is the almost universal belief in pessimistic St. Petersburg, which has forgotten the meaning of the word victory. The war office does not admit that the issue of the great battle has been decided, although it is positively stated in high quarters that General Kuropatkin has telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas that it will be impossible to hold Mukden and that the withdrawal of the army northward has already been begun."

While the Japanese hurled themselves forward at every point, their main energies were behind the blow west and southwest in an attempt to envelop the Russian right and drive a wedge through the line at Madzyapu, but General Kuropatkin seems to have been able successfully to change front on the line of his shattered right, aligning from northwest to southeast, to protect the railroad to Mukden.

For ten days the Japanese and Russian armies in Manchuria have been engaged in a mighty conflict, the issue of which has not yet been reached. Although the most of the news from the scene of the battle comes through Russian sources and consequently may be supposed to present the facts in as favorable a light as possible for the Russian arms, it is evident that the Japanese have made some great gains. St. Petersburg has an unofficial report that General Kuropatkin's center has been broken and that thirteen siege guns have fallen into the hands of the Japanese. These guns, which are of the six and eight inch caliber, were given permanent implacements on the line of the railroad north of Shakhe station, the fact evidencing the confidence of the Russians that the Japanese could not penetrate thither. In St. Petersburg it is generally believed that General Kuropatkin is fighting a rear guard action to cover his retreat and that the night will have witnessed a large withdrawal of troops toward Tie pass.

Beyond the statement that the casualties exceed those of the battle of Liaoyang there is little known as to the number killed or wounded.

Mukden dispatches say that the battle on the Russian right flank rages with undiminished vigor. The Japanese have made good their position at Tacha and pushed the contest north to Sinmintin the same as on Sunday, four miles from the main battle line, though apparently no nearer. As was the case in the battle of Liaoyang, the semicircular positions where the battle is progressing now are so near that the whole of them are accessible from Mukden in a day's tour.

The losses already exceed those in the battle of Liaoyang on the Russian side, and the Japanese are supposed to have suffered much more, though this does not seem to shake the Japanese tenacity, for at noon they attacked Yenhsitun, advancing their infantry and occupying Yenhsitun, when the artillery battle increased furiously, shells setting fire to many buildings, the smoke from which, joining a dust storm, shrouded the vast plain in clouds in which the battle roared and the sun sank.

The appearance of this region, which has now been two days under fire, begins to resemble a siege.

The Japanese at 2 o'clock in the morning attacked a Russian position on the Hun river from Machiapu. The artillery fire has been continuous and shifted northward after daylight almost to the Sinmintin road, from which wounded and Chinese refugees are arriving. Fighting is heard also far to the northward.

Numbers of Japanese wounded along the Sinmintin road have been brought in and cared for.

The Japanese have made a succession of desperate attacks on General Tserpitsky's division on the west front south of Mukden, repeating the assault at intervals of two hours with constant re-enforcements. About 50,000 Japanese, with 200 pieces of artillery, participated. All the attacks were repulsed, there being enormous losses on both sides. One extremely important position changed hands several times. Finally General Tserpitsky, on horseback, placing himself at the head of his troops, led his regiments to the attack with colors flying and music playing. The attack was successful. After it was over the victorious soldiers crowded around General Tserpitsky, shouting his praises and even kissing his hands and feet. The Russians captured several quick firing guns and many Japanese prisoners, including officers.

It was reported that Major General Gerngross of the East Siberian rifles has taken and held Tashichao.

Gompers to Advise Strikers.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has arrived here from Washington. Mr. Gompers will be consulted by the leaders of the railway men's strike and his advice sought in any prospective settlement.

New York Strike Cripples Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—The Interborough Rapid Transit company lines of New York has crippled the Pittsburg Railway company, which controls all the trolley lines in Pittsburg. Nearly all of the extra men and quite a number of the regular motormen have been rounded up for positions on the subway in New York. A conservative estimate secured last night is that fully seventy-five men have left for New York, thirty getting away last night.

END OF EQUITABLE.

Alleged Threat of Hyde Faction to Wind Up Company.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The World says that at a conference of the Alexander and Hyde factions in the Equitable Life Assurance society war the astounding threat was made by one of the Hyde party that rather than surrender control of the society the affairs of the Equitable would be wound up, so that the huge assets of the corporation could be distributed among the stockholders.

The method proposed was as follows:

To provide for the reinsurance of the 600,000 policy holders of the Equitable in other companies, notably the New York Life and the Mutual Life, on an arrangement that would transfer to the companies taking the reinsurance sums from the assets of the Equitable sufficient to profit them in taking such a tremendous amount of business in one lump, and much of it old business that is soon to mature.

The legality of such a movement, it is asserted, could not be successfully attacked, there being several precedents in existence where life insurance companies have gone out of business by transferring to other companies all of their outstanding policies, together with a proportion of the premium money paid in on each.

The policy holders all being disposed of and without any right to claim any interest in the Equitable, it is claimed that it would then be eminently proper to wind up its affairs by distributing its assets pro rata among the surviving owners—the stockholders.

Were such a plan carried out the $100,000 capital stock of the society would have at the least a value equivalent to the surplus of $81,000,000. This would make each one of the thousand shares worth $81,000.

It would make the 510 shares of the Hyde estate worth $41,310,000, or more than eight times the amount offered young Mr. Hyde for his controlling interest by the Harriman-Frick syndicate.

The holdings of the Hyde family are now, however, greatly in excess of 510 shares. Since the fight began young Mr. Hyde, on the advice of his lawyers, has bought every share of Equitable stock that could be bought. Enormous prices have been paid for some of the shares.

HIGH CARNIVAL.

New Orleans' Gay Crowds Have Fun With Rex.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—Carnival day here passed without rain, and the pleasure of the vast crowds on the streets was uninterrupted.

A feature of the pageant was a brilliant display by Comus last night, and the mystic Krewe delved deeply into classic lore, telling in a series of twenty gorgeous floats the story of the search for the lost Pleiad.

At the conclusion of the parade Comus entertained at a ball at the French Opera House, which attracted leaders from all sections of the country. A popular reception was given by Rex at Washington Artillery hall, which for the occasion was converted into an imperial palace. His majesty selected as queen of the carnival Miss Hazel Ellis.

No Reconciliation For Cody.

OMAHA, Neb., March 8.—During the course of his deposition in his petition for divorce William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") declared that he could not accept any reconciliation with Mrs. Cody and declared he would have absolutely nothing to do with her in the future. This declaration was made as the result, Colonel Cody stated, of Mrs. Cody having charged him with being the murderer of their daughter Arta and announcing publicly that she would denounce him over her grave.

Coal Digger Will Get a Medal.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—It is reported from McKeesport that as a recognition of his services for flagging a Baltimore and Ohio inaugural train Sunday and preventing a terrible catastrophe, Thomas Bain, a coal digger of Shanner, will receive a medal of honor from the government. He was notified that President Roosevelt would bestow the medal soon. The railroad will also recognize Bain's services.

Mrs. Di Pietro Dead.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Mrs. Rose Di Pietro, who was recently acquitted of murder when placed on trial in Manhattan for shooting and killing an Italian who had persecuted her with his attentions, is dead at her home in Long Island City. As she had apparently no medical attendance at the time of her death, the case is being investigated by the officials.

Religious Mania Caused Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—A. B. Edwards, second officer of the steamship Friesland, which has arrived here from Liverpool, jumped overboard in midocean and was drowned. The suicide occurred last Thursday night and is said to have been due to religious mania. Edwards' home was in Liverpool. He was thirty-six years old.

WOMAN POSED AS MAN; WAS GOOD COW PUNCHER

Wore Male Attire to Earn Living for Baby and Mother—Also a Dining Room Girl.

Norfolk, Neb.—Masquerading as a man for many months before she was finally discovered wearing male attire for the purpose of securing work at men's wages with which she might support her babe and mother, Mrs. Omer F. Sweigert, of Waterloo, Ia., has been playing a unique role in Holt county and at O'Neill, Neb.

Working on ranches in western Nebraska as a full-fledged cowboy, pitching hay alongside the huskiest fellow, attending neighborhood dancing parties as an attractive beau and making love to the young women of the cummunity for the sake of carrying out her masquerade in each detail, Mrs. Sweigert was chagrined to a degree when, upon rumors that her features were too fine for any man, the authorities investigated her story and wrung from her the confession of her true sex.

Deserted by her husband, Mrs. Sweigert declares that she was unable to sustain the babe that he left and her aged mother, at woman's wages. Accordingly she came west, got work at good pay, earned a team and a wagon, and was rapidly acquiring all the habits that are known to man. She was a good fellow among the other cow punchers on the ranch, could shoot as well as the average man and rode horseback with perfect ease. When Christmas came, the disguised woman came to town, secured work in the Dewey hotel as cook and roomed with an old-time friend, Jack Nance. The new cook was a winner with the dining-room maids, and was engaged to be married to one of them.

Mrs. Sweigert has agreed to leave town, and Nance mysteriously disappeared when he suspected that the game was up.

GIRLS ATTACK WILD BEAST

Nervy Young Maidens Kill Maddened Lynx and Save Their Pet Dog from Death.

Northport, Wash.—While a maddened lynx was worrying their pet dog, the Phillips sisters attacked the wild beast. One literally wrested the dog from the jaws of the lynx, the other killed it with a shot through the head.

Faye and Florence Phillips, aged 17 and 19, respectively, live on the homestead of their father, Fred S. Phillips, on the reservation side of the Columbia, near the mouth of Big Sandy creek, two miles from Northport. The other afternoon the hired man ran home to tell that the dog had treed a large lynx. The girls seized rifles from the wall and followed up the bark of the dog. He had the beast treed on one of the highest limbs. Both girls fired at the same time. The wounded animal bounded into the air and landed on the ground a few feet from the girls, who were coolly reloading their weapons.

The moment the beast struck the ground it was attacked by the dog. The animals rolled over and over in a savage struggle, but the lynx was too much for the dog. So rapid were the movements of the animals that the girls feared to shoot, because they might kill their pet dog. Finally the dog emitted a shriek of mortal agony.

The girls rushed to the rescue. One grasped the dog's limp hind legs and literally pulled the combatants apart, while the other sent a bullet through the head of the lynx. They shouldered the animal between them and returned home accompanied by the limp, torn and bleeding dog. They hung the lynx in the woodshed, and he proved to be an unusually large beast, with long tassels on his ears.

MISSING HOGS FOUND.

Gone for Three Months, They Are Discovered in Mine Shaft in Emaciated Condition.

Batavia, N. Y.—John Bower, residing six miles from here, three months ago lost three hogs. Bower advertised and made diligent search without avail. The other day while some miners in a mine of a gypsum company were at work they heard strange sounds, and upon searching the adjacent tunnel came across three hogs. The animals could scarcely walk, and were a mass of skin and bones. They were taken into the open air and fed carefully, and are getting along with every prospect of living.

It was found that the animals had fallen into an unused shaft, a distance of 50 feet. There was some water in the tunnels, so that they had something to drink. The hogs when they disappeared weighed in the neighborhood of 225 pounds each. When taken from their three months' imprisonment they weighed 35 pounds each.

Notable Women

Feminine Work In Religious and Sociological Fields

A remarkable change has occurred in the character of religious work in the past few years. Religion has apparently concluded that it must first care for the bodies of the poor and the wicked if it would make any impression on their souls. The tactics of wise and earnest people who desire the spiritual uplifting of the mass of humanity is to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, heal the sick and in addition develop the intelligence.

In this new scheme of endeavor women take wonderful part.

The Salvation Army, it seems to have been, that evolved the new plan of simultaneous body and soul help. Notable it is, too, that from the beginning women Salvationists have had in that organization precisely the same rights as men, even sharing with them the highest offices. That is undoubtedly the reason the Salvation Army has gained such power and influence.

What women can do in the new socio-religious field of work is illustrated by Evangeline, or Eva, Booth, the present executive head of the Salvation Army of the United States. She was appointed to her place because she could fill it. She has under her charge 30,000 Salvationists.

Eva Booth is the fourth daughter of General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. As head of the organization in America she will have the disbursement annually of nearly or quite $1,000,000. Helen Gould is a generous contributor to Miss Booth's treasury.

A Rich Girl Works For the Poor.

Among the lassies of the American Salvation Army one of the most earnest and able soldiers is Miss Elizabeth Van Norden, the daughter of a New York banker. Miss Van Norden was reared in luxury. All that fashionable society has to offer was at her feet. Yet one day Elizabeth Van Norden turned away from it all and enrolled herself as a cadet with the Salvationists to work out alike her own salvation and that of some of her fellow creatures. She wears the regulation blue uniform, is in all respects a Salvation Army lassie and declares that as such she is far happier than she was in the days when she led the "humdrum existence of a society butterfly."

Because of her superior intellect and education Miss Van Norden was sent to Europe to study slum conditions in the cities there. At the time she went the army was establishing headquarters in Paris. To Paris Elizabeth Van Norden was assigned first accordingly. Afterward she visited Germany and Italy, still in army work. The Salvation Army now has secure foothold in all the large cities of Europe, and nowhere is it more successful than in Paris.

"The Tombs Angel."

Miss Ada Eliot is a probation officer of the court of special sessions in New York city. She is also agent for the children's department of the bureau of charities there. Miss Eliot belongs to the old family of that name in New England. She is a relative of President Eliot of Harvard, and her father, a citizen of St. Louis, is a very wealthy man. Miss Eliot herself is an earnest student of sociology, highly educated and intellectual, having withal that universal sympathy which unlocks for her all hearts. Her labors for two years have been mainly with women arrested for various offenses. She has become such a faithful, helpful friend to these that she is now known as the "Tombs angel." When a woman is sent to the Tombs prison Miss Eliot visits her and investigates the case. If it is a first offense, the prisoner is set free on probation and turned over to Miss Eliot. The refined, high bred woman officer in a majority of such cases restores the offender to respectable life, and her past is blotted out.

A New Religious Cult.

In Chicago Mrs. Mabel A. Jackman has established an organization on the basis of what she calls "scientific Christianity." A writer describes this scientific Christianity as an admixture between Christian Science and Salvation Army methods. Like Christian Science, Mrs. Jackman's plan proposes the healing of the sick and also includes social and industrial undertakings.

THE GRAFTERS

FRANCIS LYNDE

(Copyright, 1904, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company.)

"Why not?"

"There were good reasons before; there are better ones now."

"A $700,000 difference?" suggested Ormsby, who had had speech with Loring.

Kent flushed a dull red.

"I sha'n't strike you, Ormsby, no matter what you say," he said, doggedly.

"Humph! There is one difference between you and Rabbi Balaam's burro, David; it could talk sense, and you can't," was the offensive rejoinder.

Kent changed the subject abruptly.

"Say, Ormsby; I'm going into a political office-hunt. There is a death vacancy in the house, and I mean to have the nomination and election. I don't need money now, but I do need a friend. Are you with me?"

"Oh, sure. Miss Van Brock will answer for that."

"But I don't want you to do it on her account; I want you to do it for me."

"It's all one," said the club-man.

Kent looked up quickly.

"You are right; that is the truest word you've said to-night," and he went away, leaving the dessert untouched.

The evening was still young when Kent reached the house in Alameda square. Within the week the weather had changed, and the first chill of the approaching autumn was in the air. The great square house was lighted and warmed, and the homelikeness of the place appealed to him as it never had before. To her other gifts, which were many and diverse, Miss Van Brock added that of home-making; and the aftermath of battle is apt to be an acute longing for peace and quiet, for domesticity and creature comforts.

She was waiting for him when he entered the comfortable library.

"I knew you would come to-night," she said, cheerfully. "I gave you a day to drive the nail—and, O David! you have driven it well!—another day to clinch it, and a third to recover from the effects. Have you fully recovered?"

"I hope so. I took the day for it, at all events," he laughed. "I am just out of bed, as you might say."

"I can imagine how it took it out of you," she assented. "Not so much the work, but the anxiety. Night before last, after Mr. Loring went away, I sat it out with the telephone, nagging poor Mr. Hildreth for news until I know he wanted to murder me."

"How much did you get of it?" he asked.

"He told me all he dared—or perhaps it was all he knew—and it made me feel miserably helpless. The little I could get from the Argus office was enough to prove that all your plans had been changed at the last moment."

"They were," he admitted; and he began at the beginning and filled in the details for her.

She heard him through without comment other than a kindling of the brown eyes at the climaxes of daring; but at the end she gave him praise unstinted.

"You have played the man, David, as I knew you would if you could be once fully aroused. I've had faith in you from the very first."

"It has been more than faith, Portia," he asserted, soberly. "You have taken me up and carried me when I could neither run nor walk. Do you suppose I am so besotted as not to realize that you have been the head, while I have been only the hand?"

"Nonsense!" she said, lightly. "You are in the dumps of the reaction now. You mustn't say things that you will be sorry for later on."

"I am going to say one thing, nevertheless; and will remain for you to make it a thing hard to be remembered, or the other kind. Will you take what there is of me and make what you can of it?"

She laughed in his face.

"No, my dear David; no, no, no." And after a little pause: "How deliciously transparent you are, to be sure!"

He would have been less than a man if his self-love had not been touched in its most sensitive part.

"I am glad if it amuses you," he frowned. "Only I meant it in all seriousness."

"No, you didn't; you only thought you did," she contradicted, and the brown eyes were still laughing at him. "Let me tell you what you did mean. You are pleased to think that I have helped you—that an obligation has been incurred; and you meant to pay your debt like a man and a gentleman in the only coin a woman is supposed to recognize."

"But if I should say that you are misinterpreting the motive?" he suggested.

"It would make your nice little speech a perjury instead of a simple untruth, and I should say no, again, on other, and perhaps better, grounds."

"Name them," he said shortly.

"I will, David, though I am neither a stick nor a stone to do it without wincing. You love another woman with all your heart and soul, and you know it."

"Well? You see I am neither admitting nor denying."

"As if you needed to!" she scoffed. "But don't interrupt me, please. You said I might take what there is of you and make what I can of it; I might make you anything and everything in the world, David, except that which a woman craves most in a husband—a lover."

His eyes grew dark.

"I wish I knew how much that word means to you, Portia."

"It means just as much to me as it does to every woman who has ever drawn the breath of life in a passionate world, David. But that isn't all. Leaving Miss Brentwood entirely out of the question, you'd be miserably unhappy."

"Why should I?"

"You have done something, Mr. Kent, and you can do more. Head those people off at the door and say that for the present I refuse positively to be seen or interviewed. They will find me at the capitol during office hours."

It was seven o'clock in the evening of the fiercest working day Kent ever fought through when the special train—his own private special, sent to Gaston and brought back again over the strike-paralyzed road by the express permission and command of the strikers themselves—set him down in the Union station at the capital.

Looking back to the gray of the morning when he had shaken hands with Gov. Marston at the door of the room on the top floor of the Kittleton building, the crowding events made the interval seem more like a week; and now the events themselves were beginning to take on dream-like incongruities in the haze of utter weariness.

"Evening Argus! all about the p'liminary trial of Gov. Bucks. Argus, sir?" piped a small boy at the station exit; but Kent shook his head, found a cab and had himself conveyed quickly through streets still rife with excitement to the Clarendon hotel.

In the lobby was the same bee-buzzing crowd with which he had been contending all day, and he edged his way through it to the elevator, praying that he might go unrecognized—as he did. Once safe in his rooms he sent for Loring, stretching himself on the bed in a very ecstacy of relaxation until the ex-manager came up. Then he emptied his mind as an overladen ass spills its panniers.

"I'm done, Grantham," he said; "and that is more different kinds of truth than you have heard in a week. Go and reorganize your management, and M'Tosh is the man to put in Halkett's place. The strike will be declared off at the mere mention of your name and his. That's all. Now go away and let me sleep."

"Oh, hold on!" was the good-natured protest; "I'm not more curious than I have to be, but I'd like to know how it was done."

"I don't know, myself; and that's the plain fact. But I suspect Marston fell upon Judge MacFarlane; gave him a wire hint of what was due to arrive if he didn't give us a clean bill of health. I had my preliminary interview with the governor at daybreak this morning; and I was with him again between nine and ten. He went over the original papers with me, and about all he said was, 'Be in Gaston by two o'clock this afternoon, and MacFarlane will give you the hearing in chambers.' I went on my knees to the Federative council to get a train."

"You shouldn't have had any trouble there."

"I didn't have, after the men understood what was in the wind. Jarl Oleson took me down and brought me back. The council did it handsomely, dipping into its treasury and paying the mileage on a Pullman car."

"And MacFarlane reversed his own order?"

"Without a question. It was the merest formality. Jennison, Hawk's former law partner, stood for the other side; but he made no argument."

"Good!" said Loring. "That will do for the day's work. But now I'd like to know how last night's job was managed."

"I'm afraid you want to know more than is good for you. What do the papers say? I haven't looked at one all day."

"They say there was a misunderstanding of orders. That will answer for the public, perhaps, but it won't do for me."

"I guess it will have to do for you, too, Grantham," said Kent, yawning shamelessly. "Five men, besides myself—six of us in all—know the true inwardness of last night's round-up. There will never be a seventh."

Loring's eye-glasses fell from his nose, and he was smiling shrewdly when he replaced them.

"There is one small consequence that doesn't please you, I'm sure. You'll have to bury the hatchet with MacFarlane."

"Shall I?" flashed Kent, sitting up as if he had been struck with a whip. "Let me tell you: Marston is going to call an extra session of the assembly. There is a death vacancy in this district, and I shall be a candidate in the special election. If there is no other way to get at MacFarlane, he shall be impeached!"

"H'm: so you're going into politics?"

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.
FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

GET SUNDAY PAPERS.

Trolley Lines Aid Newsdealers in Extending Business in Country Hitherto Isolated.

The circulation of Sunday newspapers has largely increased among the farmers of territory near Chicago. The rural mail carriers make no deliveries on Sunday, but many of the enterprising newsdealers who get their papers early in the day have Sunday country routes where the farm houses are close together. In some instances the Sunday papers are delivered by the trolley lines that run past many of the houses. They run on Sunday as well as on other days, and many farm houses that formerly were cut off from the world on Sunday now spend a portion of the day reading the big papers that they get fresh from the city. The farmers are taking a large amount of reading matter. The rural carriers are doing more and more of this class of business. Not only does the average farmer take his own county paper, in many instances two or three of them, but he subscribes for as many farm magazines and other periodicals. There are few of the soil tillers who are not now taking a daily paper. They have grown to depend upon it with about the same regularity as they want their breakfast, and in some instances they get both pretty close together.

ANIMALS THAT OFTEN FAINT

In Moments of Fear and Exhaustion Cats and Dogs Fall in a Heap as a Person Would.

A little gray dog tumbled headlong into the area of a house in a west end square, says the Baltimore Herald, and the maid who happened to be standing there closed the gate. When the dog saw she was safe from her pursuers—two huge bull terriers—she toppled over in a dead faint. The other servants, who crowded out into the area to help bring the little animal to, derided the assertion, but a veterinary surgeon who finally joined the group said there was nothing preposterous about it. "Of course she fainted," he said. "Lots of animals faint. Cats and dogs and even more stolid animals keel over in moments of fear and exhaustion. In the case of horses the prostration is generally attributed to sunstroke, but quite often they are knocked out by a plain, everyday faint instead of atmospheric excesses. Fowls faint, too, and the birds of the air. In fact, it is hard to find any living creature that doesn't topple over under crucial circumstances."

MICROBE IS A CANNIBAL.

Scientist Declares That the Germs Devour Their Own Kind—Other Facts.

An obliging microbe who devours unobliging microbes is the newest acquisition to the microbe population as discovered by science. A Scotchman named Neilson, who has been resident for some time in Italy, is said to have found this accommodating creature, which lives on all zymotic germs in sewage, and when it has completed its task no longer encumbers the earth but dies and dissolves. Mr. Neilson is said to have invented an automatic biological tank, applicable to dwelling houses of any description, wherein his microbe disports itself by transforming the sewage into odorless, colorless liquid which is perfectly innocuous to human life, and may therefore be safely permitted to flow off into street drains, and thence into rivers. This transformed liquid has been subjected to the public analyst by order of the commune of Florence, and it is pronounced to be clear water but undrinkable.

KNIVES FOR ONE-ARMED.

They Look Like Sickles and Have a Fork at the End—Are an Ingenious Device.

"What is that thing over there?" asked a man on a high stool at a lunch counter. The thing he was pointing at was shaped like a sickle, had a handle, and at the very tip of the blade was a pronged fork.

"That?" said the waiter, "Why, that's a one-armed knife. Ever see one before?" And he passed it over the counter for inspection. "Nearly all restaurants keep them in their stock of cutlery nowadays. You see, the one-armed man can't cut his meat with the same motion that you or I use. He must bear down on his steak or chop, and to make the work easier for him some wise chap invented this sickle-shaped knife with a fork attached. If you'll notice, it is made on the principle of the half circular cutter harness makers use. To be sure, we have to keep them sharp, or their usefulness would be gone."

The Purchase of Wives.

Wives are still obtained by purchase in some parts of Russia. In the district of Kamyshin, on the Volga, for example, this is practically the only way in which marriages are brought about. The price of a pretty girl from a well-to-do family ranges from $100 to $200, and in special cases a much higher sum is obtained. In the villages the lowest price is about $25. It is customary for the fathers of the intending bride and bridegroom to haggle for a long time over the price to be paid for the lady. A young farmer whose father cannot afford to pay for a wife for him need not think of getting married.

Stopping an Epidemic.

An epidemic in Kambun, Japan, was traced to a certain stream of water, but as the natives who drank the water could neither see nor smell the germs of the disease, they continued to drink from the stream. Then the police allowed kerosene oil to trickle into the water, and this evidence of pollution proved convincing and ended the epidemic.

CORNER MEXICO SALT

CHICAGO CONCERN GETS FIRM HOLD ON MARKET.

Company Establishes Mine for Lead and Silver, But Surprising Wealth of Rich Brine Is Brought to Light.

Mexico's salt market, which up to a short time ago paid an enormous price for the commodity, is now in control of a clique of Chicagoans, who hold shares in a company known one time as a mining concern. Rough salt in Mexico once cost as much as $80 per ton, while its price in the United States was $3.50 for the same amount; but the discovery of the new industry in the southern republic has brought into the hands of the Americans the power to reduce the price and besides corner the entire sale in Mexico.

The salt is not mined as is generally the case in this country, but is pumped out of the earth in the shape of brine spread out in great tanks and with the aid of the sun the water is evaporated leaving the much-desired article. The salt is 99.59 per cent. pure chloride of sodium and no article can be produced which comes any nearer the absolute standard of purity.

The demand for salt in Mexico with its 15,000,000 inhabitants is so great that previous to the discovery it was impossible to supply the demand from the home produet. At present the Chicago concern, interested in the mine, is receiving for its product $35 per ton in the bulk.

A story of surpassing interest marks the discovery and development of the industry. About five years ago La Minita mines, in the district of Vallecillo, Nuevo Leon, Mexico, were producing lead and silver ore, which commanded a high price at the smelteries at Monterey, about 80 miles distant. Here the ore brought about $45 per ton. When the miners reached a depth of 100 feet water began to appear in the shafts and despite all measures it was impossible to get rid of enough of the fluid to permit the continuance of operations, thus resulting in the abandonment of the enterprise. The water possessed a salty taste and when chemically analyzed was found to contain over 18 per cent. of salt. At once the interested parties were notified by telegraph and little time was wasted in forming a company for producing salt, for the organizers realized the enormous value of the article in the southern republic.

Few industries could be found which possess such great advantages for labor-saving and at the same time commanding the steep price as that of producing salt, as it is carried on in this Mexican mine. From the United States to Mexico there is a protective tariff of $22.50 a ton on the product, thus making the actual cost of a ton nearly $80. Then another fact, nature furnishes in the wind and sun two agents which perform nearly the entire work.

The water containing the salt is pumped from the mine by a wind-mill pump and after being passed to the tanks, Old Sol's task is to evaporate the fluid, thus leaving the rough article. Practically the only labor that is needed is that necessary to deposit the salt in the storehouse and the best may be had for 40 to 75 cents per day.

It is hard for one unfamiliar with the workings of the industry, to realize that so much salt may be produced from water, but the figures show that the amount is really very large. From one gallon of the brine one and one-half pounds of salt is produced. In 24 hours a tank 20x60 feet full of brine will produce two and one-quarter tons of salt.

Of late the industry has become a "double-header." The excessive flow of water which was noticed at first seems to have been checked and now the flow is steady, thus making it possible with the machinery on hand to mine the silver and lead ores with but little difficulty. Many persons who have directed their attention to this enterprise in particular at one time, declared that soon the density of the brine would drop and the flow fall off, but for three years the water has risen to the surface with as much consistency as at first and the percentage has always remained at 18, not even the slightest deviation ever being noticed.

AUTO'S FRIENDS FIGHT AMENDMENTS

PLAINFIELD REPRESENTED AT LEGISLATURE'S HEARING ON BILL.

Automobilists and farmers vied with each other in applauding their respective speakers at a long and turbulent hearing held at Trenton yesterday by the Legislature's committee n municipal corporations upon Assemblyman Scovel's measure restricting the speed of automobiles under penalty of arrest without warrants. F. L. C. Martin, W. H. P. Veysey and Roger F. Murray represented the automobilists of Plainfield. The severe amendments to the present automobile law were the subject of discussion.

Colonel Edwards, of West Orange, identified with the Road Horse Association of New Jersey, demanded that automobilists have no rights greater than drivers upon the public highways.

ANTI-SPITTING LAW TO BE ENFORCED

ARRESTS TO BE MADE IF WARNING IS NOT HEEDED.

Reports showing the sanitary condition of the city to be good were presented at the March meeting of the Board of Health, yesterday afternoon. There are about three houses under quarantine, two on account of scarlet fever and one for diphtheria. A large number of cases of measles were reported during the month.

Reference was made to the small yellow cards which have been distributed throughout the city among policemen, trolley car conductors and station agents to prevent the habit of spitting on the sidewalks of the public streets and on the floors of public buildings and railway cars. After a thorough warning is given the public a few arrests will be made.

Health Officer Leon H. Thurlow reported that he had analyzed thirteen samples of milk, all of which were found to be of good quality.

During February there were reported eight marriages, forty-seven births, two still-births and twenty-nine deaths.

The work on the garbage problem still continues. D. A. Woodhouse, representing the Decarie Manufacturing Company, of Minneapolis, was present at the Board's meeting and spoke on the merits of an incinerator made by his company. He visited the crematory later.

DAAB WITH THE P. B. A.

Hoboken's Manager Interested in Plainfield Team.

SOMETHING ABOUT HIM

His Career as a Promoter of the American National Game—A Player Himself.

Philip Daab, who has become interested in the Plainfield Baseball Association, and who will look after the booking of teams and assist Manager Charles S. Woolston and Lines Groo, in the placing of the team on the field during the coming season, has long been identified with the National game. He has always stood for good, clean sport and has held the highest respect of other managers as well as ball players in general. There is not a player of any note who knows Mr. Daab who does not always speak in the highest terms of him.

Mr. Daab is himself an old player, being a member of the Jersey Blues, of Hoboken, in 1883. That was really the commencement of his interest in the game, although from boyhood he had that inborn love for the sport. He undertook the management of the Hoboken Baseball Club in the spring of 1902, and the organization was a great success from the start. The Hobokens are known throughout the country as one of the strongest aggregations. In 1902 and 1903 the team defeated the New York Nationals, the Boston Nationals twice, the Boston Americans, world champions, twice, Cincinnati twice and numerous other league clubs. A number of players have graduated from the Hoboken Club to the major league and are making a success. As a rule the independent teams appearing against Hoboken use the very best league batteries.

In arranging his schedule for this city, Mr. Daab will bring the strongest attractions here. Thus far he has arranged the schedule for the latter part of April, opening with the Jersey City Eastern League team on Saturday, April 15. On Saturday, April 22, the Elizabeth Stars will appear on Crescent Oval, and on Saturday, April 29, the Chatham aggregation, which defeated Plainfield last season, 7 to 0, will be here.

A strong feature which Mr. Daab confidently hopes to carry out is that of beginning and ending the season with the same lineup, and avoiding changes as much as possible.

Aside from following the National game, of which he is so fond, Mr. Daab is president of the Daab Contracting Company, treasurer of the Hoboken Exhibition Company, a member of the Royal Arcanum, Elks, Eagles, a Mason, a member of the Columbia Club and the Club of Hoboken, and is a member of the bowling team of the last named organization, which is identified with the Athletic League of Hudson County, and he is also publisher of the Hoboken Inquirer. He has a pleasing personality and makes friends wherever he goes. His coming to this city is sure to mark the beginning of better days in baseball and that he will be supported in his efforts goes without saying.

New Industry for Somerville.

After remaining idle for almost one year announcement was made Monday that James Brown, Jr., owner of the Somerville Woolen Mills, has leased the three-story brick storeroom of that place to a textile manufacturing company of Philadelphia, which will remove its machinery to Somerville and begin operation as soon as the equipment has been placed. It is said the concern will give employment to at least 150 persons. Mr. Brown will operate the other portion of the mill himself, resuming operations about April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haurand, of Elmwood place, are entertaining relatives from Philadelphia.

COYNE WANTS FLAG OF REBELS RETURNED

OFFERS RESOLUTION IN LEGISLATURE CONCERNING CONFEDERATE BANNER.

If the Legislature adopts a resolution offered yesterday afternoon by Assembly E. C. Coyne, who is chairman of the Union County Republican Committee, New Jersey will probably begin to restore to Confederate organizations flags captured by this State's troops during the Civil War. Mr. Coyne's resolution authorizes the Governor to return to the Governor of North Carolina a Confederate flag captured by the Ninth New Jersey Volunteers at the battle of Newbern. The flag was presented to the "Beaufort Plow Boys" by the women of Beaufort, N. C.

New Jersey has appropriated $5,000 to erect a suitable monument at Newbern in honor of the Ninth New Jersey Volunteers, and the dedication will occur in May, and the restoration of the flag would doubtless create a hearty welcome for the Jerseymen.

Mr. Coyne said that he had heard of such a flag being in possession of the State, and after a long search found it in the vault of the adjutant-general's office covered with dust and in a generally dilapidated condition. It was in a fair state of preservation, however, and the inscription upon it was clearly legible. He thought that in this era of good fellowship and good feeling between the North and the South it would be a graceful thing to return the flag.

TO THE SEASHORE IN 80 MINUTES

IMPROVEMENTS ALONG THE CENTRAL EXPECTED TO REDUCE THE TIME.

In connection with the erection of the Central railroad bridge over the Raritan river, just west of the present drawbridge, it is learned on good authority that numerous improvements are to be made in the train service between Elizabeth and Long Branch, Asbury Park and Ocean Grove, with the general purpose in view of lowering the running time between those points to one hour. The present running time between Long Branch and Elizabeth is, on an average, an hour and twenty minutes. The running time between Plainfield and Elizabeth is about twenty minutes.

Among the improvements contemplated, in addition to the new Raritan river bridge, is the raising of the tracks at South Amboy and Perth Amboy, and the removal of a number of the curves in the tracks between South Amboy and Long Branch.

The new bridge, it is said, will be of stone, with the exception of the draw, similar to the Pennsylvania bridge over the Raritan river at New Brunswick.

The commuters from Long Branch and points further down the road have, for some time, been crowing for reduced running time between Elizabeth and the shore, and it is in indirect response to these demands that the officials of the road have created the above ideas, which are not yet in an entirely complete state.

The raising of the tracks at South Amboy, thus eliminating grade crossings, would work both ways. It would benefit the public safety and would enable the railroad to cut a few minutes off the running time. Just how the crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at South Amboy is to be arranged is not known. To elevate the tracks in either Perth or South Amboy means that the N. Y. & L. B. road cannot pass under the P. R. R. tracks as it does now, yet the Pennsylvania would never consent to a grade crossing where there are so many tracks leading to the coal docks. It is known, however, that the sharp curve just south of the drawbridge is one of the things to be fixed. There is no doubt but that elaborate alterations are under way and that actual work will be started in the near future.

American Prison Life.

A remarkable story of "American Prison Life," as told by Florence M. Maybrick, is now appearing in the magazine section of the Sunday World from week to week. This illustrated series is being written by Mrs. Maybrick exclusively for the Sunday World.

"CLOSING HOUR" STATUTE

Bill Introduced in Legislature to Benefit North Plainfield.

THE SALOON PROBLEM

Somerset Court Will Have Power to Compel Borough Bars to Shut Up at 11 o'Clock P. M.

For the purpose of remedying the existing excise conditions in the borough, primarily to make them correspond in some respects to those on the city side, Assemblyman Hoagland, of Somerset County, yesterday introduced in the Legislature a bill, "giving to courts, excise boards or other boards or body now, or hereafter, empowered by law to grant licenses for the sale of spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquors, power to fix and regulate the hours within such liquors may be sold in the territory over which they have control." Should he succeed in having it passed, which is not at all unlikely, this power will be vested in Judge Schenck or his successor.

The main contention of the boroughites now opposed to the manner in which the North Plainfield saloons are conducted, is that they should be made to close at the same hour as do those in Plainfield, which is 11 o'clock. As conditions stand now, when the city places shut up business for the night, patrons who have not had their thirst sufficiently quenched hurry over to the borough and then order up until almost any hour of the night or morning. If they are of the fiery kind, the trouble they make generally has to be stopped by the North Plainfield police, sometimes with serious results as in the case of the four negroes who are to be sentenced tomorrow for murderous assault on three marshals.

The Borough Council long since took the matter in hand and petitioned the Somerset courts to fix the closing hour at 11 o'clock and also increase the fee, but nothing came of it. When the Christmas eve slashing affray brought the existing conditions before the notice of the whole county, the Grand Jury, before adjourning, made a similar recommendation, and the hesitation of the court in handing down a decision is believed to be due to the fact that it has no jurisdiction to go as far.

This has led to the matter being taken still "higher up" and in Assemblyman Hoagland's bill, there are those who see the solution of the very unusual problem.

BOROUGH COUNCIL WILL UPHOLD ARNOLD REPORT

FINDS HARMONY STREET CONDITIONS ADVERSE TO PROPOSED BUILDING.

After personally visiting the neighborhood in question, the members of the Borough Council will, at the next meeting, confirm Councilman Arnold's recommendation that William Lunger be refused permission to erect a frame dwelling on Harmony street. Mr. Arnold's action was the result of careful consideration of the plans and his opinion was rendered in the interest of the community at large and not through personal prejudice. His report to his fellow members led to a discussion and final adoption but it was decreed that the building committee at least go over the ground before it was allowed to stand.

This has since been done and their action will concur with the report. They found that Mr. Lunger proposed to place a twelve foot frame house on a sixteen foot lot where the neighborhood is already thickly built up with small frame structures. In case of fire it would be the means of assisting the flames to a great conflagration. The houses already up were built before there were any building laws and it would be impossible to grant Mr Lunger the required permission without violating the present regulations.

HELD UP WOMAN STATION AGENT

SUCCESSFUL THREE HOUR CHASE IN ELIZABETH FOR MAN WHO BEAT HER.

Entering the Pennsylvania Railroad station at North Elizabeth, at noon yesterday, a man called for a ticket to New York, and while it was being handed to him by Mrs. Percella Reed, who acts as station agent in place of her husband, James Reed, who is ill, the man made an effort to reach the contents of the cash drawer through the ticket window. After a desperate struggle with Mrs. Reed, whom he choked and beat insensible, he got possession of the money and escaped.

The woman's screams brought persons nearby to the rescue, and they with others gave chase, while word was telephoned to the Elizabeth police station. A general alarm was sent out by Chief Tenny, who detailed Sergeant Heiny and Detective Murphy, with the bicycle squad, to go in pursuit.

A vigilant search was made everywhere throughout the outlying districts and three hours later the burglar was captured at Stiles street and Morris avenue, near the city line, by Bicycle Policeman Kirkman. The policeman noticed a man corresponding to the description given by Mrs. Reed after she partly recovered and made a dash on his wheel for him. The man ran into a back yard in Stiles street, pursued by Kirkman, who had dismounted. Kirkman fired two shots, both of which penetrated the clothing of the burglar.

The man then surrendered. He gave his name as George W. Adams, aged twenty-six, and living in New York. On his person was found $58 and railroad tickets which he had taken from the railroad station.

Mrs Reed is very ill at her home, No. 1,085 Madison avenue, Elizabeth. Nervous prostration is feared.

ATTENDING A. O. U. W. CONCLAVE AT TRENTON

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES LEFT LAST NIGHT FOR GRAND LODGE MEETING.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge, Ancient Order United Workmen, convened at Trenton this morning, with nearly 400 delegates in their places. It is expected that the session will be one of the most interesting conducted in years, as important arguments are to be brought up.

The local representatives who left last night for Trenton are Edward Mosher, George Wilson and William Newcorn, from Central Lodge, and V. W. Nash, Sr., J. W. A. Bauersachs, Dr. J. H. Buchanan, W. A. Woodruff and James Ferristel, of Columbia Lodge. Mr. Newcorn and Mr. Nash will both make addresses. They oppose the proposed amendments to the constitution, which involve important changes.

Guards, Not Brakemen.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is considering the question of changing the title of brakemen to guard in passenger service. The old title is no longer descriptive. There was a time a quarter of a century ago when brakemen acted in that capacity. Nowdays brakemen seldom, if ever, touch a brake wheel. Their chief duty is assisting passengers, protecting the train by signals, looking after switches and other duties which are best described by the title of guard. The men are understood to approve the proposed change.

Damage Appeal Postponed.

The case of Walter G. Smalley, formerly a borough marshal, against the Pennsylvania Railroad, for damages for alleged injuries received two years ago, has been set over to the next term of the Supreme Court. Last week Mr. Smalley's counsel, S. S. Swackhamer, appeared in court for the purpose of presenting an argument for a new trial, but court had adjourned before his arrival.

Charged With False Representation.

PISCATAWAY WATER CO.

Incorporation of New Market Concern at Trenton Yesterday.

CAPITAL, $10,000

David Lawson Agent—Incorporators Are Not Known in New Market.

The Piscataway Water Company, with registered office at New Market, has been incorporated at Trenton, with a capital stock of $10,000 David Lawson, of New Market, is the agent in charge, and the incorporators are Herman L. Koenig, Nicholas W. Boudsell, Monte T. Moorehouse, J. Edward Ashmead, William K. Flanagan, Robert Carson, Kinsley Twining. The company is organized to maintain and operate water works in the township of Piscataway.

Inquiry fails to reveal much concerning the company or its plant. Old residents of New Market when questioned today said that they saw an ordinance published in the Dunellen Call by the Piscataway Water Company, seeking the right to operate in the township, but outside of Mr. Lawson, the incorporators are strangers. It was thought at first that the company might have something to do with the Middlesex Water Company at South Plainfield, but this is denied. Further investigation fails to disclose the location of the plant or source of water supply to serve the township.

There is a demand in certain parts of the township for such a water supply, but just where it can be obtained seems to be a mystery at present.

SWINDLING GAME WORKED BY NEGRO

PROFITABLY REPRESENTED HIMSELF AS AN INSURANCE COLLECTOR.

J. W. Graham, the local superintendent of an insurance company and Chief Kiely's men are hot foot after a New York colored man who has been living high on the proceeds of a brand new swindling dodge which he has been working on his brethren. Attired in faultless raiment and with a glib tongue, he has been making a house to house canvass of colored people insured in Graham's company and by exhibiting books has been collecting the weekly payments. It required some time for him to gather the necessary information but only a few days to get enough to make him bask in the smiles of Plainfield's colored damsels through his lavishness.

The insurance people soon learned of the scheme but the self-appointed collector was ahead of them by at least twenty-four hours and he has disppeared as quickly as he came. It is thought he may try the scheme somewhere else and the police of other cities are being warned.

Goodwin Determined to Appeal.

Although the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of the Mayor and Council of North Plainfield against John Goodwin, which was in favor of the plaintiff, has not yet been filed, it is the intention of Mr. Goodwin through his counsel, S. S. Swackhamer, of the firm of Codington & Swackhamer, to take the case up to the Court of Errors and Appeals. Mr. Goodwin says he feels confident that he can eventually get a verdict in his favor and is anxious to go as far as possible for that purpose. It is expected that the opinion will be handed down within a few days.

FROST'S EFFECTS ON COUNTY ROADS

THIS WINTER HAS PASSED WITHOUT ANY SERIOUS DAMAGE.

County Engineer Jacob L. Bauer tells of the effect this winter's continued spell of cold weather has on the county roads. Winter is always a critical time for roads, and people understanding them and anxious for their proper conservation hail the approach of spring with pleasure.

Mr. Bauer said: "This winter has passed without any deleterious effect on our county roads. There have been times when severe cold has worked havoc with roads, especially if a warm spell has followed directly after. Macadam roads are chiefly liable to disintegration. When the cold freezes the macadam hard, then a thaw comes, and then another cold spell, and the solidity of the road is destroyed. It crumbles.

"This is chiefly true if a warm rain follows a frost. The water lodges in the interstices. Freezing changes the volume of the water, and the expanding ice drives the macadam asunder, causing complete disintegration.

"Thus far this year we have had no such conditions, and now the dangerous period has passed. Last year the ground was frozen four feet deep, but it continued so throughout the year.

"When the thaw came it was gradual, and hence there was no bad effect. It is an alternate freezing and thawing which puts roads in a poor condition."

K. OF P. DEMONSTRATIONS

Unity and Perseverance Plan Four Celebrations.

BOOMING THE ORDER

Street Parade and Entertainments—Committees Appointed—Membership, 450.

In keeping with a movement that is gradually working throughout the State, local Knights of Pythias, comprising Perseverance and Unity lodges, are planning for a series of four public demonstrations to promote interest in the order. The preliminary arrangements have been mapped out by District Deputy David Bowden and the combined efforts will result in one of the largest Pythian gatherings since the field day meet was held here ten years ago.

The first of the four will be given the latter part of April and will comprise a street parade with many hundreds of men in line and a public meeting in conclusion at which prominent speakers will give short addresses exploiting the merits of the order. Entertainment numbers will intersperse and the finale will be in the nature of a supper and smoker. The other demonstrations will follow at intervals of a few weeks and the last will be held in June when all the Pythians in the city will attend a union praise service at a church yet to be designated.

The lodges have already taken hold of the plans with their usual energy and they will be assisted by Crescent Company, the uniformed rank. Each of the lodges has appointed a committee of three to keep in touch with the deputy and these are comprised as follows: Unity, Past Chancellors Horace J. Martin, Harry Werner and Jere VanWinkle, Jr.; Perseverance, Past Chancellors Thomas Osment, Asa D. Pope and Joseph C. Blimm. Lodges in other cities will be invited to take part but the Plainfielders will have entire charge.

Pythianism always has been strong in Plainfield and the proposed arrangement will result in increased interest. The membership of the two lodges which have assumed the task aggregates 450 and includes nearly everyone of the city officials from Mayor Buckle down. Perseverance alone has over 300 names on its roster and is regarded as one of the strongest lodges in the State.

SCHOOL MEETING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

BOROUGH BOARD TO ASK FOR $19 840 FOR YEAR.

The annual borough school meeting will be held Tuesday night, March 21, at the school building on Somerset street, for the purpose of electing three members of the Board of Education for a full term of three years, and to vote the several amounts for school purposes during the coming year.

The board will ask for increased amounts this year. The sum of $17,800 will be asked for teachers' salaries and current expenses, instead of $15,840 last year. For the support of the manual training school the sum of $2,040, instead of $1,970, last year. The total amount thought to be needed is $19,840. Last year $17,810 was voted.

Trolley Wire Device.

The Public Service Corporation has made a trial of a device which keeps trolleys from jumping the wires. The contrivance is the invention of William R. Bonnell, of Elizabeth. He has secured a patent. It is a simple machine attached to the trolley and its cost is only nominal. Not only does it enable the trolley to keep the wire under all conditions, but it can easily be detached and transferred to another wire. There is a good thing in it for Bonnell if the Public Service Corporation approves of it.

Food for Thought.

Additional evidence of the wisdom of advertising in The Daily Press. Mr. Coleman, operator at the Postal Telegraph and Cable office on North avenue, lost a white handled razor yesterday and advertised the loss in The Daily Press. It was found by Edward Anderson, a reader of the paper, who promptly returned the razor to the owner, all within a few hours.

HOW TO HAVE HEALTHY HAIR.

If You Look Old There's a Way to Become Young Looking.

More than half the men and women you meet in your daily walks, especially those who seem to linger so gracefully in the embrace of youth, are using a means to restore that same youth, and in nine cases out of ten the means is Hay's Hair Health.

Hair Health is a preparation that is, in fact, a veritable fountain of youth, for if yonder blonde finds the silver stealing through her hair, Hair Health brings back at once the color of girlhood; or if that stately brunette feels any worry at the appearance of frost in her tresses, Hair Health will make her happy again. Especially has it proven a boon where the appearance of age has made probable the loss of positions held for many years, but where this valuable friend of men and women by bringing back youth has restored the security of the positions instanter.

Hair Health is a delightful dressing for the hair, leaves no stain on skin or clothing, does not rub off, and is in every way a desirable adjunct to any toilet. Druggists sell Hair Health the world over at their shops in large 50 cent bottles, or you may procure it by express, prepaid, together with a cake of the celebrated Harlina Soap, by inclosing 60 cents to Phile Hay Specialties Co., 231 Lafayette street, Newark, N. J.

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—The Crescent City Jockey club has increased its card to eight races, two of the events being stakes, the Premier and the Fourth Special. Leonard Joe Hayman had all the speed, and he won, pulled up, by four lengths. Fruit, Rapid Water and Biennenworth were the other winning favorites, Rapid Water winning the Fourth Special about as easily as the two-year-old stake was decided. Summaries:

Third Race.—Blue Mint, first; Mint Bed, second; Caithness, third.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 9.—Gus Heidorn, again denied the place of honor as standard bearer despite his recent victories, again upset the wise ones at Oaklawn. Quoted at 5 to 2, he finished ahead of Toscan, the odds on favorite, in the handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, running a good race all the way. Canajoharie, Wes and Hildebrand, all of them at odds on, were the winning favorites.

Glendenning Tiptoed In.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—In the fast time of one minute flat Glendenning tiptoed his field in the first race at Oakland. He was favorite and won, pulled up. Three favorites and three well played second choices won.

Call For Lateral Canal Convention.

UTICA, N. Y., March 9.—A call was issued by Captain W. C. Clark for an interstate lateral canal restoration convention to be held in this city during the latter part of April, about the 20th. The call states that the lateral canals made New York the Empire State and says that the only relief from the taxation put upon the necessaries of life by the railroads is to be found in the restoration of the lateral canals, such as the Chenango and Black river.

NEW YORK'S TIE-UP

Mayor McClellan's Offer as Arbiter Turned Down.

RAILWAY WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

Two Serious Accidents Have Resulted From Employment of Green Subway Hands—Both Sides Confident of Victory.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Conditions are much better both on the New York "L" and subway systems than they were last night. The Sixth and Ninth avenue roads were able to handle practically all of the passengers who returned home from downtown stations.

General Manager Hedley has announced that reports circulated by the strikers that men in the power houses would quit were absolutely without foundation. He also said that from now on free rides would cease; that all the ticket agents had been bonded and would collect fares as in ordinary times.

The company declares that before long many of the strikers will apply for their old positions. These will be restored to them on condition that they submit to a physical and mental examination.

The Interborough's reply to Mayor McClellan's offer to act as arbiter was in effect as follows:

"We appreciate the solicitude for the public convenience which prompted you to intervene, but in view of the vital questions affecting the permanent interests of the traveling public, which are involved, we are compelled, with great respect, to decline your offer."

Comptroller Grout has written to the Interborough company stating that the expense of the present strike of subway and "L" road men must be borne by the corporation and that the city will not accept any diminution of rental.

Two serious accidents and several minor ones have occurred on the lines, but fortunately no passengers were injured. The green motorman of one train that was in collision with another at One Hundred and Seventy-sixth street and Boston road was cut about the face and head and when freed from the motor box threw up his job. He ran past signal lights and crashed into a train standing at the station.

Another strike breaker ran his train at full speed across a switch at Third avenue and One Hundred and Fortieth street. One car filled with passengers toppled over on its side. All escaped through the windows.

The condition of the strike is uncertain. Both sides are claiming victory. There isn't the slightest indication of the Interborough giving in, while the strikers are as confident as ever.

Deadlock Continues at Denver.

DENVER, March 9.—Proceedings in the joint convention of the general assembly indicate a deadlock in the gubernatorial contest. Twenty-two Republican members joined forces with the Democrats on a test vote, and these Republicans, it is reported, have agreed to stand together in favor of seating Lieutenant Governor Jesse A. McDonald as governor. There are forty-four other Republican members that can be depended on to vote for James H. Peabody, the contestor. This is five less than a majority. The Democratic vote of thirty-one on joint ballot will be cast solidly for Governor Alva Adams.

Irving Drives Out.

WOLVERHAMPTON, March 9.—Sir Henry Irving is now able to drive out into the country. His physician says he is making steady progress. During the afternoon the mayor and municipal delegation visited Sir Henry at his hotel and presented him with an address engrossed on vellum on an ebony roll and inclosed in an oxidized enameled silver casket.

The judge announced that he would take the matter under advisement.

A RUSSIAN ROUT

Czar's Army Driven From Mukden,

MAY BE CUT OFF AT TIE PASS

Oyama Displays the Talents of the Great Napoleon.

KUROPATKIN IS OUTGENERALED.

Russian Chief Telegraphs the Emperor That Mukden Could Not Be Held Longer—Will Endeavor to Make Another "Masterly Retreat" on Prepared Position on Railway at Tieling.

LONDON, March 9.—The foreign office is officially informed from Tokyo that the Japanese army has achieved a great victory before Mukden and that the Russian army is in full retreat. The casualties are very heavy on both sides.

A dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters in the field says that the Russians under cover of the darkness have evacuated the whole line along the Shakhe river and are now in full retreat northward. The Japanese infantry is pressing them closely.

Before retreating the Russians set fire to great heaps of supplies, which burned throughout the night. The Japanese are pushing the Russians hard on the east.

A special dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Emperor Nicholas and high military officers have been informed by General Kuropatkin that Mukden must be abandoned.

The great question now and the one over which the general staff burned its lights late into the night is whether Field Marshal Oyama has entangled the Russians in his strategic net sufficiently to prevent a successful retreat to Tie pass. General Rennenkampf's force to the eastward admittedly is in great danger of being cut off.

Field Marshal Oyama has once more proved himself one of the greatest masters of offensive strategy since Napoleon, while General Kuropatkin is now engaged in endeavoring to defend his title as a master of successful retreats and bring off his army, with its immense train, safely to Tie pass, where a position was long ago prepared with this contingency in view. The problem before the Russian commander in chief is much more difficult than the one he met successfully at Liaoyang, since now he is threatened on both flanks, his left wing being entangled in a mountainous region far from the railroad.

The Russian army is evacuating its positions south of Mukden.

A heavy cannonading is in progress northwest of Mukden, causing the walls of city houses to tremble.

A heavy engagement is in progress at the imperial tombs.

The Japanese fiercely attacked the Russian positions north of Mukden and have forced the Russians to fall back toward the position at Tie pass.

This may be the last dispatch out of Mukden, as the telegraph line is in danger of being destroyed.

The losses on both sides have been enormous. The casualties on the Russian left flank in one day exceeded 7,000.

The burning of commissariat warehouses and the destruction of supplies south of Mukden, which have been in progress several days, is said by Russian officers to be complete. Everything that could not be carried away was destroyed.

A terrific cannonading is in progress, and the streets of Mukden rumble as with 10,000 drums.

The Japanese captured Manchuntan, just southeast of Mukden, at 8 o'clock in the morning.

The fight is again raging with all intensity and is increasing in fury constantly.

While at some parts of the long battle line the Russians have been able to check the advance of the Japanese, their repeated and fierce counter attacks nowhere succeeded in forcing the Japanese from any of the ground gained. In the present stage of the conflict the censorship is necessarily strict, and war correspondents are, therefore, prevented from attempting to describe the numbers and positions of the Japanese and Russian forces. These are fighting now along the Shakhe river, where the Russians spent the winter.

St. Petersburg dispatches announce the withdrawal of the Russians from their positions on the Shakhe river and say that the Russians are in full retreat. General Kuropatkin is making the best of his way northward.

The defeat of General Kuropatkin had been expected since Field Marshal Oyama made his brilliant stroke against the Russian right.

A general who has just returned from the front stated that General Kuropatkin's faults as commander in chief are due to his bureaucratic training and his desire to keep all the reins in his own hands.

Instead of relying on the judgment of the army commanders to carry out his general orders he made of them simply orderlies for the transmission of specific orders to individual units and kept constantly before him a map showing the location not only of the corps, but of the brigades and regiments, and undertook to control the movement of every unit.

"The genius of Napoleon," the general referred to added, "could not accomplish the task Kuropatkin has set himself."

Friends of General Kuropatkin say that no other general is apt to do as well as he has done and declare that his removal may mean, as in the American civil war, the exchange of a Hood for a Johnston.

The news of the retreat on Tie pass is bound to revive talk of peace, though if Field Marshal Oyama has failed to crush Kuropatkin peace is no more imperative now than it was last month. Peace advocates point out as a significant fact the departure of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron from Madagascar for Jibutil simultaneously with the loss of the battle of Mukden and intimate that perhaps the recall of the fleet may have been adopted in view of the latter event.

Late advices received here indicate that General Kuropatkin is badly beaten in the bloodiest battle of the present war.

Rojestvensky Recalled.

PARIS, March 9.—A late dispatch says that Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet has been recalled from Madagascar to Jibutil, on the Red sea.

CARNEGIE AT OBERLIN.

Chadwick Trial Session Taken Up With Documentary Evidence.

CLEVELAND, O., March 9.—Andrew Carnegie, who recently came here from Florida as a witness in the Chadwick case, accepted an invitation to visit Oberlin college today. Mr. Carnegie is spending the day at the college as the guest of President King. Not long ago Mr. Carnegie subscribed $125,000 toward a fund for a library for Oberlin college and later gave $15,000 to needy persons of the town who suffered as a result of the closing of the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin. Among the latter were many students at the college.

The case of the government against Mrs. Chadwick has been completed. One witness for the defense, an expert accountant, was sworn, but an adjournment was taken before he had given any testimony.

The session of the court was taken up by the introduction as evidence of checks, deposit slips, books of the bank and two letters written by Mrs. Chadwick to Beckwith and Spear.

The most important point made by the state was gained after a hard fight with the attorneys for the defense by the admission as evidence of two drafts aggregating $80,000 issued by the Oberlin bank in favor of Mrs. Chadwick, Aug. 24, 1903. On this same date Mrs. Chadwick obtained from the bank a certified check for $12,500, and Receiver Lyon testified that there was nothing on the books of the bank to show that at the time of receiving the drafts and the check Mrs. Chadwick had a cent of money in the bank or was in any way entitled to credit.

DISASTER TO MORMONS.

Explosion Killed Lady Organist and Injured Twenty-six.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 9.—An explosion of illuminating gas in the cellar of the Mormon meeting house at Granger, fourteen miles southwest of Salt Lake City, caused the death of one young woman and seriously injured twenty-six other persons, mostly young women and children. The meeting house was wrecked.

While the Granger Mutual Improvement association was in session the lights went out. A boy went into the cellar with a lamp to see what was wrong, and the explosion followed. Miss Nellie Mackay, the church organist, who was standing directly over the gas tank, received the full force of the explosion and was instantly killed.

A panic ensued among the audience, and in their efforts to escape from the wrecked building many who had not been injured by the force of the explosion were trampled upon.

Ex-Representative Convicted.

BOSTON, March 9.—Former Representative James H. McInerney of this city has been convicted in the United States district court of fraudulently destroying the record of his naturalization and was sentenced to serve one year in the house of correction. Execution of the sentence was stayed pending the determination of a bill of exceptions filed by the prisoner's counsel. McInerney was released on bonds of $3,000.

Want a Columbus Discovery Day.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—The senate judiciary committee reported favorably the Fitzgerald bill making Oct. 12 a general holiday, to be known as Columbus Discovery day; the Armstrong bill prohibiting the docking of horses' tails, the Cassidy bill removing the limit from the number of notaries public that may be appointed by the governor and the Brackett bill abolishing the office of miscellaneous reporter.

Defense Will Be Insanity.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—At the Preusser murder trial here five witnesses swore as to Preusser's whereabouts on the night of the shooting. The line of questions put to them by the prosecution were designed to show that Preusser was intoxicated on that night, while the cross examination is believed to indicate that the defense will be insanity.

Pastor Macajah Brook a Suicide.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 9.—Macajah Brook, eighty years old, blew out his brains because the trustees of the Baptist church at East Hickman, near here, had notified him that he would have to surrender the parsonage building to a new preacher. Brook had been living in the parsonage for a number of years.

BETTERMENT OF NEGRO RACE.

Bishop Grant Thanks Roosevelt For His Position on Equal Rights.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Bishops A. Grant, Alexander Walters and B. W. Arnett of the African Methodist Episcopal church headed a delegation of members of the sociological congress which called on President Roosevelt to consider with him plans for the betterment of the condition of the negro race in this country.

In an address delivered to the president Bishop Grant said that they came as the representatives of a large constituency of negroes in different church and other organizations to thank him for the "splendid position" he has taken of equal justice to all men, regardless of color, creed, section or race; also for the nomination of Charles W. Anderson as collector of internal revenue in the Second district of New York.

Continuing, Bishop Grant said:

"We have come to request you to recommend to congress the appointment of a commission to investigate and consider every phase of the race question in the United States, with the view of suggesting some plan for the betterment of the condition of the colored people and to bring about a more harmonious relation between the races in this country."

Informally the delegation suggested to the president the subject of the reduction of the representation in congress from those states which discriminate politically against negroes, but the members of the delegation declined to discuss that feature of the call.

President Roosevelt did not indicate to the committee what action he might take regarding its request for the appointment of a commission, promising simply to give the subject consideration.

MRS. STANFORD WAS MURDERED

Honolulu Police Assert That Guilty Persons Are in San Francisco.

HONOLULU, March 8.—The police here are of the opinion that if Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford was murdered the guilty persons are in San Francisco. High Sheriff Henry has expressed this view.

It is pointed out that the opinion of the physicians taken in connection with the result of the chemical analysis as given in evidence at the inquest indicates that to bring about a fatal result Mrs. Stanford would have to have been given one of the capsules, which it has been admitted contained a small quantity of strychnine, and a dose of bicarbonate of soda at the same time and that both would be required to bring together enough strychnine to be fatal.

According to the estimates of the chemists, the strychnine in the dose of bicarbonate of soda and the capsule combined was only one-twelfth of a grain, unless the strychnine was all at the top of the bottle and was taken when Miss Berner poured out the dose of soda. Mrs. Stanford's failure to comment on the bitter taste of the medicine is, however, held as disproving this theory. The physicians say that one-twelfth of a grain of strychnine might possibly be fatal to a person of Mrs. Stanford's age.

Deputy High Sheriff Rawlins, who will accompany the remains to San Francisco, will take the trip for the purpose of consulting the police of that city.

DOMINGO TREATY.

United States May Have to Take Over Territory.

A PROTEST AGAINST MORALES.

President of Republic Accused of Being Actuated by a Desire For Personal Gain—Roosevelt's Message Emphatic.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The Santo Domingo treaty has been practically perfected by the senate committee on foreign relations so far as phraseology is concerned and without regard to the principles involved in the procedure proposed by the Dominican convention. The committee has progressed so far that it will take a vote on the treaty today to determine whether the report will be in favor of ratification or rejection. What that report will be cannot be determined positively, although it is believed it will be favorable. The Democrats on the committee have expressed themselves as against the treaty fundamentally, although they took an active part in the presentation and adoption of amendments. It is expected that most of the Republican senators will vote to report the treaty as amended.

All of the amendments adopted by the committee are with a general aim of making the question covered stand alone and of removing all chance of it being used as a precedent for like procedure in other countries under guise of being required by the Monroe doctrine.

A provision placing the employees of the United States who will be charged with carrying out the provisions of the treaty under the Dominican government was amended so as to declare that such employees shall not be subject to the civil and criminal jurisdiction of that republic.

The article which declared that the government of the United States at the request of the Dominican government shall grant the latter such other assistance as the former may deem proper to restore the credit, preserve the order, increase the efficiency of the civil administration and advance the material progress and welfare of the Dominican republic was amended so as to permit the government of the United States to grant this additional assistance if it desires, but it is not bound by treaty obligation to do so.

A new article was added, which proves that whatever is done under the treaty shall be binding on succeeding governments in the Dominican republic so as to eliminate the chance of a succeeding government attempting to repudiate its agreement with the United States.

A number of rather immaterial amendments have been adopted, and it is understood that when the committee meets today it will consider some others which senators have leave to prepare and submit. The probability of the treaty being brought up in the future as a precedent was discussed freely in the committee, and it was predicted that the procedure was a forerunner of what may be expected to take place in regard to Venezuela. It was declared, too, that this government may have to take over the Santo Domingo country as territory of the United States. In that connection an amendment will be offered in the senate striking out that part of the preamble whereby the United States agrees to respect the complete integrity of the Dominican republic. This amendment was suggested in the committee, but was regarded as against the policy of the government, and this, it is believed, will be the judgment of the senate. At the same time it was pointed out that Santo Domingo lies between the United States and Porto Rico and that the government of Santo Domingo as now constituted is a bad neighbor.

Discussion of the Santo Domingo treaty in executive session of the senate was complicated by a protest submitted by Senator Teller from members of the Haitian and Dominican colonies in Europe. It was dated in Paris and was directed against the protocol of Jan. 20, which was negotiated immediately prior to the present protocol, but never was submitted to the senate. It is asserted by the protestants that President Morales of the Dominican republic is a dictator and by entering into this agreement with the United States is indirectly attempting to cede to the United States territory which he fears he cannot hold. They declare further that Morales is actuated by a desire for personal gain.

Senator Platt (Conn.) objected to the consideration of the protest, contending that the senate has no right to receive a communication from citizens of a foreign country. On his objection the protest was not regarded as before the senate and was not acted on.

President Roosevelt's message in regard to the Santo Domingo treaty says in part:

"I wish to call the attention of the senate at this executive session to the treaty with Santo Domingo. I feel that I ought to state to the senate that the condition of affairs in Santo Domingo is such that it is very much for the interest of that republic that action on the treaty should be had at as early a moment as the senate, after giving the matter full consideration, may find practicable.

"This treaty was entered into at the earnest request of Santo Domingo itself and is designed to afford Santo Domingo relief and assistance. Its primary benefit will be to Santo Domingo. It offers the method most likely to secure peace and to prevent war in the island."

And the public is the football whether the trust or the union is kicking.

Russian war news is making a hard struggle to keep on the first page but New York's strike has it skinned to death.

The President finds that the Senate is hard of hearing, but why should he care when eighty millions are glad to listen to what he has to say.

An exchange notes that William Randolph Hearst was attending an auction sale in New York while Theodore Roosevelt was being inaugurated. Nothing wrong in that, Hearst always was classed with pretty cheap goods.

A great deal of good advertising copy is spoiled in an effort to please the man who is to pay the bill. An advertising man must possess the necessary experience and ability; he must then be sufficiently firm in his convictions to fight for them if necessary.—Pacific Coast Advertising.

New York papers seem astounded at James M. Beck's remark that Wall street is more impressive to him than the beauties of nature, but we haven't noticed that any Philadelphia paper is at all amazed. Beck shouted Democracy in the Quaker City until it paid him better to get a change of heart.

Assemblyman Hoagland's bill empowering the court to fix the hour of closing saloons in all cases where it has liquor license jurisdiction will solve a problem which has perplexed North Plainfield for many years. For a long time efforts have been made to compel the rum shops in the borough to close at the same time they are shut up in this city, and only recently the Grand Jury recommended to the Somerset County court that action be taken in the matter. But the trouble is that the court is powerless. It can grant licenses but can not say when the saloons shall be open or when they shall be closed. Sunday alone is specified by statute as a time when the establishments must not do business. Assemblyman Hoagland has made a move in the right direction and if his bill becomes a law he will be entitled to the thanks of the people of North Plainfield.

Admitted to the Bar.

Louis Olsen Barton, stenographer and chief law clerk for Corporation Counsel Craig A Marsh, has received notice of his successfully passing an examination to the bar. Mr. Barton has been stenographer in C. A. Marsh's law office for two years. Prior to coming to Plainfield Mr. Barton was in the same capacity with Senator Barton B. Hutchinson, of Trenton, for three years. After being graduated from the Trenton High School, he studied pharmacy and passed his examination before the N. J. State Board of Pharmacy, continued in the practice of pharmacy for some time in Trenton and then took up the study of shorthand at the Rider Business College at Trenton, and subsequently completed additional courses along the same line in the Woods Business College and the Walworth Stenographic Institute, New York city. Mr. Barton studied violin and 'cello at the Leefson-Hille Conservatory of Music, Philadelphia. He is a tenor of the choir of the Church of the Holy Cross Mr. Barton will take up the practice of law in Mr. Marsh's office.

Harry Unler, of West Fourth street, has recovered after a rebout illness.

MINUTE MAN MEMORIAL.

Design of Battle of Elizabethtown Statue Has Been Chosen.

The State, in deciding upon an appropriate monument to erect in commemoration of the Battle of Elizabethtown, which will be dedicated on June 8, with a celebration and ceremonies by the citizens of Elizabeth, has selected the design of a Minute Man a little over six feet tall. The statute will stand erect upon a pedestal, about eight feet in height and will be of granite, cut by Canfield, the sculptor, of New York. He designed most of the statuary used in the Dewey celebration in New York. The cost of the monument to be erected in Elizabeth will be $2,500.

The monument will be placed in Union Square. Charles H. K. Halsey, of the committee appointed by Governor Murphy to carry out this matter, refused to say anything about the design of the monument yesterday beyond stating that the architect and contractor were in Elizabeth this week and looked over the site.

The entire monument will be cut from granite to be brought from Rutland, Vt. Work has already been started upon the piece of statuary and further plans and details will be announced later.

Republican. Wm. Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska.

Democratic. Theodore Roosevelt, of New York.

For Vice President,

James R. Martine, of New Jersey.

After Many Years.

What is said to be the very best show that has ever appeared here, is announced for the Casino Saturday afternoon and evening, when the well known comedian, Archie Boyd, and his galaxy of vaudeville artists appear. Mr. Boyd was for many years identified with Denman Thompson, and in "The Old Homestead," achieved unqualified success. He will be seen in an original rural drama, entitled "After Many Years." The vaudeville features of the programme will be novel and unique, so that a splendid entertainment may be anticipated. Read the advertisement in another column.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

March 12: "Christ the Great Physician"—Luke iv, 16-19; Luke v, 27-32; I Pet. ii, 24.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, Ph. D.

Our worst sicknesses are not of the body. Physical pain and infirmity are bad, but there are suffering of mind and infirmity of soul that are more difficult to endure and are more deadly in effect. Our deepest need individually and as a race is for one who can cure us of the love of the evil and correct our willfulness. We are so blinded by our prejudices that we often fail to see the truth and so are out of the path of safety and need one who can make us able to see things as they really are.

Blind eyes need indeed to be opened, deaf ears must be unstopped, the lame feet must receive strength. There are leprous souls whose every touch is contamination and death to all moral impulse. Who shall cleanse them? No power of earthly philosophy has been sufficient to work any change in them.

The stupendous wonder in the story of Jesus Christ is that He attracts just such as these to Himself and transforms their lives until they become pure and wholesome. More than this, He imparts to them something of His own enthusiasm for goodness, and they become centers from which moral light and life seem to be irradiated upon all with whom they come in contact. The change is almost total in them.

And this power of Christ was not only exerted by Him on the people of His own time and land, but it still continues to act with potent energy on people of our own day and in all lands where the gospel is preached and men accept the offers of salvation through faith in the risen and glorified Lamb of God.

Much stress has well been laid in time past on the healing works of Jesus in His earthly ministry. Great discussion has sometimes risen as to the possibility of curing diseases at the present time by simple faith without the use of medicines. Not a few have seemed to think that the great mark of divine power lay in the cure of bodily infirmities and that the lack of that gift now was a mark of degenerate faith. A more careful consideration of the teaching of Jesus will show how great a mistake this is.

The relief of body has value, but is comparatively insignificant to the changing a soul from the practice and relish of the evil to the love of righteousness and sacrifice of self for the assistance of others.

Jesus wins men because He heals their souls' diseases. He changes the values of life and gives power to strengthless wills. The cowardly and cruel He makes heroic and long suffering.

No other man of the race has ever inspired such devotion. This is not so much the mere doctrine He teaches as the fact of His personality. His healing touch was given because He felt for men in their suffering. He had compassion. Men saw it in His eyes and felt it in His voice and in the touch of the hand. It was not so much condescension and a coming down to their level, not a professional distribution of benefits; it was a great heart giving from its store of love and fellowship; it was companionship. This challenges all the noblest that is left in a man. It awakens the dormant powers; it brings the sleeper to himself and awakens every slumbering faculty to keenest alertness and intensest action. If He cares like that for me He can have me and do whatever He pleases with me, is the feeling of the healed one.

Jesus came that we might have life more abundantly, of the very best sort. Whatever brings us to Him for this healing should be counted a blessing indeed. Let us not count bodily health as of the utmost importance, for it may be that in pain and privation He can show us the most satisfyingly His tenderness and bring us closest to Himself.

If Jesus can so wonderfully cure the soul's sickness and we have experienced His Healing power, how diligent we should be to bring our friends and all whom we can influence to the knowledge of His offers of salvation!

Think the Noblest Thoughts.

You have length and breadth to your life, but have you height to it? You are a farmer—are your thoughts always of your farm and stock? You are a manufacturer, but do you think alone of raw materials, refined and shaped for sale and use? You are a lawyer—do you think only of briefs, verdicts and decisions? You are a mechanic—how is it with you? Are your thoughts only of tools, products of your skill, hours and wages? Add height to your life. Rise to God in thought, faith, hope and love. Yield yourself to the invisible forces that draw the heart upward. Let your soul return to find rest in the God that breathed it into being. As you draw near to God the air invigorates, the clouds disappear, the stars shine, the heavens open. Doubt decays, faith revives, fears sink away, peace comes in, joy springs up, light breaks all around.—Philadelphia Methodist.

The Triumph of Faith.

In the world, perchance, there are sin and sorrow,
But we turn with faith to the sweet tomorrow—
The life to be
In eternity!

In the world, perchance, there is tear blind vision,
But we turn with faith to the land Elysian,
Where there are no tears
All the endless years!

In the world, perchance, there are sounds of sighing,
But we turn with faith to the life undying—
In the land of rest,
To be with the blest!

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 12.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Christ, the Great Physician.—Luke iv, 16-19; v, 27-32; I Pet. ii, 24.

Christ has well been called the Great Physician. During His earthly existence He used His miraculous power for the physical healing of the people, and as the physician of the body He healed all kinds of diseases, and in no instance did He fail to successfully meet the needs of the case. Such a record would place Christ's name as a physician at the head of the list of the great physicians who have blessed mankind in the years gone by. But Christ's claim to greatness as a physician does not rest upon His work for the physical man. He was more than this—the physician of the soul. In this field He stands alone. Others may do something toward healing the body, but only Christ can cure the soul of its sicknesses.

1. Christ's mission on earth was to heal men spiritually. Sin sickened the whole human being, and Christ came to save man from the guilt, power and consequences of sin and to heal the wounds and heartaches that followed in sin's train. He Himself declared this to be His mission when in the synagogue at Nazareth. He applied Isaiah's prophecy to Himself—"He hath sent me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised." In answer to the murmuring of the Pharisees concerning His association with publicans and sinners at the feast of Levi, Christ taught the same truth concerning Himself. "They that are whole," He said, "need not a physician, but they that are sick. I came not to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance." To heal the sin sick was therefore Christ's supreme mission on earth, and all need to be healed, for all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. Moreover, Christ alone can heal us, for "there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved."

2. Christ, the Great Physician, made possible the healing of the soul by the offering up of Himself a sacrifice for sin. "Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness, by whose stripes we are healed." He died on the cross of Calvary as a substitute for sin sick humanity, and His death makes it possible for us to have our sins forgiven and to live a new life unto God. Thus He paid the greatest price that one could pay for those whom He would heal. Physicians often make serious self denials for their patients and in so doing greatly endear themselves to them. Christ, our Great Physician, died that He might give life eternal to those who were dead in sins. Have we accepted this sacrifice, and, if so, do we appreciate all He has done for us, and are we living for Him?

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xv, 24-27; Ps. vi, 1-4; xii, 1-4; ciii, 1-5; Isa. liii, 1-5; Jer. xvii, 14; Hos. xiv, 1-9; Matt. viii, 1-10; Luke v, 17.

Enthusiasm Everywhere.

During the past year fifty-eight Endeavorers in Germany have become missionaries.

Germany now has 236 societies with 5,500 members, an increase of 1,528 made the past year.

The next European convention will be held in Berlin while we are meeting in Baltimore, July 9-12, 1905.

The last convention of the Yorkshire (England) Christian Endeavor union drew together nearly 4,000 Endeavorers.

The English Baptists have on the Kongo a steamship called the Endeavor, for which English Baptist Endeavorers are interested in raising money.

A Primitive Methodist society in England (at Eyemouth) has ten active members and a hundred associates. Perhaps most of the latter are "on probation."

Austria, Sweden and Russia were represented at the wonderful Christian Endeavor convention recently held in Berlin. There were nine Russian Stundists, among them a priest who had just escaped from the madhouse to which his persecutors had sent him.

Secretary Hubbell of Ohio reached personally last year more than 1,300 Christian Endeavor societies.

Massachusetts State Song.

Massachusetts Endeavorers have this state song, which they sing at their gatherings to the tune of "Fair Harvard:"

Massachusetts, my home land, America's pride,
Fairest gem in Columbia's crown!
Though in east land or west land thy children abide,
They rejoice in thy peerless renown.
Haven home of the Pilgrims my home land thou art,
Though far from thy borders I rove;
Thy shrines with their stories are dear to my heart,
Thy mother name always I love.

Mother state of the nation, thy sons are the sires
Of a race that is born to be free.
Thy sages and heroes have lighted the fires
That have spread to the occident sea;
Thy shores are the refuge of spirits oppressed,
Thy rocks are fair liberty's guard;
Our forefathers gave thee their dearest and best,
And thy fame was their sweetest reward.

From the bay to thy Berkshires the sun ever shines
On the flag that shall never be furled,
Thy hillsides and valleys all shelter the shrines
Of the faith that shall conquer the world.
Mother state of the Union, thy heart, ever young,
For the Union shall beat ever sure;
Commonwealth of the noble, thy praise shall be sung
While the noble and free shall endure.

NEITHER STONE NOR METAL

Uralite May Be Cut Like Wood, But Is Fireproof—Is a New Invention.

Have you ever heard of uralite asks the Dietic and Hygienic Magazine. Probably not, for it is a new invention. Yet it is well worthy of your notice, since it is superior to anything of the kind that has yet been produced. It is the invention of a Russian artillery officer and chemist, named Imschenetzky, and its claim to distinction lies in the fact that it is absolutely fireproof. Uralite is composed of asbestos fiber, with a proper proportion of silicate, bicarbonate of soda and chalk, and it is supplied in various finishes and colors, according to the purpose for which it is intended. In a soft form a sheet of uralite is like an asbestos board when hard it resembles finely sawn stone and has a metallic ring. Besides a nonconductor of heat and electricity it is practically waterproof (and may be made entirely so by paint), and is not effected either by atmospheric influences or by the acids contained in smoke in large towns, which rapidly destroy galvanized iron. Moreover, it can be cut by the usual carpenters' or woodworkers' tools; it can be veneered to form paneling for walls or partitions; it can be painted, grained, polished and glued together like wood; it does not split when a nail is driven through it; it is not affected when exposed to moisture or great changes of temperature, and it can be given any desired color either during the process of manufacture or afterward.

VOLUMES EXCEL IN PRICE.

Book in a London Salesroom Found to Bring $20,000—Cost of Others.

In one of the London salesooms the other day a book was sold for $20,000. It was a Latin psalter of 1459 and the price was the second highest ever given in auction for a printed book. The record price for a book printed in movable types is $24,750, given in the same rooms December 19, 1884, at the Sir John Hayford Thorold sale, for another and slightly finer copy of the same work, the second book printed with a date at the world's first printing press. The last-mentioned copy remained in the possession of its purchaser, the late Bernard Quaritch, for a long period, and was finally sold after his death to J. Pierpont Morgan. Twelve copies, perfect and imperfect, are now known of the psalter of 1459, of which an edition of 20 copies was printed by Faust and Schoffer at the expense of the Carthusian monastery of St. James, near Mentz. The copy just sold for $20,000 was discovered in 1887 in the library of Count Wilhelm von Westerholt-Gysenberg, in the castle of Freienthun, near Klagenfurt, in Carinthia. It came into that family's possession on the dissolution of the monastery of St. James in 1781.

TERRORS OF FIRING LINE.

Screech of Death-Dealing Shells Declared to Be an Awful Strain on the Nerves.

Only those who lie in the firing line and hear the constant screech of the shells as they cleave their way through the air above know the true sounds of modern war, says World's Work. The whiplike smack of the bursting shell, the swish of the scattering bullets are nothing to the mocking screech of these messengers of death as they pursue each other as if in competition to complete the awful object of their hideous mission. The whole welkin is discordant with their tumult; you feel the rush of misplaced air, splinters sing in your ears, the earth is in constant tremble with the violence of the discharge; you feel it pulsate against your cheek pressed to the moist mud of the parapet and then a bullet saps the life blood of the comrade whose elbow has touched yours day and night for 40 hours. There is a limit to human endurance in these straits.

WHY DONKEYS DO NOT SHY

Different from Horses Because of Their Early Environment—Food Also a Factor.

The ancestors of the horse were accustomed to roam over the plains, where every tuft of grass or bush might conceal an enemy waiting to spring upon them. Under these circumstances they must often have saved their lives by starting quickly back or jumping to one side when they came without warning upon some strange object. This is a habit which has not left the animal, even after long years of domestication. On the other hand, the donkey is descended from animals which lived among the hills, where there were precipices and dangerous declivities, and from these conditions resulted his slowness and sure-footedness. His ancestors were not so liable to sudden attacks from wild beasts and snakes. Besides, sudden and wild starts would have been positively dangerous to them. Consequently they learned to avoid the very trick which has been so useful to the horse. The habit of eating thistles, which is peculiar alone to the donkey, is also descended from these ancestors. In the dry, barren localities which they inhabited there was often little food, hence they learned to eat hard, dry and even prickly plants when there was nothing else.

Great Cantilever Bridge.

The cantilever bridge which is being constructed across the St. Lawrence river, at Quebec, will contain the longest span ever built in any bridge. There will be two shore arms, each 500 feet long, two approach spans of 210 feet each, and the great central span of 1,800 feet, which is 90 feet more than the length of the central span of the famous bridge over the Firth of Forth, in Scotland.

SPRING FASHIONS.

Ugly Automobile Costumes and Some Really Pretty Dresses.

Sweet and pretty as women generally manage to make themselves look do they make themselves ugly and homely for their automobile trips. This reflection was forced upon me as I looked at two ladies who were choosing their outfits for this dangerous but evidently exciting sport. They were going south, where the weather did not permit of the great, clumsy fur things which they had been making themselves hideous in all winter. One coat finally chosen by a lady (whose husband upset the machine before he reached Palm Beach, I read in the papers) was long, reaching quite an inch below the bottom of her skirt. The material was thick cravenette, such as is used in men's rain coats. This was almost shapeless and belted in at the back. Down the front there was a wide plastron of fine dressed leather. It was so arranged that it could be left off if not needed, as it buttoned on both sides all the way down. This, I suppose, is to protect the chest. Over the shoulders is a cape made of the leather and a capuchin hood, which can be drawn up over the cap. If there is a more unbecoming thing for a woman than one of these caps I do not know what it is, and, above all, when the hood is brought up over the peak, leaving the crown to stick out like a mushroom. And, as if this were not enough, there are about six veils all available to add to the structure. No, woman is not beautiful in an automobile suit.

The other suit had a really pretty dress of soft gray cloth, with a coat of the same that reached to the knees lined with Siberian squirrel. The big sleeves had deep velvet cuffs to catch and hold the dust, while there was a horribly ugly hood with a short cape, and then a long one below made of gray cravenette also. This was lined with silk, I think. The object was to have the rain proof cape cover and protect the shoulders. Now, I like to see lovely woman look lovely always, and that is why I see no beauty in automobiling costumes.

I noted with pleasure that among the really elegant outdoor coats the new redingote, which has been revived for the coming spring. This always graceful garment is made coat shaped in the back, having exactly the finish of a man's coat, while it is cut away in front, allowing for a pretty and stylish vest of satin, velvet or other material, and having shawl revers. The sleeves are the sensible and comfortable coat, with full tops. Cloth, cheviot and tweeds, all of solid colors, make up handsomely in this style. Such a costume is quite fine enough for any outdoor occasion. Several suits with the redingote effect are shown in velutina, which proves that we have not finished our velvet styles yet.

Changeable taffeta is seen again, too, in several very pretty spring gowns for visiting and teas and other semigrand functions. A case in point is shown here, a silk gown, with one flounce of the same, headed by two folds of the silk, edged with accordion ruffles of chiffon in two thicknesses. The silk is dove colored, and one of the chiffon ruffles is red and the other blue, which give the changing effect. The waist is in the same old blouse shape, almost covered with lace. The cape—and capes are many this year—is of pastel blue cloth, with fancy castle braid effects at the yoke and breloques of the same.

Among the newest of the importations in dress goods for the early spring I saw some that are finer, richer and more beautiful than I have ever seen. Each season sees something new and some new perfection. There is a crepe de chine, which is polka dotted in black, and the cunning weaver has made those dots look like steel on the black. Panama cloth is a soft and fine weave, sometimes left plain and again with dots or other fine figures in the weave. Gypsy cloth and another called powderette with tiny specks over the surface, lizard with scales like that reptile, granite with the roughish surface so much admired for tailor suits, queen's granite, a still finer rough wool; mignonette, which has a close weave most elegant and fine; broadcloth of various weights and in all colors, and camel's hair, which is in for a long season of popularity. But for every day use the mohairs in many varieties of weave and color and the cravenettes will be favorites. There are also roxana, prunella, eolliennes, crepe de Paris, all wool china crape and any amount of silk and wool mixtures in thin veilings. There are clairette and batiste, tamise and so many different thin and transparent wool goods that I cannot remember them.

Plaids, large and close designs, fine stripes and checks, are seen on many of the finest of the imported goods, and they make neat and pretty suits.

OLIVE HARPER.

THE GRAFTERS

By

FRANCIS LYNDE

(Copyright, 1904, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company.)

"You've said it," said Kent, subsiding among the pillows. "Now will you go?"

It took the general manager a wakeful 24 hours to untangle the industrial snarl which was the receiver's legacy to his successor; and David Kent slept through the major part of that interval, rising only in time to dress for dinner on the day following the retrieval of the Trans-Western.

In the grill-room of the Camelot he came face to face with Ormsby, and learned, something to his astonishment, that the Breezeland party had returned to the capital on the first train in from the west.

"I thought you were going to stay a month or more," he said, with his eyes cast down.

"So did I," said Ormsby. "But Mrs. Brentwood cut it short. She's a town person, and so is Penelope." And it was not until the soup plates had been removed that he added a question. "Are you going out to see them this evening, David? You have my royal permission."

"No"—bluntly.

"Isn't it up to you to go and give them a chance to jolly you a little? I think they are all aching to do it. Mrs. Hepzibah has seen the rising stock quotations, and she thinks you are it."

"No; I can't go there any more," said Kent, and his voice was gruffer than he meant it to be.

"Because I shouldn't be able to realize a single one of your ideals. I know what they are—what you will expect in a wife. I could make you a rich man, a successful man, as the world measures success, and perhaps I could even give you love: after the first flush of youth is past, the heavenly-affinity sentiment loses its hold and a woman comes to know that if she cares to try hard enough she can love any man who will be thoughtful and gentle, and whose habits of life are not hopelessly at war with her own. But that kind of love doesn't breed love. Your vanity would pique itself for a little while, and then you would know the curse of unsought love and murder me in your heart a thousand times a day. No, David, I have read you to little purpose if these are the things you will ask of the woman who takes your name and becomes the mother of your children." She had risen and was standing beside his chair, with her hand lightly touching his shoulder. "Will you go now? There are others coming, and—"

He made his adieux gravely and went away half dazed and a prey to many emotions, but strangely light-hearted withal: and as once before, he walked when he might have ridden. But the mixed-emotion mood was not immortal. At the Clarendon he found a committee of Civic leaguers waiting to ask him if he would stand as a "good government" candidate in the special election to fill the house vacancy in the capital district; and in the discussion of ways and means, and the setting of political pins which followed there was little food for sentiment.

It was three weeks and more after Gov. Marston's call summoning the assembly for an investigative session. Kent had fought his way triumphantly through the special election to a seat in the house, aided and abetted manfully by Ormsby, Hildreth and the entire Trans-Western influence and vote. And now men were beginning to say that without the tireless blows of the keen-witted, sharp-tongued young corporation lawyer, the junto might still have reasserted itself.

But the house committee, of which Kent was the youngest member and the chairman, had proved incorruptible, and the day of the Gaston wolf-pack was over. Hendricks resigned, to escape a worse thing; Meigs came over to the majority with a show of heartiness that made Kent doubly watchful of him; heads fell to the right and left, until at the last there was left only one member of the original cabal to reckon with; the judicial tool of the capitol ring.

Kent had hesitated when MacFarlane's name came up; and the judge never knew that he owed his escape from the inquisitorial house committee, and his permission to resign on the plea of broken health, to a young woman whom he had never seen.

It was Elinor Brentwood who was his intercessor; and the occasion was the last day of the third week of the extra session—a Saturday afternoon and a legislative recess when Kent had borrowed Ormsby's auto-car, and had driven Elinor and Penelope out to Pentland place to look at a house he was thinking of buying. For with means to indulge it, Kent's Gaston-bred mania for plunging in real estate had returned upon him with all the acuteness of a half-satisfied passion.

They had gone all over the house and grounds with the caretaker, and when there was nothing more to see, Penelope had prevailed on the woman to open the venetians in the music-room. There was a grand piano in the place of honor, presided over by a mechanical piano-player; and Penelope went into ecstasies of mockery.

"Wait till I can find the music scrolls, and I'll hypnotize you," she said gleefully; and Kent and Elinor beat a hasty retreat to the wide entrance hall.

"I don't quite understand it," was Elinor's comment, when they had put distance between themselves and Penelope's joyous grinding-out of a Wagner scroll. "It looks as if the owners had just walked out at a moment's notice."

"They did," said Kent. "They went to Europe, I believe. And by the way; I think I have a souvenir here somewhere. Will you go up to the first landing of the stair and point your finger at that window?"

She did it, wondering; and when he had the line of direction he knelt in the cushioned window-seat and began to probe with the blade of his penknife in a small round hole in the woodwork.

"What is it?" she asked, coming down to stand beside him.

"This." He had cut out a flattened bullet and was holding it up for her to see. "It was meant for me, and I've always had an idea that I heard it strike the woodwork."

"For you? Were you ever here when the house was occupied?"

"Yes, once; it is the Senator Duvall place. This is the window where I broke in."

She nodded intelligence.

"I know now why you are going to buy it. The senator is another of those whom you haven't forgiven."

His laugh was a ready denial.

"I have nothing against Duvall. He was one of Buck's dupes, and he is paying the price. The property is to be sold at a forced sale, and it is a good investment."

"Is that all it means to you? It is too fine to be hawked about as a thing to make money with. It's a splendidly ideal home—leaving out that thing that Penelope is quarreling with." And she made a feint of stopping her ears.

He laughed again.

"Ormsby says I ought to buy it, and marry and settle down."

She took him seriously.

"You don't need it. Miss Van Brock has a very lovely home of her own," she said soberly.

It was at his tongue's end to tell the woman he loved how the woman he did not love had refused him, but he saved himself on the brink and said:

"Why Miss Van Brock?"

"Because she is vindictive, too, and—"

"But I am not vindictive."

"Yes, you are. Do you know anything about Judge MacFarlane's family affairs?"

"A little. He has three daughters; one of them rather unhappily married, I believe."

"Have you considered the cost to these three women if you make their father's name a byword in the city where they were born?"

"He should have considered it," was the unmoved reply.

"David!" she said; and he looked up quickly.

"You want me to let him resign? It would be compounding a felony. He is a judge, and he was bribed."

She sat down beside him in the cushioned window seat and began to plead with him.

"You must let him go," she insisted. "It is entirely in your hands as chairman of the house committee; the governor, himself, told me so. I know all you say about him is true; but he is old and wretched, with only a little while to live, at best."

There was a curious little smile curling his lip when he answered her.

"He has chosen a good advocate. It is quite like a man of his stamp to try to reach me through you."

"David!" she said again. Then: "I really shouldn't know him if I were to see him."

"Then why—" he began; but there was a love-light in the blue-gray eyes to set his heart afire. "You are doing this for me?" he said, trembling on the verge of things unutterable.

"Yes. You don't know how it hurts me to see you growing hard and merciless as you climb higher and higher in the path you have marked out for yourself."

"The path you have marked out for me," he corrected. "Do you remember our little talk over the embers of the fire in your sitting-room at home? I knew then that I had lost the love I might have won: but the desire to be the kind of leader you were describing was born in me at that moment. I haven't always been true to the ideal. I couldn't be, lacking the right to wear your colors on my heart—"

"Don't!" she said. "I haven't been true to my ideals. I—I sold them, David!"

She was in his arms when she said it, and the bachelor maid was quite lost in the woman.

"I'll never believe that," he said loyally. "But if you did, we'll buy them back—together."

Penelope was good to them. It was a full half-hour before she professed herself satisfied with the mechanical piano-toy; and when she was through, she helped the woman caretaker to shut the venetians with clangings that would have warned the most oblivious pair of lovers.

And afterward, when they were free of the house, she ran ahead to the waiting auto-car, leaving Kent and Elinor to follow at a snail's pace down the leaf-covered walk to the gate. There was a cedar hedge to mark the sidewalk boundary, and while it still screened them Kent bent quickly to the upturned face of happiness.

"One more," he pleaded; and when he had it: "Do you know now, dearest, why I brought you here to-day?"

She nodded joyously.

"It is the sweetest old place. And, David, dear; we'll bring our ideals—all of them; and it shall be your haven when the storms beat."

[THE END.]

Punishment for Trivial Offences.

The kaiser takes a close interest in the spiritual welfare of his soldiers, and by his order army chaplains have to deliver periodical lectures in the evening for the benefit of the German Tommies. Attendance is not compulsory, and as a rule is rather thin. Recently, however, one reverend gentleman found himself suddenly popular. Time after time the room was full, and his heart overflowed with joy at the impression he was making on such unpromising material. In an unlucky moment he said as much to one of the officers. "Rubbish!" the brute replied, "the colonel has merely discovered that your sermons are an excellent punishment for trivial offenses." And the good padre was sorry he spoke.—The Tatler.

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

WAR AIDS INDUSTRY

ONE BENEFIT FROM CONFLICT IN FAR EAST.

Chain-Making Business Takes Decided Jump Because of the Strife Between Russians and the Japanese.

Several American industries have been noticeably benefited by the Russo-Japanese war, but none can lay claim to a greater boom, with the far eastern strife as its cause, than can the chainmakers of the United States.

Both the fighting nations are sending order after order for large consignments of chains to this country, and the big plants are working night and day to turn out the links in sufficient quantity to supply the demand. Constant improvements in the Russian navy, which the little Japs seem to have taken so much enjoyment in putting out of business, naturally call for the strongest sort of chains. Besides this, the double tracking of the Siberian railroad and the construction of the Baikal section demands great consignments of the American-made product.

With the Japanese the case is different. The islanders need a strong absolutely unbreakable article in order that quick pulling in of anchors on the big war vessels may be made easier. Another reason for the necessity is on account of the railroad which is being built in Korea, and the one which the mikado proposes to construct in Manchuria soon.

Sentiment plays no part in the problem of where to buy the chains, and it is a gratifying tribute to industry in the United States to know that both the nations engaged in conflict against each other find America the best place to purchase these necessities. The American-made article is superior to that made in either Germany or England, the two countries which were once foremost in the manufacture of chains, and also being cheaper, Japan and Russia both find it a money-saving scheme to purchase their chains in the United States, despite the fact that each knows the other is using exactly the same article.

A deficient cable, in which perhaps only one link shows a defect, might bring disaster to a ship, and possibly cost hundreds of lives. For this reason every chain or cable that leaves the plant of the big chain making concerns must undergo the most severe of tests. Long sections are subjected to specified pulls and then the chain is tested on a testing machine which cares for 90 feet at a time, bringing to bear any tension up to 250,000 pounds. If any link in a batch of chains is found to possess any defect whatsoever, the entire number of chains made from the iron in which the deficiency exists is condemned and thrown away, or put into an inferior grade.

The chains are tested according to the diameter of the iron in the link. A quarter-inch chain is not intended to stand a strain of more than 600 pounds, but it is, as a rule, subjected to a test of 1,500 pounds, and should not break with a strain of less than 2,500 pounds. Chain cables, such as are used on warships, are given tests of from 200,000 to 250,000 pounds, and should not give way under a strain of less than twice that weight. The corroding action of salt water has a weakening effect on the chain, however, and shipmasters find it necessary to continually keep a careful inspection on this part of a vessel's anatomy.

In America the chain-making industry is centralized to a considerable extent, and the company which makes nearly three-quarters of all that is produced in this country is located on the Monongahela river, near Pittsburg. This concern ships its wares to every state and territory in the United States, and has on its list of customers all the republics in Central and South America, Mexico, the West Indies, Canada, Australia, Russia, Austria, Japan, Italy, Turkey, China and Siam. Great Britain and Germany are still supplied by the home factories but slowly and surely the American product is forcing its way into these countries.

W. W. GARRISON.

Not from Boston.

At an evening reception recently two men were much interested in one of the young women present. One of them remarked:

"I guess shee's from Boston."

"Oh, no, indeed," replied the other.

"Didn't she ask you if you hadn't resided in that city at one time?"

"No; she said: 'Usen't you live in Boston onct?'"—Chicago Tribune.

DIAMOND DUST.

Notwithstanding the attractions of law, Dave Fultz signed another contract with the New York Americans yesterday and will join the team in the South in a few days. Manager Griffith must have met his terms. The fans would have liked to see Fultz here this season, but a good man will take his place.

Herbert Smithson, the ball player, better known as "Hub" Smithson, who was reported as being out of the game for good owing to injuries to his eyes, is now critically ill with pneumonia at his home in Hoboken. He had been out of the hospital three weeks from the treatment for his eyes when pneumonia developed. Smithson played at Westfield last year.

Philip Daab, of Hoboken, who is identified with the Plainfield Baseball Association, this year, was in town yesterday calling on friends. He still believes that Linderman will pitch for the locals on Saturday and holidays. Linderman has not reported to Manager McGraw at Savannah, and according to yesterday's New York papers, he is not likely to. The evening Sun says that he will undoubtedly remain with Manager Daab this season.

BASKET BALL.

The deciding game of basketball in the series between Leal's school and the Y. M. C. A. Business Men, went to the latter abgregation Monday night, the match being at the local gymnasium. The score was 26 to 19, though the school boys made a good showing against their heavier apponents. The line-up was as follows: Business men, Spicer and Eagle, forwards; Brewing, centre; Clark and Letson, guards; Leal's school, Howard and Chapman, forwards; Jewett, center; Lyman and Manning, guards.

GOLF.

The opening of the Plainfield Country Club golf course will depend largely on the weather. Players will not be allowed on the course until it is in proper condition.

DATE SET FOR Y. M. C. A. GYMNASTIC CONTEST

INTER-ASSOCIATION STATE MEET HELD HERE ON APRIL 14.

The date for the annul inter-association gymnastic meet, which will be held this year at the local Y. M. C. A., has been set for Friday evening, April 14. They include Montclair, Newark, Passaic, Summi, Orange, Ridgewood, Morristown, Hudson City, Jersey City and the local association.

The events in the meet, which is strictly a gymnastic event, will include apparatus work, part prescribed moves and part free work, on the horse, parallel bars and high bar. The choice of apparatus gives opportunity for an exhibition of considerable skill and grace, as well as the introduction of several difficult moves. The meet will be in charge of Fred. A. Henckel, physical director of the local department, while the other officials will be the heads of the various gymnasium squads.

The meet was held at Montclair last year and was won by the local association. The representatives which will probably hold up the local end of the meet will be Smith, Neal, Caboone, Hand, Bentliff and McNaughton.

O'Connor, of the Catholic diocese of Newark, has received a reply from Rome to his request for a dispensation to have a mass celebrated in Newark at 2 o'clock Sunday morning or shortly after midnight on Saturday, but it contains no definite answer to the appeal. PLAINFIELDER WINS HONORS AT BROWN

ARTHUR L. DENTON AWARDED TITLE OF COLLEGE GYMNAST.

Arthur L. Denton, of this city, a graduate of the Plainfield High School, class of 1903, and a prominent athlete at the Y. M. C. A., won the highest honors at a recent gymnastic and wrestling contest at Brown University, where he is a student. He was accorded the title of college gymnast, which is given to the winner of the greatest number of points in the annual contest. Denton captured a total of 122 1-10 points out of a possible 150. The events were held at Lyman Gymnasium Tuesday evening, March 7, before several hundred spectators. The Plainfielder's training in the local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, where he has won several prizes, pulled him up to the first place, though it was only by the last event that the winner could be determined, so close were the contestants. Mr. Denton was presented by President Faunce with a handsome cup.

Denton is a freshman at Brown University, and has in addition to gymnastic prowness, made quite a reputation at basketball. He was captain of his class team and a member of the varsity squad. The young gymnast is also a good track man, and is likely to be heard from in that branch of athletics.

Sentence Again Postponed.

Counsellors Swackhamer and Angleman and Attorney DeMeza, who have represented the four Plainfield negroes convicted of murderous assault on three borough marshals, received word today that the men would not be sentenced tomorrow as arranged. The continuance of the Flemerfelt homicide trial has made it impossible to grant the time needed to dispose of the matter. This makes the fourth postponement of sentence since the quartette was found guilty.

Perkins Breaks the Ice.

Randolph Perkins, of Westfield, yesterday introduced in the Legislature his first bill, being the first official move he has made since Union County spent $7,000 to make him an Assemblyman. His Own Preparation.

Sentence was suspended on John W. Miller, of New York, when arraigned in the city court, this morning, on a charge of peddling without a license. He was doing a rushing business selling a clothes cleaning preparation when Patrolman McCarthy gathered him in. P. B. A.'S NEW CAPTAIN

David F. Driscoll to Have Charge of the Team.

TO COVER FIRST BASE

Dave's Career on the Diamond —He Organized the Equitables.

Among the members of this season's baseball team that is to play for the Plainfield Baseball Association, none are more popular than David F. Driscoll, who will play first base and captain the team. Outside of the major league he probably has no superior and few equals. "Dave" was born at Taunton, Mass., and commenced his baseball career in the New England States. He managed the Jersey City team before the Eastern League located in that city. He organized the famous Equitable team and signed the best semi-professional players and secured them good positions with the Equitable Life Insurance Company.

Captain Driscoll.

This team played together for three years, making a great record. Manager Philip Daab then signed Driscoll for the Hoboken team and through his efforts the best aggregation of ball players on the market were secured, the foundation of the Hoboken team being based on the pick of the Equitables. The makeup of the Hobokens has practically never been changed.

"Dave" takes more than ordinary interest in the success of the team that will represent Plainfield during the coming season and predicts that the fans will be more than pleased with the result of the season's work. He says that "nothing is too good for Plainfield" and can assure the baseball public that they can positively depend on having one of the representative teams of the State; also that the schedule of attractions will be gilt-edge and of a calibre far superior to any yet witnessed in this city. Driscoll's ability as a ball player is too well-known to need much comment. He is thoroughly posted on the game and can always be depended upon to do good work.

FAITH CHAPEL CHANGE.

Committee to Report on Advisability of Making It Independent.

The officials of Faith chapel are gradually completing arrangements for the establishment of that organization as an independent Baptist church. A committee comprising Charles W. McCutcheon, M. C. Dobbins, E. L. Benny and George A. Chapman has been appointed to complete the details and report at a meeting to be held Wednesday night, March 22.

This chapel has constantly been growing in membership and interest under the direction of the pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson, and L. W. Randolph, the Sunday-school superintendent, until it is believed that it is in a position to become an independent church body.

—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders will meet at Somerville on Tuesday.

ISSUES HANDICAP SHEETS

Leighton Calkins Distributes Them Among Golf Clubs.

A NEW SYSTEM

Adopted by Metropolitan Association to Which Plainfield Belongs.

The clubs belonging to the Metropolitan Golf Association, with which the Plainfield Country Club is affiliated, will be expected to report the handicaps of their members by April 1. Leighton Calkins, chairman of the handicap committee, has just issued the official sheets upon which these reports are to be made. Every club is required to base the handicaps of its members on the par score of its course, and this score is to be reckoned according to the official distances. For holes up to 200 yards in length the official par score is 3; from 201 to 250 yards, 3½; 251 to 375, 4, 376 to 450, 4½; 451 to 500, 5; 501 to 550, 5½, and for all holes measuring more than 550 yards the par is 6. By adding the par for each hole gives the total par score of the links.

A new system is to be adopted this year of reckoning the handicaps in accordance with par. Instead of taking the exact difference between par and the average of the three best scores of a player to determine that player's handicap, as has been the custom heretofore, that difference is to represent the handicap of the scratch men and men with very low handicaps.

For example, if part of the course is 75 and the average of a player's best three scores is 75, under the old system he was rated at scratch; if his average was 80, he received a handicap of 5.

Under the new system, to be tried this season, the poorer the player the more his handicap will be shaved down from the figure representing the difference between his average score and par.

A man whose average of best three scores is 80, would, under this scheme, received a handicap of 4, instead of 5, presupposing that 5 is the difference between his averge score and a par value of 75.

This is on the theory that one stroke is a fair measure of the improvement that a player is likely to make as against the better player, whose average score is 75, and who is, therefore, rated at scratch. In other words, this plan is based on the supposition that a poor player, with fair practice, is likely to improve his game more quickly than the man who is already able to do the course in close to par figures.

For example, a man whose average is 97 would get a handicap of 17, instead of 22, the five strokes representing the shaving which the handicap committee, believes proper from the exact difference between 97 and 75. That is, the man doing the course in 97, is likely to improve his game five strokes, if he plays with any regularity, while it is hardly probable that the man whose average is 75 would improve his game a similar number of strokes.

It is this advantage of the poor player over the good one which has not been taken into consideration before and which Mr. Calkins now plans to reckon with. The tables prepared by Mr. Calkins show at a glance the proper handicap for each player. The instructions are explicit, and each club will be expected to submit the ratings of its members in accordance with them. The handicaps thus obtained will be used in admitting entries to the approaching championship under the auspices of the Metropolitan Golf Association.

TROLLEYS IRREGULAR.

Protest Against Poor Schedule at Night.

The Public Service Corporation, it is said, is not treating the patrons of its trolley cars fairly by changing the method of running late cars without proper notice. Of late the corporation has been running cars after 11:30 through West Fourth street to the cars barns instead of through West Front street, owing to the fact that the switch at West Front street and Grant avenue occasionally freezes.

A few nights ago several passengers were left at the Watchung avenue stand, one of the late cars failing to even come up to the stand. It ran as far as the railroad bridge and then shot through West Fourth street. The would-be passengers had to walk home.

DEFER SCHOOL PLANS

Piscataway Postpones Building Scheme for a Time.

ANNUAL MEETING

Three Directors to be Elected on March 21—Final Session of Present Board.

The Piscataway Township School Board met yesterday at New Market and decided that owing to the annual election which will be held on Tuesday, March 21, it would be unwise to adopt any plans for the erection of new schools before that time. This matter will therefore go over until after the election and re-organization of the board. There are to be elected three new members and a spirited fight is expected in an effort to elect men favorable to the erection of a six-room building at New Market. In getting figures for this work, it is now thought a six-room building, with a suitable heating plant and other improvements, can be built for about $18,000. The original sum asked for was $30,000, and residents of the township outside of New Market made a strenuous objection to spending so much money for one building while schools were needed in other parts of the township.

It is now proposed to call the annual meeting for Tuesday afternoon, March 21, at 1 o'clock sharp, so that all business can be transacted before dark. The friends of the plan to build a school at New Market expect to find strong opposition and they will try to win out.

There will be another meeting of the board on Monday, March 20, when all the reports will be completed for presentation at the annual meeting. It was hinted yesterday that if the taxpayers will vote for the proposed school at New Market, that other parts of the township will be given fair consideration.

There are still some of the taxpayers who favor the four-room building for New Market and the erection of one or two smaller buildings in the township. Just how these factions will be harmonized is now a question.

Only five of the nine members of the board were at the meeting yesterday and very little outside of routine business was considered, except to plan for the annual meeting.

PLAYFUL CAT ALL BUT CAUSES SERIOUS BLAZE

KNOCKS OVER LARGE LAMP WHICH EXPLODES AND STARTS A FIRE.

A playful family cat the home of Frank Whitley, on Essex street, all but caused a serious fire in the residence, Wednesday night. The feline was jumping about chasing its tail and pieces of paper, as all good cats do, and finally gave a spring that placed it on a table beside a large lamp. The nearness to the lighted blinded it and in trying to get back to the floor, it knocked the lamp over.

The latter promptly exploded and blazing oil was running about when Miss Ella Whitley, who was alone at the time, promptly seized the remnants of the lamp and threw it out of doors. She returned to the room and attacked the flames with rugs, finally putting out the blaze but not before her hands and arms had been severely burned. The total damage reached nearly $10 but the cat escaped unscathed.

C. T. VAIL WINS AGAIN.

Supreme Court Refuses New Trial in Damage Case of M. and S. Traction Company.

The Supreme Court at Trenton has discharge a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted in the suit of Charles T. Vail, formerly of this city, but now of Valley, N. J., against the Middlesex & Somerset Traction Company.

Mr. Vail was injured on one of the company's cars between Dunellen and Bound Brook about two years ago, and in a suit for damages in the Somerset county courts he received a verdict for $5,000. The case was appealed on a rule to show cause.

Liberating Quail.

Fred Endress, the West Front street butcher, was among the Plainfielders, who received a shipment of quail yesterday from Game Warden Hawkins, of Elizabeth. Mr. Endress received a dozen pairs and he placed them on his farm on the outskirts of the city. The farm has been posted and every effort will be made to protect the game.

PLAINFIELD GAS TO FEED NEARBY TOWNS

North Plainfield, Dunellen, Bound Brook, Somerville and Metuchen to be Supplied

A CENTRAL PLANT

Establishment Here to be Enlarged —Pipes Are Now Being Laid —Will Probably Extend to New Brunswick.

Contrary to reports, the local gas plant of the Public Service Corporation will not be removed from this city. On the other hand it will be made the central station for the supply of gas not only for Plainfield and North Plainfield, but Dunellen, Bound Brook and Somerville, as well as Metuchen, and it is not unlikely that New Brunswick will be served too.

The Public Service Corporation, since coming to this city, has expended thousands of dollars in bringing it up to a high state of efficiency and it is also proposed to spend a great deal more during the coming year to enlarge the capacity and provide for the increased business that will come within a few months.

Material is now on the way for the piping of Dunellen and Bound Brook and the corporation is planning to give these places the best of service. The local plant is now thoroughly equipped with all of the modern appliances for the making and distributing of gas, and an investigation proves that the best possible quality of illuminating gas is now being made.

The Public Service Corporation does not own the Elizabeth gas plant, as reported by another paper. It is the property of Senator John Kean and the corporation has no control over it.

Children Remember Father Egan.

Rev. Andrew M. Egan, who has been pastor of St. Mary's church for nearly three years, left Plainfield this morning after officiating at the 6:30 mass. There was an unusually large attendance, especially of children, members of the Children of St. Mary. A featur of the service was the singing. At the close of the mass two children presented to Father Egan a handsome basket of flowers, tied with satin ribbons and bearing this inscription: "To dear Father Egan, March 10, 1905, Children of St. Mary's School, Plainfield, N. J."

A. O. U. W. CONVENTION

Nash and Newcorn Make Successful Fight.

DEFEAT NEW PLAN

Grand Lodge Votes Against Changing the Assessment Laws.

The annual convention of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey, Ancient Order of United Workmen began a two days' session in the Ribsam building, Trenton, yesterday morning, with 108 delegates in attendance, and before the day was done refused to adopt the new assessment plan. Past Grand Master Workman V. W. Nash, Sr., and Past Grand Master William Newcorn, both of this city, fought against a change.

The proposed change in the assessment laws, known as the new plan, which was adopted by the Supreme Lodge a year ago, and submitted to the Grand Lodge at the present session, was defeated by a small majority, after a spirited but fraternal debate.

The Grand Lodge decided to continue under the classified assessment plan which was adopted two years ago.

The proposed change in the law to elect members of the finance and law committees during the annual conventions was defeated by a large vote. The old plan, which will continue, is to have members of the committee named by the grand master workman.

Another important matter to come before the session yesterday was the amendment to the law in naming a person qualified to be a beneficiary of a member. The law was amended to include a brother or sister or children of a dead member.

Several amendments to the constitution were taken up by the committee of the whole in the afternoon.

Among the visitors in attendance yesterday were Supreme Master Workman Narvis, of Iowa, and Past Supreme Master Workman William Robeson, of Texas. These gentlemen made eloquent addresses.

The main feature of today's session will be the election of officers.

A convocation of the Grand Lodge was held on Wednesday evening for the purpose of conferring the Grand Lodge degree.

TWO RETIREMENTS FROM BOROUGH HEALTH BOARD

DR. HONEYMAN'S TERM EXPIRES AND INSPECTOR PANGBORN RESIGNS.

The meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Health, last night, marked the retirement of Secretary W. E. Honeyman, after nine years' service, and Inspector William Pangborn, after serving ten years to a day. The former's term ended as he had not been re-appointed and the inspector tendered his resignation. It was accepted by the board and Frank Denckian has been appointed by the new secretary, Dr. Dundon, to attend the necessary work until a permanent inspector can be secured. The new State law is stringent in this respect and Pangborn's successor will have to have a state certificate.

In the regular routine of business, the secretary and treasurer's annual reports were presented, the former reviewing the work of the year and making suggestions as to carrying out the health laws. Dr. Dundon, who had already been made secretary, was elected treasurer.

The secretary's report touched on the milk supply, which the board is about to take up again in earnest, the care of the cesspool dump, the dump for ashes, vaults and cesspools, the emptying of sewage into Green brook and Stony brook, ice, wells and the new mosquito law. The financial statement showed the total receipts of the year to have been $2,642 70 and the expenditures $2,062.65.

WANTS "JIM CROW" CARS

F. C. Harcourt Requests P. S. C. Supt. to Take Action.

WEST FOURTH ST. LINE

Says That Negroes Make Themselves Objectionable—Superintendent Interviewed.

A mild protest against the crowding of Fourth street trolley cars by colored people, has been made to Division Superintendent Philip Maguire by F. C. Harcourt, a New York business man who recently came to this city and established his home in the West End. This branch of the local trolley leads through a district that has a large percentage of Plainfield's negro population and as a result the cars are invariably filled with colored people. The protestant declares they are objectionable to the white patrons of the road and he suggests that the "Jim Crow" system, observed in the south, be established here. The letter which was forwarded to Superintendent Maguire reads as follows:

Mr. Philip Maguire,
Supt. Plainfield Division,
Public Service Corporation,

Dear Sir: I would like to call your attention to the fact of the large number of negroes that travel on the Fourth street line. They crowd the cars continually and have become very objectionable to the white patrons of the company.

I hereby offer a suggestion to eradicate that evil. Establish the "Jim Crow" system which is working very satisfactorily in the South. There are a number of the old cars that could be repaired at practically little cost for the negro trade, and run them at intervals of every half hour. Anything you can do in this line will be appreciated by the hundreds of white people who ride on the line and who are becoming tired of being jostled about by the negroes.

Yours very truly,
F. C. Harcourt.

When a Daily Press reporter asked Mr. Maguire about the matter he declared that the Fourth street line does carry a large number of colored passengers but that they are simply working people going backward and forward to their homes and that there is not the least element of disorder. There are some white patrons who take the Front street line in preference to Fourth street but no formal protest has ever before been entered. The upper part of West Fourth street and the whole section of the West End above Spooner avenue is building up with commuters' homes and it is the newcomers who notice the large number of colored passengers. Mr. Harcourt is one of these but there is no likelihood of his suggestion being taken into consideration.

In Father Egan's Honor.

A dinner and farewell reception was tendered to Father Egan, of St. Mary's church, by the members of the choir, Tuesday evening. It was arranged by Miss Mary Smith, the organist, and was a delightful occasion. Various members of the party responded to toasts. Wm. O'Keefe acted as toastmaster. Father Egan warmly thanked the members of the choir for their kindness and expressing his gratification at having been associated with them in church work. A musical programme was rendered, solos by Miss Annie Daly, Mr. Romaine and Mr. McInerney, being features.

City Treasurer Arnold Better.

William F. Arnold, city treasurer and cashier of the City National Bank, who has been quite ill with grip and malaria brought on by overwork and too close application to business, is slightly improved today. Last night Dr. Janeway, of New York, was called in consultation, and this eminent physician said that he saw no reason why Mr. Arnold should not continue to improve.

The business men of the local Y. M. C. A. have extended an invitation to the business men of Montclair to come to this city on March 23. A social will be arranged, a committee of the Women's Auxiliary providing supper, and a basketball game will be played.

MRS. FRAZER ON JAPAN

Wife of Former British Envoy Talks on Court Life.

A SOCIETY AUDIENCE

Lecturer a Sister of F. Marion Crawford and a Well-Known Authoress.

The lecture room of Truell Inn was filled to overflowing into the halls on either side, yesterday afternoon, by an audience representing the wealth and culture of Plainfield society. They had gathered to hear the first lecture in Mrs. Hall's course of entertainments, delivered by Mrs. Hugh Fraser, a sister of Marion Crawford, and herself a well-known writer. Mrs. Fraser is tall, slender and graceful, and possesses a magnetic personality which at once captivated her hearers. Her voice is beautifully modulated, being clear and distinct, yet soft and sweet.

The title of her lecture was "Sword and Cherry Blossom" and she explained how truly these emblems represent the spirit of Japan.

"A nation that worshipped the sword as its god, took beauty for its guardian angel—and in all its long stormy history, the one has never belied the other."

Mrs. Fraser illustrated this by the story of a young officer, Captain Migamoto, who has won signal distinction in a series of brilliant actions in the present war. He was at one time reported to be dead, when even the young Royal Princess grieved deeply for the fate of so brave a man. This proved a false report however, and a young Japanese maiden, who perhaps was in love with the gallant captain, sent him a beautiful branch covered with artificial cherry blossoms, fashioned by her own hands, as only a Japanese can do such dainty work. This gift showed him that grateful hearts at home, were praying for his welfare. When Captain Migamoto was badly wounded in the frightful battle of Nan-Shan, the maiden sent him a gift of sterner meaning—a real cherry branch, bare of flowers. He wrote in reply that he was glad she understood what was in his heart, "when a soldier's duty is done, he must be content to drop from life as the flower from the branch, leaving not so much as a memory behind. * * * When his hour should come, he would remember the lesson of the cherry blossom."

As the wife of thee British envoy to the Court of Japan, Mrs. Fraser had rare opportunities of seeing court ceremonies. She described to her audience, the occasion of the silver wedding of the Empress.

"When I went to congratulate her on the day of her silver wedding, it was a glorious morning, and all the fountains of the Palace courts were singing in the sun. Plum and cherry blossoms blew about in clouds, and came straying into the great rooms, whose walls, sheets of glass, had all been thrown open to the sunshine and the flowers. The Empress was dressed in silver brocade, with rivers of diamonds rippling on its folds, a tall crown of diamonds on her hair, and in her eyes, the happiest smile I had ever seen there. Beside her was the Emperor, etc."

Mrs. Frazer's poetic temperament puts her in thorough sympathy with the Japanese, and enables her to interpret them as few Occidentals can.

Among her published works on the Island Kingdom are "A Diplomatist's Wife in Japan," "The Custom of the Country," tales of new Japan, giving the modern spirit of the country." "Warner's Hunting," and a book of Japanese stories, "The Slashing of the Sword," which has been published recently here and in England, and has been highly successful.

At the close of the lecture, Mrs. Frazer and Mrs. Hall were both warmly congratulated on the success of the afternoon. The next lecture in the series will be given by Mrs. Ward Howe Elliott, on Thursday afternoon, March 16, subject: "Social Life in Rome." So many persons are desirous of attending the course that Mrs. Hall has been advised to have the remaining three lectures given at the Unitarian church, next door to Truell Inn.

LITERARY.

The "personal equation" is strong in the March number of The Book-lovers Magazine. A large proportion of the articles deal with striking personalities in varied and interesting ways, partly biographical, partly critical, and by means of the interview. All of them are fully illustrated. Among the most notable articles of this stamp is "Religion in the Novel," by Hall Caine, who describes and defends his use of religious themes in the novel and makes a strong plea for the novel as an ethical force. Joseph M. Rogers' article on "Henry Watterson" is a most charming character sketch of a peculiar and fascinating figure in our politico-literary world. The interview with Dr. Doyen, the cancer expect of Paris, which is recorded at length by Frederic Lees, will be read with the greatest interest as the first authoritative statement made for publication by the great specialist who, after investigations covering twenty-five years, claims to have discovered the specific bacillus of cancer and the specific cure of that dread disease by means of vaccination.

AMUSEMENTS.

George Ade's comedy, "The College Widow," was produced for the first time last September, in Washington, and after a week's engagement there came to the Garden Theatre, where it has remained ever since playing to a succession of crowded houses. The homely humor of the characters and life at an inland college town are particularly appealing to those who come "from the interior" as a reminder of their youthful days, and to those who know only of the city, the clean, wholesome atmosphere of the play is delightful. The sixth month of "The College Widow" began Monday night.

"Buster Brown" is proving to be the biggest hit in the history of the Majestic Theatre, and this is saying a great deal when one recalls that this is the house where "The Wizard of Oz" and "Babes in Toyland" scored their phenominal runs. With such a pair to set the pace, it required a record-breaker indeed to make "three of a kind"—but that is just what Manager Flaherty found in "Buster Brown." That he doubted it himself is proved by the fact that he wagered a new hat with Manager Melville B. Raymond, who is responsible for "Buster Brown" being successfully transplanted from the genial garden of the Sunday colored supplements, where he originally grew, to the frequently frosty and inclement land beyond the footlights—that this "infant prodigy" would never best the records for receipts achieved by "The Wizard" and also "The Babes." But Manager Raymond is wearing a new hat, while Col. Flaherty wears a contented smile, indicated that he would be glad to lose more such bets.

BIG STRIKE ENDS.

Grand Chief Stone Advised Men to Call It Off.

FIREMEN REFUSED TO GO OUT.

Struggle on New York Elevated and Subway Lines Practically Over. Leading Labor Men Refused to Support the War.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The strike of the motormen and train hands of the Interborough lines is practically at an end.

Having failed to tie up the subway and "L" lines or to induce the surface car men to go out, Chief Jencks and President Pepper of the local unions tried to induce the chiefs of their national organizations to back up the strike and were met with the advice that they call it off and try to get the best terms possible from the company.

More than this Grand Chief Stone and President Mahon would not do, except that they were willing to go to General Manager Hedley and intercede for the former employees of the company if the local leaders so desired.

Timothy Healy, president of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, was appealed to to call out the firemen at the power houses. He refused.

The fact that President Mahon did not recognize the strike was sufficient for President Healy. He said:

"Before I would call out the men I would have to be asked to do so by President Mahon. He has not asked me to do so."

This practically ended the struggle. Nothing remained for the strikers to do.

Big labor leaders were in the city, and they were consulted about the situation before the final refusal to support the strike dashed the ebbing hopes of Jencks and Pepper. They were President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers.

Grand Chief Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers would not discuss the situation, but his assistant, E. W. Hurley, said:

"If the national organization had been consulted the differences would have been settled in twenty minutes."

When Jencks returned to the strikers' headquarters in Harlem he was in ill humor, and within a short time he had called upon the police to protect him from strike breakers whom his men had induced to abandon their trains and had demanded that the newspaper reporters be arrested.

The deserters from the ranks of the strike breakers alleged that tickets to their homes had been promised them, and they called so loudly for Jencks to give them their tickets that he sent for the police, and Captain Burns supplied a bodyguard for the strike leader, but he laughed at the demand that the newspaper men be arrested.

There were various rumors of deputations coming from the strikers' camp to appeal to the Interborough officials, but at the company's offices it was plainly intimated that there would be no treating with committees.

If any came, it was explained, they would be asked whom they represented, and they would be informed that the company no longer had any members of their unions in their employ nor any agreements with the unions and that applications for employment would have to be made by the men individually at the employment bureau in Dey street.

Liberals Do Not Favor Home Rule.

LONDON, March 10.—The question of home rule for Ireland was the principal feature of the speech of Lord Rosebery before the City of London Liberal club last night. His lordship said that, while the Liberal party sympathized with Ireland and was willing to proceed along the lines of administrative reform, "there is one thing to which no wise statesman ever will expose the country—namely, the course of a dual government. We have sufficient warnings in the example of Norway and Sweden and Austria and Hungary to avoid the peril of having the vulture gnawing at our very vitals."

Pastor Testifies as to Bribery.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 10.—The Rev. Newman Smyth, D. D., of New Haven, who appeared before the judiciary committee of the general assembly in support of a corrupt practices bill, informed the committee that after careful investigation he found that in the last campaign "money met money at the caucuses in considerably more than 100 of the 168 towns of the state." He figured that the total sum used might have reached $150,000.

Kirkman Not Allowed to Resign.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Secretary Taft has declined to accept the resignation of Captain George W. Kirkman, Twenty-fifth infantry, now under trial by court martial at Fort Niobrara, Neb., on charges of scandalous conduct. The court has taken a recess until May 10 to await the arrival of certain evidence from the Philippines.

Ex-President Cleveland Better.

DIRECTS ACQUITTAL

Trial of Mrs. Chadwick Ends at Cleveland.

JUDGE'S CHARGE FAVORED ACCUSED

Andrew Carnegie, Who Was Not Called, Gets Paid $84 Witness Fees—May Be Called at Subsequent Trials.

CLEVELAND, O., March 10.—Andrew Carnegie is now definitely out of the present trial of Mrs. Chadwick. He may appear at a subsequent trial, but as far as the existing case is concerned his pay is waiting for him, and he is at liberty to go home.

United States Marshal Chandler has made out a check for $84.40 to Mr. Carnegie's order, and it is held in the marshal's office pending Mr. Carnegie's call for it. If he does not call it will be mailed to him.

The court denied a motion of the defense to take the case from the jury and direct a verdict of acquittal.

The defense made a desperate effort to have the case taken from the jury and a verdict of acquittal rendered by the court. After arguments lasting through the greater part of the day Judge Tayler overruled the motion. The defense also attacked two counts of the indictment and asked that certain parts of the testimony offered by the government be stricken out. An admission from the judge that he did not regard the two counts as "good" was the extent of the satisfaction secured by the defense. The acquittal of the defendant was asked on the ground that the indictment charged her with conspiring to commit an offense against the United States in that she conspired with Beckwith and Spear to certify illegally checks of the Oberlin bank. It was claimed by the attorneys for the defense that Mrs. Chadwick, not being an officer of the bank, could not certify checks and that she could not be charged under the law with conspiring to commit an offense in conjunction with others which she had not the power to commit alone.

In stating his contention to the court Judge Wing, for the defense, said:

"The charge in this case is not certifying checks. It is conspiring to certify checks. A conspiracy between an official of a bank and a person not an official of the bank to certify checks is impossible, for the reason that it requires two to conspire, and a person not a bank official not having the power to certify checks cannot conspire to certify them."

He claimed also that Mrs. Chadwick could not be punished even granting the allegation of the state that checks had been illegally certified.

THEIR LITTLE WAY.

The Kansas Railways Discriminated Against Independent Refiners.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 10.—In depositions taken in the suit brought against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company it developed that all of the Kansas railroads in the Missouri freight bureau changed their classification and tariff sheets about the time the Kansas oil field began to give promise of becoming important.

Under the change the only petroleum which would be served for transportation in tank cars was that destined to a "consignee who possessed storage facilities for the oil after it reached its destination."

This order practically prohibited independent refiners from distributing their oil, as they were unable to erect storage tanks in all of the towns to which they shipped oil.

Stanford Witnesses Held at Honolulu

HONOLULU, March 10.—The fact that Bertha Berner and May Hunt, secretary and maid respectively to the late Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, will not leave Honolulu on the Pacific Mail company's steamer China today, but will remain until the sailing of the Oceanic Steamship company's vessel Alameda, is due to police instructions to the two women. Attorney General Andrews suggested that they should not be allowed to leave before the arrival of the detectives from San Francisco on the Alameda, which is due here today. High Sheriff Henry continues to hold out positively against the theory of suicide. It is thought that the inquest verdict will be that the death of Mrs. Stanford was the result of strychnine poisoning, "taken in some manner to the jury unknown."

Mrs. Hanna Sentenced.

LYNCHBURG, Va., March 10.—Mrs. Sallie M. Hanna, who confessed to poisoning six persons here last month and waived trial by jury, has been sentenced to five years at labor in the state prison. Lillie Viar, the colored girl who administered the poison for her under the impression that it was "love powder," to make the victims love Mrs. Hanna, is on trial today.

English Actors Honored.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt took luncheon with the president's sister, Mrs. W. S. Cowles, at her residence here. To meet them were invited Sir Charles Wyndham and Gilbert Farquhar, English actors. The latter is a brother of Baron Horace Brand, master of King Edward's household.

Chicago Bank Closed Its Doors.

CHICAGO, March 10.—The American International, a small private banking institution here, closed its doors. The bank has been in difficulties for some time. The active head, Vice President Charles L. Grosbeck, went to New York three weeks ago, taking all the concern's securities in a dress suit case.

THIS WATER COMPANY SOMEWHAT MYSTERIOUS

AGENT OF PISCATAWAY CONCERN SAYS HE KNOWS LITTLE ABOUT IT.

Further investigation of the Piscataway Water Company, which has been incorporated at Trenton, as told in The Daily Press yesterday, sheds no light on the concern. As previously stated, David Lawson is named as the agent in charge of the office at New Market, but when he was questioned yesterday about the company he stated that aside from the fact that he had been asked to act as agent and that his office be used as headquarters he knew nothing about the company.

Mr. Lawson stated farther that he does not know where the company proposes to secure its water supply or locate a plant. This statement was suported by Charles Day, clerk of the township, who caused the legal notice to be published in The Dunellen Call, in accordance with the ordinance providing for the granting of franchises. Mr. Day says that he knows absolutely nothing about the company. The advertisement does not indicate specifically where the company proposes to maintain or operate a water works.

These facts have aroused the citizens of the township and they are now anxious to learn more about the company and its plans. There are many residents who would like to get the benefit of a good water supply if it does not cost too much, and in fact it was thought that the Watchung Water Company was planning to extend its mains from Dunellen to New Market. Of late nothing has been heard of this scheme. There seems to be a general opinion that the new company is not identified with the Middlesex Water Company, of South Plainfield, of which Frank Bergen, of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, is a director.

IN THE SHOPS.

William Jukes has returned to his position at the Potter plant after a week's illness.

A new schedule which went into effect at the Potter plant this week gives the employes a full hour for dinner.

F. W. Howland has resigned his position as foreman of the drawing room at the Walter Scott plant in order to accept one with a New York concern.

The Potter Press Company has just completed the building of a fine new press that is to be installed in the Government printing office at Washington. It is now being inspected by Mr. Weber, of the Government service, previous to being shipped.

SALOON CAN'T BE RUN

Charles Schanz License Muddle Leaves Him Unsettled.

COUNCIL'S POSITION

City Fathers, It is Said, Unable to Rectify Condition—Schanz Has Paid the Fee.

Unless there is some unexpected move on the part of counsel for Charles Schanz, the saloonkeeper, his license matter is likely to be held up for an indefinite period. A local lawyer in looking up the matter yesterday found that the writ of certiorari obtained by W. L. Hetfield, Sr., for his wife, who owns the building adjoining the driveway proposed to be closed, acts as a stay of all proceedings. The writ is returnable on Friday, March 24, before Chief Justice Gummere, when argument in the matter will be heard. The matter may be laid over for a time, if Justice Gummere decides to withhold his decision.

The Common Council had the right to rescind the resolution, but it is claimed that such action would have to be done at the regular meeting following the one at which it was adopted. If this is true, the time has passed, and it is now outside the jurisdiction of that body to do anything contrary to the provisions of the resolution which calls for an iron gate, lock and key and other improvements.

However, there is nothing in the resolution to indicate that the iron gate must be kept closed or locked. It simply states that an iron gate with a lock and key be placed at the entrance to the driveway. If Mr Schanz desired to take advantage of this technicality, he no doubt would be acting within his rights and it would be up to the court to settle the question whether the gate is to be kept closed and locked. However, it now looks as though Mr. Schanz does not care to assume the responsibility of moving to 136 Park avenue, and on the other hand Marcus Silbert, owner of the property, would like to have the question settled so that he can decide whether to stay where he is or lease the place to other parties who are seeking it for business.

At all events nothing can be done until March 24, when the writ of certiorari is returnable, and in the meantime Mr. Schanz is out of business, although he has paid his license fee and leased the property at 136 Park veanue. While the lease on his old place expires April 1, he cannot continue the business there for he was granted a license for 136 Park avenue, with the provisions noted in the resolution offered by Councilman Gleak.

—Miss Dunham, of West Front street, has taken a position in the office of Street Commissioner Gavett, succeeding Mrs. Odgen Meeker, who was recently married.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINTIY.

A meeting in the interest of baseball was held on Wednesday night, at which plans for raising money by subscription were considered, and various solicitors were appointed. They have begun their search for baseball funds already, and it is expected that sufficient money to get the season started will be contributed by local fans. Managers Vail and Dunphy are at work, the former arranging the schedule and the latter looking out for the financial interests. The captain, William Giles, has been looking over the material and reports the following as available for the 1905 team: Harvey Moynihan, Oliver Matthews, Willard Apgar, George Kuldoshes, John Alberts, Frank Fletcher, Jr., Jessie Ayres and Howard Craig. There will be a baseball meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at Plainfield tonight, and the plan of organizing a league of teams in the vicinity to play under amateur regulations, will be considered. The local team will be informed as to the result of the discussion, and in all probability will accept an offer, if one is made, to enter the league. The other teams proposed are the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., Orange Field Club, Clinton Avenue and Bound Brook.

As a result of the recent rain, the trolleys to Bound Brook have been running off schedule, and considerable trouble has been experienced at certain places on the road on account of the deep water. West of Tayler's hotel for about 200 yards, the tracks have been submerged, and have sunken several inches. Work on this section of the road began yesterday, and it is hoped to put the line in good condition by another week.

The repairs on the round house will probably be completed today. The new beams and roof boards have been laid for several days, and the slating was partially put on yesterday. The other side will be finished this afternoon. Only new timber has been used in repairing the round house, and it has been strengthened generally, so that there is little probability of an accident similar to the one two weeks ago.

During the Lenten season services will be held at St. John's church every Friday night at 7:45. They will be in charge of Father Dunphy. At Holy Innocents' church the services will be held Thursdays at 4:30, and on Friday evenings at 7:45 o'clock. The Holy Communion will be observed on Sunday at 8:30 o'clock.

Attended by her immediate friends and relatives, the funeral service of Mrs. A. M. Beck, who died at her home on Tuesday, was held this afternoon from her late residence. Rev. W. W. Casselberry, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated. The interment was at Bound Brook.

The dance at the Friendship Hall tonight promises to be one of the most successful social function conducted at New Market during the winter. The hall has been tastefully decorated, and invitations for a large number have been sent out.

The Fancy Work Club was entertained last night at the home of Miss Marjorie Burke. The evening was pleasantly spent sewing. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gaskill have moved to Plainfield, where they will make their home in the future.

The Afternoon Card Club will meet today at the home of Mrs. Sarah Fisher for its regular session.

John Osbourne, son of the late David Osbourne, who has been very sick, is now much improved.

S. D. Sanford and family, of Prospect place, have moved to New Market.

Mrs. Martine, of Asbury Park, has been visiting Mrs. Wilson Fredericks.

The railroad pay car is scheduled to arrive at the borough on March 17.

Harry Synder, who has been dangerously ill, is now much improved.

L. B. Nelson has moved to Roselle, where he will live in the future.

Mrs. Katherine Myers is able to be about after a serious illness.

St. John's church has recently been wired for electric lights.

Miss Mary Griscom is entertaining out-of-town friends.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Lynus Walpole, Jr., who has been quite ill with scarlet fever, is said to be somewhat improved now. The local Board of Health has taken all necessary precautions to prevent a spread of the disease and no alarm is felt over an epidemic.

"Temptations," will be the subject of Rev. T. Moore-Smith's discourse at the weekly prayer meeting to be held tonight in the Baptist church parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fanober, who have been residing in Newark for the past year, will take up their residence again in the borough April 1.

The first of a series of match games between the 'Plains bowlers and the Triangle team will be rolled on the Suburban alleys tonight.

No one seems to miss the annual spring elections, even the holdovers are satisfied to remain in their berths for another six months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kandelky, of Craig place, North Plainfield, have rented the Bernman cottage on Westfield avenue.

The members of the Amity Club, the town's only literary society, enjoyed a meeting for reading and study last night.

Mrs. I. G. Walker, who has been quite ill for two weeks, has entirely recovered and is able to be around again.

The Brookside Gun Club members held a club shoot tomorrow afternoon on the grounds along Green brook.

Frasee Ryno has taken a position as gardener at "The Gables."

Letters are advertised in the South Plainfield postoffice for Herbert Kitenhouse, John Barks, Brent Barks, Yavin Gugana, J. Kansen, S. Saunun, Wallertegr Carinirsegs, Imra Lakr, P. Fendro Marinov, Miss Lesi Yokels, Joseph Korklinn, and two for Mike Selipka.

TRINITY'S SOCIAL EVENING.

Christian Endeavor Society Affair a Pleasant One.

Under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, of Trinity Reformed church, a pleasant social was held in the church parlors last night, which was well attended in spite of the bad weather. The evening was spent in a thoroughly enjoyable manner with games and music.

Various days were represented by the members of the society, including holidays and week days. Particularly worthy of mention were Mrs. Horace J. Martin and son, who represented Sunday, Charles M. Delliver, who appeared as Tuesday, decorated with numerous figures, and H. F. Crawford, who represented Independence Day. The others who took part in the day representations were the following: Wash day, Miss Bessie Randall; St. Valentine's Day, Miss Mabel Leek; Memorial Day, Miss Anna Randall; ironing day, Mrs. F. M. Lindsay; some day, Miss Anna Bodine; pay day, H. J. Martin; mending day, Miss Lucy Coriell; Ash Wednesday, Mrs. A. L. Titsworth; Christmas day, Arthur L. Titsworth; Friday, Miss Eva Davenport; Blue Monday, Miss Abbie Van Cleef; today, Miss Lida Wyman; sweeping day, Miss May Randolph; Election Day, William Latourette, and St. Patrick's day, Miss Minnie Wyman.

After the first part of the programme, which consisted of guessing the days represented, a series of charades were run off, in which members of the society represented different names. They were cleverly performed and the source of considerable amusement. Hunting concealed articles and other games made the evening pass rapidly, and at the conclusion of the social refreshments were served. The committee in charge consisted of Miss Harriet Randall, chairman; Miss Abbie VanCleef, Miss Mabel Leek, H. M. Kreitling, Miss Lida Wyman, Clarence Rittenhouse and William Trembath.

RUSSIANS HEMMED IN Japanese Hold Tie Pass and Railroad Lines.

OYAMA WILL FORCE SURRENDER.

Mukden Being Rapidly Deserted In View of Nodzu's Capture of the City—Czar's Troops Resisting Desperately.

LONDON, March 10.—A special report from Mukden says that the Japanese have started a fierce bombardment of the bridge at Fu pass, on the Hun river, twelve miles east of Mukden, the Russian artillery replying vigorously.

At present the Japanese are making most energetic attacks south of the Hun river. It is rumored that they have transferred thither some of their forces from the northwest in anticipation of a night attack.

The Russian forces in the district of Tzuanvanche, north of the Mukden station, rested under arms throughout the night. Shortly before dawn a large Japanese force approached the Zaraitser regiment. This regiment allowed the Japanese to approach within 200 paces and then discharged a volley from their rifles and opened on them with quick fire guns, simply mowing down the Japanese, who were repulsed.

Among the prisoners brought in are a number of privates in new uniforms who were from a recently organized Japanese reserve division. There is reason to believe that another division is being landed in the northern part of Korea for the purpose of making a demonstration against Vladivostok.

There have been furious attacks northwest of Mukden against the villages of Santaitse, Yangshihtun and Ushuntun.

Civilians are streaming northward out of Mukden.

Individuals and small parties have reached the railroad, cut the telegraph wires and dislodged a few rail lengths, but the damages were quickly repaired and the perpetrators usually killed or captured.

Lieutenant Colonel Sapolski, a brilliant and beloved officer, one of the heroes of Liaoyang and one of the first up Poutiloff hill, who swore to die rather than surrender, was killed at Pachiatzu.

Just beyond Pachiatzu, under the shadow of a clump of pines in the park of the imperial tombs, sits the commander of another division, Colonel Launitz, directing the attack on Santaitse and the defense of Ushuntun. With a swish like that of the silken skirts of a well dressed dame shimose shells hurtle past, and occasional bullets whistle by. Every few minutes the bell of the telephone at his feet jingles, and he reports to the commander of the army. Now a Cossack orderly gallops up and reports that the Russian troops are leaving Pachiatzu, that the Japanese have seized the village and with it the bodies of Sapolski and half his regiment.

Another of the dead is Prince Makaeff, commander of the Samara regiment.

The bodies of the two young Russians alleged to have been spies at Sinmintin, who were beheaded by Chinese bandits, have been buried by Japanese soldiers. The bodies were not mutilated.

A Newchwang dispatch says that the Tie pass has been invested by the Japanese and that General Kuropatkin, having no alternative, will probably be forced to surrender.

General Nogi's army has made a forced march of twenty-five miles daily and, acting in conjunction with General Oku's army, surrounded 80,000 Russians in the direction of Tie pass and cut off their supplies.

The hurrying Japanese armies passed a division of Russians without giving it any attention until the envelopping movement was completed, when they crushingly attacked the Russians on all sides.

A report from Fusan says that the Japanese left army corps have cut and destroyed the railroad between Mukden and Tie pass. The Russians are in retreat over the northern roads.

The left column of these troops is at Likampu, seven miles north of the Hun river and five miles west of the railroad, and has had a fierce fight with a Russian force thrice its number. The Russian casualties number 10,000.

The Russian center is retreating in great confusion.

A THIEVES' SYNDICATE.

Paris Crooks Held by Police at Amiens—Lynching Feared.

PARIS, March 10.—The largest batch of prisoners ever tried together in France is now before the Amiens assizes. They formed part of an admirably organized gang who for a number of years, under the direction of their leader, Marius Jacob, whose headquarters were in Paris, carried out clever robberies, sometimes accompanied by manslaughter, in nearly every city of France and also abroad, their booty amounting to many millions of francs.

Their capture was effected owing to the confession of one of their number. The witnesses called to testify number 160, and the trial is expected to last a fortnight. The court table presents a peculiar spectacle. It is covered with a collection of implements of the nefarious profession of the prisoners.

The prison vans conveying the accused, who repeatedly utter anarchistic cries, are escorted by cavalry to and from the court, the authorities fearing an attempt at lynching.

JAKE SANDERS.

Redhot Favorite In Handicap Came Home In Front of Ternsrod.

Second Race.—Montpelier, first; Fleetful, second; John H., third.

Third Race.—Beachwood, first; Blue Grass Lad, second; Veribest, third.

Eighth Race.—Censor, first; J. W. O'Neill, second; Owasca, third.

Tufts Defeated Holy Cross.

WORCESTER, Mass., March 10.—Tufts defeated Holy Cross in the dual track meet last night in the college gymnasium in the presence of 400 persons by the total scores of 46 5-6 and 26 1-3 respectively. It was a revival of track athletics at Holy Cross, and the games were a big success. The thirty yard dash was won by Resigasi of Tufts; Geary, Holy Cross, second; McCarthy, Tufts, third. The 880 yard run was won by Perry, Tufts; Powers, Tufts, second; Jones, Holy Cross, third. The 40 yard low hurdles was won by Kelley, Holy Cross; Resigasi, Tufts, second; Hunter, Tufts, third. The shotput was won by McManus, Holy Cross; White, Tufts, second; Callanan, Holy Cross, third; distance, 37 feet.

Fast Time at Ascot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 10.—Oxford and Pasadena, favorites, each won a race at Ascot, the former taking the mile race in 1:41, winning handily. Pasadena stepped the six furlongs in 1:13⅘, winning by five lengths, eased up. Hans Wagner made his appearance after a long rest and went seven furlongs in 1:27½.

Fast and Loose With Bank Rolls.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 10.—Favorites played fast and loose with the bank rolls of the bookmakers at Oaklawn. Yeoman, Starling, Enverite and Silverskin won for their numerous backers at fair prices.

Fooled by Royal Rogue.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Three favorites won at Oakland. The talent was fooled on Royal Rogue, which was badly ridden.

Preusser Murder Trial at Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10.—In the Preusser murder trial here Mrs. Preusser, wife of the defendant, gave testimony concerning his mental condition. She said that prior to 1900 he was an affectionate husband, but that he went to the hot springs that year and that when he returned his disposition was different, that he threatened her and that on several occasions he struck her. Several men who were with Preusser on the night of the crime testified that Preusser was not drunk and that he had only a few glasses of beer in their presence.

Wounded Sophomores Will Recover.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 10.—The two sophomore students stabbed in the hazing episode here are improving, and it is expected both will recover. The freshman who wielded the knife has not been discovered. It has developed that the freshman when he saw the sophomores advancing to cut his hair gave them warning that he had a knife and would use it defending himself.

Decision Against W. J. Bryan.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 10.—In a decision handed down by the supreme court the judgment of the superior court in declaring that the sealed letter in the Philo S. Bennett will containing a bequest of $50,000 to William J. Bryan is not a part of the Bennett will is upheld. The case went up on Mr. Bryan's appeal from the superior court decision.

Byron Rich a Suicide.

MALONE, N. Y., March 10.—Byron Rich, a farmer of North Bangor, committed suicide by hanging. He had been ill and despondent. He was about fifty-five years of age.

Antiprize Fighting Bill Defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO ARGONAUT:
The funniest part of the story is the serene gravity with which the author chronicles events.

This is the last and best story Stockton ever wrote. There is both action and a quaint humor in every line. If is just the kind of a story that will interest all classes of readers.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

AUDITORIUM FOR CAPITAL.

Government Exhibit Building From St. Louis Fair May Be Used.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Initial steps which may result in the erection in Washington of a large auditorium for the holding of conventions, future inaugural balls and other large gatherings were taken at a joint meeting of persons appointed by the inaugural committee, the board of trade and the Business Men's association. Commissioner West presided.

Congress tendered the District of Columbia the structural, steel and other essential portions of the government exhibit building at the St. Louis fair, if found available in the construction of the proposed auditorium. The exhibit building is 762 feet long and 175 feet wide, but the opinion of the committee was that a structure 500 feet long and 175 feet wide would be ample for all contingencies. The pension office building where the inaugural ball was held is 400 feet long.

Mr. West will obtain an estimate of the cost of constructing a building 500 feet long, especially with reference to deciding the question of whether the steel in the St. Louis building can be economically and wisely used, and will report at a future meeting. The steel is valued at $100,000, and the cost of its removal to Washington will be about $20,000.

CARNEGIE'S EPIGRAMS.

Scottish-American Financier Makes Brief Address at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., March 10.—"I feel as if my feet were on my native heath," said Andrew Carnegie in a brief address at the chamber of commerce here, "and it just shows how we Scotchmen stick together. Mr. McAllister, a Scotchman, has called on Downie, and Downie, another Scotchman, calls on Carnegie. The rest of you get a chance. A great country is Scotland, and there is nothing you cannot do with a Scotchman if you catch him young enough. There is nothing like mother love. Scotland is my motherland. Next to my motherland is the love, reverence and devotion I bear to this republic.

"Scotchmen make the best possible Americans. The best friends I ever had in the world were my competitors in business. You only hate those you do not know. There is not much in dollars if you do not become attracted to your fellows. If you are true to the judge within you, you need have no fear of the judge hereafter. I am a great believer in the fellow who does something for himself."

At the close of his address Mr. Carnegie was tendered a dinner by the directors of the Builders' exchange in the chamber of commerce clubrooms.

GOD AND MAN.

Rev. E. Everett Hale's Lecture to Students of Princeton College.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 10.—"The Moral Forces In the Twentieth Century" was the subject of the Trask lecture delivered at Princeton university last night by the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, LL. D., chaplain of the United States senate. He said in part:

"The success of the American republic is due to the working of two mighty moral forces, God and man."

As an illustration Dr. Hale cited the case of two German brothers. One emigrates to this country and establishes himself as a farmer in the middle west. He advances his station in life, while his brother in Germany remains stationary. "The chief difference," said he, "is the fact that the German is carrying a soldier on his back, while the American can rely for law and order on moral forces.

"The foundation for the success of our democratic government rests on the fact that it is the rule of the average man and it is chiefly dependent upon the co-operation of all its citizens, together with the assistance of God. In these we have our two great moral forces."

A Franklin Union at Boston.

BOSTON, March 10.—The board of managers of the Franklin fund, an accumulation of money left the city under Benjamin Franklin,'s will, voted to notify Andrew Carnegie that the establishment in this city of a Franklin Union on the general lines of the Cooper Union and the Mechanics and Tradesmen's school of New York is deemed advisable. Mr. Carnegie recently offered to give an amount equal to that of the Franklin fund for the establishment of such an institution. A suitable building and location will, it is estimated, cost $250,000.

Death of Senator Bate.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—United States Senator William Brimage Bate of Tennessee, twice governor of his state, a veteran of both the Mexican and civil wars, rising from private to major general in the latter, and for eighteen years a conspicuous member of the upper house of congress, is dead at his hotel apartments in this city, aged seventy-eight years. Death was due to pneumonia and defective heart.

Vardaman's War on Criminals.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 10.—A special from Jackson, Miss., says that Governor Vardaman has issued a strong address to the peace officers of the state declaring that the situation in Mississippi is becoming critical, that crime is rampant in all quarters of the commonwealth and urging officers at once to begin a crusade to clean out the dives and haunts of criminals.

SPORTING NEWS

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Park Club bowlers were defeated last night by the Newark Bay aggregation in two out of three games in their final match in the Central Journal Bowling League.

TENNIS.

The committee on tennis at the Plainfield Country Club is beginning to make up its schedule for the season. An event that is sure to attract considerable interest is a three-days' tournament for May 27, 28 and 30, when it is expected that many members of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association will compete for prizes. Other similar events will be arranged during the season.

GOLF.

The Westfield Golf Club will soon begin the work of planning for the spring, summer and fall schedule. The club expects to have a programme of unusual interest, including a number of team matches.

Providing the weather will permit the Plainfield Country Club hopes to open the golf course on Saturday, April 15. A committee is now at work preparing the season's schedule, which promises to be one of the most attractive in the club's history.

Leal School is entered in the Eastern Interscholastic Golf Championship meet, which is to be held on the links of the Montclair Golf Club on May 18, 19 and 20. It is expected that teams from all the large preparatory schools in the Eastern States will be entered.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Los Angeles Club has paid "Ned" Hanlon, of Brooklyn, $1,700 for the release of Frank Dillon.

Ames, of the pitching staff of the New York Giants, is conceded to be showing the greatest speed of any of McGraw's twirlers this year and much is expected of him.

Burt and Conroy are both strong additions to the P. H. S. baseball team. The former is a pitcher of considerable reputation, while Conroy is a likely man for third slab.

Manager Lapsley, of the P. H. S., has nearly completed his baseball schedule for the coming season, including twelve home games with big teams in New Jersey and New York.

Manager Lentz, of the Aeolian team, has failed to interest the fans of Cranford in a ball team, that is to the extent for raising $2,000 and the organ grinders will probably go on the road during the season.

In the opinion of a well-known baseball manager, "Mike" Leonard is considered the peer third baseman outside the major league. He not only fields his position perfectly, but is almost a sure hitter.

Montreal would like to secure "Jack" Cronin, Brooklyn's twirler, who will be remembered here by the baseball fans. In the last game he pitched for Plainfield against Hoboken he was touched for fifteen hits.

According to the Clinton Democrat, "Babe" Ramsey, of the baseball fame, is now engaged in taking music lessons in this city. Thus he will be able to keep arms and hands in condition for the opening of the season.

"Chick" Cruzius, formerly of the Scotch Plains team, has signed with Manager Murphy to play short for Summit in the Lackawanna League, this season. Richardson, formerly of the Alis team, will play first base.

Frank Remsen will probably not manage the East Millstone ball team this season. He has a lucrative position in New York, and will not be able to devote any time to the game. The town will have a good team, however.

It is stated that because the Trenton Y. M. C. A. team has never been able to defeat the Cuban X Giants, Manager Smith, of Trenton, refuses to schedule any more games with the colored team, all of which is not the spirit of a true sportsman.

"Doc" Graham, a young ball player who hails from Philadelphia, is reported to be the swiftest base-runner in the National League this season. It is said that he can excell even Day, of Cleveland, or Browne, of the Giants, who held the records last year.

Philip Smith, of the Plainfield High school squad, has expressed his intentions of remaining with the local school, in spite of the flattering offer from the Rahway aggregation. Smith will stick to amateur baseball for the present. He will probably be in the Y. M. C. A. team, so that Dunellen will have to look for another twirler.

The presentation of a pennant to a team winning the greatest number of games during the season, is of small consequence, any sporting goods' house being willing to offer such a banner. It is the actual winning of games that interests the fans, and as for county championship honors there is little in it. There are only two or three teams in the county willing to enter such a contest and the honor is an empty one at the best.

REV. DR. D. J. YERKES IS DEAD

Venerable and Beloved Clergyman Passed Away This Morning.

EVENTFUL CAREER

"I Press Toward the Mark for the Prize of the High Calling of God Which is in Christ Jesus," His Last Words—Community Mourns.

In the death of Rev. Dr. David J. Yerkes, dean of the Plainfield clergy, which occurred at his home in West Seventh street, at 8 o'clock this morning, the First Baptist church of which he was its continuous pastor for forty years, has suffered a distinct loss, the Baptist denomintion one of its faithful members, while the city of Plainfield an honorable and upright citizen who has held the highest respect and esteem of all during his residence of nearly a half century here. The venerable divine was so closely identified with all the best interests of the city, that in nearly very walk of life he will be missed, although during the past few years he was unable to take an active part.

From the beginning of his pastorate here over forty years ago, his work continued unabated, and with each succeeding year he became more thoroughly attached to his people and it was his greatest pleasure when busily engaged in the work of his church. He took especial pride in his long pastorate, which exceeded that of any other local minister, and while of late years his physical strength failed rapidly, he disliked any reference to the fact that he was growing old or becoming feeble. He liked to think that just as long as he lived he would be able to continue his activity and usefulness which had been such a power here.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes.

Well Beloved.

Not once during his long residence here was there ever heard an unkind word or a reproachful remark concerning Dr. Yerkes. He was always looked upon with veneration and his life was considered noble and pure, while his lofty ideals and purposes always carried great weight in the religious councils of the city. A few years ago when revival services were being held in the First Baptist church, Dr. Yerkes was an active and central figure, and many will remember his earnest words at that time. He said that he felt confident that when he died that he would go to Heaven. This expression was made in response to a question asked by the evangelist in charge as to how many felt that Heaven would be their future home.

Dr. Yerkes' style of preaching was

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN SOCIETIES ELECT

MISSIONARY ORGANIZATIONS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING.

An all day annual missionary meeting was held at the First Presbyterian church yesterday, starting in the morning with a session of the Foreign Society and concluding in the afternoon with the home missionary department work of that congregation. These officers were re-elected by the Foreign Missionary Society: President, Miss Julia J. Noll; vice president, Mrs. M. J. Petrie; secretary, Miss J. Abbott; treasurer, Miss Addie Dedrick, and secretary of literature, Mrs. E. W. Pointer. The reports of the society were encouraging, showing an increase in membership, finances, and in amount of work accomplished.

Mrs. William L. Patton, of the missionary society of the Crescent Avenue church, made an address. She spoke on the missionary expeditions of the "Morning Star," a ship first sent out by the American Board of Foreign Missions to one of the Southern Islands. Miss Julia Noll, the president of the organization, gave a short talk at the conclusion of Mrs. Patton's remarks.

At the afternoon session, the Home Missionary Society chose these officers: President, Mrs. Howard A. Pope; vice president, Mrs. Julia Austin; secretary, Mrs. Alvin Hoagland; treasurer, Mrs. E. Shotwell; secretary of literature, Mrs. John Johnston; secretary of the sewing society, Miss Fannine Kendall. Miss Josephine Petrie, of East Sixth street, Young People's Secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church, was the speaker. Her subject was "Work Among the Mormons," a topic which Miss Petrie has made a special study.

A Bible Class Social.

The boys' Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. enjoyed a social last night at the association rooms. There were about twenty present. The evening was pleasantly spent playing games. Refreshments were served at a late hour. The affair was in charge of Boys' Secretary Kenneth Robbie, assisted by the social committee of the department.

Director of Taylor Iron Co.

At the annual meeting of the Taylor Iron and Steel Company, of High Bridge, this week, T. F. Budlong, of this city, was elected a director, and in the reorganization he was chosen secretary and treasurer of the concern.

Mayor Randolph to Speak.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will meet Tuesday night, when it is expected to have an address by Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, a member of the post.

TRUST CO.'S STRUCTURE

Preparing to Tear Down Old Buildings.

BIG IMPROVEMENT

Concern's Home to be One Story High—Driveways to the Building.

Another important step toward the commencement of the work of erecting a building for The Plainfield Trust Company at Park avenue and West Second street, was taken yesterday, when the company sold to Alex. Kane the old frame structures extending from the corner up to the brick building formerly occupied by Charles Schanz, the saloonkeeper. His bid for the buildings was accepted and he has been given twenty days in which to remove the same. The frontage on Park avenue is about 200 feet and there is a depth of sixty feet, covering the ground that will be occupied by The Plainfield Trust Company.

The plans for the handsome new structure are about completed and those who have seen them declare that the building will be one of the finest in the State. It will be but one story high, but it will contain the very latest improvements for a structure of its character. One very important feature in this improvement will be the arrangement of the grounds about the building. There will be a driveway approaching the structure from Second street and this will continue in a semi-circle to Park avenue, practically making a continuous driveway about the bank. It is proposed to have the building free and clear from all adjoining property and a sufficient amount of ground will be left to provide for this.

The bank will be set back far enough to allow for the proposed widening of Park avenue on the south side, also for the proposed side line on West Second street, all of which will show the building off to better advantage.

Mr. Kane also has an option on the remaining portion of the old property extending from and including the brick building formerly occupied by Mr. Schanz up to the Boice, Runyon & Co. property, but he has not closed the deal for it yet. He hopes to secure these buildings soon so that he can remove them all at the same time. The materials in the buildings thus far purchased by Mr. Kane have been sold by him to builders who will use them in various houses now in course of construction about the city, and he has had no trouble in disposing of his property.

The work of demolishing the old buildings will commence at once and pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The Plainfield Trust Company is now particularly anxious to have the corner cleared so that the new work may be started soon. With favorable weather and no other obstacles, the company hopes to occupy its new home during the latter part of the summer or early fall.

The other propery owned by Charles W. McCutchen will be improved a little later, there being no urgent need for a change at present. However, he expects to commence building during the spring or early part of the summer. Plans for the new buildings are now being prepared and as soon as completed estimates will be obtained.

Magic at Y. M. C. A.

A large audience of members of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Department was entertained last night, by Mr. Morphet, a New York magician. The programme was an interesting one, and cleverly performed. He combined slieght of hand and ventriloquism in an amusing manner. Mr. Morphet accompanied his exhibition of magic with numerous snatches of wit and introduced many new tricks, which won hearty applause. Last night's entertainment was the concluding one of the Boys' Course, and made a fit ending to one of the best series of supplementary entertainments ever conducted at the association.

To Contest for $20 Cup.

Final arrangements have been made for the indoor athletic meet between the local High Schools, Leal's and Westfield, which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 2:30 in the gymnasium. The meet committee, under the direction of Physical Director F. A. Henckels at a recent meeting, reported that the proceeds of the meet, none of which will be appropriated to the Y. M. C. A., will be sufficient to allow the purchase of a $20 silver cup for the winning team. No individual prizes will be given, and any surplus funds will be divided between the various schools.

Warring Political Chiefs Settling Troubles in New York.

Mayor Smalley Tells His Grievances —Judgeship for Senator Reed, Maybe.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, who has led the fight against the Republican organization in Somerset county for several years, bringing defeat to it on two occasions, and Col. Joseph Frelinghuysen, of Raritan, Republican county chairman, are holding a council in New York today.

The warring Mayor was the guest of the Colonel at a dinner at 1 o'clock this afternoon. It is reported that the political situation was reviewed and that Mr. Smalley explained his grievances against the organization and offered terms of peace.

It is said that he is anxious to secure the county judgeship for his chief lieutenant, former President of the Senate Charles A. Reed, and this together with proper recognition of the Mayor and his friends in county political matters may constitute the articles of harmony.

FRIENDLY SONS DINNER THURSDAY

MAYOR BUCKLE AND OTHER PLAINFIELDERS TO ATTEND.

The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick will hold its annual dinner at Elizabeth on Thursday night, March 16, in the assembly room of the Y. M. C. I. A., on Ranway avenue. Mayor Buckle and many Plainfielders will attend as usual. The committee of arrangements has perfected the plans. Applications are coming in very rapidly.

The following speakers will be present: Senator Minturn, of Hudson County, who will speak on "Influences of Irish Character on National Destiny;" the Hon. Gilbert Collins, former judge of the New Jersey Supreme Court, will respond to the toast, "Our Country;" Charles F. X. O'Brien, of Jersey City, will speak upon "Irish Martyrs and Irish Heroes;" Senator Hillery, of Boonton, Morris County, will answer to the toast "Friendly Sons;" and the Rt. Rev. John A. O'Grady, of New Brunswick, will choose for his subject "St. Patrick." The committee which has the dinner in charge is composed of Colonel D. F. Collins, chairman; G. J. S. Murphy, secretary; William J. McCloud, W. J. Whelan, Henry Leahy, R. T. Potts and Edward Nugent.

A number of Plainfield residents are members of this society and attend its banquets.

"TOO MUCH JOHNSON," GOT INTO A STRAIT

ONLY RECENTLY RELEASED FROM PRISON, THIEF AGAIN TOILS.

John Jankowski, who is better known to the authorities of three counties as John Johnson, is locked up at police headquarters awaiting trial on a charge of robbery preferred against him by Freeman Strait, of Warrenville. He was picked up in town yesterday and will be given a hearing before Justice Huff this afternoon. He was released only several months ago after serving three years of a five year term for horse stealing.

Strait was induced by Johnson to sell a horse to Michael Weber, of East Third street, and with the proceeds of the sale they started out for a good time. They visited several of the city's $1,000 wet goods emporiums and finally ended up in a West End place where the tax is whatever the city judge happens to make it when the proprietor gets arrested. The effects of dissipation began to tell on the Warrenville resident and Johnson suddenly left him in the "joint," but, it is alleged, extracted from its owners pockets $30, all that was left from the horse deal.

This all took place Thursday and Strait preferred complaint as soon as his alleged condition did not belie his name. Johnson of late has been living in Dunellen but he incautiously came into the city and was caught.

Patents for Plainfielders.

Patents have just been granted to Louis Borsum and S. W. Rushmore, both of this city; the former for a photographic camera and the latter for a power transmitting device.

HEALTH SECY'S REPORT

Rev. W. E. Honeyman's Annual Statement for Borough.

HIS RECOMMENDATIONS

Milk Supply From Other Places is Poor—Ash Dump Must be Closed.

The report presented to the Borough Board of Health Thursday night, by the retiring secretary, Dr. W. E. Honeyman, touched upon a number of subjects that have been engaging the attention of the members for the past year and will continue to do so until eventually disposed of. His suggestions were grouped under nine separate heads and were as follows:

"1st. As to milkmen and milk. The milkmen have given us considerable trouble in regard to their license fees, and have in many cases resorted to all kinds of practices to escape paying their dues. It took nearly two months to complete the collections, and then several had to be threatened with a suit at law. Their promises were fine, but their performances were decidedly poor. As to the milk, there is no question that poor milk is brought in from Morris County, as also from Finderne, Anandale, etc. The Secretary has had occasion to test a large quantity of milk with the lactometer, and promometer, and has found some very poor specimens. This testing should be continued. Some milkmen naturally say that the Board takes their license fee and gives nothing in return unless it tests the milk they buy of farmers, and therefore it should make tests for them, and there is reason in their argument, so that the work cannot well be discontinued.

"2nd. As to the cesspool dump. The President and Secretary have been compelled to examine this dump and think they have kept it in good condition, but it needs constant watching, as the scavengers will sometimes get on too large a load, or get stalled on ploughed ground, or on a marshy place, and empty their load near the fence, or in the gutter, to the annoyance of passersby. Without oversight trouble is inevitable.

"3rd. As to dump for ashes. Many people place in their ashes grease, fat, bones, decayed vegetables, etc., and no one inspector can detect the evil, so that the President and Secretary have to look after the matter, and prevent its constant occurrence. The present dump must speedily be closed and a new one secured.

"As to vaults and cesspools. Here too, the President and Secretary are frequently called on to make examinations, as parties insist that the inspector is in error, or has overlooked some matter, but in nine cases out of ten, he has been found right. The carelessness and indifference of many people in regard to their vaults and cesspools is simply astonishing, and we have found cesspools overflowing, and vaults full and the owners of the premises, or lessee would solemnly declare that it was all wrong to have them cleaned. We have accomplished a great deal in keeping these places in a sanitary condition, but eternal vigilance seems necessary to keep them right.

"5th. As to Green brook. We have detected persons sewering into the brook, and stopped them, but here again the work of the Inspector must be supplemented by that of the President and Secretary, for men will deny plain facts, and only yield when the superior officers warn them of their danger in violating the law.

"6th. As to ice. The President and Secretary, as well as the Inspector, have examined the ice ponds, and only after effort have they kept them from pollution. Vaults near the banks of the stream may mean typhoid fever, and they must be looked after, and the ice should be analyzed every summer.

"7th. As to Stony brook. Here again the President and Secretary have made examinations and found need for supervision.

"8th. As to wells. Frequent tests have made of well water and a number of wells condemned by the President and Secretary. There is great need of watchfulness and repeated tests will have to be made in the future.

"9th. As to the new mosquito law. Nothing has been done as yet but the Board has an important work before it in this matter."

In connection with his report, Dr. Honeyman stated that he and the president, Andrew Love, had really been the borough health officers for years and that both had been roundly abused for doing their duty, and even threatened with indictment, etc.

BERT MOORE BADLY HURT IN TROLLEY CRASH

PARENTS HURRIEDLY SUMMONED TO HIS BEDSIDE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Bert Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore, of Grove street, was seriously injured today in a trolley accident at Philadelphia, word of the affair coming by telegram to his parents. They left at once for his bedside, the dispatch stating that haste was necessary.

The injured man is widely known in the city and borough, mainly through his popularity as a baseball player and vocalist. He is the possessor of a rich tenor voice and last month started out with Fisher & Riley's big production of the musical comedy, "Florodora." It was to have followed "Lady Teasle" for a run at the New York Casino but was forced to go on route through that theatre suffering heavy damage by fire. Philadelphia was the first step and Mr. Moore had been appearing in the cast nightly.

PLAN DREAMLAND COUNTY FAIR

Former Mayor Fisk at Head of Big Undertaking for Hospital's Benefit.

CIRCUS NIGHTLY

All Trades to be Represented Booths for Business Houses — Attractions.

"The Dreamland County Fair," the biggest undertaking of its kind ever undertaken in this city, is now being planned by former Mayor Charles J. Fisk for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital, and for the purpose of booming the city at the same time. The affair is to be held during the latter part of May at the Casino and in view of the fact that this place will not be large enough to successfully carry out the plans, Mr. Fisk is making arrangements with the Common Council for the use of the streets in the vicinity of the Casino which will be occupied with booths of every description. In additient to the booths it is also proposed to have a circus, merry-go-round and numerous other attractions, all of which will turn the city into a veritable "Dreamland."

There will be plenty of good music from concert bands and orchestras, while the hurdy-gurdy will have a place. At the Casino here it's proposed to have a vaudeville show each afternoon and night, and one night will be devoted to a charity ball.

One feature of the affair will be the plan to have every business and trade in the city represented, from the butcher to the baker and candlestick maker. There will be a sub-station of the postoffice, a branch of the banking institutions, telegraph and telephone companies, in fact anybody in the city desirous of being represented can do so by paying a fee for space privileges. If a sufficient amount of money can be realized from the sale of space privileges, all the receipts from the shows, and the percentage the various merchants will contribute from sales, will give the hospital a substantial sum.

If there is not room enough near the Casino to successfully carry out the present idea, another section of the city will be secured, where the circus and other proposed out-door amusements can be held. Already merchants are beginning to ask for space and the enthusiasm shown thus early indicates that the affair will be a rousing success and the advertising benefits to the city will be inalcuable.

The fact that Mr. Fisk is at the head of the scheme is assurance of its success and that it will be a go from the start.

PLANNED A FLAT.

Morgan Bird Arranged to Build Before His Death.

On account of the death of Morgan C. Bird, Plainfield will likely lose a desirable improvement which he had planned to carry out long before his illness. Mr. Bird had plans drafted by Fred Lancaster, the architect, for the erection of a modern four-flat buildnig on East Fourth street, directly back of the Miller building. He proposed to introduce every modern convenience, one of the features being a laundry, which was to have been located on top of the building for the benefit of the tenants who did not care to do their own washing. By this arrangemnt washing and ironing could be done at a very little expense to the tenants.

The plans also called for the location of a lighting and water plant, independent of the companies now furnishing light and water in this city.

Colored Mission's Pastor.

Rev. E. E. Miller, of Gordonsville, Va., has been secured by Grace church vestry to take charge of the Colored Mission work of that church. He will devote his entire time to the mission.

Quarantine Off.

The Board of Health has raised the quarantine at the home of Letter-carrier O. R. Pierson, of Manson place, where his little girl was ill with diphtheria.

—"Opportunity," when she "knocks at your door," may come in the guise of an acorn instead of an oak. She may be wrapped up in a few lines of type among the want ads.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

The building season will soon begin and Titus H. Laury, the contractor, is prepared to estimate on all kinds of work in the construction line.

Woolston & Buckle's reputation for wall papering cannot be equalled. For years they have done the best work, and have been patronized by the best people.

In the past few months, Allen B. Laing has been awarded several large and important electrical contracts. It shows that the people have confidence in his ability.

W. W. Warnock's bakery is the place to get the most satisfaction in bread, cakes, or pies. Fancy after dinner delicacies at Warnock's are just the thing.

If you have had trouble with expressmen, the only alternative is to try Wierenga. He will give the perfect reliance and satisfaction in which the others failed.

The Hotel Waldorf has won an enviable reputation throughout the State for its conveniences and up-to-date management. It is one of the best places in the city to stop at.

The number of Nickle Yara cigars sold by M. C. Dobbins in the past year is nearly double that of the previous twelve months. The local smoker certainly knows a good thing.

The Keely Coal Company has the reputation for selling the best quality of authracite and when in need of any, place your order with the company and it will be promptly attended to.

J. W. Gavett handles a superior grade of ornamental lamps, and drop lights. They are decidedly useful and make a room look attractive. All varieties are carried in Gavett's immense stock.

A watch is a necessity, not a luxury, and it is imperative that every man carry a good timepiece. There are so many cheap grades on the market that care must be taken in their selection and that is why L. Moraller & Son, of Park avenue, sell only those that keep correct time and last a life time.

It is surprising what excellent values you can get at Harry Werner's in all kinds of winter clothes. The old stock is going rapidly at a greatly reduced figure, but if you are still fortunate enough to be fitted, you will get a bargain. The spring stock is going to be a crack-a-jack. Watch for it.

The huge pyramids that stand on the banks of the Nile were built little by little until at last they became the great masses that excite the admiration of the world. Their construction serves to illustrate how pennies and then dollars build up a bank account. You have the pennies; the City National Bank savings department offers you splendid inducements to have the dollars accumulate.

Levy Brothers, the West Front street dry goods merchants, are fully prepared to do a large spring and summer business. Their stock is one of the best ever shown in this city for quality, while the prices are sure to please everyone. The line of dress goods is especially attractive and include all the most approved patterns and weaves. As for dry goods you cannot excell the stock shown at this store.

An Unrivaled City of Pleasure.

A most extraordinary place is Atlantic City. Known far and wide and the Queen Resort of the Atlantic Coast. World wide famous as a summer resort and renowned likewise as the most attractive place for a spring vacation. The board-walk skirts the ocean front for five miles and offers an unobstructed view of the briny deep. Easter time is the gala season at Atlantic City and the town is thronged then with a select people from every section of the country. No place in the world has a greater number or more sumptuous hotels than Atlantic City and every comfort possible is placed at the disposal of the guest. Atlantic City is the mecca to which Northerners flie themselves for the spring vacation and the most widely known and popular route from New York to Atlantic City is the Central Railroad of New Jersey. There is double daily service between New York and Atlantic City via this line and the running time is but three hours. Trains are vestibuled and the Pullmans are Buffet equipped. If you want a folder send this notice with your address to C. M. Burt, G. P. A., New Jersey Central, Central Building, New York city.

—Why not write a part of this newspaper yourself? In a few lines, in the want ad columns, you can tell what you want or what you have to sell.

The Los Angeles Club has paid "Ned" Hanlon, of Brooklyn, $1,700 for the release of Frank Dillon.

JOURNALISTIC OPINION.

Little Jersey fares very well in the matter of diplomatic appointments at the hands of President Roosevelt. We get two Ministers Plenipotentiary, one to Greece and one to Morocco. They are not of the highest rank, but, as there are but eight States of the Union recognized in this way, for New Jersey to get a double portion is certainly a compliment.—Paterson Daily Press.

Central's Passengers.

Superintendent Besler, of the New Jersey Central road, has given out some figures that seem to call for a revision of those issued last year by The Lackawanna Bell, the paper issued by the railroad department of the Scranton Y. M. C. A. It will be recalled that a list was given in December last of the ten railroads carrying the largest number of passengers annually to and from the great cities. The first was the Southern Pacific system, which carried 18,000,000 to and from San Francisco; the second, the Illinois Central, 15,000,000 to and from Chicago; the third, the New Haven road, 13,000,000 to and from Boston; the fourth, the Boston and Maine, 12,500,000 to and from the same city; the fifth, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 11,800,000 to and from New York; the sixth, the New York Central, 7,000,000; the seventh, the Erie, 6,000,000; the eighth, the Central Railroad of New Jersey, 3,150,000; the ninth, the Pennsylvania, 2,350,000, and the tenth, the Long Island road, about 930,000; all the latter figures relating to commuters to and from New York city. But Mr. Besler, in a recent address in Plainfield, said that the passenger travel to and from that city during the year 1904 aggregated 1,599,978 passengers, or about 4,400 per day. Plainfield is only about one-fourth the size of Elizabeth, one-half the size of Bayonne and not larger than the aggregate of the boroughs and towns between its own limits and those of the city of Elizabeth. If nearly 1,600,000 passengers are carried annually to and from Plainfield, certainly more than twice that number must be carried over the road from all the other cities and towns. The figures given out last year seem to be much short of the facts.—Newark Evening News.

Saloon Restriction.

A question which lies very close to the interests of the whole municipality of Plainfield, is that which arises from what is known as Mr. William S. Tyler's ordinance, proposing to define the limits of saloon privileges. It would seem from comments offered in the public press, that the ministers of the town had largely misunderstood the nature of the issue involved. Mr. Tyler and the City Fathers are not engaged in a temperance campaign. There is no discussion abroad as to the merits or demerits of prohibition. It is a very simple civic proposition in this form—is it to the general advantage of a distinctive community of this kind, that limits should be prescribed beyond which saloons are a thing impossible? It should not be difficult to reach a conclusion in such an issue. As usual under circumstances of this kind the friction of opposing forces has generated much warmth of expression. There can be no misunderstanding the oppostion of the Mayor, and undoubtedly he speaks for a certain section of his constituents. Few will condone the Mayor, however, for the manner or matter of his argument. In so far as he speaks for himself we are inclined to respect his candor. Undoubtedly the social advantages of the saloon as enunciated by the Mayor will be recognized by few and resented by many. But if guileless frankness prompts such a public declaration all are bound to respect if not admire it. It is to be feared that the want of candor and party narrowness defeats the full discussion of the temperance interests, more than occasionally. When men are willing to come out into the open, then it is most possible to discuss questions of conflicting opinion conclusively. It is not a little surprising, however, that so many are caught by the hue and cry of an unwarranted infringement of personal rights. It is a well sounding phrase, with little substantial merit. It does not appear that the great mass of citizens who look with unfavorable eye upon the saloon, have any rights at all. Did it ever appear that the restrictions placed upon the great traffic in liquor were over harsh? One is apt to recall a fable of the fox who cried so piteously of a bone in his throat, that he engaged the sympathy of the stork. The operation of removing the bone from between the sufferer's open jaws was undertaken with unpleasant results to the kindly bird. And the fable is not without its bearing upon the relations of the public and the beneficent saloon. As a question of the greatest good to the greatest number, it would scarce seem unreasonable to assume that suburban residents had a right to protect their homes from the encroachments of the unwelcome saloon.—Grace Episcopal Church Pilot.

A DRASTIC MEASURE

New York Engineers Expelled by National Union.

STRIKE WAS A BREACH OF FAITH

Contract With Interborough Company as Signed Was For Three Years and Attempted Tie-up Was Unjustifiable.

NEW YORK, March 11.—When Grand Chief Warren S. Stone and Assistant Grand Chief E. W. Hurley arrived in Cleveland from New York they at once called a meeting of the grand council of the organization to consider the strike situation on the Interborough road in New York.

At the conclusion of the meeting the following telegram was sent to W. L. Jencks:

"Taking effect at once, the charter of subdivision No. 105 is recalled. You will forward charter and all books belonging to the subdivision to this office by express."

Mr. Stone said that the action was taken on the ground that the brotherhood had a contract with the Interborough company covering a period of three years, which had been signed in September last, and that the engineers struck without consulting the officers of the brotherhood and in clear violation of the existing agreement.

Mr. Stone added that the decision of the grand council was final and that the New York engineers could not be reinstated except upon a majority vote at a convention of the brotherhood.

This is by far the most serious blow that has been struck at the motormen, for it removes them from the protection of the most powerful labor organization in the country. The loss of their jobs and the loss of the strike are as nothing compared to it.

The World quotes George E. Pepper, president of the Manhattan local of the street railway employees, as saying after his executive committee and Chief Jencks' executive committee had conferred at Marion hall:

"The New York public, the World and all the newspapers can go plumb to ——; also the Interborough company, Mr. Stone and Frank Hedley."

The collapse of the strike on the subway and elevated lines is marked by a general attempt on the part of the former employees to recover their lost positions and by the announcement that the local union had been expelled from the Brotherhood of Engineers.

An official of the company said that there were less than a thousand places to be filled and that the former employees would have to take their chances, just as if they had never worked for the company. The official said that the management of the company realized that many of the men had been forced to go out by the leaders and that against such men there would be no discrimination.

"But even these men will not be given preference over the strike breakers who have helped us out of our difficulty," he added.

Not to Be Hanged on March 17.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 11.—Following the decision of the supreme court refusing to grant a rehearing to William Rudolph, convicted of the murder of Detective Charles Schumacher at Union, Mo., Governor Folk has granted a respite of thirty days. Rudolph was sentenced to be hanged on March 17, and the petition for the respite was signed by large numbers of Irish Catholics, who claimed that an execution in St. Louis on the morning of St. Patrick's day would cast a gloom over the celebration planned in honor of Ireland's patron saint.

Blaze at Philadelphia Cost $100,000.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.—The three upper floors of the seven story building at 1302-04 Filbert street were destroyed by fire last night, entailing a loss to the owners and tenants of the structure of about $100,000. The Horn & Hardart Baking company occupied the first and second floors; I. Cohen, chemist, third floor; J. A. Johnston & Co., children's dresses, etc., fourth floor; M. Meyers, cloaks and suits, fifth floor, and M. S. Meyerhoff & Co., misses' and children's suits, sixth and seventh floors. The origin of the fire is not known.

Blue Water Canyon Dam Collapsed.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Advices received at the headquarters of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad in this city from New Mexico state that the washouts on the road in that territory have been repaired, and all trains now go through. The dam in Blue Water canyon collapsed and took out several hundred feet of track between Blue Water and Toltec stations, delaying traffic for a time, but repairs were completed, and trains have started.

Columbia Won Debate.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.—Columbia university defeated the University of Pennsylvania in this city last night in the first annual interuniversity debate under the auspices of the Triangular Debating league, which consists of Cornell, Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania. The triangular debate is a new idea, tried for the first time last night.

War on Ticket Scalpers' Trust.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Charging that the ticket scalpers of the United States have combined into a trust for mutual protection and promotion of the sale of cut rate tickets, officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad company have filed a bill in the United States circuit court seeking an injunction against sixty-seven ticket brokers.

Here's a Point About Buying Diamonds.

After you've decided to buy diamonds and selected a place to buy them at, don't merely go there because it's called a jewelery store or they have a jewelery department, or because you have a friend engaged in some capacity in a "wholesale" house. FALL OF MUKDEN

Japanese Army Enters Manchuria's Capital.

CZAR HEARS OF TOTAL ROUT

Thousands of Prisoners, Vast Stores and Many Guns Taken.

NOGI IS SAID TO HOLD TIE PASS

Oyama's Troops Victorious Everywhere—Russian Army of 200,000 Reported by Kuropatkin to Be In Full Retreat—Japanese Right Army Corps Within Five Miles of Fushun. Greatest Defeat of the War.

LONDON, March 11.—Mukden has fallen. Thousands of prisoners, vast stores and many guns have been captured by Oyama's victorious army as it entered the city. Kuropatkin's troops are now in retreat. Two hundred thousand of the czar's troops are reported surrounded, and General Nogi is said to be holding Tie pass to block their escape.

Field Marshal Oyama has reported as follows:

"We occupied Mukden at 10 o'clock in the morning. Our surrounding movement, in which we have been engaged for some days past, has now completely succeeded. The fiercest fighting continues at several places in the vicinity of Mukden."

The Russian strength west of Mukden consists of two army corps. The Japanese, who destroyed the railroad, are pressing the Russians northward, and the portion of the Japanese center pressing the Russians northward along the Mukden road is now engaged six miles north of the Hun river. The extreme Japanese right is within five miles of Fushun.

Nearly all the Russians' heavy guns and many field guns have been captured. The Russians seem to be moving eastward toward Fushun with the object of retiring north.

It is believed that the dispersed Russians may attempt to reach Kirin, 225 miles northeast of Mukden, through the valleys, but a special Japanese corps from the direction of the Yalu river (probably General Kawamura's forces) threatens to cut them off.

General Kuroki is advancing northwest and is forcing the Russians against General Nogi's army.

The casualties on both sides have been enormous. The Russian Sixteenth army corps was practically annihilated at Tatchekiao. Eight thousand Russians fell at Leukuanpeo.

A special dispatch from St. Petersburg says that General Kuropatkin has sent the following dispatch to Emperor Nicholas:

"Last night began the retreat of all our armies. During the night there was no fighting, but a heavy cannonade."

The greatest defeat in the history of the Russo-Japanese war was made known in St. Petersburg in the paltry words from General Kuropatkin to Emperor Nicholas, which were flung about the streets in newspaper extras and passed from mouth to mouth. Two thoughts formed instantly in the minds of every one and two words were on every lip—surrender, peace—the former dreaded, the latter hoped.

General Kuropatkin is no maker of phrases. His words never are quoted like the famous "All is lost save honor," but his laconic messages hide more than probably any other two sentences in the literature of war.

Of the present situation of the army—whether it is utterly routed or merely beaten, of the proportion of Russians left in Japanese hands or of the prospect of the escape of the remainder—St. Petersburg at this moment knows less than the smallest hamlet in America.

Stole New York Woman's Diamonds.

SOMERVILLE, Mass., March 11.—A man giving the name of Frank Burns of Scranton, Pa., walked into the police station here last night and said he was wanted in New York for the larceny of a diamond brooch taken from a woman as he was leaving the Empire theater, New York, on the evening of Feb. 9 or 10 last. He says the brooch was valued at $4,000, but has not yet told the police concerning its disposition.

Held For Brother's Murder.

SOUTH LONDONDERRY, Vt., March 11.—Fred Johnson of Bondsville has been held for the grand jury on the charge of having murdered his brother Jay, whom, Fred claims, he shot in self defense. The testimony tended to show that the shooting was the result of a family quarrel.

Student Crippled by Hazing.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—A helpless cripple from hazing, young Albert de Rome made his way into Police Judge Mogan's court on crutches here and swore out warrants for the arrest of the Hopkins art students who made him the victim of their sport.

Colliery Explosion Near Cardiff.

CARDIFF, March 11.—A terrible explosion has occurred in the Cambrian colliery at Clydach Vale, in the Rhondda valley. It is feared that twenty or thirty miners have been killed. The pit is afire. Many of those rescued from the mine are badly burned.

Plainfield, N. J., March 11, 1905.

Republican editors are already booming Mr. Fairbanks for President in 1908. Let's see, he's Vice President isn't he?

Being in the midst of a railway strike, New Yorkers have forgotten all about the beef trust and other evils of equal magnitude.

Roosevelt has selected a Bryan Democrat for an United States District Attorneyship in George to succeed a stalwart Republican. Now watch out for the next issue of The Commoner.

Notwithstanding Commissioner Garfield's report that the beef trust is not making much profit, it will take more eloquence and figures than the Commissioner can command to convince the average bread-winner that his statement is either true in fact or honest in judgment.

Alvah A. Clark broke the pathetic news to the Young Men's Association, of the Somerville First Reformed church, last night, that he had fought his last political battle. His audience was rude enough to give a hearty laugh. A Democratic fight in Somerset county without the former Congressman mixed up in it would be like a Welsh rarebit without cheese.

Not only the congregation which he served so well for many years, but the entire community suffers a distinct loss in the death of Rev. Dr. David J. Yerkes. The venerable pastor-emeritus was held in high esteem here, where he spent the best days of his life in earnest religious work and where he was a distinct power for good. The action of the Mayor in ordering the city flag at half mast is a fitting tribute to the memory of a noble man who travelled in the footsteps of his Master.

The Philadelphia Record says: "The fact that the United States Government spends hundreds of thousands of dollars for advertising every year without experienced direction as to the choice of mediums and the preparation of 'copy' has recently been called to the attention of the authorities at Washington, and the creation of a Bureau of Publicity in connection with the Department of Commerce and Labor is being urged. Uncle Sam is a thorough believer in the value of advertising, but there is a woeful lack of system in his conduct of this branch of his business. The woods are full of advertisers on a lesser scale who could give him valuable pointers."

Although Plainfield is not a railroad centre, according to Vice President Bosler, who enjoys living here, there are 117 Jersey Central men in this city, among them being several of the principal officers, including General Passenger Agent Hart, General Freight Agent Koons, Chief Engineer Osgood, Superintendent of Telegraph Sherman, Superintendent of Motive Power McIntosh and General Train Master Edgar. The B & O., which uses the Central's tracks through Plainfield, is represented by Vice President and General Superintendent Campbell and minor officers and employes. General Passenger Agent Lee and others of the Lehigh Valley, and Foreign Freight Agent Beard and several others of the Erie live here. Even the Union Pacific is represented, Alexander Millar, secretary of the road, being a resident. Joseph W. Reinhart, former president of the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe and Francis DeLacey Hyde, who practically owns a short line road in the South might also be named. And there are many more than these and it all goes to show that railroad men are surely good judges of a model city.

Dancing Teacher Made Defendant.

Ira O. Andrews, who has been conducting a dancing class in this city, has been served with divorce papers through proceedings brought by his wife, a resident of Millville. Andrews is now in Newark where was located by sheriff's officers. He is well known in Plainfield having taught classes in dancing for several seasons.

Chauncey A. Lane, of this city, has sold his property at Centerville to Pierre Novellie.

MISSIONARY WORKERS CHANGE THEIR TITLE

BAPTIST SOCIETY PREFERS "WOMEN" TO "LADIES."

By a unanimous vote of the members the name of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, was changed to the Young Women's Missionary Society, at the annual meeting held in the church, yesterday afternoon. The society also adopted a constitution and by-laws. The constitution provides for envelope system of collecting dues.

The report of the secretary showed the membership of the society to be nearly fifty and Miss Florence Serrell, treasurer, reported a balance of $90, which will be equally divided between the foreign and home missionary societies of the church. The total receipts for the year were about $169, but the society has been under more expense than usual. These officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss Ada Fountain; first vice president, Mrs. Frank W. Jones; second vice president, Miss Hattie French; treasurer, Miss Florence Serrell; secretary, Miss Carro Bird. The president will appoint her committee before the next regular meeting of the society to be held in April.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINTIY.

Considerable discussion has been aroused by the action of the Board of Education in deferring the school question until after the annual meeting. In most cases the action of the Board is upheld as it is unlikely that any definite work can be accomplished previous to the annual meeting. On the other hand, some criticise the Board for its inaction after the many repeated delays and postponements with which the subject has been treated. It was stated at the February meeting of the Board that the matter of school appropriation would be definitely decided at the next meeting, which was then announced for March 9. Since that time, however, the fact that the new members, three in number, would be elected on March 21, was brought up, and it was thought by the Board that the delay of less than two weeks would be of no consequence.

According to Captain Giles' plan, the first practice of the season will be as soon as the weather permits, probably April 1. The schedule will not begin until about the last part of April, or the first of May. As yet no dates have been definitely announced, but Manager Vail has his eye on a number of good teams, which will continue through the entire summer. Even if the local team does not enter any league of teams in the vicinity, a good schedule is promised, which will equal if not excell the one of last year.

The dance at Friendship Hall, last night, was largely attended, and one of the successful affairs of the season. The hall presented an attractive appearance, well filled though not crowded with dancers. The dance was managed by Harry Kenyon and William Piddington, to whom considerable credit is due for running the concern.

Miss Florence Cutting celebrated her birthday this afternoon, giving a party at which about ten of her young friends were present. The afternoon was spent pleasantly with games, refreshments being served late in the day.

William Brown has taken a position at the round house, which has recently been repaired. The last part of the work on the roof was finished yesterday.

Henry Garretson has returned from Somerville, where he spent yesterday on business.

John Moynihan has begun repairs on his house.

Peter Mohan is confined to his home by illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Rev. T. Moore-Smith will continue his series of sermons upon special topics tomorrow at the Baptist church, the subject of the morning sermon being "Objections to Revivals Considered;" in the evening the topic will be "Is Man Immortal, or the Immortality of the Soul?" Services will be held at the usual hours.

An officer on duty tomorrow at the trolley crossing of Park and Westfield avenues would be a good thing, especially for the women patrons who are in the habit of waiting at this point for cars.

Freeholder John Robison and family, who have been residents of the borough for two years, will remove back to their home on Forrest avenue this spring.

The warm rain of Wednesday and Thursday reduced the snow drifts in many places several feet, but there is still a foot of ice on the sidewalks.

Adam Gray, who has been visiting his brother, Joseph Gray, of East Front street, has returned to his home in Newark.

The Bible study class held its weekly study meeting last night in the class rooms of the Methodist church.

Judge and Mrs. James D. Cleaver have removed from Westfield avenue to the Hetfield cottage on Front street.

Floyd Hull, of East Front street, left yesterday for an extended visit with relatives and friends in Illinois.

Rev. Warren P. Coons leads the weekly prayer and praise service at the Methodist church tonight.

Miss Sadie Reger is spending Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Morristown.

Lynus Marsh still continues to improve from his recent serious illness.

PRESIDENT'S POLICY

Boston Economic Club Discusses Rate Measures.

GROSSCUP, WILCOX AND PROUTY.

Three Speakers Commented on Roosevelt's Views Regarding Regulation of Interstate Commerce Charges—Debate Followed.

BOSTON, March 11.—The "president's railroad policy" was the general subject of discussion at a dinner of the Economic club of Boston in the banquet room of the Exchange club last night. The principal speakers were Judge Peter S. Grosscup of Chicago, President David Wilcox of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad company and Interstate Commerce Commissioner Charles A. Prouty. Each commented at length upon President Roosevelt's views regarding the regulation of interstate commerce rates. Following the set speeches there was a general discussion, during which numerous interrogatories were put to the chief speakers of the evening, who replied.

Edward J. Filene presided, and 200 members and guests were present. Mr. Prouty defended the proposed national legislation and, referring to the criticism that legislators were not always competent business men, said that, while a certain amount of expert knowledge was necessary, the questions to be decided, though requiring good judgment, were not difficult of comprehension to one habitually engaged in hearing them.

Mr. Wilcox vigorously opposed the interference of the government in the rate question and declared it impossible for a small body of men at Washington to properly dictate what the railroad rates of the country should be. The remedy for existing evils lay, he said, in a thorough enforcement of the present statutes.

Judge Grosscup said that he saw serious danger in the whole question unless it was handled delicately not only by President Roosevelt, but by the railroad men. The latter, he said, while insisting that there should be no confiscation of their property or supervision that in the long run would amount to confiscation, should join with the president in establishing a tribunal through which the nation's power could be honestly exercised.

SYRIANS IN HAITI.

Eight Merchants Under Order of Expulsion at Port au Prince.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, March 11.—President Nord has postponed the final hearing in the case of eight Syrians under order of expulsion on the complaint of American Minister Powell for having presented false American naturalization papers.

Under a law passed by the chamber of communes all Syrians in Haiti are forbidden to engage in trade or commerce in this island after April 1 of this year. Both the native and foreign commercial population of Haiti approve of all measures that have been taken against the Syrians.

In the event of France abandoning the protection of Syrian Catholics here by virtue of her treaty obligations their defense will be taken by the German minister to Haiti under instructions from his government.

Tolstoi on Governments.

LONDON, March 11.—Count Tolstoi in a letter to the Times of London published this morning says that he regards not only the Russian government, but all governments, as "intricate institutions sanctified by tradition and custom for the purpose of committing by violence and with impunity the most dreadful social crimes." He therefore thinks the efforts of those who wish to improve social life should be directed to the liberation of themselves "from the governments whose futility in these times is becoming more and more obvious."

Murder at Wichita.

WICHITA, Kan., March 11.—J. C. Casey, head of the Casey Wholesale Mercantile company, was shot through the head and instantly killed by James Oliver. Oliver lost $23,000 in the failure of the Casey & Garst Mercantile company a few months ago, and the misfortune preyed on his mind. He demanded his money when the firm was reorganized, and while Casey was seated at his desk Oliver slipped up behind him and fired three times without warning. Oliver walked to police headquarters and gave himself up.

Lyons Pastor's Wife Dead.

LYONS, N. Y., March 11.—Eliza Ostrander, wife of Rev. Luther A. Ostrander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is dead here following an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Ostrander was a daughter of Dr. Alexander Thompson, a pioneer missionary of the Church of Scotland to Turkey, where she was born. She leaves a daughter and three sons.

Trip For Roosevelt and Cannon.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 11.—A special from Marinette, Wis., says: "Isaac Stephenson, who returned from a trip to Washington, announces that President Roosevelt has accepted provisionally and that Speaker Cannon has definitely accepted an invitation to be Mr. Stephenson's guest on a fishing trip on the Escanaba river next August."

Fairbanks' Son His Secretary.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Vice President Fairbanks has appointed as his private secretary his son, Fred C. Fairbanks. He was graduated from Princeton in the class of 1903.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Good Outlook For Spring Business.

NEW YORK, March 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Confidence has become more general through resumption of outdoor work, opening of spring trade and expectation that the war will soon terminate. Weather conditions are favorable in most sections of the country, and there is little interruption because of labor controversies. Some inconvenience was caused by the local strike, and retail trade suffered temporarily, but in the aggregate the commercial loss was not extensive. The most gratifying news of the week emanates from the iron and steel industry, where unprecedented output of pig iron is not productive of accumulated stocks. Other leading manufacturing operations are making steady progress, although larger orders would be welcomed by cotton mills and shoe shops. In those lines the buyers are exhibiting great caution, limiting purchases to immediate needs.

Commodities are in good demand, Dun's index number advancing slightly to $101.932 on March 1 against $101.042 a month previous, which indicates that the people are consuming freely.

Wheat has declined owing to the favorable outlook for the winter wheat crop, practically all reports promising a large yield. May options have resisted the general tendency, traders recognizing the dangers of operations on the short side of the market with stocks low and receipts coming forward very irregularly. Flour mills have stopped grinding Canadian wheat, and it is probable that this unusual feature is over for this season. Foreign wheat reports are generally favorable. Corn has not shared the erratic fluctuations of the leading cereal.

Western receipts of wheat were 2,734,832 bushels for the week against 3,424,627 bushels last year, and exports from all ports of the United States were 787,894 bushels, flour included, compared with 1,751,111 bushels a year ago and 3,716,676 in 1903, when the movement was normal. Arrivals of 5,091,916 bushels of corn largely exceeded the 2,677,041 last year, while Atlantic coast exports of 1,780,156 bushels compared with 1,696,150. Cotton held fairly steady, the influence of liberal port receipts being offset by a heavy export demand and less idle machinery at domestic cotton mills.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far for March amounted to $2,293,389, of which $896,363 were in manufacturing, $1,089,361 in trading and $307,665 in other commercial lines. Failures for the week numbered 244 in the United States against 259 last year and 25 in Canada compared with 25 a year ago.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; northwest winds.

LAMB AND LION TOGETHER

Experiments of the Trainer Resulted in Making the Animals Fast Friends.

A lamb is the playmate of one of the fiercest lions in Bostock's hippodrome on the Place Clinchy, Paris. Mr. Bostock tells how it took nine months to bring about the friendly relationship.

"I lost a whole carload of lambs," he said, "before succeeding—lambs of the kind children play with. I placed in the cage all sorts of toys of the animal variety—cotton sheep, horses, rabbits—in fact, a regular Noah's ark.

"Then I specialized on sheep, but it took a long time for the lion to find out that they were not good to eat. Finally a live lamb was introduced. At first the lion looked surprise, and then lay down and gently pawed the stranger. The lamb did not like this, and drawing back a pace or two, butted the lion in the mane.

"This appeared to greatly amuse the lion, who playfully rolled over on his back, while the lamb butted again.

"Now," says Mr. Bostock, "they are fast friends, and an insurance company would be justified in taking the lamb as a first-class risk."

JAPAN'S BANK DEPOSITS.

Banks of the Island Empire Hold More Cash Now Than Ever Before.

"Seventy per cent. of the Japanese expenditures in the present war with Russia remain in Japan, and, as a result, the deposits in the banks of the island kingdom are larger than they have ever been before," said Franklin B. Morse, son of the first American consul to Osaka, reports the Washington Post.

"The working of this is simple and accounts for present conditions in Japan. The Japanese army lives on rice and fish. The government has given its orders for these provisions to the farmers and fishermen of Japan, who, when they receive the money deposit it in banks mostly, and when a national loan is called for, are prepared to loan the government the very money that they have been paid. Add to this the fact that all the powder used by the Japs in the field is manufactured at home, and it is evident why there is but 30 per cent. left to go out of the country."

Cabs in Russia.

In Russian cities, according to an English traveler, the taking of a cab is a matter of bargaining, for though there is a printed tariff somewhere, the cabman cannot read it. If you know the distance you walk along the cab rank calling out your destination and your price—about a quarter of what you would pay in London and a tenth of the New York demand. When you have passed the last cab you will hear a clatter behind, and a driver will implore you to step in. If you do not know the distance you ask the fare; divide the answer by four and walk on. Curses! Invocation of saints! Drivers raise their arms to heaven in horror. Walk calmly on, and there is a race to pick you up. Nor is there ever a dispute at the end.

WHAT IS WORN.

Smart Touches on Tailored Gowns. New Embroideries.

Tucks give a strapped seam effect to many tailored coats, and ruffles and tucks will ripple all the way from hem to waist on skirts.

Smart women are becoming rather tired of the plaited skirt, and some exclusive spring gowns are being made up with plain skirts, or when trimming is used it is laid on flat about the bottom.

Bunting which sells at 10 cents a yard is going to be made up this spring into stunning little shirt waist suits.

Jaunty suits of checked material are being shown in the shops for early spring walking gowns.

The new embroideries are exceedingly lovely. In flowered effects the designs are delicate and scattered. Heavy padded embroidery is used on both linen and cloth gowns.

A novelty in trimming is a combination of broderie anglaise and Japanese hand work. This joining in one design of two such diametrically opposite schools of embroidery is very happy in effect.

Hand embroidered yokes and cuffs for nightgowns are to be purchased from 50 cents up.

The stunning gown of pearl gray taffeta herewith illustrated is one of the dainty models for early spring wear. About the full skirt are bouillonnes and tiny ruffles of the taffeta silk. A bertha of silk trimmed with shirrings and ruffles is draped around an emplecement of lace threaded with silver.

SUMMER GOWNS.

Dressy Silk Costumes Which Are Trimmed With Lace Ruffles.

Many of the dressy spring and summer silk gowns will be trimmed with garlands of lace ruffles arranged on the skirts in festoons and caught with chiffon rosettes in the tone of the coloring.

A pretty idea for a garden party gown is to catch the festooned lace ruffle with a flower and have the accompanying hat adorned with the same flower. Orchids are very smart for this purpose, and orchid colorings generally will be used extensively in the spring.

A dainty little plain linen dress of Du Barry rose is made with a perfectly plain plaited skirt. The blouse is cut in a broad V at the throat and filled in with a guimpe of openwork batiste. A broad turned back collar and deep cuffs are features of the gown. They are buttonholed at the edges and embroidered in a raised design. A scarf of black silk coming under the collar and knotted in front is a pretty touch.

Another popular separate skirt is laid in narrow box plaits at the waist and stitched to the knee, where the plaits gradually spring out wide and flare becomingly at the feet.

Voile or nun's veiling, which is what voile really is, makes an awfully nice shirt waist dress. It is light and easily sheds dust and dirt.

Tulle for evening gowns is embroidered with gold and silver and has incrusted between the designs motifs of lace.

The blouse illustrated is of Havana brown cashmere. The wide bands forming the square yoke and the center trimming and sleeve bands are of darker brown panne edged with cream white peau de sole.

CHADWICK TRIAL.

Accused Exclaimed, "I Have Given Up All Hope!"

CLEVELAND, O., March 11.—Today will see the close of the present trial of Mrs. Chadwick, and the case will probably be given to the jury some time during the afternoon. Judge Taylor has announced that it was his intention to keep at the present case until it is finished.

The ordeal has been a trying one for Mrs. Chadwick, and her pale face and nervous manner show that the strain is telling on her. The attack made by Mr. Garry upon her financial methods disturbed her greatly. When he showed the jury by her own checks that without having any money in the bank she had secured loans amounting to $187,000, and $104,000 of it in one day, when the total amount which the bank could legally loan to one person was but $6,000, the prisoner sank back in her chair as if she believed that the statements of the attorney must have great effect on the minds of the jurymen.

She was greatly discouraged at the time of the adjournment and said:

"I have about given up all hope. I haven't any chance in this court."

NEVERMORE A SURPRISE.

Three Favorites Beaten at Crescent City Tracks.

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—Pompano, who had no speed and ran a miserable race; Duke of Kendal, who was cut off at a critical stage, and Subtle, who lost ground in turning into the stretch, were the beaten favorites at the Crescent City track. Summaries:

First Race.—Nevermore, first; Falmouth, second; Wellesley, third.

Second Race.—Veribest, first; Marpessa, second; Inspector Girl, third.

Third Race.—Matador, first; Duke of Kendal, second; Miss Gomez, third.

Fourth Race.—Over Again, first; Daisy Green, second; Bob Murphy, third.

Fifth Race.—Rainland, first; Mainspring, second; Favonius, third.

Sixth Race.—Operator, first; Goldaga, second; Echinate, third.

Seventh Race. — Queen Rose, first; Subtle, second; Viperine, third.

Eighth Race. — Limerick Girl, first; Clique, second; Chippie Thorpe, third.

Long Shots at City Park Track.

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—At the City Park track only two of the seven favorites finished in front. Long shots were very much in evidence. The last race was spoiled by a bad start. First Attempt, the favorite, was left at the post, and three others were as good as left.

Tolteo, an Outsider, Won.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Fifteen horses faced the barrier in the opening race at Oakland, and the winner turned up in Tolteo, an outsider. Florianna Belle was second. Mogregor was another winner at long odds. Belle Reed and True Wing also won at good odds.

Yale Wrestlers Won.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 11.—Yale and Columbia wrestlers met last night for their second wrestling contest, six matches being scheduled, of which Yale won three and Columbia two, the other one being a draw after three ten-minute bouts.

Two Favorites at Hot Springs.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 11.—Only two favorites won at Oaklawn, Hildebrand riding both. The winners were Marvel P., Trappist, Bravery and Glisten.

Harvard Defeated Princeton.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 11.—Harvard defeated Princeton in the dual gymnastic meet last night. Harvard scored 29 points and Princeton 28.

German Officer on the Yellow Peril.

BERLIN, March 11.—Lieutenant General Baron von Gayl, Count von Waldersee's second in command in the China expedition, took occasion at a meeting of the German Asiatic society last night to express boundless admiration of the Japanese military genius. His remarks were called out by a paper on "The Yellow Danger," in which the writer had pointed out Germany's precarious situation in China if the Japanese should form a rapprochement with China and organize an army on Japanese lines.

Cattle Destroyed by Prairie Fires.

ELLENDALE, N. D., March 11.—The most destructive prairie fire which has visited this section in years has just swept past this place. Starting eighteen miles west of here, it traveled with tremendous speed straight for the town, but before it reached here the wind veered into the north and carried the fire south. Many thousand tons of hay have been destroyed, and thousands of head of stock have been burned to death. Many farmhouses in the path of the fire have been destroyed.

Fraud In Tramps' Arrest.

NYACK, N. Y., March 11.—The Rockland county grand jury, after a two weeks' session investigating alleged fraud by justices of the peace and constables in presenting bills for arresting, trying and imprisoning tramps in the county, has found indictments against seven of these officials for presenting alleged fraudulent claims. They were held in $1,000 each for trial. This is the result of the war upon the tramp arrest business.

Page Resolution Will Be Killed.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 11.—The Page lighting investigation resolution was reported to the senate by the finance committee and ordered printed and laid on the table. The vote on the question of adopting it will be taken Tuesday. The fourteen Democrats and fifteen or sixteen of the Republicans in the senate will vote against it. It is as good as dead already.

ENGINEER INSANE; TRAIN RUNS AWAY.

Fireman Fights to Subdue Him While Heavy Freight Goes at Terrific Speed.

Carnegie, Pa.—With an engineer, suddenly gone mad, holding open the throttle, and his fireman fighting desperately to control or stop the runaway, a freight train ran 30 miles the other day at a rate of 40 to 60 miles an hour. Expecting a wreck momentarily, the train crew clung to the cars, unable to reach the engine.

While pulling his fast freight train out of Colliers, W. Va., Engineer Charles FOUGHT WITH THE FIREMAN.

Kull became made and fought with his fireman, Perry McKinley, who struggled to subdue him and check the fearful speed which had been attained before McKinley discovered the condition of his engineer.

The battle lasted almost the entire 30 miles between Colliers and this place, and both the engineer and fireman were exhausted when the train was brought to a standstill here.

Kull was turned over to a doctor, who examined him and later had him confined in a Pittsburg hospital.

The ride shattered the nerves of all the trainmen. The forward brakeman tried to get to the engine when he saw by the speed that something was wrong, but could not stand on the running boards. As the train whizzed through Burgettstown the operator telegraphed ahead to clear for a runaway.

Kull has been known as one of the best young engineers on the road, but recently he received a fearful shock at Colliers, W. Va., where a switch failed to work and his engine left the train hanging over a bluff. It is thought this shattered his mind.

MOUSE FOILS PRISON PLOT

Four Desperadoes Had Planned to Kill Jail Guards and Make Their Escape.

Cincinnati.—With a note tied to its tail a wee mouse tipped off officials to a daring attempt of four desperadoes to saw their way out of the Cincinnati prison and murder guards by wholesale, if necessary, in order to secure their freedom.

The mouse had been drafted as an unwilling messenger between the prisoners, and the slip of paper attracted the attention of an ever vigilant guard.

The men who planned the break were James Berry, a hold-up man; James Taylor, diamond thief; Earl Moore, serving time for two offenses, and James McGuire, ex-convict of Joliet. The men had secured saws and two iron bars were sawed in Berry's cell and one in Taylor's. The prisoners had planned to kill Guards Bishop, Henry Assel and William Hetrick, if compelled to, in order to secure their freedom.

Three saws were found in Moore's cell. In Taylor's the officials struck a dozen hack saws and a steel frame was found in his bed ticking. A murderous oak club 20 inches long and a large dirk were also located.

They have been planning for weeks to escape, and their mode of communication was, perhaps, the most novel ever heard of. Berry would catch a mouse, tie a note to its tail, and as the rodent passed the cell of McGuire he would catch it and get the message.

GIVES LIFE AS SACRIFICE.

In Religious Frenzy, Young Girl Votary of New Cult Perishes from Flames of Pyre.

Chicago.—Made insane by a new religion, Miss Frances Wakley, of this city, built a funeral pyre of papers and books of her cult, lighted it and perished from the flames.

For four months Miss Wakley, who was 23 years old, had been a member of a sect recently arisen in Englewood, which teaches the near approach of the millennium. She had been fasting and praying for several days, her only nourishment being a little rice. From her dying words it was gathered a vision had appeared to her in the night, ordering her to offer herself a sacrifice.

Her mother and a neighbor heard groans and rushed to the young woman's room. She lay across the bed and beneath and about her books and papers by which her cult had been spread were blazing. The neighbor seized a blanket and attempted to beat out the flames. The girl waved her away.

"I lay down my life gladly at the call of the Redeemer," she cried. "He ordered this sacrifice last night. You are sinning not to allow me to die."

Miss Wakley died soon after being taken to the hospital.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

KANSAS OIL WAR.

Kansas City Plant Had to Shut Down When Rates Advanced.

INDEPENDENCE, Kan., March 11.—The taking of testimony in the proceedings brought in Sedan against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad for alleged violation of the antitrust law has begun here.

John Aber of Moran said the Moran Gas and Crude Oil company had built up a fuel oil trade in Kansas City, but when the advance in rates came last fall it was compelled to shut down its plant and let its tank cars remain idle. He said the company owned two tank cars and that when they were in service the Missouri Pacific railroad paid mileage on them, but he could not say how much.

W. J. Young of Pittsburg, president of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, said he owned all except four shares of the stock company, the other shares being held by the directors. There has been issued by the company two and a half million of debenture bonds, and these are held by the National Transit company of Pennsylvania. He said he owned 100 shares in the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. He did not know there had been an advance in freight rates on crude petroleum last fall.

The Prairie Oil and Gas company is the successor of the Forest Oil company. The Forest Oil company sold to the South Pennsylvania company. Mr. Young did not know anything about the South Pennsylvania company, except that it has an office in Pittsburg.

STOKES AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Governor of New Jersey's Address Before Methodist Conference.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 11.—Governor Stokes of New Jersey last night delivered a lengthy address before the New Jersey Methodist Episcopal conference in St. Paul's church.

The auditorium was packed to the doors, and the speech of the governor was attentively listened to. It was preceded by a short address by Congressman Wood of Trenton.

The governor dealt with religion, detailing how through the different ages it had been the mainstay of government, the backbone of nations and the one foundation on which people grew enlightened and prosperous. He told of the important positions ministers held and read the progress of religion step by step and explained the relation of religion and state.

DENVER, March 11.—Further consideration of the Peabody and Adams gubernatorial contest has been postponed by the general assembly until Monday for the purpose of obtaining an opinion from the state supreme court as to the right of the joint convention to declare a vacancy in the office of governor and the effects of such an action. Several questions were submitted to the court, the answers to which may have an important bearing on the decision of the contest.

Harrell, thirty years old, an alderman and a leading merchant of Cochran. Blount was arrested and brought here to jail. It is reported that Blount cursed Harrell and attacked him in the latter's store. There is great excitement here and in Cochran over the affair.

REV. DR. D. J. YERKES DEAD

of the old school, and was most effective. He was forceful and earnest and his oratory always held the closest attention of his hearers. This same force of speech he held almost to the last. After his appointment as pastor-emeritus of the First Baptist church, it was his custom to attend the Sunday morning services, frequently taking some part. As late as last Sunday, he occupied a seat in the pulpit with Pastor Chambliss and had a small part in the service. At that time he felt as well as at any time during the past few months. On Tuesday he contracted a cold which made a decided change in his condition. From that time he grew rapidly worse, death resulting from an acute attack of Bright's disease. He was conscious up to within a short time of his death, and the end came peacefully, all the members of the family being present.

Dr. Yerkes is survived by a widow, five daughters, Mrs. Walter M. McGee, Mrs. Charles H. Smith, Mrs. Hannah Flanders and Miss Ida Yerkes, of this city; Mrs. A. Worthington Paige, of New York, and one son, Joseph B. Yerkes, also of this city.

A short time before Dr. Yerkes died he recognized the members of his family surrounding him and he feebly said: "I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." These were his last words.

His Career.

Rev. Dr. David J. Yerkes was born in Philadelphia, January 27, 1825, of a distinguished family known for its wealth and position in public affairs. Early in life he went with his parents to Hatsboro, Pa., and it was there that he was converted at revival meetings. He attended Hatsboro Academy in preparation for a course of study at Columbian University at Washington, he having determined to study for the ministry. He was graduated from this university in the Class of '48. There being no theological department there, he read theology with Rev. Dr. George B. Ide, of Philadelphia, a distinguished Baptist clergyman.

Dr. Yerkes was ordained to the Baptist ministry in the First Baptist church at Hollidaysburg, Pa., where he remained for a short time. He accepted a call to the pasterate of the First Baptist church, Pittsburg, remaining until 1856. He displayed exceptional ability as a pastor and was considered a brilliant preacher, being known throughout western Pennsylvania as the "mountain orator." In his preparation for the ministry he had every advantage that wealth and position could give him and for years he was a shining light in the Baptist denomination.

In 1856 Dr. Yerkes accepted a call to the First Baptist church, of Brooklyn, where he remained for three years. His ministry there was most successful and resulted in large additions to the membership of that church and an awakening in religious feeling. In 1863 he received and accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church, this city, where he continued as pastor until June 15, 1903, when owing to physical incapacity he resigned and was made pastor-emeritus, which position he held up to the time of his death.

The First Baptist church was constituted in 1818 and the present edifice was erected in 1868, five years after Dr. Yerkes came to this city, and it was largely through his efforts that the structure was built. For years this church has been one of the leading ones in the denomination in this State and today it is the largest in membership of the first ten largest in New Jersey.

Golden Wedding.

On March 15, 1900, Dr. and Mrs. Yerkes celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and in honor of that event the members of the church and congregation gave them a reception. It was an auspicious event in which nearly all of the local pastors had a part. A pleasant feature of the occasion was the presentation to the couple of a purse of $1,350 in gold. After Dr. Yerkes resigned his pastorate, he spent several months in the South, while the pulpit was occupied by various ministers in the denomination. Among these was Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the present pastor, who is now serving his second year. There was the strongest affection between Dr. Yerkes and Dr. Chambliss and the venerable divine often expressed his pleasure of the choice made by the church, which was so dear to his heart.

Dr. Yerkes's father was a man of prominence and Dr. Yerkes came from a distinguished line. Charles T. Yerkes, the Chicago trolley magnate, was his cousin. He was also a cousin of former Judge Harmon Yerkes, of Bucks County, Pa.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock from the First Baptist church.

Supper for Pastor's Benefit.

A supper was held last night at the home of David Bush, of West Second street, for the benefit of the pastor of the First Church of Christ.

To celebrate the completion of its first year as an organization, the Hope chapel Boys' Club held an anniversary meeting, last night, that was attended by 300 of its friends. In conclusion refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

A library of 200 books and magazines is one of the club's possessions, bought with money raised by the boys through entertainments.

BALDWIN'S HAY BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

EARLY MORNING BLAZE CAUSES AN AGGREGATE LOSS OF $600.

A large barn in the rear of the residence of William Baldwin on West Front street, and used by him as a storage place for hay, caught fire shortly after 3 o'clock this morning and was totally destroyed. In addition, several tons of hay were consumed, the total loss aggregating $600.

The origin of the blaze is unknown as the structure was wrapped in flames when they were discovered by Augustus Baldwin from his bedroom window. He turned in an alarm from box 83 and the department was soon on the scene but the barn was beyond all saving. The burning hay caused the flames to leap high in the air and at times huge sparks were dropped five blocks away. What was left of the hay had to be thoroughly turned over and soaked with water, this task keeping the firemen busy until nealy 5 o'clock.

Chief Doane made a thorough investigation today but was unable to gain any information that would lead to an explanation for the start of the blaze.

HEALTH SECRETARY'S REPORT

They had, however, he said, striven to be faithful and the secretary, at least, would have ten times more personal comfort when out, than in the position.

In the report of the Borough Board of Health's annual meeting, in yesterday's Daily Press, it was stated that the receipts for the year had been $2,642.70 and the expenditures $2,062 65. These figures were in error as the following will show: Balance in bank, March 10, 1904, $1,837.46; receipts, $805.24; total, $2,642.70. The expenditures were $580.05, giving the Board a cash balance at the present time of $2,062.65.

LEALS PROSPECTS BRIGHT IN SCHOLASTIC BASEBALL

LOCAL SCHOOLS WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED ON THE DIAMOND.

Leal's School, the winners of the scholastic basketball championship, will be represented by one of the best baseball teams this year which the school has turned out for some time. From the present appearances scholastic baseball in this city will be at its height during the coming season and the private school boys will be in the first rank.

With the opening of the practice season, Leal's will have a team on the diamond, and in all probability one which will do the school credit. Edwin Daniel will captain the aggregation and the manager's reins will be handled by Percy Chapman. A strong schedule, including many of New Jersey's best schools, will be arranged. For the city championship, games will be booked with the Plainfield and borough High Schools, while Pingry, Montclair, Newark, Orange and Carteret are among the schools whose teams will appear in this city.

As for the make up of the team, Daniel will figure either as picher or in the field, while for the box Jewett and Reese are also candidates. Manning and Glenney will try for back stop, the first bag being, in all probability, held down by Guterreis. Willis is slated for second, Wilcox for third, and Howard, the snappy basketball player, is marked for short stop. In the field the candidates are Chapman, Dallas, Underhill and Lyman.

Both the city and borough High Schools will turn out strong teams, especially the former, and the prospects are bright for a scholastic bunch from Plainfield, which will hold its ground against any of the New Jersey towns. Cedarcroft Academy will not be in the game this year.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Mrs. Welling G. Sickel, wife of former Mayor Sickel, was tendered by Governor Stokes a place on the board of trustees for the State Home for Girls. Mrs. Sickel has accepted the offer and the appointment will be made in a few days. She will be named to fill a vacancy.

When C. Edward Murray is confirmed as quartermaster general by the Senate next week and takes up his duties as head of that branch of the National Guard, the officer will present the anomaly of a chief who is outranked by his two deputies. Mr. Murray will take office under the military law of 1900, which gives him the rank of colonel, while his two deputies, who were appointed before the revision of 1900, also rank as colonels, and their commissions antedating that of Colonel Murray, they will outrank him. The deputy quartermasters general are Colonel William H. Early, of Somerville, and Colonel George P. Olcott, of East Orange.

A SIMPLE BURIAL SERVICE

No Eulogy at Funeral of Dr. Yerkes Today.

A MEMORIAL LATER

Church of Which He Had Been Pastor for Forty Years Fittingly Draped in Black.

The funeral services of Rev. Dr. David J. Yerkes, who died Saturday morning, will be held this afternoon at the First Baptist church at 3:15 o'clock. They will be in charge of Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the pastor, assisted by President Rush Rhees, of Rochester University, who was a lifelong friend and admirer of the late pastor. The services will be very simple, consisting of Scripture reading and prayers and appropriate music. There will be no eulogy at this time.

Plans are now being formed for a memorial service to be held within the next two weeks, at which time there will be appropriate expression of the very high regard for him who served as a minister of God for nearly a half century. It is quite likely that some of the local ministers will have a part in that service, as well as others from out of the city who were intimately acquainted with Dr. Yerkes and his work. The pall-bearers at the service today will comprise deacons and omcers of the church.

In memory of Dr. Yerkes the First Baptist church has been appropriately draped in black. The entire front of the organ is covered with an impressive draping, while the gallery is encircled and the numerous pillars covered with the same material. The pulpit and platform are also draped, while at the services yesterday there was displayed beautiful palms.

While the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, made no personal mention of the beloved pastor-emeritus, he delivered a strong and impressive sermon on the life of Paul and his death, and through it all could be seen a similarity in the life of Dr. Yerkes, who had run his race, kept the faith and won the crown awaiting him. A beautiful part of the service were the anthems rendered by the choir. They were especially appropriate to the occasion.

There was an unusually large attendance of worshippers at both the morning and evening services and there was a unanimous expression of the deep loss sustained by the church in the death of Dr. Yerkes. His long faithful service was referred to by both old and young, there being a few present who remembered the venerable divine when he entered upon work as pastor of the church and have lived to see him complete his life work and enter into his reward.

FIRED UPON BURGLARS.

Two Homes in Westfield Robbed and a Bull Terrier Killed.

Burglars entered the homes of Joseph Perry, in Mountain avenue, and Charles P. Worth, Walnut street, Westfield, Saturday night. They stole at the Perry house $27, two gold watches and some jewelry. Perry, awakened by the noise of the burglars on leaving, fired at two men running across the lawn. Forty dollars was taken from Worth. In the morning Worth found his valuable bull terrier in the cellar chloroformed and dead.

Police Chief Thomas O'Neil tracked the men to Garwood, one mile east of Westfield where they escaped on a passing coal train.

Recovers From Burns.

Edith Bianchi, of Monroe avenue, who narrowly escaped being burned to death on Election Day while playing about a bon-fire, near her home, and whose life was saved by the prompt arrival of Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, was discharged yesterday from Muhlenberg Hospital, where she had been since the accident. She has entirely recovered from her burns and injuries and her return home was the cause of much rejoicing on the part of her many little friends.

SAM METZGER PAYS ALL HIS CREDITORS

SIXTEEN ATTACHMENTS AGAINST HIS PROPERTY ARE DISSOLVED.

Samuel Metzger, formerly of Grove street, has had the attachments against his household goods dissolved by settling all claims of creditors, including the judgments secured by professional men and tradespeople generally. The goods were seized while loaded on vans preparatory to removal to Brooklyn. There were sixteen attachments in all.

William Sawyer, of New York, representing Mr. Metzger, paid to Reed & Coddington, on Saturday, about seventy-five per cent of the total amount of the claims as full settlement. V. W. Nash, Jr., representing four creditors. The goods were shipped to his home in Brooklyn today.

CITY DEPARTMENTS TO ASK FOR MORE MONEY

INDICATIONS OF LARGE INCREASE WHEN YEARLY BUDGET IS MADE UP.

It will be quite interesting to know just how the Common Council will fix its annual budget of expenses this year. There is a demand for more money in nearly every department, probably induced by the fact that the city will receive over $8,000 additional as a result of increasing the liquor license fee to $1,000. The fire department, through its chairman, Councilman W. S. Bullock, declares that an increase in the appropriation must be made to keep out of debt and he does not propose to wind up the year in debt, as previous fire committees have done.

The police department will undoubtedly want more money, for there is an urgent demand for additional patrolmen which cannot be engaged now owing to a lack of funds. If the municipal system of collection and disposal of garbage is adopted there will be an increase in the taxes to meet the expense for this work, although the individual tax would be small.

It is also understood that if possible an effort will be made to get more money for the streets, especially if it is decided to pave some of the streets in the business section with vitrified brick, as suggested by Mayor Buckle.

President Daniel, of the Common Council, has asked the various committees to make up a list of expenses for the coming year and have it ready by March 20, so that the finance committee will not be delayed in making up the annual budget which will be presented at the regular April meeting for adoption.

THIANGLES DEFEATED.

In Bowling Match With Saturday Night Club of Westfield.

The Triangle Bowling Club was defeated in three straight games by the Saturday Night Club, of Westfield, Saturday night on the former's alleys. The Westfield team had a big margin in all three games and put up a strong steady match.

The Triangles were off their game, rolling under 700 in all three matches. Gilmore, of Westfield, was high man, rolling 210 and making an average of 186. For the Triangles, Koons was high man, though his score was not a remarkably good one. The line up of the two teams follow: Westfield—Decker, Gilmore, Menson, Kuhn and C. Ortleb; score by games, 815, 680, 858. Triangles—Egan, Neal, Phillips and Koons; score by games, 696, 672, 666.

Under the auspices of the Young Women's Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed church, a supper will be given in the lecture room of the church on Thursday night. PLEAS FOR THE INDIANS

Mrs. Alfred F. Page Tells of Work Among Commanchees.

INTERESTING ADDRESS

The Red Men, Themselves. Mrs. Page Says, Ask for a Church From Their Christian Friends.

A graphic description, in all respects interesting, and at times pathetic, was Mrs. Alfred R. Page's story of the work among the Comanche Indians, at Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning. So vivid was Mrs. Page's address and so well chosen were her words that the listener felt himself transported to the Indian village, bristling with closely crowded tepees, and could see for himself, as Mrs. Page very beautifully described, the circles of blanketed Comanches crouching in the dim light between sun set and moon rise, listening to the words of the Gospel, near Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Page's address, which was virtually a plea from the Indian himself, was told in such an attractive manner that not a word was lost and she displayed an interest, and a depth of feeling, which completely won her hearers. Mrs. Page described how, by the conversion of one Indian girl, a chief's daughter, at the Government school, the whole family was brought to Christ, though for a time they stood alone in their tribe. A particularly interesting account was Mrs. Page's story of the conversion of one decidedly wicked and stubborn chief. Having resisted for years and lived a life full of evil, the chief, when forty years old, decided to accept the religion of the white man. He gave as his reason the fact that, as three Christian Indians stood out against the whole tribe for two years, there must be something more in the white man's religion than in the Indian's. The chief, Periconic, was taught the story of Jesus, and soon after at a meeting of the Indians, in the presence of the Christian teacher, he was the means of converting seventy other Indians by a public confession of his sins, and a profession to live a Christian life.

Probably the most pathetic passage in Mrs. Page's talk was her presentation word for word, illustrated in the sign language, of this same chief's plea for the Indian children. The substance of the Red Man's plea was that he was sure that God loved the Indian and his children as well as he loves the white man and his children, and for that reason he begged the children of his tribe to learn of Jesus, to be taught to write and to read. Above all he sought for the opportunity of salvation from the white man. One of the first pleas made by the chief, by means of sign language was for a church edifice. The Government has donated 160 acres of land for the purpose and Mrs. Page has raised over two-thirds of the necessary $3,000 for its construction. Trinity's contribution will be nearly $100, estimating on the pledges made yesterday.

Mrs. Page said that this is the only case in the history of the world when a nation has come to Christians with the request for salvation. "This honor," the speaker said, "belongs particularly to the Reformed church and it is the duty and privilege of the church to see that the Indians are given the opportunity which they so much need, and for which they ask."

QUIETLY WEDDED.

Simple Ceremony Unites Francis Whitley and Mrs. E. Watters.

In the presence only of near relatives, Francis Whitley, of Essex street, and Mrs. Elizabeth Watters, of New York, were married Saturday night at the home of the former's son, George Whitley, of West Fifth street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Mooney, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church and there were no attendants. A brief reception followed after which a supper was served.

The groom is an employe of the Potter Press Company and is widely known in the West End. The couple will make their home on Essex street.

BROTHERS' DEADLY FIGHT

Edward Brown's Cold Feet Disrupt the Family.

RAZOR'S TERRIBLE WORK

William Slashed From Head to Foot and Frank Has His Side Laid Open.

Slashed from head to foot with deep razor cuts, William Brown, colored, lies in Muhlenberg Hospital today, just beginning to recover from a bloody affray which he and his brother Edward had in the darkness of their bedroom at home on West Fourth street, early yesterday morning. Another brother Frank, just past sixteen years of age, is laid up with his left side cut open almost from shoulder to hip, eighteen stitches having been required to close the wound. Edward was charged by the police with murderous assault and this morning was committed without bail by Justice Huff to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The affair took place at 12:30 yesterday morning and grew out of William's objecting to Edward getting in bed with cold feet. Both had been drinking and when Edward playfully put his ice-like pedal extremities in the small of William's back a wordy encounter followed. In the darkness a blow was struck and then the brothers, greatly infuriated, sprang to the floor and began fighting in deadly earnest. Edward managed to catch up his razor from a bureau and swung it about his head with all his strength. It was drawn over William's face, shoulder, arm, hand and wrist and when Frank entered the room to act as peacemaker, it was driven into his side.

As the three were in their nightclothes, the blade met with no resistance and the cuts were unusually deep. William eventually sank to the floor and Edward fled to the home of his uncle, Charles Shelton, where he was caught at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The family summoned Dr. Anderson, who afterward called in Dr. Gregar. The two physicians soon placed Frank out of danger but worked four hours before they stopped the blood flowing from William's wounds in order to get him to the hospital. One cut on the wrist almost severed the hand from the body and there is a possibility that he may never use it because of torn tendons. No report of the affair was made to the police until nearly eight hours after it occurred.

Edward and William are both well known throughout the city and have frequently been in the police court on various charges. William was at one time given a long term by Judge Runyon for attempting to fell the late Patrolman Moses Quass with brass knuckles.

"The Discharged Prisoner" will be the object of discussion at a public meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Grace church Men's Club. The subject upon which addresses will be made is "What Must we do for the ex-Convict?" The speakers will be the following: Mrs. E. E. Williamson, president of the New Jersey State Charities Aid and Prison Reform Association; Rev. A. M. Fish, R. C. Chaplain, State Prison, and Rev. C. L. Conder, Chaplain Rahway Reformatory.

MINISTERS PAY TRIBUTE

Pass Resolutions of Respect to the Memory of Dr. Yerkes.

PULPIT UTTERANCES

Prayers for Dead in Many Churches —Held in High Esteem by His Fellow Pastors.

In nearly all the churches yesterday reference was made to the death of Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, the venerable pastor-emeritus of the First Baptist church. In the Episcopal churches, the prayer for the dead was said by the officiating clergymen.

The Plainfield Ministers' Association met at the Seventh-Day Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and adopted these resolutions which were presented by Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace Episcopal church:

"On the close of eighty years of life and forty years of ministry in the First Baptist church of Plainfield, Rev. Dr. David J. Yerkes has been called to rest from his labors. Assembled today to attend the funeral of this aged and honest servant of God the Ministers' Association deem it fitting to put on record a memorial minute of their esteemed departed brother, and of their thankfulness to God who has so prolonged his life and his ministry in the church. He was the oldest member of our association, both in appointment of years and of ministerial service, commencing in 1863, when the whole country was convulsed with the horrible throes of the Civil War which was just then at its most terrible height. He must have found a trying time to enter upon a new church work, but trusting firmly in the Captain of his Salvation he knew no fear.

"But in the fulness of his manly and spiritual vigor he gave himself to the work of building up the congregation which had called him. How usefully and lovingly and unsparingly he labored some of us well know. Five years after he came here the present edifice was built and the congregation has steadily grown and prospered until he resigned his pastorate in 1903.

"It was the largest of the ten Baptist churches in this State. So greatly had God blessed the faithful labors of his devoted servant amid all the cares of toils incident to such a charge and under all the honors resulting from the remarkable development of his work. He ever retained the simplicity and cheerfulness which became the servant and follower of Jesus Christ. His heart and hand were ever ready for every cause that commended itself to his good judgment. Full of labor as long as his strength held out he continued to discharge all the duties of life that were laid upon him to the last and now he rests in peace."

In speaking of Rev. Dr. Yerkes at Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Sobenck, said in part, "When I came to Plainfield eighteen years ago, Dr. Yerkes was one of the first men with whom I became acquainted, and at the outset a sincere friendship existed between us. And ever since I have admired Dr. Yerkes with a deep and profound admiration. A staunch friend and an able preacher, Dr. Yerkes' death has touched the whole community. So like Paul in his life, it was peculiarly appropriate that the worthy servant of God should have died with the Apostle's words on his lips, 'I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God which is in Christ Jesus.'"

At the Sunday-school session of the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon, Charles W. McCutchen paid a high tribute to the Christian character of the late Rev. Dr. Yerkes. The characteristics of Dr. Yerkes calling forth admiration, according to Mr. McCutchen's true estimate, were rare kindness, extraordinary ability and faithful service in every relation of life.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. church, before preaching his morning sermon, referred impressively to the severe loss which the city, and religious interests thereof had sustained in the death of Rev. Dr. Yerkes. He paid rich tribute to the memory of the departed.

W. F. Arnold's Condition.

The condition of City Treasurer William F. Arnold is reported today to be about the same. He is resting comfortably and his physician, Dr. Hedges, feels confident that his patient will recover.

—Charles Fisher, of this city, a former resident of Bound Brook, has decided to return to the later place where he has purchased a handsome home.

NARROWLY ESCAPED A HORRIBLE DEATH

LUSH'S ARM AND SHOULDER WERE PLUNGED INTO BOILING FAT.

While removing the lid from a caldron containing boiling fat at Theodore Glazier's factory, Saturday, Herman Lush, an employe, lost his balance and his left arm and shoulder were plunged into the seething mass.

Other workmen pulled him away and hurried him to Muhlenberg Hospital, where it was necessary to cut off his clothing in order to reach the burns.

They are serious but the man's recovery is assured.

WATCHUNG HUNT CLUB AGAIN ON THE RUN

DISCUSS PLANS FOR RACE MEET IN MAY.

After a vacation of over two months, the members of the Watchung Hunt Club enjoyed a chase Saturday afternoon, the first in which they have been able to participate since the heavy snow made the meadows impassable. After a short ride, beginning at the Netherwood Hotel, the group of horsemen returned to the kennels, where they held a business meeting.

The plans for a race meet were discussed, and though no definite decision was made, there will undoubtedly be a meet sometime in May. The meet will include the usual steeplechase feature, and will be conducted at the club's grounds on Hillside avenue. The date suggested was May 13.

Those who met for the consideration of the race meet, and who participated in the ride were Miss Leila Cruikshank, Miss Nee, Miss Bourne, of Cranford; George S. King, C. E. S. Bellows, Mr. Lents, of Newark; C. A. Unebbeare and Dr. Knott.

TWO SMALL FIRES.

Children and Matches Cause One; Gas and Matches Another.

Children playing with matches started a fire at the home of Zebedee Freeman on East Front street, near Church, Saturday evening, that caused $75 damage. The department responded quickly and soon had the blaze out.

The department was called out early yesterday afternoon for a gas pipe fire in the basement of one of the old hospital buildings on Muhlenberg place. The pipe had been broken and plugged up with a piece of wood. Boys smoking in the basement pulled this out and one of them striking a match to light a cigarette set the gas on fire. The damage will not exceed $5.

R. W. DRYDEN WEDS.

Miss Florence Taylor, of West Seventh Street, His Bride at Quiet Ceremony.

Miss Florence Taylor, of West Seventh street, and Robert W. Dryden, of West Eighth street, were quietly married Saturday afternoon. The ceremony took place at Grace church, New York.

Upon returning from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Dryden will reside in this city. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Taylor. Mr. Dryden is a broker.

Moore Not Seriously Hurt.

Herbert W. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Moore, of Grove street, who was reported to have met with a serious accident in Philadelphia on Saturday, suffered a severe wrench of the ankle and knee, his foot being caught in a switch in a trolley track. He will be detained at the hospital for some time. His parents returned from Philadelphia yesterday.

Democratic City Committee.

The Democratic City Executive Committee met Saturday and organized for the ensuing year by electing these officers: Chairman, Patrick J. Reville; secretary, Vincent L. Frazee; treasurer, Stephen H. Schlerf. A vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers, J. V. F. Dilts, as chairman, and John F. Casey as secretary.

Operation Successful.

Miss Beatrice Hedges, daughter of Dr. E. W. Hedges, of Watchung avenue, who was operated upon last week for appendicitis, is convalescing. Owing to her illness, the reception planned by her sister, Miss Leila Hedges, for Saturday afternoon, was postponed.

CHAMPIONSHIP FOR P. H. S.

In Annual Interscholastic Athletic Meet at Y. M. C. A.

LEAL'S SCHOOL SECOND

Smith and Freeman, of P. H. S., Make the Best Scores—Daniel's Good Work.

Plainfield High School athletes are the scholastic champions of this section for 1905, having won the title in the annual indoor interscholastic athletic meet under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon. The affair was conducted at the association gymnasium and was witnessed by a crowd which filled the galleries and overflowed the main floor.

It was an enthusiastic gathering, all bedecked with school colors representing the various contestants in the meet, Leal's, Westfield High School, North Plainfield High School and Plainfield High School. Promptly at 2:30, the officials announced the high jump, which was the first event and which started the points a-rolling for P. H. S. Her athletes took all three places, securing nine points thereby. Freeman and Smith did the work, their ability being largely responsible for the High School winning the cup.

Daniel, of Leal's School, was the best man for his team, while Jewett, Wyckoff and Perkins figured prominently in several events. Of the borough athletes, Steiner was the best man, making all the points for his school. The Westfield team had a strong man in the person of Welsh, who won considerable applause by his creditable work.

Leal's School was a close second in the meet, the contest with the P. H. S. boys being a hot one from start to finish. Westfield finished third, with the borough boys pulling up in the rear. The standing by teams was as follows: Plainfield High School, 32; Leal's School, 26; Westfield, 10; North Plainfield High School, 4.

The individual standing was as follows: Smith, 12; Freeman, 11; Daniel, 10; Burt, 6; Welsh, 4; Jewett and Steiner, 3; Perkins, 2; Collier, Russell and Wyckoff, 1.

The following was the order of events and the winners in each:

Running high jump, won by Freeman; Smith, second; Burt, third; all of P. H. S. Height, 4 feet, 11¼ inches.

Standing broad jump, won by Daniel, Leal's; second, Smith, P. H. S.; third, Wyckoff, Leal's. Distance, 9 feet, 7 inches.

Twelve pound shot put, won by Burt, P. H. S.; second, Jewett, Leal's; third, Collier, P. H. S. Distance, 36 feet.

Three legged race, won by Underhill and Howard, Leal's; second, Quigley and Pearsall, Westfield; third, Steiner and Webster, N. P. H. S.

Running high dive, won by Freeman, P. H. S.; second, Steiner, N. P. H. S.; third, Welsh, Westfield. Height, 5 feet, 6½ inches.

Three standing broad jumps, won by Daniel, Leal's; second, Welsh, Westfield; third, Russell, P. H. S. Distance, 28 feet, 10 inches.

Standing high jump, won by Smith, P. H. S.; second, Freeman and Perkins, tied. Height, 4 feet, 2½ inches.

Potato relay race, won by Lyman, Daniel, Howard and Glenney, of Leal's; second, Collins, Stern, Keys and Welsh, of Westfield; third, Stutsman, Gavett, Davis and Smith, of P. H. S.

The officials in the meet were as follows: Referee of meet, Fred A. Hanchel; judges, Kenneth Hobbie, M. K. W. Heicher, L. R. Thurlow and R. V. Hoffman; starter, C. Sules, of Leal's; clerk of games, Lindsay Best, of P. H. S.; scorer, Francis K. Anderson.

Dill for Judge.

Friends of James B. Dill, the corporation lawyer, of Pine street, Manhattan, who resides in East Orange, are urging his appointment as a Justice of the New Jersey Court of Errors in the place of Justice Van Voorhees, resigned, but he has not yet consented to be a candidate. His income as a lawyer is estimated at from $250,000 to $300,000 a year. Should he go on the bench it would necessarily limit his private practice.

Archie Boyd Scores a Hit.

The bill at the Casino, Saturday afternoon and evening, on the occasion of the second of the series of popular attractions secured by Manager Edwards, was an excellent one and deserving of a far larger audience than the number which turned out. The playlet by Archie Boyd and the vaudeville by his company of artists, was a treat. The vaudeville was also of a high order.

JOURNALISTIC OPINION.

Don't Want Snakes.

By resolution of the Elizabeth Excise Board, no new new applications for liquer licenses will be considered for a year after March 17. If this is an attempt to drive some of the "snakes" out of Elizabeth then it will be a fitting way to celebrate St. Patrick's day.—Newark News.

Military Board's Blunder.

Sectional feeling did not override the State Military Board's plan to send only Essex and Passaic troops to the inauguration at Washington, as asserted by the Paterson Press. It was not a case of North Jersey against South Jersey, for on such sectional lines the Senate amendments to the House bill would have been defeated. The issue was fair play to the National Guard of the entire State, and in the line-up, as the Trenton Times truthfully says: "It was a case of nineteen counties opposed to Essex, with Passaic trimming.—Camden Post Telegram.

DIAMOND DUST.

Nat. Strong will reorganize the Murray Hill team for the coming season and will play uptown in New York on Sundays.

"Red" Waller will continue to pitch for the Bayside on Sunday during the season, retaining his position with Westfield for Saturday games.

Manager VanArsdale, of the N. P. H. S. aggregation, has nearly completed his schedule, most of the games being arranged with out of town teams.

Peacock, formerly of Rahway High School, is the probable pitcher on the North Plainfield High School nine. He pitched last year for the Rahway school.

Wilmington will undoubtedly remain in the Tri-State League, this season, although an attempt is being made to place the team in the New York State League.

There is a report that Harrisburg wants to join the Eastern League by taking Rochester's place, but there is now no indication that the New York State team will withdraw.

Tom. Thorpe, manager for the Columbia 'Varsity baseball team, has resigned the position owing to a pressure of other business. He will devote more time to football.

Harry Woodland is captaining the North Plainfield High School baseball team. He is a member of the old team, having returned to school for a post graduate course. He will probably catch.

"Roaring Bill" Tierney, who played with the Hobokens last season, has signed to play first base for the Northvale B. B. C., champions of Rockland County, N. Y., during the coming season.

Matthews, a Lancaster High School player, will cover first base for the Borough High School team this year. The prospects are bright for one of the strongest teams, which the North Plainfield School has ever had.

Though the school will not be represented on the diamond this year, some of its members will play on an independent all-scholastic team. It is thought that the alumni of P. H. S. and Leal's may organize such a team.

Fred T. VanAuken, formerly captain and pitcher of the Plainfield High School team, has a good show for pitcher on the Annapolis team this season. The candidates have begun training, and VanAuken has a place at the varsity tables.

Louis Wiltse, of the New Madison, is now getting down to fine work at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, in preparation for his work as pitcher during the season. He is now beginning to throw a ball a little each day and by the time the season opens he will be in the pink of condition.

The North Plainfield High school baseball candidates are continuing their cage practice, and with the first good weather will be able to get out doors and make the best of their time. Captain Woodland is training the boys, and expects a creditable showing as scholastic bat swingers go.

While it is announced that George Mallen will be manager for the Westfield team this season, everyone knows that Charlie Denman will have a good hold of the reins. The only change in reality will be the substitution of names, the successful management of Mr. Denman being allowed to continue sub rosa.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

As a fitting conclusion of the basketball season, and on the threshold of what promises to be a successful baseball year, Superintendent Wightman, of the North Plainfield High School, addressed the pupils Friday, commending them upon their athletic interests and presenting the school insignia, the letters, N. P. H. S., to the winners of the monogram. Mr. Wightman emphasized the importance of athletics to a school, referring to the school spirit which is inspired thereby, and the physical good derived from clean sport. At the conclusion of his address, the Superintendent presented the insignia to the following pupils who have won the right to wear the monogram: Football players, Otto Mueck, Carl Steiner, Grover Kipsey, Marshal Ward, Arthur VanArsdale, Stanley Fisher, Norman Amerman, Robin Hamilton, William Mundy and Frank Webster; basketbal players, William Mischwitz, Harry Woodland, John Peacock and Clarence Hand.

To Portray Life in India.

"Menarchee," a graphic and realistic portrayal of life in India, will be given by Mrs. Abby Snell Burnell at the Congregational church on Wednesday, March 15, at 8 o'clock. The affair is under the auspices of the Girls' Club. The story of high caste Hindu women, which Mrs. Burnell describes, is told with unusual personal and dramatic power.

OYAMA REPORTS THE SPOILS WON

Russian Captives Number 40,000, Including General Nakhimoff—Russia's Killed and Wounded 90,000, Japan's 41,222.

LONDON, March 13.—In a special dispatch to Tokyo Field Marshal Oyama says:

"Prisoners, spoils and the enemy's estimated casualties in the battle of Mukden follow, but the prisoners, guns and spoils are increasing momentarily. The prisoners number over 40,000, including General Nakhimoff. The killed and wounded are estimated at 90,000. The enemy's dead left on the field number 26,500. The spoils include 2 flags, about 60 guns, 60,000 rifles, 150 ammunition wagons, 1,000 carts, 200,000 shells, 25,000,000 rounds of small arms' ammunition, 75,000 bushels of cereals, 275,000 bushels of fodder, 45 miles of light railway outfit, 2,000 horses, 23 cart loads of maps, 1,000 cart loads of clothing and accouterments, 1,000,000 rations of bread, 70,000 tons of fuel and 60 tons of hay, besides tools, tents and other stores.

"Our various detachments are hotly pursuing the enemy from all directions and inflicting considerable damage upon him everywhere. We have occupied a line extending thirteen miles to the north of Hunho and are still continuing the pursuit.

"Our detachments which proceeded northward from the neighborhood of Puho met a large column of the enemy retreating northward, and after hand to hand fighting we enveloped the column, and it finally surrendered.

"Near Mukden we are now engaged in clearing remnants of the routed enemy, some of whom still continue resistance, while the others come in and surrender.

"Our casualties are estimated at 41,222.

"Heaps of corpses are found everywhere."

The battle has been officially named the battle of Mukden.

Late advices from St. Petersburg say:

"Russia still has an army in the far east and its line of retreat is not cut.

"Field Marshal Oyama's trap was again sprung too late to bag the prey he desired and though pounded in the rear and on both flanks by artillery and losing heavily in killed, wounded and prisoners General Kuropatkin, with the main portion of his forces intact, is falling back slowly and sullenly to Tie pass, whither a considerable part of his army already has arrived, and has joined hands with the reserves in preparing a position behind which the beaten army may find shelter."

A dispatch from General Kuropatkin says:

"The retreat of the army was very dangerous and especially trying for those corps which were some distance from the Mandarin road.

"The Japanese penetrated far into the mountains in the direction of Tawan. They threatened our troops, but thanks to extraordinary efforts our armies are out of danger.

"The enemy cannonaded the route of our retreat from the east and west. The eastern Mandarin road was bombarded at two points near Tawan and the Pu river.

"Our troops are fighting bravely.

"The reason the Japanese advanced so easily from the south is that the Hun river, which covered our position at Mukden, was frozen over.

"General Zerpitsky is wounded, but remains at the front."

General Kuropatkin himself, with the rear guard, is reported in the vicinity of Syanzyasa, twenty-five miles below Tie pass, having accomplished some fifteen miles of the retreat and being already beyond the jaws of the trap as originally set.

The immediate answer of the Russian government to the defeat at Mukden is the announcement that a new army will be raised and the forces in the far east reorganized, that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky will be ordered to sail on and try conclusions with Togo and that the war will be prosecuted to the bitter end.

This is the present temper of Emperor Nicholas and his dominant advisors, voiced in a firm official announcement that the position of Russia is unchanged and that the initiative for peace can only come from Japan. Should the island empire choose to tender "moderate" terms and recognize its adversary as the power in the far east peace could be easily arranged. The Russian government—with the full magnitude of the disaster at Mukden still undetermined, but with the 1905 campaign seemingly already hopelessly compromised, retreat to Harbin inevitable and Vladivostok practically lost—declares that the time has not yet come when Russia can be forced to humble herself.

A late report from Tie pass says:

"The Japanese have ceased their pursuit of the Russian army, at least temporarily. Some of the Japanese are twenty-five miles below Tie pass. A resumption of their advance is expected. Rumors are in circulation that the Japanese already are attempting another turning movement to drive the Russians from Tie pass.

"The Russian troops here have been arriving with hopelessly mixed units in consequence of the change in the front. The troops are being sorted out and organizations reformed and assigned to places to resist the Japanese advance."

A Tientsin report says that outside experts roughly estimate the total Russian casualties at 150,000 and those of the Japanese at 60,000. It is reported that Tie pass is practically undefended, and another great action is regarded as improbable. A Japanese staff officer said:

"We must push the advantage home and give no respite until a crushing defeat has been administered."

While a small portion of Kuropatkin's army has reached Tie pass, the greater part of those who escaped from the battle of Mukden are still struggling northward, being at last accounts between twelve and sixteen miles from their goal, with the Japanese, flushed with victory and re-enforced by fresh men, harassing them from all sides. Even should the remnant of the army reach Tie pass it is hardly possible for it to make a stand there against the overwhelming force opposing it, especially as the Russians must be worn out and weakened by the loss of men, guns and ammunition. It is more likely that Kuropatkin will fall right back to Harbin with what he can save and wait there for the re enforcements that St. Petersburg already has promised him. A possible obstacle to this plan is General Kawamura's army, which has not yet been located and which may also be heading for the northern capital.

General Kuropatkin admits that 1,190 officers and 46,931 men are not responding to roll calls. This is rather vague. It may or may not include the thousands of wounded who have been sent north, and again it may not include the losses suffered by the third army, with which the commander in chief was not in communication for some time.

DEFEAT ADMITTED.

New York Strike Leader Tells Men to Return to Work.

NEW YORK, March 13.—There was a most dramatic scene outside the strikers' headquarters in East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street when W. L. Jencks, broken in spirit and unable to conceal his emotion, mounted a barrel and addressed 1,000 strikers. The leader broke down completely after he had uttered but a few sentences and sobbed outright.

The men became highly excited at the unusual situation and became so demonstrative for and against the sentiments expressed by their leader that Captain Burns, with the reserves from the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, charged the crowd and dispersed it.

When the strike leader came into the vicinity of the headquarters he was met by a great throng of disconsolate men, who pressed him for a speech.

Several of them unceremoniously placed him on a convenient barrel.

He looked over the eager faces for a minute, and his throat moved convulsively. Suddenly he exclaimed:

"Well, boys, I have bad news for you. The best thing you can do is to try and get your jobs back. We have lost the sympathy of the public and the press."

Here's a Point About Buying Diamonds.

After you're decided to buy diamonds and selected a place to buy them at, don't merely go there because it's called a jewelery store or they have a jewelery department, or because you have a friend engaged in some capacity in a "wholesale" house. But go to the most trustworthy diamond store. We are reliable, we possess the necessary knowledge and experience, we are diamond merchants. MAY OPPOSE THE PRESIDENT.

Report That Senators Will Fight Appointment of Anderson.

NEW YORK, March 13.—It is said that the nomination of Charles W. Anderson, a colored man of New York, to be collector of internal revenue for the Second district of New York to succeed Charles H. Treat, who has been appointed treasurer of the United States, will be vigorously opposed in the senate. The nomination has been referred to the finance committee, of which Senator Thomas C. Platt is a member.

It is stated on good authority that the selection of Anderson does not please Senator Platt, but that neither he nor Senator Depew will make an aggressive fight against confirmation. It now seems that they will not need to do so, as there are other senators who are only too willing to compass the defeat of Anderson. Among these are Senator Allison, who, in the absence of Senator Aldrich, the chairman of the committee, is acting chairman. Senator Platt of Connecticut is another member of the committee who does not approve of the selection made by the president.

BIG PLANT DESTROYED.

Connellsville Blaze Caused a Loss of $150,000 and Possibly a Life.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 13.—Fire completely destroyed the big plant of the Connellsville Car and Machine company, causing a loss of $150,000, with insurance of $65,000.

Martin Mullin, the night watchman, is believed to have been burned to death in the carpenter shop of the plant, which he was seen to enter a few minutes after the fire was discovered. Mullin was in his home a short distance away when neighbors called to him that the shops were burning. Calling for others to follow him, Mullin ran into the burning building and forced his way through flames and smoke to the carpenter shop, where the fire is thought to have originated.

The fire burned so rapidly that the men with the watchman were forced back. Mullin was not seen after he entered the carpenter shop. After the fire had cooled down sufficiently a search was made among the ruins for Mullin's body, but no trace of it could be found.

Negro Crook Shot Dead.

BOSTON, March 13.—Two men were held up, beaten and robbed by three negroes during the night near the line between this city and Brookline. A negro named Matthew Hunt was arrested, and another negro, whose identity is not known, was shot and killed by a Brookline officer after refusing to stop when hailed. The wounded man died here late last night. The assaults occurred in several different places, but were not more than twenty minutes apart. The victims were Frank H. Lincoln of Medford, an engineer, and C. A. Birtwell, secretary of the Boston Children's Aid society. A watch, said by the police to be the property of Mr. Birtwell, was found on the negro shot.

Binghamton Pastor Resigns.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 13.—At the First Congregational church the resignation of Rev. Edward Frederick Trefz, the pastor, was read. Mr. Trefz has left the city suddenly and is understood to be at Springfield, O. The cause which he assigns for his resignation is ill health. He expresses his intention of leaving the ministry. He was pastor of a Lutheran church in Omaha and was formerly a newspaper man and manager of a professional baseball team.

Meyer Leased Prince's Palace.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—George von L. Meyer has leased the famous Kleinmichel palace for his residence during his term as American ambassador here. It is an imposing structure, located on the fashionable Sergeiefskava, near the French and other embassies. Its interior is one of the most gorgeous in St. Petersburg. It was occupied for several years by Prince Pio, the Spanish ambassador, but for some years has been unoccupied.

Engine Driver Scalded to Death.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 13.—In responding to a fire alarm engine No. 3 slipped on the icy pavement, struck the street car tracks and was overturned, fatally injuring the driver, George R. McDermott. McDermott was pinioned under the six ton engine, the suction hose holder penetrating his right chest. Escaping steam from broken pipes badly scalded his body. He died in the ambulance on his way to the hospital.

Entombed Miners Doomed.

CARDIFF, Wales, March 13.—All efforts to stop the burning of the Cambrian pit at Clydach Vale have proved unavailing, and the untiring efforts of relays of rescuers have failed to reach the entombed miners. The attempts will be continued, but there is scarcely the faintest hope that any of the men in the pit survive.

Wife of Surgeon General Dead.

BALTIMORE, March 13.—Mrs. Rose Hart, wife of Rev. Dr. E. C. Hart, surgeon general of the Methodist Episcopal hospital at Wahu, China, is dead here. Mrs. Hart came to this city to be operated on for appendicitis. The body will be taken to Hamilton, Ont., Mrs. Hart's late home.

SEVEN TIMES GUILTY

Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick Convicted at Cleveland.

PENALTY, FINE AND IMPRISONMENT

Jury Found Accused Had Conspired With Bank Officials to Defraud Government by Illegal Overcertification of Checks.

CLEVELAND, O., March 13.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick has been found guilty of attempting to defraud the United States by conspiring to procure the certification of checks on a national bank when there were no funds in the bank to her credit. She was found guilty on every count of the indictment upon which the jury was at liberty to judge her—seven in all.

The original indictment contained sixteen counts. Two of these were ruled out by Judge Tayler, and of the remaining fourteen one-half charged her with securing the certification of checks without having the proper entries made upon the books of the bank. Judge Tayler in his charge directed the jury to disregard these counts and consider only the remaining seven, which related to the certification with no funds on deposit. On all of these the jury found against her.

Under the law she can be fined on each count not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or she may be fined a maximum of $10,000 and also imprisoned for two years on each count.

The jury left the courtroom at 3:38 o'clock, and it was announced two hours later that a verdict had been reached.

Mrs. Chadwick came into court about five minutes before the jury. She was accompanied by her son, Emil Hoover, and two trained nurses. She sank into the seat she has occupied in the trial and rested her face in the palm of her right hand, a position she had held almost constantly throughout the sessions of court. She had suffered severely from a cramp in her right arm, being at times barely able to use it. She forgot all about the cramp in her excitement and moved the arm as though nothing had ever troubled it.

Then Judge Tayler entered from his chamber and walked quietly to his chair. He glanced in an inquiring manner toward the jury.

Clerk Carleton unfolded the verdict and read it.

"We find as to count 1—guilty.

"We find as to count 3—guilty."

The same sentence was repeated five times more for the five remaining counts, and then Mr. Carleton, resuming his seat, commenced energetically to enter the verdict upon his records.

"Gentlemen," asked the judge, "was this and is this your verdict?"

An inarticulate murmur of assent rose from the jury, and then in a few words Judge Tayler thanked and dismissed the jury.

All this time Mrs. Chadwick had failed utterly to grasp the meaning of the verdict. She is slightly deaf, and Clerk Carleton read the verdict in a tone so low that it was nearly inaudible ten feet away. As the people around her began to move and talk, the prisoner grasped the fact that for good or ill her fate was decided. She shot a quick glance at Judge Wing, whose tall form and handsome countenance were close at her side. The sorrowful expression of his face told more than the words with which he responded to her look of appeal.

"We have lost, Mrs. Chadwick," was all he said.

In speaking last night of the verdict of the jury in the trial of his client, Mrs. Chadwick, J. P. Dawley, her senior counsel, said that the verdict was not according to the terms of the indictment and that the case would be taken to the court of appeals at Cincinnati as soon as possible.

Mr. Dawley saw Mrs. Chadwick for a time at the jail and said she was somewhat prostrated over the verdict, but he assured her that he felt there were good grounds for hoping for a reversal of the verdict and that this information cheered Mrs. Chadwick considerably.

Plainfield, N. J., March 13, 1905.

In his address before Methodist ministers at Atlantic City on Saturday, Governor Stokes argued that it is the duty of the preachers of the country to instill in the hearts of the people a loftier sense of honesty and thereby bring about a cure for the trust evils. Incidently he said: "While I am a full believer in remedial legislation, it has been my experience that any sort of law will be circumvented by human ingenuity. What is needed is a higher sense of honesty and right which will prevent the oppression of the poor by those in power, and inculcation of this principle is the business of the preachers of the country rather than the legislators." There is no better place for the ministers to begin work than right here in the State of New Jersey which is responsible for the existence of the greater majority of the most baneful trusts in the country. If laws are vulnerable, then an appeal to the consciences of the men is the only remedy. Can the ministers solve the problem?

This afternoon the women of St. Stephen's parish will meet at the rector's home, to begin their Lenten missionary work. The work which has been decided upon this year to do, is to make for some of Archdeacon Hughson's mission girls of North Carolina complete outfits of clothes to enable them to go, not only to church, but to the day schools. At these meetings informal talks and readings are to be given upon missionary work in Alaska. The heroism of those men and women there, sacrificing their lives prove more exciting reading than fiction.

THE FORUM.

Faith Chapel.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Will you kindly permit me to correct a misapprehension of your reporter with regards to certain proposed changes in the Third Street Mission, or Faith chapel, of the First Baptist church. The movement referred to in your columns Friday does not contemplate the organization of a church, but only to place the chapel work on such a basis that a permanent congregation may be gathered there, as at other chapels in the city. This, it is hoped, may be done by providing for the exercise of most of the functions of a church by those who may be enrolled at the chapel, while they will still be technically members, and collectively a branch of the First Baptist church.

500 DOLLARS

is a fairly large amount of money. How to get it is a question, and how to take care of it after you do get it is another. The way to get it is to save, and deposit a certain sum each month. By allowing the interest to compound semi-annually, the principle is surprisingly increased. We take care of the large and small deposits and pay 3½ per cent. interest.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINTIY.

Owing to the hard winter, a natural result has been an increase in sickness and distress among the poor. The number depending upon the borough during this winter has been far in exces of last year, and the funds for relief work are nearly exhausted. So many demands upon the poor fund have been made that Overseer William H. Cole has related the condition of affairs to the Borough Council, and it is thought that perhaps an appropriation, in addition to what has already been set aside, may be asked for. Mr. Cole has used the means at his disposal judiciously, but liberally so that no unnecessary distress or spread of sickness has occurred.

No further action toward the fire escape question was taken at the meeting of the Board of Education Friday night. It was expected that the matter would be considered at greater length, but the Board has laid the question aside for the time and will allow the Council to dispose of the gas ordinance before the fire escape appropriation is asked for. In the mean time, luck may prevent the necessity of the improvement and as the building is but two stories in height great danger from fire is not anticipated.

The body of Mrs. Michael Beck, who died last week, was placed in the family plot at the Presbyterian cemetery at Bound Brook Saturday morning. There was a brief service at the grave at which Rev. W. W. Casselberry officiated.

John Alberts is among those who are opening a trapping industry on the banks of the brook, which bids fair to be a lucrative business.

The regular meeting of the Married Couples Card Club will be held tomorrow at the home of Mr. Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fletcher have made their residence with Mrs. John Evans, of Prospect avenue.

Hazelwood Craig, of Front street, has returned after a visit with friends in New York.

Edward Ayers has returned to his home after a visit with out-of town friends.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Riker, of the 'Plains, which have been brewing for some time, have at last been brought to the notice of the public by Mr. Riker advertising the fact that he will not be responsible for any debts contracted by his wife as she has left his bed and board. Mr. Riker claims he has been working in New York during the winter, returning home Saturday night to spend Sunday with his family. Each week he has contributed towards the support of the household. Three weeks ago he returned as usual but found his wife missing. He returned to New York without locating her. Saturday afternoon he returned only to find his home stripped of nearly all of the furniture. During the week he claims he received a notice from a lawyer in Summit notifying him that Mrs. Riker had placed her case in his hands and he suggested that $9 per week be contributed towards her support. This he refused to do, and unless the couple come to an amicable agreement the matter will no doubt be aired in court. Mr. Riker has no redress as the furniture taken by Mrs. Riker was her own personal property, but to stave off non-support proceedings he still continues to rent the deserted home, but will keep his position in New York.

Snow balling at the 'Plains comes high. Judge Clark thought Briant Johnston and "Buck" Corona could afford to pay $5 75 for their indulgence in the pleasure on Friday night, when, it is claimed, they used Jacob Shackleston's house as a target, breaking a pane of glass during the bombardment. Both denied their guilt but the court said differently, so asked them to contribute towards the cause. The fines were paid, and the practice will no doubt end with the prescription given.

Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Braker and children, of Lynn, Mass., are spending several days with the Misses Hayes, of the borough. Mr. and Mrs. Braker received a rousing reception from the members of the Baptist church at the close of the morning service which they attended, Mr. Braker being a former popular and successful pastor of the church, having succeeded the late Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks.

The 'Plains second team and the Suburban seconds roll a match game tonight on the latter's alleys. The 'Plains bowlers won the first game of this series two weeks ago, but the Suburbans promise to make the score 1-1 after tonight.

"Ohio" Crunius, who was the idol of the baseball cranks here when he played with the locals, two years ago, has signed for the season with the Summit team as short stop.

A roll call and consecration meeting was held by the B. Y. P. U. last night, in the parlors of the Baptist church. Mrs. John Y. Hetfield had charge of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Montress and child, of Plainfield, were the guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Ford, of the borough.

The monthly meeting of the Farther Light Society was held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Baptist church.

Augustus D. Shepard, Jr., of New York, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shepard, of "The Gables."

Miss Minnie Meyers had charge of an interesting weekly Epworth League meeting last night at the Methodist church.

A meeting of the Ladies' Circle was held at the close of the morning service at the Baptist church yesterday.

Only a few members of the gun club were out enjoying the sport at the traps Saturday afternoon.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

It is reported that D. W. J. Nelson, who spent the winter in New Mexico for the benefit of his health, is much improved and hopes to return to his home in the spring.

The annual meeting for the election of school trustees will be held at New Market, Tuesday afternoon, March 21, at 1 o'clock.

John Frans has sold his farm to Isaac Dunn.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Woodhull & Martin had charge of draping the First Baptist church for the funeral of the venerable Rev. Dr. Yerkes.

—"Strike while the iron is hot" and read today's want ads. today; for want ads. are irons that cool quickly. The offers they contain soon find takers.

—The large display of vegetables at Neuman Brothers is a great aid in making selections. They are received fresh each day and the prices are always within reason.

—Fred Todd, of Orchard place, has purchased the house just erected by Arthur Giles on John street just south of Fourth street and will remove to it as soon as fully completed.

Col. Caleb Huse.

Col. Caleb Huse, of Highland Falls, N. Y., whose son, Reginald M. Huse, is principal of Cedarcroft School, died at his home yesterday following an operation. Col. Huse was seventy-five years of age and is survived by three sons and five daughters.

OWN BOMB TORE HIM

Terrorist With English Passport Dropped Death Engine.

ST. PETERSBURG HOTEL DAMAGED

Foreigner, Posing as Alfred Henry McCullough, Blown to Atoms by Premature Explosion of Bomb Such as Killed Duke Sergius.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—A bomb was exploded at the Hotel Bristol, adjoining the Hotel d'Angleterre here, just before daylight, tearing to atoms the owner of the bomb, a man with an English passport giving the name of Alfred Henry McCullough. The explosion wrecked the adjoining rooms, killing the wife of an officer and injuring several lodgers.

Investigation by the police leads them to believe that McCullough was engaged either in packing his effects or in preparing for some desperate enterprise when the bomb fell and exploded. The police immediately surrounded the hotel, mounted gendarmes allowing no one within fifty paces.

An independent investigation seems to establish beyond question that the man killed was a terrorist leader. His passport was fictitious, and the man was a foreigner, not a Russian. At the Hotel de Paris, where he had been stopping from time to time since the middle of January, McCullough was described as a very intelligent looking man, between thirty and forty years of age, resembling more a Frenchman than an Englishman, speaking French with the fluency of a native. He also spoke English.

Just before Grand Duke Sergius was assassinated the man was absent for two days. McCullough professed to be engaged in business, but in view of what has happened his movements are admitted to have been mysterious.

Some of the police are inclined to think McCullough was a direct emissary of the Paris revolutionary organization.

McCullough's legs were torn off and the flesh of the upper portion of his body spattered the walls and ceilings, which were red with blood.

At the British embassy and consulate McCullough is unknown. It is not believed he was a British subject.

The explosion has been followed by many arrests, both in St. Petersburg and in the Baltic provinces. Papers found in the dead man's room include numerous revolutionary papers and pamphlets, drawings of infernal machines and other evidence, completely establishing the connection of McCullough with the terrorists.

Reyes' Government Prospect Bright.

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 13.—General Gonzalez Valencia has renounced the vice presidency. This action causes general satisfaction here. The government has contracted with a rich Colombian syndicate for the administration of the national rentes and they have founded a central bank with $8,000,000 gold capital to develop business. Political prisoners have been set at liberty. The prospects are bright for President Reyes' government.

OIL FIGHT IN ILLINOIS.

Injunction Issued Restraining Pipe Laying by Standard Oil Company.

MONMOUTH, Ill., March 13.—On information and petition of the chairman of the board of supervisors of Warren county an injunction has been issued by Master In Chancery J. B. Brown restraining the Standard Oil company and the Prairie State Oil and Gas company from further prosecuting the work of laying a pipe line through this county.

The petition recites that the Standard Oil company is engaged in constructing a pipe line through the county over the right of way of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company, that said right of way by law is devoted exclusively to the purpose of passenger and freight transportation of the Santa Fe company as a common carrier and that valuable rights belonging to the people of Warren county are being taken away without due process of law or just compensation.

For some weeks the Standard Oil company has been working on a pipe line to connect the southwestern oil fields with the refineries in Indiana. A hearing on the injunction was set for the May term of the circuit court.

UNDER BOTH FLAGS.

Body of Senator Bate Lies In State at Nashville Capitol.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 13.—Under the shot rent, powder stained battleflag of the Second Tennessee Confederate regiment, which he led at bloody Chickamauga, and with the stars and stripes floating at half mast from the dome of the capitol building, the body of United States Senator William B. Bate lies in state in the hall of the house of representatives.

At the foot of the flag draped, flower laden casket stands a member of the national guard and at the head, garbed in the gray of the Confederacy, a comrade who had followed him on many hard fought fields.

This afternoon the funeral will be held at the Tabernacle. Interment will follow at Mount Olivet.

When the funeral train from Washington bearing the body reached here an imposing cortege under the direction of Adjutant General Hannah followed the remains to the capitol.
